2004 FALCONS MEDIA INFORMATION

COVERING THE FALCONS

GAME DAYS

Credential Requests
Members of the media who have not been issued season credentials should request single-game credentials in writing on appropriate letterhead by Tuesday before the desired game. Mail requests to Christy Duffner, 4400 Falcon Parkway, Flowery Branch, GA 30542 or FAX to (770) 965-2766. All credentials are issued to individuals. Credentials are not transferable! If you have received a season credential and will be unable to attend a game, please do not transfer your credential. Simply inform the Falcons PR staff and the appropriate credential will be issued to your replacement.

Credential Delivery
Credentials may be claimed at the Falcons public relations office at the team's headquarters in Flowery Branch during normal working hours, or with proper identification at the "will call" window located at Gate E at the Georgia Dome on game days. "Will call" opens two hours prior to kickoff.

Georgia Dome Media Entrance
The media entrance to the Georgia Dome is located at Gate E. Gate E is located near the gold parking lot on Northside Drive.

Photographers
Sideline photography in the National Football League is limited to working media on specific assignment for a recognized sports publication or news service. No freelance photographers are accommodated. Only network television and authorized game personnel are admitted to the field without a camera. All field photographers must check in with field security in the tunnel before entering the field. All field photographers must remain outside the bench areas and behind the broken lines that surround the entire perimeter of the playing field.

Telephones
The Falcons provide several phones throughout the press box for general use by the media. Media members desiring dedicated lines should place orders by contacting J.T. Bradford with BellSouth (404-222-5516) for lines, and Walter Wilson (404-222-5506) for instruments.

FAX Service
Media requiring FAX service should contact a member of the Falcons public relations staff prior to the game to fill out a simple form outlining their needs.

Locker Room Access/Post-Game Interviews
Members of the media wishing to conduct post-game interviews in the home and visiting locker rooms will be given access to players and coaches after the suggested "cooling-off" period following the conclusion of the game. Access is only available to individuals holding working credentials. Players must report to the locker room immediately after the game. Interviews can be done on the field after the game following the "cooling off" period. Head Coach Jim Mora will hold his post-game press conference in the main interview room located next to the Falcons locker room.

Locker Room Directions
Exit the press box elevator and follow signs to the tunnel. The Falcons locker room is located to the left and the visitors locker room is to the right.

DURING THE WEEK

General Protocol
For the Falcons public relations office to better serve media needs, all members of the print and electronic media are required to stop by the Falcons public relations office upon arrival at the training headquarters.

Player Interviews
During a typical regular season work week, Falcons players are available to the media on Wednesday and Thursday after practice from approximately 1:15 p.m. - 2:00 p.m., and on Friday after practice at approximately 12:30 p.m. There is no scheduled media access to players on their off day on Tuesday. Additional interview access is available by contacting the Falcons public relations department.

Jim Mora Interviews
Falcons Head Coach Jim Mora will hold a press conference on Monday at 11:15 a.m. and will be available to the media following practice on Wednesday and Thursday at approximately 1:15 p.m. Coach Mora is also available to the media for a brief period as he leaves the practice field on Friday. Contact the Falcons public relations staff for any further access.

Arthur Blank Interviews
Interviews with Falcons owner and CEO Arthur Blank should be arranged through Vice President of Communications and Community Relations Susan Bass at 770-965-2706.

Assistant Coaches/Staff Interviews
Interviews with Falcons assistant coaches and other members of the organization should be arranged through the Falcons public relations department.

Opponent Coach/Player Interviews
The head coach and a player from the Falcons' upcoming opponent are interviewed via conference call on Wednesday. Times of the conference calls will be posted in the media workroom.

Regular Season Practice Regulations
Practices are open to the local media covering the team on a regular season basis only. If a media member from outside the local area wishes to attend practice, permission is subject to approval from the head coach.

Photographers may shoot/film practice through the individual part of the workout or as otherwise instructed by the Falcons public relations staff.

To prevent injury, photographers must stay 10-15 yards off the field at all times. No tripods are allowed on the field and no camera equipment or TV equipment is allowed to be placed on the ground. Equipment may be stored on the sidewalk away from the practice fields.

The Atlanta Falcons request the following of photographers: 1.) When a player incurs an injury on the practice field, still and video photography of the player is to halt immediately following the occurrence; camera operators are asked not to film the player being treated by the medical staff on the field. 2.) Media are asked that a transcript of dialogue between a coach and player or dialogue between players not be reported or broadcast.

Reporters are allowed to stay during the entire practice but cannot report on strategy (mainly the team portion of practice). Strategy is defined by the head coach.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for press and photo credentials should be made in writing to:

Christy Duffner
Communications Department
Atlanta Falcons
4400 Falcon Parkway
Flowery Branch, Georgia 30542

Individual game credential requests should be made two weeks in advance of the game that you wish to cover. Season credential requests should be made immediately. All requests should be on company letterhead.

ATLANTA FALCONS YOUTH FOUNDATION

The Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation is the largest team-funded foundation in the National Football League, with a 2004 grant-making budget of $2,000,000. In 2003, the Youth Foundation awarded $1.8 million in grants and scholarships to continue the foundation's commitment to Georgia's youth.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation seeks to give back to the community by promoting the healthy development of youth. It does so by supporting physical fitness and sports in communities across Georgia through grant-making, strategic partnerships, and signature programs.

As we address overall physical fitness among Georgia's young people, our primary goal is to increase sports and recreation opportunities for boys and girls. The Youth Foundation supports innovative in-school and after-school programs, community athletic field development and encourages participation by all young people.

YOUTH FOUNDATION GRANT FOCUS AREAS

Youth Fitness
Sports Programs
Athletic Field Development

JERRY RHEA SPORTS MEDICINE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Jerry Rhea Sports Medicine Scholarship Fund, administered and funded by the Youth Foundation, honors former Falcons head athletic trainer Jerry Rhea, a pioneer of sports medicine and athletic training for more than three decades. The Falcons raise money for the scholarship through the annual Atlanta Falcons Kickoff Luncheon. To date, eighteen $5,000 scholarships have been awarded to undergraduate and graduate students pursuing degrees in the field of sports medicine or athletic training.

WHITEY ZIMMERMAN SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Whitey Zimmerman Scholarship Fund was established in memory of Whitey Zimmerman, the Falcons equipment manager from 1966 to 1994. The fund provides college scholarships for high school seniors who have served their athletic teams as student managers. The Youth Foundation hosts the annual Atlanta Falcons Golf Classic to raise money for the fund. Since 1996, college scholarships totaling $315,000 have been awarded to 63 Georgia students. An endowment has been created by the Youth Foundation to ensure a long-lasting scholarship program.

ALL-STAR KIDS GRANT PROGRAM

The Youth Foundation, through NFL Charities, awards grants to non-profit organizations to support kids' community service projects. Applications are distributed to youth-serving agencies throughout Georgia, challenging their kids to develop unique community service projects with a maximum $500 project budget.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Atlanta Falcons community outreach efforts are grounded in the goals of the Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation, whose mission is to give back to the community by promoting the healthy development of youth. The club develops programs that enhance the lives of Georgia's youth in the areas of physical fitness and sports.

ATLANTA FALCONS GOLF CLASSIC

Every year the Falcons host a celebrity golf tournament to benefit The Whitey Zimmerman Memorial Scholarship Fund. More than $70,000 was raised at the tournament held in May of this year at the St. Ives Country Club.

ATLANTA FALCONS KICKOFF LUNCHEON

The Falcons and the Atlanta Sports Council invite Falcons fans to this annual luncheon taking place this year on September 2, which features an autograph session with players as well as silent and live auctions on the field at the Georgia Dome. Proceeds benefit The Jerry Rhea Sports Medicine Scholarship Fund and the Georgia High School Scholar-Athlete Program. In 2003, the Kickoff Luncheon raised $65,000.

BALL BOY MENTORING PROGRAM

Falcons players serve as mentors to boys from the Boys & Girls Club of Hall County through monthly meetings that provide the boys the opportunity to talk to the players about school work, home life and other things that may be affecting their lives.

COMMUNITY QUARTERBACK AWARD

Funded by NFL Charities, the Falcons Community Quarterback Award honors community volunteers in Georgia who have demonstrated leadership, dedication, and commitment to bettering the communities in which they live. Local winners are selected through an application process, which rewards up to $25,000 to the winning volunteers' chosen charities.

EXTRA YARD PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

The Extra Yard Partnership Program connects players with local children's organizations to create awareness and support for these charities. Players give back in a variety of ways including: visiting with the children, purchasing tickets for the children to attend games, participating in public service announcements to heighten awareness of the charities and donating items to the organizations.

NFL 101 EN ESPAÑOL

The Falcons and Ford Motor Company have designed this program to teach the fundamentals of football, through a hands-on instructional clinic, to children in Georgia's rapidly growing Hispanic community.

FALCONS FLAG FITNESS CREW

During each home game, the Falcons invite children from local youth football leagues or children's organizations to spend the day with members of the field crew. They begin with morning on-field rehearsal, aerobic warm up, a healthy lunch, the opportunity to play at Falcons Landing, and end by unfurling the giant Falcons flag on the field before the game. Each participant receives a t-shirt and tickets to the game.

MEMORABILIA DONATION PROGRAM

The Falcons support hundreds of charitable groups, schools, and civic organizations across the state each year through memorabilia donation. More than $30,000 is raised annually for these groups through the program.

NFL TEACHER OF THE YEAR

The Falcons participate in the NFL Teacher of the Year program, honoring teachers who have had a positive influence on NFL players. Teachers are nominated by players during the NFL regular season. Finalists are selected from a pool of applicants from across the nation by a panel of educators and civic leaders. The NFL Teacher of the Year receives a $5,000 grant and a $10,000 grant is presented to the teacher's school.

NFL TUESDAYS/HOMETOWN HUDDLE

Tuesday is the traditional day off for players during the season. However, many players use this day to work in their communities. The NFL Tuesdays program is designed to raise awareness of the day-off charitable activities of players and the importance of volunteerism. Begun in 1999, Hometown Huddle is a national NFL Super Tuesday, a day on which NFL players and coaches from each of the 32 teams participate in various community-service activities that benefit United Way agencies.

FALCONS FITNESS CHALLENGE

The Falcons Fitness Challenge is designed to challenge metro Atlanta students, in grades three through seven, to participate in physical activities, make good food choices and lead healthy lifestyles. This incentive program rewards both individual students and schools for their participation and progress throughout the program.

PLAYER PERFORMANCE PLEDGES

Another way the Falcons players give back to the community is through Player Performance Pledges. Players make pledges to a charitable organization based on individual or team accomplishments on the field (yardage, touchdowns, receptions, field goals, tackles, wins, etc.) throughout the season. More than $102,000 was raised last year through performance pledges for charity.

STAPLES TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Designed to honor outstanding educators striving to improve fitness in their schools, the Staples Teacher of the Week is awarded at each home game during the season. Each recipient receives two tickets to a game, pre-game field passes, a $1,000 shopping spree at Staples for their school and a special personalized jersey, as well as recognition on the team's website.

SUNTRUST BANK/PROJECT FIT AMERICA STATIONS

The Falcons, in partnership with SunTrust Bank, donate state-of-the-art fitness equipment through Project Fit America (PFA) to non-profit organizations in the metro Atlanta area. The equipment is specifically designed to address the deficit areas where children fail fitness tests.

THANK THE FANS

On this day, the Falcons 53-man roster scatters throughout the metro Atlanta area surprising unsuspecting fans in places such as restaurants, grocery stores, shopping establishments and banks, to thank them for their continued support.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

The Falcons are committed to promoting the game of football among Georgia's youth by increasing the number of participants through a series of programs and clinics designed to educate them on the fundamentals of the game.

GATORADE JUNIOR FALCONS TRAINING CAMP

This non-contact clinic is designed for boys and girls, ages 14 and under, to address the importance of fitness and well being while emphasizing the fundamentals of the game.

FALCONS/NFL FLAG FOOTBALL

Falcons/NFL Flag Football was created to help children become part of a well-organized national program emphasizing football education, participation, and sportsmanship. Flag football leagues around the state compete for the chance to participate in regional tournaments held in seven different NFL cities, including Atlanta, vying for the chance to be crowned national champions.

FALCONS/NFL GATORADE PUNT, PASS & KICK

The Falcons/NFL Gatorade Punt, Pass & Kick (PP&K) program creates a lively and engaging forum for boys and girls, ages 8-15, to compete individually against their peers in punting, passing, and place-kicking skills. PP&K competitions are held across the state, with the winners of each age category advancing to the Georgia Dome for a regional competition to determine the finalists for the nationals, which are held during an NFL playoff game.

FALCONS/NFL GATORADE COACHING ACADEMY

Led by Falcons head coach Jim Mora and his coaching staff, the Falcons/NFL Gatorade Coaching Academy is designed to elevate the quality of football coaching at the youth and high school levels and expand the game of football.

FALCONS/NFL COACH OF THE WEEK

The Falcons/NFL Coach of the Week program honors high school coaches throughout Georgia and provides high schools financial assistance in maintaining and upgrading their football programs.

FALCONS/NFL JR. PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

The Falcons/NFL Jr. Player Development program is designed to teach boys, ages 12-14, every football position through a step-by-step progression of skill instruction packaged in a re-adaptive and entertaining manner.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

ATLANTA FALCONS WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Atlanta Falcons Women's Association (Women's Association) was not only established to create camaraderie among the spouses of players, coaches and staff members, but also to make an impact in the metro Atlanta community.

Through a series of events and programs, the women raise funds for organizations that support women and children. In 2003, the Atlanta Day Shelter for Women and Children, the Atlanta Community Food Bank and Toys for Tots were selected as the beneficiaries of their fundraising efforts.

FUNDRAISERS

The Women's Association, along with the Falcons Cheerleaders, host an annual garage sale and sell gently-used Falcons apparel and memorabilia, furniture, clothing, housewares, and sporting goods and equipment. The women also assist in planning NFL 101 for Women, which takes place each October. More than 300 female fans learn the Xs and Os of the game from current and former players, as well as coaches. Proceeds from both events benefit the Atlanta Day Shelter for Women and Children.

FOOD AND TOY DRIVES

The Women's Association also helps families in need during the holidays through the FalCan Food Drive and Toys for Tots. The women collected nearly 1,300 pounds of food and more than $1,000 from Falcons fans attending the Philadelphia game in November 2003. The food and money were donated to the Atlanta Community Food Bank. The food collected, which eclipsed the 2002 collection by 500 pounds, provided 850 meals during the holidays. The women, along with the U.S. Marines, also collected 1,571 toys for the Toys for Tots program benefiting less fortunate children.

HOLIDAY CHEER

Though many of the women hail from different parts of the country, they take civic pride in their adopted city of Atlanta during the traditional trimming of the holiday tree at City Hall. Atlanta Mayor Shirley Franklin joins the women in decking the tree with Falcons decorations aptly themed "Falcons Pride Lights Up Atlanta."

CHEERLEADERS/FREDDIE FALCON

The Atlanta Falcons Cheerleaders have a great presence at the Georgia Dome on game days, yet it is their presence in the Atlanta community that has gained the most recognition. The cheerleaders make an average of 500 community appearances per year.

The cheerleaders' community outreach platform is creating awareness of physical fitness, nutrition and health. They speak to schools and non-profit organizations. They also conduct cheerleading/dance clinics to motivate children and adolescents to stay fit and strong through exercise and healthy eating.

WOMEN HELPING WOMEN

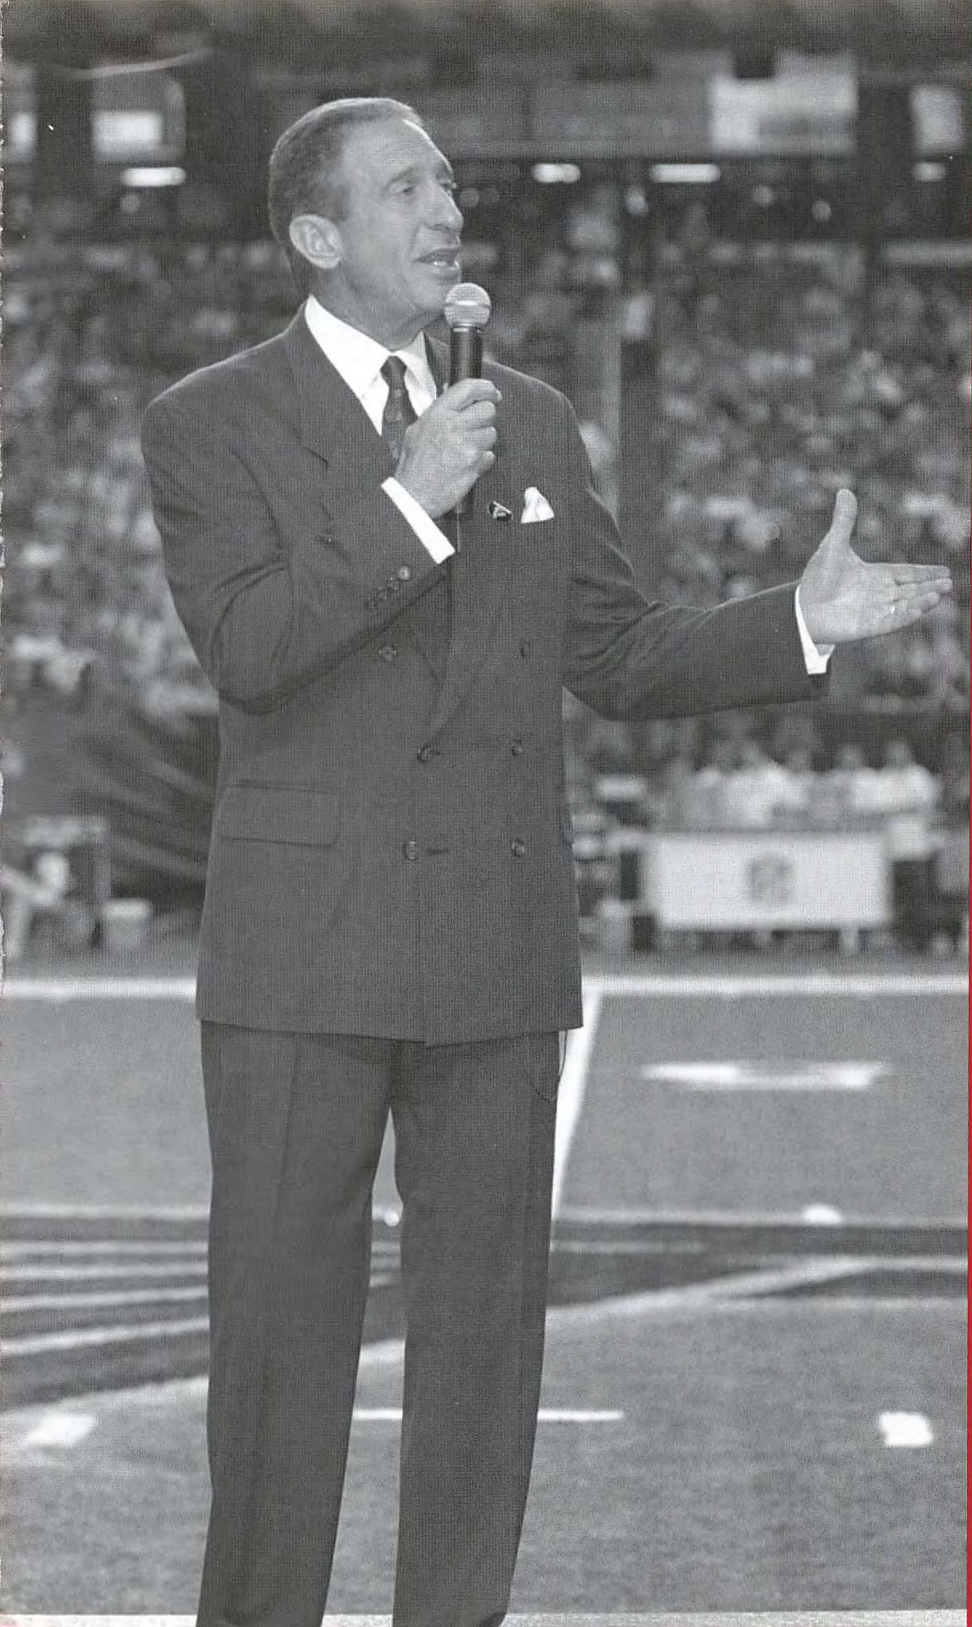
Women Helping Women is the national community outreach platform for all NFL cheerleading squads. Each squad chooses a women's organization within their community for which they proactively raise funds and awareness. The Atlanta Falcons Cheerleaders selected The Atlanta Day Shelter for Women and Children to support in 2003. Along with the Women's Association, the cheerleaders help raise funds for the shelter. In addition, the cheerleaders visit the shelter to perform manicures for the women and conduct a cheerleading/football clinic for the children.

ATLANTA FALCONS SHOW TROUPE

The Atlanta Falcons Show Troupe is comprised of 11 squad members and Freddie Falcon. This traveling, fully-costumed variety show includes singing, dancing and skits. This group was selected, out of thousands of entertainment groups, to perform for the United States Armed Forces stationed in Cuba, Puerto Rico, Egypt, Korea, Japan, and Ft. Hood, TX.

FREDDIE FALCON

As the official mascot of the Atlanta Falcons, Freddie Falcon not only provides fans with excitement during games at the Georgia Dome, but he also spends more than 300 hours making appearances in the community at various events throughout the year. Children's hospitals, parades, charity fun-runs, the United Way, the Special Olympics of Georgia, and various elementary schools around Georgia are a few of the groups that have been entertained by Freddie's ever-amusing antics. For all of his hard work and dedication during the season, Freddie Falcon was selected to appear at the 2004 NFL Pro Bowl, his third Pro Bowl appearance.



ADMINISTRATION

ARTHUR BLANK

OWNER & CEO

Now in his third year as owner & CEO of the Atlanta Falcons, Arthur Blank has already distinguished himself as one of the NFL's most progressive owners. Through listening, astute planning and surrounding himself with some of the most respected minds in football, Blank has transformed the Falcons into a franchise that expects to compete at the highest level on a year-round basis - both on the field and in the community.

After a successful first year as an NFL owner that included a historic playoff win at Green Bay and the revitalization of a dormant fan base, the Falcons appeared poised to take the next step as a serious Super Bowl contender in 2003. Even more important, the city and state that Blank cares for so much started to share his vision of the Falcons being a perennial winner, as evidenced by the Falcons selling out of season tickets for the first time since 1981.

However, as Blank and every Falcons fan would come to learn in 2003, life in the NFL can be as unpredictable as the stock market. No matter how much planning and preparation you do, sometimes the difference between winning and losing can come down to something as simple and seemingly inconsequential as luck - even the bad kind. That's what the Falcons fell victim to when the leader of their team, quarterback Michael Vick, suffered a broken right fibula in a preseason game against the Baltimore Ravens, and 17 other players succumbed to injuries throughout the season. The Falcons would go on to a disappointing 5-11 finish.

As someone who is accustomed to striving for success at the highest level, Blank was determined to do whatever he could, as quickly as he could, to get the Falcons back on track. The team's performance during the season unveiled a number of areas for improvement, and Blank acted on them. Before the 2003 season ended, he had hired long-time Tampa Bay Buccaneers executive Rich McKay as president and general manager of the Falcons.

"There are a lot of reasons why I'm excited about Rich McKay," said Blank when McKay was introduced on December 15, 2003. "The core of it for me is not just how well Rich is going to do his job, but the way he's going to do his job. In many ways he sets the gold standard for the National Football League, both at the club level and at the league level."

Blank and McKay collaborated in an effort to find a replacement for head coach Dan Reeves. After an exhaustive search, Jim Mora was named the 12th coach in Falcons history on January 9, 2004.

"Jim's a winner in every sense of the word," said Blank. "He has a winning drive, and he is highly regarded by players and coaches around the NFL. He is thought of, and is, the total coach. He knows how to motivate, he knows how to teach, he knows how to get results, and he has a well-thought-out vision for both sides of the ball."

In hiring McKay and Mora, Blank has laid the leadership foundation of the Falcons for years to come.

"We've made significant commitments to our fans, the community, our players and our staff, and we've made significant changes throughout the club to ensure the long-term success of our franchise," said Blank. "I truly believe that we have all the right people in place to take the Falcons to the next level."

Anyone who needs evidence that Blank knows how to turn around the fortunes of an organization need look no further than when he first purchased the team in February 2002. In the Falcons, Blank had acquired a team that was known more for its failures than its successes. On January 4, 2003, less than a year after purchasing the team, Blank was on the sidelines of Lambeau Field exchanging hugs and handshakes with players and staff after the Falcons became the first team ever to defeat the Packers in a home playoff game.

"It doesn't matter if it's football, corporate America or what; it starts from the top," explained Falcons linebacker Keith Brooking. "I've said that time and time again since Blank's taken over. It's very evident - his dedication and his desire to win and be the best. You can see it when you first meet the guy. He's willing to do whatever it takes to win and be successful and get a championship here."

A SIMPLE PHILOSOPHY

Whether it's The Home Depot - the company Blank co-founded in 1978 and remained a part of until his retirement as co-chairman in 2001 - or the Atlanta Falcons, Blank has always subscribed to one simple theory: Listening is what matters most. Customers, fans, players, coaches or associates - Blank listens, understands and responds to all of them and expects his associates to do the same.

After agreeing in principle to purchase the Falcons in December 2001, Blank wasted no time in applying this approach. On the Falcons' charter flight back from St. Louis after the final game of the 2001 season, Blank canvassed every player on the plane. His question was simple: "What can I do to help the team win?"

The answer from the players was equally simple: Fill the Georgia Dome with fans who would supply the team with the noise and energy necessary to give it a decisive home-field advantage every game.

Upon the sale of the Falcons being unanimously approved by NFL owners, Blank immediately reached out and made a promise to the very constituency the players longed to see in droves every Sunday: "I personally will not rest until I have the opportunity to wear a Super Bowl ring on behalf of everybody in Atlanta and everybody in the state of Georgia," said Blank.

Blank's promise to transform the Falcons began arguably the busiest off season in the history of the NFL.

Being a man who helped build The Home Depot into the world's largest home improvement retailer, Blank was prepared for the hard work that would be necessary to turn around a franchise that had only eight winning seasons since its inception in 1966. Under his leadership, the Falcons organization designed and implemented a three-point plan, which included a strategy for producing a winning team on the field; creating an exciting game day experience; and building a stronger bond with the community.

One of the first items on Blank's agenda was acquiring players who would have an immediate impact on the team. The Falcons would become major players in the 2002 free agent market, signing veteran standouts RB Warrick Dunn from the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and T Todd Weiner from the Seattle Seahawks.

Blank's hands-on approach and his one-of-a-kind personal touch did not go unnoticed by players the Falcons were courting.

"I think he's the type of owner who loves his players and loves his community," said Dunn at his introductory press conference. "He's an Atlanta type of guy. He's enthused about this community. He wants to make a difference. I don't think you are going to see a lot of owners like that."

By the time the Falcons suited up to play the Green Bay Packers in the 2002 season opener, the Falcons had 21 new faces on their active roster. Four months later, the team bagged its first playoff victory in four years. Included in the Falcons' run to the playoffs was an eight-game unbeaten streak, the team's longest in four years.

Since then, the Falcons have continued to shore up their roster with some of the NFL's top unrestricted free agents. In a day and age in which NFL free agency has become similar to recruiting in college, Blank personally gets involved with players the Falcons attempt to sign. After the Falcons personnel staff and coaches identify players they are interested in, Blank is often involved in meetings with prospective players, outlining his vision for the Falcons and the things that make the Falcons an attractive and unique organization.

"I think it's important to meet with them so they know the owner really cares," explained Blank. "I make myself available to our staff and tell them to use me as a resource.

"From my perspective it's important to meet with the players to talk about their backgrounds, my philanthropic foundation and philosophy, our experience with the fans, and what the notion of filling the Georgia Dome means."

It's no wonder Atlanta is quickly becoming the place to be in the NFL. The family-like atmosphere and personal attention Blank has cultivated within the Falcons organization has been able to attract the likes of WR Peerless Price, S Cory Hall, CB Jason Webster and DT Rod Coleman.

"I'm very happy to be here," said Coleman when he was signed by the Falcons in March 2004. "Mr. Blank is a great owner. After meeting him I knew that I would be comfortable being here. If you've got a great owner like him, then you know he's going to have great players and great coaches around you."

HOTTEST TICKET IN TOWN

While he may not be the one called upon to draw up plays, Blank knows a thing or two about customer service. For the second phase of the three-point plan - creating an exciting game day experience - Blank was able to call upon more of his own personal experiences from The Home Depot.

"You have to subordinate your thinking to that of the fans," said Blank two months after the sale of the team was approved. "We've got to think about everything they need from the time they leave their driveway to the time they arrive in ours."

Falcons fans were eager to talk. In focus groups and surveys, they particularly emphasized the need for: 1) more affordable ticket options; 2) more parking and tailgating space; and 3) a better overall game day experience.

Blank heeded the voices of the fans, and then directed the Falcons marketing staff to come up with solutions. Among them:

- In almost unheard of fashion, the Falcons lowered prices on more than 30 percent (23,000) of the Georgia Dome's seats in 2002, including offering 10,000 season tickets at $100. As a result, the Falcons sold out every home game for the first time since 1992 and welcomed more than 21,000 new season ticket holders. Despite price increases since then, the Falcons still have one of the lowest average ticket prices in the NFL.

- To increase parking and offer more tailgating opportunities, the team secured leases on parking lots within blocks of the Georgia Dome. In addition, an area known as "The Gulch" was opened for thousands of fans to enjoy pre-game festivities. In total, more than 20,000 season ticket holders were assured reserved parking with tailgating space. With the 2004 addition of parking for 10,000 more fans, the Falcons now have parking for more than 30,000 fans.

- As part of enhancing the game day experience, the team introduced Falcons Landing, an outdoor play and entertainment area where thousands of fans enjoy interactive games, live bands and visits with former Falcons greats. In addition, the team has also brought in headline musical acts - including LeAnn Rimes, Ludacris, Travis Tritt and Ashanti - to perform during pregame and halftime.

The improvements have been unanimously applauded by fans. What ensued was a Georgia Dome that went from averaging 54,251 in 2001 to a venue that has sold out its last 20 games - both preseason and regular season. During the 2004 off season, the club had a season ticket waiting list of more than 12,000 fans for the first time in its history. All of this has come because of Blank's unwavering focus on customers - the fans - players and associates.

"Some owners get what the game's all about," commented national football writer Clark Judge, who named Blank his 2002 Executive of the Year. "Thank goodness for Atlanta's owner. When he took over the club he asked players what they wanted...and they said they wanted their fans back. So Blank did what he could. Blank understands the game is not just about the players. It's about the people who pay to see them, too. Good for him. Lucky for Atlanta."

GIVING BACK

One of the hallmarks of Blank's philosophy is giving back to the community. During his tenure with The Home Depot, the company donated more than $113 million to the communities it served. In addition, associates provided hundreds of thousands of hours of personal volunteer time.

Given his philanthropic history, it came as no surprise that the final phase of Blank's three-point plan for the Falcons was a program that would see the Falcons' organization lending its support all over the state of Georgia. One vehicle of the Falcons community outreach efforts is the Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation (AFYF), the largest team-funded foundation in the NFL. The AFYF gives back to the community by promoting the healthy development of youth. It does so by supporting physical fitness and sports in communities across Georgia through grant-making, strategic partnerships and signature programs. Since 2002, the Foundation has awarded $2.8 million in grants to more than 130 non-profit organizations.

Through a matching gift fund initiated by Blank, Falcons players, coaches and staff are also involved in the community at unprecedented levels. Together they have raised more than $900,000 for various charities during the last two years.

In addition, under Blank's leadership, Falcons associates, players, coaches and spouses have also made a positive impact in the community by giving their time to numerous worthwhile causes. Many players volunteer their time and contribute financially to the community through foundations and special initiatives they create and through club community relations programs.

Another way the Falcons organization is making a difference in the lives of kids is through youth football. Through programs like Junior Falcons Training Camps, NFL Flag Football and Falcons/NFL Jr. Player Development, the Falcons have been able to touch the lives of thousands of children across the state.

Blank is also dedicated to his personal giving back. In addition to serving as owner and CEO of the Falcons, Blank is also Chairman, President & CEO of AMB Group, LLC and Chairman of The Arthur M. Blank Family Foundation. Both organizations are part of The Arthur M. Blank Family Office, with the common purpose of giving back to society through financial contributions and personal involvement. Through his generosity, The Arthur M. Blank Family Foundation, along with his and his wife's personal giving, has granted and committed more than $128 million to numerous nonprofit organizations. Mr. and Mrs. Blank were named as the 2000 Georgia Philanthropists of the Year by the National Society of Fundraising Executives.

PERSONAL

A native of Flushing, N.Y., Blank attended Stuyvescant High School in Manhattan, where he was on the football, baseball and track teams. He received a B.S. Degree in Business Administration with Distinction from Babson College, where he was active in a wide variety of extracurricular activities. He co-founded The Home Depot in 1978 and retired from the company as Co-Chairman in 2001. At the time of his retirement, The Home Depot was a component of the Dow Jones Industrial Average and one of Fortune Magazine's "Global Most Admired Companies." During Blank's last year as CEO of the company, The Home Depot ranked first in social responsibility in an annual survey conducted by Harris Interactive, Inc.

Blank is recognized throughout the country for his personal and professional achievements. He was honored in 1990 by the California-based City of Hope medical research and treatment institution for his fundraising leadership in the home center industry, and in 1994 he received the Brotherhood/Sisterhood Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Babson College inducted him into its Academy of Distinguished Entrepreneurs in 1995 and conferred on him an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1998.

In 2001, Blank was inducted into the Junior Achievement Atlanta Business Hall of Fame and was a co-recipient, with his wife, of the Abe Goldstein Human Relations Award from the Anti-Defamation League. In 2002, Blank was inducted into Georgia State University's Business Hall of Fame, and in 2003, for the second time in three years, he was named Georgia's Most Respected CEO by Georgia Trend magazine.

Blank serves on a number of boards including: North Carolina Outward Bound School, a nonprofit corporation; the Commerce Club, an Atlanta organization of community business leaders; the Board of Trustees of The Carter Center, Inc.; the Board of Trustees of Emory University; the Board of Trustees of The Cooper Institute; and the boards of Cox Enterprises, Inc., and Staples, Inc.

Blank is chairman of the capital campaign for the new Atlanta Symphony Center. He recently served as co-chair for the capital campaign for the new Centennial Olympic Games Museum at the Atlanta History Center.

In September 2001, Blank joined the faculty of Emory University's Goizueta Business School as its first Distinguished Executive in Residence. He also served as the 2003 chairman of the Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Blank has six children and two grandchildren. He and his wife, Stephanie, and their three children live in Atlanta. A strong believer in work-life balance, Blank still makes time daily for working out and remains an avid runner.

ATLANTA FALCONS

ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Rich McKay was named president & general manager of the Atlanta Falcons on December 15, 2003. One of the most accomplished executives in the National Football League, McKay came to the Falcons from the Tampa Bay Buccaneers where he had been general manager of the Buccaneers for nearly nine seasons and a part of the Tampa Bay front office since 1992. In an uncommon move, McKay was named to his position with the Falcons with two weeks remaining in the regular season. Adding irony to McKay's situation was the fact that five days after beginning his new job, the Falcons and Buccaneers faced off in an NFC South matchup. It was a pleasant homecoming for McKay and his new team as the Falcons defeated the Buccaneers 30-28.

"I'm a Falcon now," McKay said following the game.

McKay will look to build a legacy in Atlanta similar to the one he built in Tampa, where the Buccaneers came to be synonymous with winning.

"Our goal is to build a football team, and one that can win not just today, not just tomorrow, but can win into the future," said McKay when he was hired. "That's what we tried to accomplish in Tampa and that's certainly what we're going to try to accomplish here."

The football roots for McKay and his family are very deep, going back more than 30 years to when McKay's father, John, led the University of Southern California to four national championships and later was named the first head coach of the Buccaneers in 1975. Like his father, McKay established himself as one of the most respected minds in the NFL, spearheading the meteoric rise of a franchise that had known little success in the years prior to his arrival. Almost two decades after his father retired as coach of the Buccaneers, McKay, as general manager, oversaw the development of a team that reached the summit of football when Tampa Bay defeated the Oakland Raiders 48-21 in Super Bowl XXXVII on January 26, 2003.

"McKay is ... largely responsible for transforming the Bucs from comic laughingstock to one of the league's most efficiently operated organizations," wrote ESPN.com's Len Pasquarelli on the job that McKay did in Tampa. "McKay has become one of the league's most influential people."

In McKay, the Falcons have an individual who has learned about the business of football from the ground up. Going back to his days as a ball boy for the Buccaneers, McKay has spent the majority of his life ensconced in the world of the NFL. In that time, he has learned about each and every facet of a team's inner workings. It is that progression of knowledge that has enabled him to consistently make decisions that are in the best interest of an organization. It is that same foundation of knowledge that has earned him respect throughout the League as evidenced by has appointment as co-chairman of the NFL's prestigious competition committee in 1998.

As the Buccaneers' highest ranking football executive from 1995 through 2003, McKay supervised the entire football operation and negotiated player contracts. Additionally, he presided over the club's college and pro personnel departments, including the NFL draft, waiver wire transactions, trades, free agency acquisitions and salary cap management. McKay was promoted to general manager of the Buccaneers in 1995 after serving as vice president of football administration from 1992 through 1994. Prior to McKay's promotion, the Buccaneers labored through 10 consecutive losing seasons from 1985 through 1994. In the years that followed, postseason appearances, numerous team and individual accolades, high profile free agent and trade acquisitions and Super Bowl aspirations all became commonplace as the Buccaneers gradually ascended to the status of annual contenders. In the eight seasons leading up to the Super Bowl victory, the Buccaneers won almost 57 percent of their games and qualified for the playoffs five times. In addition, the top four regular season win totals in club history (12 in 2002, 11 in 1999, 10 in 2000 and 10 in 1997) came under McKay's reign.

McKay worked diligently to provide the Buccaneers with Pro Bowl caliber talent, developing the club through the draft and adding veteran leadership and depth through free agency. McKay's first two draft selections as Tampa Bay's general manager in 1995 were six-time Pro Bowlers and NFL Defensive Player of the Year recipients DT Warren Sapp (1999) and LB Derrick Brooks (2002). In six of the seven drafts from 1993-99, the Buccaneers selected at least one player that went on to become a Pro Bowl performer for the Buccaneers. That impressive list included: S John Lynch (1993 draft), QB Trent Dilfer (1994), Sapp (1995), Brooks (1995), CB Donnie Abraham (1996), FB Mike Alstott (1996), CB Ronde Barber (1997), RB Warrick Dunn (1997) and PK Martin Gramatica (1999). Adding even more credence to McKay's eye for talent is the fact that Lynch, Barber, and Pro Bowl performers Tony Mayberry and Donnie Abraham were all drafted in the third or fourth round.

Between the draft and free agency, McKay constructed a roster that featured 12 Pro Bowl performers in 2002. In addition, Tampa Bay's 41 Pro Bowl selections between 1997 through 2002 were the most in the NFL. To put it into perspective, the Buccaneers had only 19 Pro Bowl selections in the first 21 years of their history leading up to 1997.

Just as important as the moves that impacted the Buccaneers on the field were the ones made off of it. McKay played a key role in securing the club's new state-of-the-art stadium - Raymond James Stadium - which hosted Super Bowl XXXV in 2001. McKay, along with Buccaneers executive vice presidents Bryan and Joel Glazer, negotiated the terms for the lease of Raymond James Stadium with Tampa mayor Dick Greco and Hillsborough County administrator Dan Kleman.

For his efforts with the Buccaneers, McKay was recognized throughout the NFL as an astute football mind. During the 1998 off-season, McKay was appointed co-chairman of the NFL's prestigious competition committee, replacing the late New York Giants general manager George Young and joining Seattle Seahawks head coach/general manager Mike Holmgren. McKay remains the committee's co-chairman with Tennessee Titans head coach Jeff Fisher. Since 1994, McKay has served on the committee of NFL coaches and executives who study the game and pass rules modifications to ensure player safety while promoting competitiveness in the league. In December of 2002, NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue named McKay to the working group of the newly-created Committee on Workplace Diversity. The committee also includes Falcons owner & CEO Arthur Blank, executive vice president/CAO Ray Anderson and AMB Group executive vice president Kim Shreckengost.

Prior to joining the Buccaneers on a full-time basis, McKay was an attorney with the Tampa law firm of Hill, Ward, and Henderson, joining them in 1986. While in that position, he served as the Buccaneers' legal counsel for six years and helped facilitate the reworking of the team's lease agreement with the Tampa Sports Authority in 1991.

McKay, who also taught a course in sports/entertainment law at Stetson University's College of Law, earned his bachelor's degree in 1981 from Princeton University. He graduated from Stetson's College of Law in 1984 and clerked for two years for Tampa U.S. District Judge William Terrell Hodges.

Born on March 16, 1959 in Eugene, Oregon, McKay grew up in Los Angeles and Tampa, graduating from Tampa's Jesuit High School. An avid long distance runner, he has participated in and finished two New York City Marathons. McKay and his wife, Terrin, have two sons, Hunter and John.

TIM RUSKELL

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

A scouting veteran of more than 20 years, Tim Ruskell joined the Atlanta Falcons as assistant general manager on January 15, 2004. Ruskell came to the Falcons after a distinguished 17-year stint in Tampa Bay, where he began as a regional scout in 1987 before assuming the positions of director of college scouting (1992-2000) and later director of player personnel (2001-2003).

"If there are 50 great evaluators of talent in the NFL, I believe Tim is in the top five," said Falcons president & general manager Rich McKay, who worked with Ruskell in Tampa Bay. "We had great success in the draft while we were in Tampa, due in large part to Tim and the players he would put up on the draft board and believe in."

As director of player personnel in Tampa Bay, Ruskell oversaw the team's pro and college scouting departments, which were instrumental in providing the Buccaneers with a roster that sent seven players to the Pro Bowl in 2002, the year they won the Super Bowl. During Ruskell's tenure in Tampa Bay, the Buccaneers had at least one player named to the Pro Bowl in each of the last eight seasons from 1996 though 2003. In 2000, the Buccaneers sent a league-high nine players to the Pro Bowl, including a league-best six starters. In the last eight years, Tampa Bay had 21 different players go to at least one Pro Bowl and had at least four Pro Bowl nods in each of the last seven seasons.

Before being promoted to director of player of personnel in 2001, Ruskell served as the Buccaneers' director of college scouting for nine seasons (1992-2000). In that role, Ruskell coordinated a staff of five regional scouts and oversaw the compilation of information on college players. The evaluations of Ruskell and his staff enabled the Buccaneers to draft perennial All-Pro players such as John Lynch (1993), Warren Sapp (1995), Derrick Brooks (1995), Donnie Abraham (1996), Mike Alstott (1996), Ronde Barber (1997), Warrick Dunn (1997) and Martin Gramatica (1999). What made Ruskell's track record for identifying talent even more impressive is the fact that Lynch, Barber, and Pro Bowl performers Tony Mayberry and Donnie Abraham were all drafted in the third or fourth round.

Ruskell originally joined the Buccaneers as a regional scout in 1987, a job he performed for four years before being promoted to director of college scouting in 1992. Prior to joining the Buccaneers, Ruskell served as the director of scouting for the USFL's Tampa Bay Bandits from 1985 through 1986. He also worked as a scout for the CFL's Saskatchewan Roughriders from 1983 through 1985.

In addition, Ruskell has spent each of the last nine years as a member of the NFL's selection committee for the National Combine Invitational Camp. He is also a member of the National Scouting Combine Executive Council.

Ruskell was born in Yokohama, Japan, where his father was stationed in the Army. His family moved to Tampa in 1972 after his father retired from the military. He remained in the area to graduate from King High School in 1974 and then earn his bachelor's degree from the University of South Florida in communications in 1978. It was during Ruskell's freshman year at USF that he first met Rich McKay. The two served as ball boys for the Buccaneers when McKay's father, John, was the head coach.

Ruskell and his wife, Linda, have a daughter, Samantha, and a son, Jack.

RAY ANDERSON

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT / CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER

Ray Anderson's leadership in the Falcons front office was evident in his inaugural NFL campaign in 2002. Anderson joined the Falcons on June 24, 2002 as part of owner & CEO Arthur Blank's new executive management team.

In his current capacity, Anderson is responsible for legal, facilities, equipment, video, logistics and travel functions. His legal duties include contract negotiations and salary cap administration.

Anderson's astute and extensive negotiating background served him well as he aggressively attacked the complicated world of the NFL's salary cap management in his first season in the League, signing several key young Falcons to new contracts. Under his direction, the club re-signed DE Patrick Kerney before the end of the 2002 season and inked LB Keith Brooking, as well as LB Chris Draft, to new deals in the 2003 offseason.

Anderson wasn't a new face to NFL personnel, as he came to the Falcons after carving out a 23-year career as an accomplished sports agent and legal advisor. Most recently, he was in charge of the coaches division of Octagon, where he was its director and a sports agent for NFL coaches and players. Some of his clients throughout the League included Indianapolis Colts head coach Tony Dungy, New York Jets head coach Herman Edwards, Baltimore Ravens head coach Brian Billick, Cincinnati Bengals head coach Marvin Lewis, former Minnesota Vikings and current Arizona Cardinals head coach Dennis Green, Falcons assistant coach Mike Johnson and Falcons players Bob Whitfield and Chris Draft. His representation resume, which boasted more than 45 clients at one point, also included numerous college coaches, including current Notre Dame head coach Tyrone Willingham.

Anderson began his career in the sports agency business in 1984 when he started a West Coast office for Sports Advisors Group, a Boston-based sports agency. In 1987, Anderson created his own agency, AR Sports, with a specialization in representing NFL coaches and players, as well as Major League Baseball players. In 2001, Anderson's company merged with Octagon.

Anderson's first foray into the sports arena occurred in 1980 when he co-founded the sports law practice at Heller, Ehrman, an esteemed San Francisco law firm. He holds a jurist doctorate degree from Harvard Law School and a bachelor of arts degree in political science from Stanford University.

Anderson's highly-respected reputation was recognized in 2003 when he was named to the NFL Committee on Workplace Diversity, which seeks to promote diversity in coaching and front office ranks. His influence was further solidified when he was named to Sports Illustrated's list of the "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports" in May of 2003. Anderson, 50, was also distinguished locally by being named to the prestigious "100 Black Men of Atlanta, Inc.," a group dedicated to providing support and improving the quality of life for African-Americans, and youth in particular, in the Atlanta community. His past accolades include garnering agent of the year honors by the Black Sports Agents Association in 2000.

Anderson and his wife, Buffie, have one son, Bryant (18), and one daughter, Kimberly (15). The Andersons reside in Roswell, Ga.

WAYNE LUKE

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF PEOPLE & ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Wayne Luke is executive vice president of people and organizational development for the Atlanta Falcons and the Arthur M. Blank Family Office. He is responsible for all human resources activities within the Falcons and Family Office, where he also devotes a substantial portion of his time to the professional support and development of the organization's associates. A key focus of his responsibilities across the Blank-owned businesses is the proactive institutionalization of the values-based culture upon which each business was founded.

Luke joined the Falcons from Heidrick & Struggles International, a leading executive search firm, where he was the global chief partnership officer and former area managing partner for the East Coast, operating from the Atlanta office. During his 13 years with the firm, Luke had the opportunity to serve a long list of diverse companies, which gave him a broad and seasoned perspective on recruiting and developing people and how to mold talent into high performance leadership teams.

Prior to joining Heidrick & Struggles, Luke was involved in a number of venture capital-financed entrepreneurial ventures in the Bay Area after managing a business unit for Raychem Corporation in Menlo Park, California. Luke's career started in 1972 with Southern Bell in Atlanta, where he was hired into their management development program and served primarily as a sales and marketing manager.

A native Georgian, Luke holds an undergraduate degree in industrial engineering with honors from the Georgia Institute of Technology. He also received a masters of business administration degree with honors from the Harvard Graduate School of Business. Luke lives in the Buckhead area with his wife and three children.

DICK SULLIVAN

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT OF MARKETING

In the span of only two years, Dick Sullivan has come to be known as one of the NFL's most respected marketing minds for the job he has done transforming the Falcons into the most fan friendly team in sports. Under his leadership, the team has sold out all 20 of its home games the last two seasons. In 2003, the Falcons sold out of season tickets for the first time since 1982 and in 2004, there is a season ticket waiting list for the first time in club history.

Sullivan's marketing success was recognized by the NFL when he was appointed to the League's marketing executive committee, a sounding board for NFL executives regarding marketing strategies implemented across the country. The committee also gives the clubs a representative voice as the League makes marketing decisions.

Sullivan's first season in charge of the Falcons marketing efforts in 2002 proved to be as special as the club's own rise to prominence that included a historic playoff win at Green Bay. Sullivan's own "team" listened to the fans when they asked for more affordable ticket options, more parking and tailgating space and a better game day experience.

Since his arrival, the team has added an abundance of new parking within a half-mile of the Dome for season ticket holders and their tailgating needs; improved the game day experience by adding an interactive area similar to the NFL Experience at Super Bowls called "Falcons Landing"; and established ticket prices that are among the most affordable in the League.

In 2003, the Falcons announced a new logo change for the first time in team history and unveiled new uniforms for the first time since 1990. Both ventures were coordinated through the creative and strategic talents of Sullivan and his staff.

Sullivan, 47, was drafted into the NFL after spending nine years with The Home Depot. He served as the senior vice president of marketing at The Home Depot prior to the Falcons position and was responsible for the company's well-known marketing, advertising and sales promotion campaigns, as well as their global brand strategies. The Home Depot has distinguished itself as one of the most recognizable brands in the world.

Sullivan started at The Home Depot in 1992 as the company's vice president of advertising and was promoted to senior vice president. Under his tutelage, the department delivered various award-winning advertising campaigns and sales promotions. The company's sponsorship of the Olympics and NASCAR were successfully started under Sullivan's watch. "Joe Gibbs Racing" under NFL Hall of Fame head coach Joe Gibbs, received its start through The Home Depot sponsorship as a direct result of Sullivan's handiwork.

Sullivan hails from Needham, Mass., and received his bachelor of science degree in accounting from Roger Williams University in Rhode Island. He is on the board of directors for the Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation, the Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau, the Atlanta Sports Council, Central Atlanta Progress and Encore Park for the Arts.

Sullivan has a son, James (15), and a daughter, Chelsea (11).

SUSAN BASS

VICE PRESIDENT OF COMMUNICATIONS & COMMUNITY RELATIONS

A respected leader with more than 16 years of experience in public relations, philanthropy and community affairs, Susan Bass enters her third year as vice president of communications and community relations for the Falcons.

In this role, Bass oversees all of the Falcons' media relations efforts - both on and off the field - and is responsible for developing and executing the club's plans to increase the team's presence in the community.

Under her direction, Falcons players continued to make a significant impact in the Atlanta community in 2003, making more than 500 visits to schools, hospitals, and community organizations serving youth of Metro Atlanta, and donating thousands of dollars to Georgia non-profit groups through performance pledges. Bass has also been instrumental in developing the team's youth football initiative by instituting NFL-based and newly-created football programs for youth around the state of Georgia. She also oversees the Atlanta Falcons Women's Association in their efforts to give back to the community by raising funds for organizations that benefit women and children.

Bass also works closely with the Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation, which focuses primarily on physical fitness, athletic field development and sports programming for Georgia's young people. The largest team-funded foundation in the NFL, the Youth Foundation distributed $1.8 million in grants and scholarships throughout the state of Georgia in 2003.

Prior to arriving in Atlanta, Bass served as the director of community affairs and philanthropy for Limited Brands, the parent company of Victoria's Secret, Bath & Body Works, Express, and a number of other retail brands.

Bass joined Limited Brands from Time Warner, where she served as public affairs director. The Columbus, Ohio, native's resume also includes previous public and community relations experience in education, politics and media. In 2001, she was named to Columbus Business First Magazine's list of "Top 40 Under 40." She has also won two "Beacon Awards" from The Cable Television Public Affairs Association.

A graduate of The Ohio State University with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism and public relations, Bass has maintained a strong presence of community involvement throughout her career. She currently volunteers for Cool Girls, Inc., and serves on the boards of the Boys & Girls Club/NFL Youth Education Town Center and the Atlanta Falcons Youth Foundation. In her free time, she mentors female African American college students pursuing degrees in public relations. She is also a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

GREG BEADLES

VICE PRESIDENT OF FINANCE / CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

The 2004 season marks a decade of service for Greg Beadles with the Falcons. Beadles was promoted to vice president of finance in 2002 by owner & CEO Arthur Blank and recently added the CFO title with reporting responsibilities to president & general manager Rich McKay.

Beadles oversees the daily financial operations of the team including financial reporting and budgeting along with managing the team's banking and insurance relationships.

Greg serves as one of the team's primary liaisons with the Georgia Dome. Last year he helped to lead the analysis and negotiations that resulted in new premium seating and advertising brokerage agreements with the Dome.

Beadles is also involved in business negotiations, strategic planning and development for the organization. Earlier this year, he performed much of the due diligence work to analyze and acquire the Arena Football League's Georgia Force.

Greg joined the Falcons in 1995 as a finance intern and later served as controller of the Falcon Inn & Conference Center until 1998. He then held the position of senior accountant with the club until being promoted to director of finance for the 2000-2001 seasons.

In addition to his financial responsibilities, Beadles has been involved in a number of other areas of the organization on game days over the years as a member of the stat crew, video department assistant and tracking player participation. He was a member of the team that launched the Falcons' website in 1996 and started the club's successful online store in 1997.

The son of a coach, Greg grew up drawing Xs and Os, traveling on road trips and making recruiting visits with his father, who was a head coach in the college basketball ranks for over 35 years. Beadles played a number of sports in his youth, including a freshman year of small college basketball before transferring to Louisiana State University to focus on a career in business.

Beadles earned a bachelor of science degree in accounting from LSU in 1991 and a master of science degree in sports administration from Georgia State University in 1995.

His experience in the business world began with a public accounting firm in Baton Rouge, Louisiana followed by two years as an international staff accountant with Offshore Pipelines, Inc. in Houston, Texas. Beadles' financial background also includes teaching a sports finance course for the graduate school at Georgia State from 1995-96. He remains a regular guest lecturer at GSU and other local institutions. The 35 year old holds a CPA license from the state of Georgia.

Greg and his wife, Jill, reside with daughter Ella (2) and newborn son Grant in Dacula, Ga.

DANNY BRANCH

VICE PRESIDENT OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Danny Branch is vice president of information technology, and has more than 19 years of experience in systems development, deployment and support. He is responsible for all of the Falcons and Arthur M. Blank Family Office systems-related activities.

Branch joined the Falcons in 2004 from The Home Depot, where he most recently was vice president of information services. Starting at The Home Depot in 1990 as a senior systems engineer, he was promoted rapidly through the engineering ranks and, ultimately, the information services management ranks as well. While at The Home Depot, Branch partnered with NCR to introduce and integrate the first home improvement retailing industry's self-checkout services into stores. He also developed and deployed a merchandise credit card, which is issued to customers when returning items without a receipt, saving the company an estimated $900 million over five years.

Prior to The Home Depot, Branch worked in programming, engineering and project management roles for CONTEL, Management Science America, and Texas Instruments.

A native Georgian, Branch earned his associate degrees in mathematics from Abraham Baldwin Junior College (Tifton, Ga.). He received his bachelor of science degree in computer science from the University of Georgia and completed an Advanced Leadership Development Program at the Babson School of Executive Education (Babson Park, Mass.). The Branch family lives in Sharpsburg, Georgia. Branch's wife, Claire and their two children, Chloe (age nine) and Alex (age seven), enjoy their homestead property where they have plenty of room to run. Branch enjoys running in his spare time.

RON HILL

VICE PRESIDENT OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

The 2004 season will mark Ron Hill's seventh year with the Falcons, and his first as vice president of player personnel after serving the last six seasons as vice president of football operations. In his new role, Hill will continue to be an influential member of the Falcons' scouting departments. In recent years, Hill has made many moves that have enabled the Falcons to acquire and retain a number of talented players. Hill engineered the trade with San Diego in 2001 for the No. 1 overall draft choice that brought Pro Bowl QB Michael Vick to Atlanta and changed the direction of the entire franchise. He spearheaded the club's fortunes to re-sign key players such as DE Patrick Kerney in 2002. Hill also guided the club during the 2003 free agent period and the impressive benefits included re-signing Pro Bowl LB Keith Brooking and acquiring talented WR Peerless Price through a trade with Buffalo.

From 2001 through 2003, Hill was in charge of the annual NFL draft for the Falcons. In addition to Vick, his other picks in 2001 have paid dividends for the team. TE Alge Crumpler (37 starts), G Kynan Forney (36 starts), LB Matt Stewart (29 starts) and C/G Roberto Garza (16 starts) have emerged into major contributors in a short time. In 2002, RB T.J. Duckett, who was taken with the 18th pick, was the club's third-leading rusher with 507 yards and four touchdowns scored. Other contributors from the 2002 draft class included LB Will Overstreet, who was earmarked for a starting spot until a shoulder injury forced him out for the season and G Martin Bibla, S Kevin McCadam, and T Kevin Shaffer. Hill's 2003 draft also produced players who were able to contribute immediately, including FB Justin Griffith (11 starts) and S Bryan Scott (six starts).

Hill's productive career in the NFL had its beginnings in 1979 as an area scout for the Dallas Cowboys. It was in Dallas where Hill began his association with former Falcons coach Dan Reeves that continued in Denver in 1983. In 1992, he was named assistant director of player personnel with the Broncos and during his tenure in Denver he was part of three AFC Championship teams and three Super Bowls.

Hill arrived in Atlanta in 1998 after a successful stint building a start-up NFL franchise in Jacksonville. When the Jaguars were in their infant stages as an NFL expansion team, Hill was named the club's first-ever director of pro personnel. He was responsible for the team's first expansion draft in 1995 and his astute evaluations landed future Pro Bowl players such as QB Mark Brunell, WR Keenan McCardell, WR Jimmy Smith and T Leon Searcy. It was through his recommendation that the Jaguars acquired their franchise quarterback in Brunell through a trade with Green Bay.

Hill took the field as a linebacker himself at Mississippi State University in 1971 before transferring to Itawamba Junior College and then back to MSU. He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Mississippi State in 1975 and then took a job as a high school coach in Elaine, Ark., for one year. Hill returned to MSU as a coaching assistant and completed work on his master's degree in administration and education in 1978. Hill was born on September 23, 1953 in Okolona, Mississippi. He and his wife, Tina, have two sons: Austin (14) and Ryan (12).

TOMMY NOBIS

VICE PRESIDENT OF CORPORATE DEVELOPMENT

Tommy Nobis has been tied to the Falcons as a player and front office staffer for 38 years.

His sports playing career was legendary. As the NFL's and the Falcons' #1 overall draft pick in 1966, Nobis made the Pro Bowl and was named Defensive Rookie of the Year. Nobis played 11 seasons with the Falcons and made five Pro Bowl appearances. At the University of Texas, he doubled as linebacker and offensive guard, winning both the Maxwell and Outland Trophies as the best player in the nation, and was a first-team All-American honoree twice.

Nobis was named to the NFL's "All-1960's" team and to the Football News' All-Time All-American team. He has been inducted into both the Texas and Georgia Sports Hall of Fames. In 1981, he was voted into the National Collegiate Sports Hall of Fame.

Tommy is the founder and board member of the Tommy Nobis Center, which provides job training and employment services for youth and adults with disabilities. The Center, which is located in Marietta, Ga., has been in operation for more than 27 years and its staff has placed more than 12,000 young people and adults into jobs throughout metro Atlanta. His many years of involvement with the Special Olympics led him to his work with the Center.

For his efforts on behalf of young people in need, Tommy has been presented the following awards: Dodge NFL Man of the Year, Vitalis Man of the Year, the Bobby Dodd Big Heart and The Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. award.

He and his wife, Lynn, live in Atlanta and have three grown children and two daughters-in-law: Tommy and Mindy, Kevin and Mandi, daughter Devon, and two grandsons, Hunter and Austin.

NOBIS CENTER TRAINS DISABLED TO FIND JOBS

In 2004, Tommy Nobis will enjoy 27 years at "The Tommy Nobis Center," a comprehensive and vocational training facility in Marietta, Ga., that enables individuals with disabilities to achieve employment and enjoy productive lifestyles.

Nobis' involvement stemmed from his prior work with Georgia's Special Olympics back in the 1970s. In what first started out in a trailer, The Tommy Nobis Center now employs over 55 general staff, has 32 directors, and helps about 125 clients per day. It has served over 12,000 disabled clients since 1977.

JIM MORA

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT/ HEAD COACH

A lifetime of preparation was rewarded when Jim Mora was named head coach of the Atlanta Falcons on January 9, 2004. Beginning his 20th season in the NFL in 2004, Mora's coaching road has been paved with equal parts of relentless hard work, meticulous preparation, unique communication skills and an ever-flowing passion for the game of football.

At 42 years of age, Mora is the third-youngest head coach in the NFL. He brings an impressive coaching resume to Atlanta that clearly illustrates he is experienced beyond his years. A closer look at his personal and professional pedigree – which has involved the game of football in some form or fashion since the day he was born – and one can easily see why Atlanta Falcons owner and CEO Arthur Blank, as well as president and general manager Rich McKay had no doubt that Mora was the ideal man to assume leadership of the Falcons on and off the field.

"The reality is that Jim has been preparing for this position for his entire life," said Blank when he introduced Mora as the 12th head coach in Falcons history. "He's a winner in every sense of the word. He is thought of and is the total coach. He knows how to motivate, he knows how to teach and he knows how to get results."

Mora joins the Falcons from the San Francisco 49ers where he spent the past seven seasons, including the last five as defensive coordinator. In San Francisco, Mora instructed a group of young, up-and-coming players and helped them fulfill their potential as the 49ers qualified for the postseason in two of the last three seasons while capturing two NFC Western Division titles during his stay. The last two seasons, Mora's defense finished no lower than No. 4 in the NFC against the run and last season the 49ers recorded 36 takeaways, their most since 1997. In addition, at least one player from Mora's defense was named to the Pro Bowl in four of the last five seasons.

Included among his 49ers coaching highlights, Mora's defense was No. 4 in the NFC in total defense in 2003 and tied for No. 1 in the NFC with a +11 turnover differential on the heels of 36 takeaways on defense, No. 2 overall in the NFC. The Niners' run defense at home was again one of the best in the League last year as it allowed only 459 total rushing yards for an average of 57.4 yards per game. That tied the 2001 Pittsburgh Steelers for the second-lowest total in a 16-game schedule. Mora's defense continued an impressive trend in 2003 as the 49ers did not allow a rusher to run for more than 100 yards in their last 19 home games, the second longest streak in the League. San Francisco's staunch run defense at home was highlighted in 2003 by holding the St. Louis Rams to a mere nine yards rushing, which was the second lowest rushing total by an opponent in 49ers team history, and halting the Seattle Seahawks to a paltry 2.8 yards per rush average on 32 carries. For the season, his defense allowed only three rushing touchdowns at home and a 3.0-yard-per-carry average by opponents. Mora's secondary was also in a taking mood in 2003 as it recorded an interception in nine consecutive games, the longest streak in team annals since 1996 (before Mora). Mora's aggressive defense also produced 42 sacks last year to tie for No. 2 in the NFC and it was the highest team total since 51 in 1998.

Mora's defensive creativity with talent was witnessed when he utilized LB Julian Peterson at four positions against Dallas in 2002 when the 49ers clinched the NFC West Division title. Mora devised a clever game plan to move the athletic linebacker all over the field. Peterson played linebacker, defensive end, strong safety and cornerback due to injuries on defense. The Pro Football Hall of Fame recognized the unique feat as Peterson was the first player since the NFL merger in 1970 to play four positions in a game as he packed his bags for the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career.

While at the 49ers, Mora's rushing defense was No. 2 in the NFC in 2002. His 2001 defensive unit was No. 6 in the NFL in scoring defense, allowing just 16.3 points per game, and producing three shutouts, the most in 49ers history. Mora's defensive troops started seven different rookies in 2000, and marked improvement was noticed from the first half of the season to the second as the unit allowed only 16.5 points a game in the final six contests. That 2000 defense also accomplished something no team other than the outstanding Baltimore Ravens defense accomplished when it did not allow the Chicago Bears across the 50-yard line for an entire game. In Mora's first season as the 49ers defensive coordinator in 1999, he developed DT Bryant Young and FS Lance Schulters into Pro Bowlers and tutored his defense to a team-record-tying five defensive touchdowns.

Mora's appointment with the Falcons is the culmination of a career that has been 19 years in the making. During that time – which has included stops in San Diego (1985-1991), New Orleans (1992-96) and San Francisco (1997-2003) – he has had the opportunity to mesh minds with some of the game's most respected thinkers, including Bill Walsh, Don Coryell, Steve Mariucci, Bobby Beathard, Jim Finks, Ernie Zampese, Jim Haslett, and his father, Jim, just to name a few. His football world also has been shaped by being surrounded by some of the most accomplished players of their time in the NFL, as well as some future and current Hall of Famers. Mora applied valuable lessons learned from players such as QB Dan Fouts, WR Charlie Joiner, TE Kellen Winslow, QB Steve Young, QB Joe Montana, S Ronnie Lott, WR Jerry Rice, DE Chris Doleman, LB Kevin Greene, S Tim McDonald, LB Ken Norton, LB Sam Mills, LB Rickey Jackson, LB Vaughn Johnson, LB Pat Swilling and S Rod Woodson, among others.

In Mora, the Falcons have a coach who is known as much for his ability to connect with players as his ability to draw up a successful scheme. In today's NFL, the all-important player-coach relationship is often times a dynamic that can separate coaches and be the deciding factor in a closely contested League.

"Jim is a brilliant young coach," said Walsh, a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. "He is extremely well-organized, but more than anything else, he deals extremely well with today's athletes."

It is that coach-player respect that has always enabled Mora to get the most out of the players he has coached.

"Players have to trust that what you are telling them is true, and they have to have faith in you as their leader," explained Mora. "There needs to be great communication, and a coach needs to be approachable. I've been fortunate to have great working relationships with my players."

Toi Cook, who played for Mora in New Orleans and San Francisco, has a perspective on the teaching exploits of Mora. "I know for a fact that players respect him because you could always tell him how you feel and know it will stay with him," said Cook. "He's a good communicator, too. It's kind of like training horses; he knows when to let his horses rest and when to push them."

SIMPLE FOOTBALL PHILOSOPHY

Mora balances a style that is energetic, approachable and open-minded, but at the same time he's a driven coach who is a passionate, hard-nosed and demanding competitor. With an infectious enthusiasm, Mora subscribes to many of the same time-honored traditions that go hand in hand with building a winning football team. Throughout his coaching career, Mora has established a high standard of expectations for his players. The bar will be raised just as high in Atlanta, where Mora believes that every year the Falcons should compete for the NFL's highest prize – a Super Bowl championship.

"You set a standard and then you strive to reach that standard, and then you push that standard higher," said Mora. "We are going to continue to push our standard to a higher level in everything we do. That higher standard will be seen in everything from how we dress, to how we meet, to how we install game plans, to how we practice, to how we treat each other, to how we conduct ourselves off the field, and ultimately, to how we compete on game day."

At his first veteran mini-camp on April 7, 2004, the fiery Mora turned heads with an up-tempo style of practice that was as structured as it was intense.

"It needs to be intense," Mora emphatically stated after the first day. "This is an intense business. You need to learn how to play with intensity, you need to learn how to play with passion and you need to learn how to play with emotion, yet control it all."

When he was asked about the loud, energetic attitude that permeates throughout the coaching staff, Mora's voice was filled with his trademark conviction.

"This is how we do it", he said. "I believe that's how you're supposed to coach. I don't believe in the old pro glide theory that says, 'Well, we'll just kick it up on Sunday and we'll be OK.' The guys I hired don't believe in that or we wouldn't have hired them.

"What you must do is set the tempo in practice and establish a pace that matches what you are going to get on Sunday as closely as possible. We coach these guys on every play, every day. We coach them hard and we coach them positively, with enthusiasm and energy. As a coach your job is to create structure, to instill discipline and push them past where they think they can go."

Falcons players responded positively to the new coaching style.

"He runs everything at a fast pace, which is great because that's how football games are," said DE Patrick Kerney. "We're thinking on the go and I think he's setting new standards for work and sacrifice that people didn't know they had in them."

On the field, Mora believes that success starts and ends with fundamentals and an innate desire to succeed.

"We're going to be a disciplined football team that wins with fundamentals," said Mora. "One of my greatest beliefs is, 'you win with your football.' And what's our football? Our football is being assignment perfect and being technically sound and paying great attention to detail. It's playing with unparalleled effort, great emotion and uncompromising passion. That's what you are going to see from the Atlanta Falcons."

Strategically, Mora will be aggressive on both sides of the football, a philosophy that has served him well throughout the years.

"Defensively, we're going to be a great tackling team. The most important statistics to us are points allowed and takeaways. We will find guys who can rush the passer and we will bring them from everywhere. We will challenge offenses on every single play. Offensively, we are going to be aggressive and efficient. People always think aggressive means only throwing it down the field. That is not what it means to us. It will be an up-tempo offense. Our offense will be balanced and have toughness. We will put our playmakers in a position to make plays down the field. When it's time to run the ball, we will run the ball."

"PRODUCT OF A GREAT ENVIRONMENT"

Mora's ascent to his current position is anything but an overnight success. Like any great leader-in-the-making, Mora has leaned on the experiences and the people life has presented him with for guidance.

"I am a product of a great environment," explained Mora. "One thing I've tried to do is learn something from all the great people that I've been around throughout my life. I've been fortunate to be around some of the greatest minds in football and I've always tried to learn from those experiences."

As a byproduct, the game of football has always enabled Mora to be exposed to unique people and experiences. From the chance to be a visiting locker room attendant for the Seattle Seahawks at a young age, or to be a ball boy at the 1978 Rose Bowl, to the opportunity to come into contact with great political minds, Mora has been able to create a well-rounded foundation, which has played a big role in his development as a person and as a coach. With a father - James Ernest Mora - who has been one of the most successful head coaches (125 NFL career victories) in NFL history to lean on, James Lawrence Mora has been the benefactor of that experience.

"My dad's career has enabled me to meet everyone from owners to general managers to great athletes and senators," said Mora.

As far back as middle school, others were taking notice that Mora had a level of maturity that was beyond that of his peers.

"He was very mature, had a teachable spirit," said Bruce Brown, Mora's middle school football coach. "He was a kid where yes meant yes, no meant no, and a handshake sealed the deal."

Added his high school coach Rollie Robbins, "Jimmy was always the kid there on time, or a little early. He never complained. He would ask if he didn't know, but he knew a lot. He'd say, 'Coach, is this the way you want it?' That's why Jim would stand out in a coach's mind."

The philosophy of being prepared and having a second-to-none work ethic has always served Mora well both as a player and as a coach. As a defensive back/linebacker at the University of Washington, Mora had to call on that work ethic time and again in order to solidify his place on the team. In fact, the 1983 Huskies media guide described Mora as "a one-time walk-on who has created jobs for himself through determination and hard work." It was at the University of Washington where Mora would encounter Huskies coaching legend Don James, one of the many individuals who have helped shape Mora.

"You knew where you stood with Don James," said Mora. "He was a firm disciplinarian who paid great attention to detail. No detail was too small and he left no stone unturned. When we walked out on that field on Saturdays we knew we were totally prepared, which allowed us to play with great confidence."

While at Washington, Mora had the opportunity to be a part of two Rose Bowl teams, in addition to helping the Huskies to a berth in the Orange Bowl as a graduate assistant on James' staff in 1984.

With a degree in hand, it was now time for Mora to seek out his life's craft. After a one-year stint as a graduate assistant at Washington, Mora pointed his professional compass toward the NFL. He wrote letters to several coaches and general managers looking for a break to get in and show what he could do if given the opportunity. Two teams – the Denver Broncos and San Diego Chargers – showed interest. Mora decided to pursue an opportunity in San Diego.

He filled the role as one of the first ever in the NFL to be known as a quality control coach with the Chargers in 1985. Mora's initial job consisted of duties such as breaking down game film, charting defenses, opponent tendencies and self-scout tendencies, and creating game analysis reports. True to his hard working nature and high energy approach, Mora seized the opportunity to do as much as he could to learn the NFL ropes. He also worked on the field with the secondary, handled daily practice scripts and schedules, helped on game plans, and even had the keys to every room in the building in case he had to get somewhere late at night. Basically, the young Mora didn't go home a lot and was soaking up as much information about the League as he could.

"I think it is just in the blood," said Mora of coaching. "It involves a lot of long hours, a lot of highs and lows. Every time you lose it's the worst day of your life and every time you win it is the greatest day of your life. You have to be able to balance those things and keep perspective. I knew what I was getting into."

After a shakeup on the San Diego coaching staff necessitated changes with the defensive staff, Mora found himself on the field in another capacity. As the only available coach who knew the defensive signals, Mora was asked to relay in the defenses from the sideline. The fortuitous assignment officially launched Mora's NFL full-time coaching career. He was named defensive backs assistant one year later, a position he held until earning the role of defensive backs coach in 1989. After a successful stint with the Chargers, in 1992 Mora joined his father's staff as secondary coach in New Orleans, where the elder Mora was in the process of making the Saints a regularly competitive outfit for the first time in their team's history.

It was in New Orleans that Mora started to distinguish himself as one of the NFL's premier position coaches, as the Saints boasted the No. 1 pass defense in the NFL during his first two years instructing the defensive backs. Mora remained with New Orleans through the 1996 season.

In 1997, he accepted a job offer as the San Francisco 49ers' defensive backs coach. He continued to raise eyebrows as a coach who knew exactly where to tap in order to get his players to respond. In his first year, the 49ers finished No. 1 in the NFL in total defense, No. 2 in pass defense (with 25 interceptions), takeaways (41) and run defense, as well as No. 3 in the League in sacks (with 54). Mora helped the Niners advance to the NFC Championship Game in his first season in San Francisco, and five members of the defense were voted to the Pro Bowl. A year later, Mora's troops tied for No. 1 in the NFC and No. 4 in the NFL with 21 interceptions. When the defensive coordinator's position became available in San Francisco, Mora was the obvious choice to take over the position. Little did he know at the time, but his new assignment in San Francisco would ultimately be the springboard that would enable him to realize his professional dream of being a head coach.

FAMILY

While growing up in a football family did a lot to foster Jim's understanding of Xs and Os, just as importantly it gave him an understanding and appreciation for the game and the life it has given him.

"Every meal I've ever eaten has been because of football," said Mora when he was introduced as the Falcons' new head coach. "Every time I've put shoes on my feet or clothes on my back it's been because of football."

For all the professional success he has encountered, Mora would be the first to admit that none of it would be possible – or mean as much – without the support and guidance he has received from his family. From the family of five he came from to the family of six he is a part of now, Mora always makes sure he keeps a perspective on what is most important in the big picture of his life.

"Not a conversation goes by where he doesn't bring up his father in some way," said Brown of his middle school pupil. "Isn't that something every father would want?"

Of his father, Mora says the two talk almost every day. "A great resource," Mora calls his father, both when it comes to matters of football and, more importantly, matters of life. Together, the two comprise just the third father-son combination to serve as head coaches in the NFL, joining Don and David Shula and Bum and Wade Phillips.

The family he brings with him to Atlanta includes wife, Shannon, daughter Lillia, and sons, Cole, Ryder and Trey. Coming from a football family, Mora knows the importance of a quality family life. In Shannon, Mora matter-of-factly acknowledges the important role that his wife of 11 years plays in his life. "Every great coach that I have been around, and there have been many of them, had a very supporting and understanding wife," explained Mora. "My mom is a great example of that. I was lucky to meet Shannon 22 years ago and convinced her to be my bride 11 years ago."

About that 11-year gap between the time they met and the time they got married, Mora tells the story of an extended courtship in which he had to do a lot of convincing before he could even get her to go out on a date with him, let alone join him in matrimony.

"I was a sophomore (at the University of Washington) and she was a freshman. One of my high school friends and I were sitting on the stairs studying, and (Shannon) walked by with her hair up, glasses on and in sweats. She just looked like the type of girl I wanted to meet. I told my friend right then and there that I was going to marry that girl someday. We dated for 11 years before I convinced her to marry me."

Mora also counts on the undying support of his two brothers, Stephen, an actor in Los Angeles, and Michael, an architect in Seattle, who are now avid Falcons fans.

A NEW CHALLENGE

It would not be a stretch to say that Jim Mora has had to prove himself everywhere he has gone. As a player in college, it was overcoming a lack of size for his position. As a coach in the NFL, it was proving he belonged because of the accomplishments he achieved on his own. Up to this point, Mora has more than adequately answered all of the challenges he has faced.

Now, at the pinnacle of his profession, Mora takes on the challenge of taking the Falcons to the championship level in a city that has longed for a Super Bowl trophy. It is a challenge he is equally matched for, one for which he has spent a whole lifetime preparing. Anyone looking for further proof that Mora belongs need look no further than the experience of the man and the individuals throughout his career who have had faith that he belongs.

"I've spent almost half my life in professional football and my entire life in football. You can rest assured that I do have the knowledge and I do have the experience to lead this football team to a World Championship," said Mora.

A new chapter in the direction of the Atlanta Falcons organization began on January 9, 2004. Jim Mora is poised for the challenges that lie ahead.

ED DONATELL

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Ed Donatell was named the Falcons defensive coordinator on January 19, 2004, after serving in the same capacity the previous four seasons (2000-2003) for the Green Bay Packers. He is reunited with head coach Jim Mora, who was a defensive back for the University of Washington (1980-83) where Donatell was a graduate assistant for two years (1981-82).

"We have a similar background," said Mora. "He coached at Washington for Don James. I played for Don James. If you watch Green Bay's approach and San Francisco's approach the last few years, they were very similar in terms of scheme, technique and how we teach things. It's a great match."

During Donatell's four seasons in Green Bay, the Packers defense built a reputation as one of the most aggressive units in the League. It was an aggression that enabled the Packers to lead the NFL with a combined 116 takeaways over the last three seasons of Donatell's stint with the Packers. In 2003, the Packers defense ranked 11th in scoring defense and 10th in rushing defense. In the Packers' push for the playoffs, Donatell's unit came up big, allowing less than 14 points per game in the season's final seven games, a span during which the Packers went 6-1 on their way to the NFC North Division title.

In 2002, the play of the Packers defense was paramount as the team rolled to a regular season record of 12-4 and the inaugural NFC North Division title. At the heart of the Packers defensive performance was a group of ball-hawking players that enabled the Packers to lead the NFL in takeaways with 45, including an NFL-high nine in the red zone. In addition, the Packers pass defense distinguished itself as one of the best in the NFL, allowing only 186.7 yards per game while also intercepting 24 passes. Both marks were third-best in the league. Contributing to the team's outstanding pass defense was a pass rush that sacked the quarterback 43 times in 2002. Combined with the 52 sacks the defense accounted for in 2001, the Packers' 95 sacks marked the highest two-year total in franchise history.

During Donatell's first two seasons (2000-2001) as defensive coordinator, the Packers made tremendous strides. In Donatell's first season, the Packers' overall ranking ascended to the top half of the League after falling to 19th in 1999. The Packers run defense made the biggest improvement, going from 22nd in 1999 all the way up to eighth in 2000. The Packers allowed only seven rushing touchdowns that season, the second-fewest total in the League. Against the pass, the Packers tallied 21 interceptions, the sixth-highest total in the League. In 2001, the Packers defense continued to improve under Donatell's leadership, rising to the No. 12 unit in the NFL. The Packers ranked second in the League with 39 takeaways, including a League-high 19 fumble recoveries, while also setting a team record with 52 sacks. Most importantly, was the team's No.5 ranking in scoring defense, which allowed only 237 points for the season.

Donatell assumed his position with the Packers after a successful stretch as defensive backs coach in Denver, where the Broncos won a pair of Super Bowls during Donatell's five seasons (1995-99). The Broncos pass defense finished in the top 10 in four of his five seasons with the team, including a No.5 ranking in 1997, a season in which the Broncos returned an NFL-high five interceptions for touchdowns.

In 1998, the defensive backfield played a key role as the Broncos won their second consecutive Super Bowl. During the 1998 postseason, Denver's defensive backs intercepted seven passes.

Prior to his appointment with the Broncos, Donatell tutored the defensive backs for the New York Jets for five seasons (1990-94).

Donatell began his coaching career in 1979 at Kent State, spending two seasons as a graduate assistant. A two-year stint as a graduate assistant at the University of Washington (1981-82) followed before he moved on to the University of the Pacific for three seasons as defensive backs coach (1983-85). Tenures at Idaho (1986-88) and Cal State-Fullerton (1989) as defensive backs coach preceded his move into the professional ranks.

A collegiate defensive back himself at Glenville (W.Va.) State, Donatell was an all-conference selection as well as team captain and a four-year letter winner. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education at Glenville State and, later, a master's degree in administration from Kent State.

Born February 4, 1957, in Akron, Ohio, Donatell played football and basketball at Stow (Ohio) High School. He and his wife, Shari, have three children - a daughter, Brenna, and sons, Thomas and Steven.

GREG KNAPP

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

One of the most respected young offensive minds in the game, Greg Knapp enters his first season as the Falcons offensive coordinator after a nine-year stint with the San Francisco 49ers, where he served in various capacities, including offensive coordinator (2001-2003), quarterbacks coach (1998-2000) and offensive quality control (1995-97). Upon being named head coach of the Falcons, the first move Jim Mora made was to secure Knapp on his staff as offensive coordinator. The acquisition of Knapp was announced simultaneously with Mora's hiring on January 9, 2004.

"I haven't been around many people who have as extreme of knowledge as Greg does of offensive football, and I've been around some great offensive minds," said Mora.

Knapp totes an abundance of experience to Atlanta, which includes working with three-time Pro Bowl quarterback Jeff Garcia, one of the NFL's all-time highest rated passers and future Hall of Famer Steve Young, and four-time Pro Bowl wide receiver Terrell Owens.

Under Knapp's direction, the 49ers offense continued to perform at the exceptionally high level for which it has come to be known. In 2003, the 49ers finished in the top five in total offense (355.4 yards per game) and rushing offense (142.4 ypg). The team also recorded top 10 rankings in passing offense (213.0 ypg), scoring offense (24.0 ppg) and fewest sacks allowed (28). Individually speaking, Owens went to his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl, fullback Fred Beasley went to his first Pro Bowl and running back Kevan Barlow recorded the first 1,000-yard campaign of his three-year career.

In 2002, Knapp's offense played a pivotal role in the 49ers' run to the NFC West title and the Divisional round of the NFC playoffs. Overall, the 49ers finished eighth in the NFL in total offense and placed four offensive starters - Garcia, Owens, center Jeremy Newberry and guard Ron Stone - in the Pro Bowl. Garcia continued to flourish in Knapp's system, passing for more than 3,000 yards for the third consecutive season, while Owens finished with a career-best 100 receptions. The offensive line, anchored by Newberry and Stone, allowed only 22 sacks and opened holes for a running game that accounted for 2,244 yards. The unit also set a record with a 52.3-percent conversion rate on third down, the highest mark in NFL history over a 16-game season.

In his first season as architect of the 49ers offense in 2001, Knapp helped lead a young offense to a No. 4 ranking in total offense and a No. 2 ranking in rushing. The success of the 49ers offense was further evidenced by the naming of five offensive players to the Pro Bowl.

Prior to being named offensive coordinator, Knapp spent three seasons as the 49ers quarterbacks coach. In that position, Knapp worked with Garcia and one of the NFL's all-time great quarterbacks in the form of Young. In his first season instructing the quarterbacks, Knapp's guidance played an important role in helping Young reach career highs in touchdowns (36) and passing yards (4,170) - in the 14th season of his NFL career. Over the course of the next two seasons, Knapp oversaw the development of Garcia, who took over in 1999 after Young was lost for the season in Week 3. It would take a little more than a year for Garcia to fulfill his Pro Bowl potential. In 2000, Garcia set a new team record, passing for 4,278 yards to go along with 31 touchdowns and only 10 interceptions. Garcia earned the NFL's Most Improved Player Award for his sudden success.

Knapp joined the 49ers coaching staff in 1995, spending the first three seasons as the team's offensive quality control coach. Prior to his appointment with the 49ers, Knapp spent nine years on the coaching staff of Sacramento State University, serving as running backs coach (1986-89), receivers coach (1989-90) and offensive coordinator/assistant head coach (1991-94).

A former quarterback himself, Knapp enjoyed a distinguished career at Sacramento State where he ranked among the Hornets career leaders with more than 3,800 passing yards and 32 touchdown passes. He went to training camps with the Kansas City Chiefs (1986), Los Angeles Raiders (1987-90) and the 49ers (1992-94). It was during this period of his career that he started to learn about the intricacies of a successful offensive scheme from the likes of 49ers coaching legend Bill Walsh and then-Raiders head coach (and future head coach of two-time Super Bowl winner Denver) Mike Shanahan.

A native of Seal Beach, Calif., Knapp was born March 5, 1963 in Long Beach, Calif. He and his wife, Starla, have a daughter, Jordan.

DENNIS ALLEN

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Dennis Allen was named defensive assistant in January, 2004, after spending two seasons as the Falcons defensive quality control coach.

In his new role, Allen will assist new Falcons defensive coordinator Ed Donatell in addition to working with the Falcons' defensive line. One of Allen's primary responsibilities the past two seasons was assisting with the secondary.

In 2002, Allen's first year in Atlanta, the Falcons tied for third in the NFL with 24 interceptions. Furthermore, Atlanta's pass defense improved from 30th in 2001 to 16th in 2002.

Allen previously worked as the secondary coach for the University of Tulsa (2000-01). Before his stint at Tulsa, Allen was on the coaching staff for four years (1996-99) at Texas A&M as a graduate assistant, working primarily with the school's secondary.

A native of Hurst, Texas, Allen earned four letters for the Aggies of Texas A&M as a safety from 1992-95. He started 21 consecutive games to end his career and was named an all-conference honorable mention during his final two seasons. One of his most memorable collegiate highlights was a crucial fourth quarter interception that clinched an 18-9 victory over rival Texas in 1993, which sent Texas A&M to its third straight Cotton Bowl. He collected Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week honors after intercepting two passes in a 36-14 win over Oklahoma in 1994.

Allen was signed as an undrafted free agent by the Buffalo Bills and competed in their training camp in 1996. Allen's father, Grady, was a linebacker for the Falcons from 1969-72.

CLANCY BARONE

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

After serving on the collegiate level for the last 18 years, Clancy Barone begins his first year in the NFL ranks as the Falcons assistant offensive line coach. Barone was named to the position on February 1, 2004, after a year as offensive coordinator/offensive line/assistant head coach at Texas State University.

Under his tutelage, the Bobcats were the No. 1 offense in the Southland Conference and No. 7 in the nation in 2003, averaging 443.4 yards and 26.2 points per game. Along the way, the Bobcats offense set 17 school records.

During his distinguished career, which has also included stops at American River College (offensive line 1987-90), Cal State Sacramento (offensive line 1991-92), Texas A&M (assistant offensive line 1993), Eastern Illinois (offensive line 1994-96), Wyoming (offensive line/offensive coordinator 1997-99) and Houston (offensive line/offensive coordinator 2000-2002), Barone has coached four Outland Award finalists, four Lombardi Award finalists, two Rimmington Award finalists and 22 players who have gone on to play in the NFL. In his last two years at Houston, Barone's offensive line gave up only 29 sacks out of a possible 853 pass plays, the fewest sacks per pass attempt in the nation during that span. In 2002, Barone was selected the Division I Offensive Line Coach of the Year by the National Offensive Line Coaches Association after helping the Cougars offense finish No. 1 in Conference USA on its way to setting 12 school records and seven Conference USA offensive records. In addition, Houston RB Joffrey Reynolds posted the fifth-highest rushing total in the nation in 2002, rushing for 1,545 yards, the third-highest mark in school history. In his three seasons tutoring the offensive line at Wyoming, the Cowboys gave up a minuscule 35 sacks in three seasons.

Barone and his wife, Rosie, have two daughters - Gianna and Isabell - and one son, Stefano.

CHRIS BEAKE

LINEBACKERS

Chris Beake was named the Falcons linebackers coach on January 19, 2004, after spending the last six years with the San Francisco 49ers in various capacities, including pro personnel assistant (1998), defensive quality control coach (1999), defensive assistant (2000-2002) and offensive assistant (2003).

In 2003, Beake served as an offensive assistant to current Falcons offensive coordinator Greg Knapp. Beake originally joined the 49ers organization in 1998 as an assistant in the pro personnel department. He made the transition to the sideline in 1999 when he was named defensive quality control coach under defensive coordinator Jim Mora. He was promoted to defensive assistant the following season, a position he held until moving to the offensive side of the ball in 2003. Prior to his stint with the 49ers, Beake was a Civil Engineer Officer for the Air Force for three years (1995-98).

A graduate of the Air Force Academy in 1994, Beake earned his bachelor's degree in civil engineering. While a lieutenant, Beake served as a graduate assistant coach for the Air Force Academy for one season (1994-95), where he assisted the defensive coordinator and helped with the defensive backs. Beake would go on to earn his master's degree in business administration from the University of West Florida in 1997.

Beake and his wife, Andrea, are the parents of a son, Colin.

ROCKY COLBURN

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

A coaching veteran of more than 15 years, Rocky Colburn enters his sixth season as the Falcons assistant strength and conditioning coach.

Colburn's diverse coaching resume has also included successful stops at the high school and collegiate level. In his role with the Falcons, Colburn assists Al Miller with all facets of the team's strength and conditioning program.

Colburn made the switch to the professional ranks after serving as the head football coach at Bibb County High School in Centreville, Ala., for four years. A product of Quintette, Fla., Colburn was the assistant strength and conditioning coach at his alma mater, Alabama, for six seasons. He also coached one year at Samford. As a player, Colburn was an academic All-SEC defensive back for the Crimson Tide under legendary coach Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1981-84 and learned his future craft from Al Miller.

He and his wife, Donna, have four sons, Luke, Riley, Ted and Jake.

JOE DECAMILLIS

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Joe DeCamillis was recognized for the outstanding play of his special teams units when he was promoted to special teams coordinator in January, 2004. This season will mark DeCamillis' 16th in the NFL and his eighth with the Falcons.

Last season the Falcons special teams unit continued to distinguish itself as one of the best in the NFL. In the always important battle for field position, the Falcons kickoff and punt return units were among the NFL's elite, finishing second in the league in both categories. Individually speaking, punt and kickoff returner Allen Rossum continued to ascend in the Falcons record books. Rossum finished second in the NFC and third in the NFL with a 14.0-yard average on punt returns in helping the Falcons to a team record 14.3-yard punt return average. He set team records for the most punt return yards in a season (545) and the most combined return yards in a season (1,836). In addition, his 59-yard punt return for a touchdown against Tennessee marked the 11th consecutive year that someone on DeCamillis' return team brought back either a punt or kickoff for a touchdown.

In 2002, kicker Jay Feely headlined another outstanding year for the Falcons special teams, setting franchise records for most field goals (32) and most points (138) in a season. Punter Chris Mohr led the NFL in net punting average (38.7 yards per punt), and the Falcons punt coverage unit led the NFL, allowing only 109 yards on 21 punt returns. In addition, Rossum had a 91-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

In 2001, DeCamillis' special teams finished No. 4 overall in the NFL according to a respected annual ranking by the Dallas Morning News. That season, PR Darrien Gordon finished first in the NFC and second in the league with a 14.1 average, the highest-ever by a Falcon in a single-season. Gordon's 139 return yards vs. Dallas set a new club record for a single-game and his timely returns of 74 and 41 yards helped position the Falcons for two scores in a close 20-13 victory. In addition, KR Darrick Vaughn scored another touchdown, covering 96 yards at St. Louis, to establish a new Falcons record with four career KOR touchdowns. Vaughn led the NFL and broke the club record with his 27.7 KOR average in 2000.

DeCamillis' punt return unit in 1999 had only 26 punts returned against them for 119 yards, which was the lowest in the NFL and the 10th-lowest in the league since 1978. His 1998 unit surrendered only 112 punt return yards, the seventh-lowest in the NFL in a single-season since 1978.

In 1996 with the Giants, his special teams led the NFL with 32 punts downed inside the 20-yard line and the punt return unit was No. 6 in the NFL (11.4 average) with two touchdowns scored.

DeCamillis' pro experience has included four years in New York and five years in Denver where he served as defensive quality control and assistant special teams coach. He was an all-state quarterback and wrestler at Arvada (Co.) High School and went on to become an All-America wrestler at Wyoming.

Joe, 38, and his wife, Dana, have two daughters, Caitlin and Ashley.

ALEX GIBBS

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/OFFENSIVE LINE

One of the most accomplished assistants in the NFL over the last 20 years, Alex Gibbs was named assistant head coach/offensive line coach for the Falcons on January 19, 2004. Atlanta marks the sixth NFL stop for Gibbs, who has also tutored offensive lines in Denver (twice, 1984-87 & 1995-2003) Los Angeles Raiders (1988-89), San Diego (1990-91), Indianapolis (1992) and Kansas City (1993-94). Gibbs joins the Falcons from Denver where he spent the last nine seasons in the same capacity, the last three of which primarily in a consulting role.

"He's one of the greatest offensive line coaches in the history of the game," lauded Falcons head coach Jim Mora.

Gibbs' reputation has been built around his talent to get the most out of his players through his one-of-a-kind ability to instruct. Nowhere was this more apparent than in his most previous stop in Denver where his coaching played a central role in the Broncos winning back-to back Super Bowls in the late 90s. Gibbs returned to Denver in 1995 to accept the role of assistant head coach/ offensive line coach. During his second tour of duty in Denver, Gibbs' line helped the Broncos set numerous franchise records including most total yards (6,554 in 2000), most passing yards (4,243 in 2000), most first downs (383 in 2000), points scored (501 in 1998), rushing yards (2,468 in 1998), rushing touchdowns (32 in 1998), total touchdowns (62 in 1998) and fewest sacks allowed (25 in 1998). The Broncos rushing offense ranked in the top five three times (No. 1 in 1996, No. 5 in 1997 and No. 3 in 1998) during Gibbs' tenure, while the offense ranked in the top five four times (No. 1 in 1996 and 1997, No. 3 in 1998 and No. 2 in 2000). When it came to protecting the passer under Gibbs, the Broncos did not allow more than 35 sacks in a season from 1995-2000 and posted two of the top six marks for fewest sacks in club history during that period: (25 in 1998 and 26 in 1995). In postseason player during Denver's two championship years, which included seven games, the Broncos averaged 185 rushing yards per game, while allowing only 1.4 sacks per game.

Individually speaking, center Tom Nalen went to four consecutive Pro Bowls under Gibbs' tutelage. In 1998, Nalen, tackle Tony Jones and guard Mark Schlereth were named to the Pro Bowl after doing their part in not only leading the Broncos to a second consecutive Super Bowl title, but also in assisting running back and NFL MVP Terrell Davis to rush for more than 2,000 yards, the fourth consecutive season that Davis rushed for more than 1,000 yards. Another member of the Broncos' offensive line who had a big hand in the team's success was tackle Gary Zimmerman, who went to a pair of Pro Bowls (1995-96) under Gibbs.

In the first of Denver's back-to-back Super Bowl runs in 1997, the Broncos' offensive line paved the way for 15 100-yard games by Broncos running backs over the course of the 20 games (regular season and playoffs). It was also in 1997 that the Broncos offensive line earned the NFL Offensive Player of the Week award for its play in the Broncos Wild Card win over Jacksonville. It marked only the second time in NFL history that an offensive line won the award.

Prior to his appointment in Denver, Gibbs tutored the offensive line in Kansas City for two seasons where he helped the Chiefs drop their sack total from 48 in 1992 (the year before his arrival) to 19 in 1994. During his time in Kansas City, Gibbs worked with center Tim Grunhard, tackle John Alt, and five-time All-Pro guard Will Shields. The three linemen anchored a line that opened holes for future Hall of Fame running back Marcus Allen, who Gibbs also worked with in his earlier stint with the Los Angeles Raiders. Gibbs brought similar results to Indianapolis where he was the Colts' offensive line coach in 1992 as he helped the Colts drop their sack total by 13 in the one season he was there. Prior to that, he was in San Diego for two seasons (1990-91) where he helped assemble a line that enabled the Chargers to have the second-best rushing offense in the league in 1991 with an average of 140.5 yards per game. With the Los Angeles Raiders (1988-89), he coached guard Steve Wisniewski who would go on to become an eight-time Pro Bowl selection.

Gibbs began his NFL career in 1984 with the Broncos, serving as the team's offensive line coach for four seasons. During his first stint in Denver, Gibbs directed a line that helped the Broncos make back-to-back trips to the Super Bowl in 1986-87. Gibbs coached at the college level for 13 seasons before moving on to the NFL. His collegiate stops included Duke (1969-70), Kentucky (1971-72), West Virginia (1973-74), Ohio State (1975-78), Auburn (1979-81) and Georgia (1982-83). His diverse background also included three years as coach at Mount Airy (N.C.) High School where he won a pair of state titles.

A native of Morganton, N.C., Gibbs, 63, was a running back and defensive back at Davidson College. He studied pre-law and then earned his master's degree from the University of North Carolina in European history. He would later receive his doctorate in education from Auburn. Gibbs has four sons - David, Chuck, Steve and Mark - and a daughter, Sandy. He is married to Trina and they reside on Lake Lanier.

JEFF JAGODZINSKI

TIGHT ENDS

Jeff Jagodzinski (pronounced jay-gah-ZIN-ski) joined the Falcons coaching staff as tight ends coach on January 29, 2004, after spending the previous five seasons in the same role with the Green Bay Packers. In his new setting, Jagodzinski will work with 2003 Pro Bowl selection Alge Crumpler. During four of his five seasons in Green Bay, Jagodzinski tutored tight end Bubba Franks, who has played in the last three Pro Bowls.

During Jagodzinski's stint with the Packers, the tight end position became a reliable source of offensive production, primarily in the form of Franks. In 2002, Franks caught 54 passes, the first 50-catch season by a tight end since 1995. In addition, Franks caught 16 touchdown passes between 2001-02, the sixth-highest two-year total for an NFL tight end in a 20-year span.

Prior to his appointment with the Packers, Jagodzinski spent 14 years in the collegiate ranks, his most recent stop coming at Boston College where he was offensive coordinator/offensive line coach. During his two years with Boston College, the Eagles offense averaged more than 400 yards a game in both 1997 and 1998. The Eagles also allowed the fewest sacks in the Big East over that span. Prior to Boston College, Jagodzinski coached tight ends and offensive line at East Carolina (1989-96), offensive line at Louisiana State (1987-88) and Northern Illinois (1986) and running backs at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater (1985), his alma mater.

A Wisconsin native, Jagodzinski was a three-year starter at fullback for the Warhawks. He earned a B.S. degree in education from Whitewater. Jagodzinski and his wife, Lisa, have five children: son Josh and daughters JoAnne, Jessica, Jacqueline and Jennifer.

BILL JOHNSON

DEFENSIVE LINE

Regarded by many as one of the best at his craft, Bill Johnson embarks on his fourth season as the Falcons defensive line coach in 2004. One of Johnson's main tasks this season will be aiding in the transition of the team's base defense from a 3-4 alignment to a 4-3.

Last season, the Falcons defensive line continued to progress under Johnson's tutelage, accounting for 26.5 of the team's 36 sacks. One of the season's biggest highlights came in the form of Ellis Johnson, whose 8.0 sacks led all interior linemen in the NFL. In addition, defensive end Patrick Kerney added 6.5 sacks to move into the team's Top 10 list in only his fifth season. In the last three years, Kerney has the best three-year sack total for a Falcon (29.0) since Chuck Smith's 30.5 sacks between 1997-99.

In 2002, the Falcons defensive line was instrumental in helping the defense account for 47 sacks, tying the second-highest mark in team history. Leading the team in sacks was Kerney, who registered 10.5. Combined with his career-best 12 sacks in 2001, Kerney became the first Falcons player to have 10 or more sacks in back-to-back seasons since 1973-74. Another player who has enjoyed tremendous success under Johnson is DE Brady Smith. Between the 2001-02 seasons, Smith registered the two highest sack totals of his career with 6.5 in 2002 and 8.0 in 2001. Johnson's first NFL assignment came after serving 21 years on the collegiate level.

Prior to working at Arkansas for one season in 2000, Johnson coached at defensive powerhouse Texas A&M for eight seasons from 1992-99. He worked with a defensive unit that ranked No. 13 in the nation in total defense in 1999. Johnson's coaching career started at Northwestern (La.) State and has included stopovers at McNeese State, Miami (FL) and Louisiana Tech in addition to his time at Arkansas and Texas A&M. He participated in eight bowl games on the college level, including three Cotton Bowl games, one Sugar Bowl and one Orange Bowl. He lettered four years and was a two-year starter for Northwestern (La.) State.

Johnson was born on June 23, 1955 and he and his wife, Dawn, have two children, Billy, 13, and Abby, 12.

MIKE JOHNSON

QUARTERBACKS

Mike Johnson enters this third season on the Falcons coaching staff, and his second as quarterbacks coach after tutoring the wide receivers in his first season with the club. In his role, Johnson will continue to work with Pro Bowl quarterback Michael Vick whose preseason leg injury stunted what was expected to be a promising 2003 season. After missing most of the first 12 games due to injury, Vick led the Falcons to a 3-1 record in the final four games of the 2003 season.

In his first year with the Falcons, Johnson worked with a young group of receivers, which included current Falcons wide receiver Brian Finneran who had the best year of his career under Johnson.

Before joining the Falcons in 2002, Johnson guided the quarterbacks in San Diego for two seasons. Under his tutelage, Chargers QB Doug Flutie enjoyed career-highs in 2001 in passing yards with 3,464, completions with 294 and passing attempts with 521. It was the most passing yards by a Chargers quarterback since Dan Fouts had 3,638 yards in 1985. Flutie's totals also included four 300-yard passing games.

Before joining the NFL ranks, Johnson was the wide receivers coach (1997-98) and then quarterbacks coach (1999) at Oregon State. His pro playing stops included the San Antonio Riders of the World League in 1991-92, the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League in 1992-93 and the Shreveport Pirates of the CFL in 1994-95. At the collegiate level, Johnson lettered as a back-up signal-caller at Arizona State University from 1985-87. He transferred to Mesa Community College where he became a Junior College All-America and then moved on to the University of Akron. He was named Akron's Athlete of the Year in 1990. Johnson earned 11 letters at Baldwin Park (CA) High School, including three each in football, basketball and baseball.

Johnson is president of the First and Ten Foundation, which is a nationwide program dedicated to the development of high school student-athletes. He was born on May 2, 1967 in Los Angeles, Calif. He and his wife, Louan, have a daughter, Taylor, and one son, Michael, Jr.

BRETT MAXIE

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Brett Maxie returned to the site of one of his four career stops as an NFL player when he was named defensive backs coach for the Falcons on January 19, 2004. Maxie joined the Falcons from San Francisco where he spent five years in the 49ers organization as assistant secondary coach (1999-2001) and most recently secondary coach (2002-2003).

During his tenure with the 49ers, Maxie oversaw the growth of a young unit which developed into one of the more formidable pass defenses in the league. Last season, the 49ers secondary showed a knack for causing turnovers with 23 interceptions, the sixth-highest mark in the NFL.

Individually speaking, safety Tony Parrish tied for the league lead in interceptions with nine. During one span, Parrish intercepted at least one pass in five consecutive games, the second longest streak in 49ers history. Another player who continued to progress was cornerback Ahmed Plummer, who tied for second on the team with four interceptions, including one that he returned 68 yards for a touchdown. In 2002, Parrish tied for third in the NFL with seven interceptions and led a unit that tied for eighth in the league with 19 interceptions. In 2001, the 49ers finished third in the NFL with 24 pass interceptions, including seven each by Plummer and safety Zack Bronson.

Maxie joined the 49ers from Carolina where he was defensive backs/defensive quality control coach for the Panthers in 1998. Prior to entering the coaching profession, Maxie enjoyed a 13-year career as a defensive back playing for New Orleans (1985-93), Atlanta (1994), Carolina (1995-96) and San Francisco (1997). During his time with New Orleans and San Francisco, Maxie was coached by Falcons head coach Jim Mora, who Maxie first encountered when Mora was named the Saints secondary coach in 1992. He finished his career with 23 interceptions. Maxie was the first player ever to record an interception for Carolina, which entered the NFL as an expansion team in 1995.

Maxie, who originally planned to attend optometry school before being signed by New Orleans as a rookie free agent, graduated with a degree in biology from Texas Southern in 1985. Maxie and his wife, Angela, have four children: sons Brett and Adam, and daughters Maya and Olivia.

AL MILLER

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Al Miller, a member of the inaugural USA Strength and Conditioning 2003 Hall of Fame class, enters his 20th season as a coach in the NFL and his eighth as strength and conditioning coach of the Falcons.

In his role with the Falcons, Miller develops and implements the team's workout program which is tailored to the individual needs of each Falcons player. It is this attention and dedication that has been one of the biggest factors in helping limit the number of serious injuries Falcons players incur throughout the season. In a day and age in which superior conditioning is required year-round, Miller has developed an off-season program which enables Falcons players to be at their best from the first day of camp right through the end of the season.

In his previous 19 years of coaching at the NFL level, which has also included stops with Denver (1985-92) and the New York Giants (1993-96), Miller's strength and conditioning programs have been crucial building blocks for the foundation of four Super Bowl teams, including one in Atlanta.

Prior to his NFL ascent, Miller, 57, served as the strength coach for the University of Alabama under the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1982-85. He also worked in that same capacity at Mississippi State in 1980 and at Northeast Louisiana in 1981. Miller was a teammate of ex-Falcons RB Joe Profit at Northeast Louisiana. He received the ultimate compliment when he was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Northeast Louisiana in 1992 for his exploits as a wide receiver.

Miller earned his Master's degree from Louisiana Tech in 1974. Miller and his wife, Janis, have a son, Carey Brian, and a daughter, Lisa.

ROBERT PRINCE

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Robert Prince joined Jim Mora's staff as offensive assistant on February 5, 2004, his first full-time NFL coaching assignment after spending the majority of his 15-year coaching career on the collegiate level.

Prince, who held coaching internships with NFL teams three straight years - San Francisco (2000), San Diego (2001), San Francisco (2002) - from 2000-2002, comes to the Falcons from Boise State University, where he joined the school as wide receivers coach before adding the responsibility of passing game coordinator in 2003. Under Prince's guidance, the Broncos passing game played a big role in Boise State's run to a 13-1 record in 2003. The Broncos finished first in the country in scoring offense (43.0 points per game) and third in the nation in passing efficiency (159.8).

Throughout Prince's three years at Boise State, Broncos receivers were among the most productive in the Western Athletic Conference (WAC). Under his guidance, two Broncos student-athletes earned All-WAC honors. In addition, the last two seasons the school record for most receiving yards in a season was broken by two different receivers.

Prince came to Boise State from Portland State where he spent three seasons (1998-2000) in various capacities including offensive coordinator, quarterbacks coach and wide receivers coach. Prince's diverse coaching background also includes stops with the Recruit Seagulls of X League Japan (offensive coordinator 1996-97), Fort Lewis College (offensive coordinator 1994-95), Sacramento State (wide receivers 1992-93), Montana State (asst. offensive line 1991) and his alma mater Humboldt State (graduate assistant 1989-90).

Prince earned both his bachelor's (mathematics) and master's (physical education) degrees from Humboldt State. He and his wife, Susan, have three children, Hayden, Tyson and Jasmin.

GEORGE STEWART

WIDE RECEIVERS

George Stewart, a 16-year NFL assistant coach with previous stops in Pittsburgh (1989-91), Tampa Bay (1992-95) and San Francisco (1996-2002), enters his second season with the Falcons as wide receivers coach.

Last season, under Stewart's guidance, free-agent acquisition Peerless Price led the Falcons with 64 receptions, the most receptions for a Falcons receiver since the 1999 season.

Prior to his appointment with the Falcons, Stewart helped mold 49ers wide receivers Terrell Owens and Tai Streets into one of the most potent receiving duos in the NFL. In 2002, the two combined for 172 catches for 2,056 yards and 18 touchdowns. Under Stewart's tutelage, Owens, who had a career-high 100 receptions and led the NFL in touchdown receptions with 13 in 2002, was named to the Pro Bowl three consecutive years (2000-02).

In 2001, Stewart helped the receiving corps pave the way for QB Jeff Garcia to become the first quarterback in team history to throw for 30 or more touchdowns in two consecutive seasons. In 2000, his first season in charge of the receivers, the 49ers were led by Owens who earned his first ever Pro Bowl appearance. Owens set career-highs in receptions (97) and receiving yards (1,451) and also broke a 50-year old NFL record with 20 receptions in a game.

Considered to be one of the top special teams coaches in the National Football League, Stewart's 1999 special teams unit was highlighted by Wade Richey, who led the NFC and was third in the NFL with 17 touchbacks. He led the NFL in field goal accuracy hitting 21-of-23 (.913) and made 30-of-31 PATs. In 1998, Stewart helped develop Richey into an NFL kicker, as he finished third in the NFL and second in the NFC with 27 touchbacks. Richey also was named Special Teams Player-of-the-Week with three field goals vs. Green Bay in the NFC Wild Card Game. Stewart's 1998 kickoff coverage units improved to second-best in the NFL.

Stewart began his NFL career as special teams coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1989-91. He also served double duty in Tampa Bay, handling the team's tight ends during three of his seasons (1992-94).

Stewart's coaching career began under the tutelage of Lou Holtz at Arkansas (1983), where he was a graduate assistant and coached the tight ends. He spent the next two seasons (1984-85) at Minnesota as offensive line coach. He later followed Holtz to Notre Dame as linebackers coach (1986-88) before moving into the pro ranks. An All-American and All-Southwest Conference selection as a guard at Arkansas, Stewart earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1981.

Stewart is a native of Little Rock, Ark.

EMMITT THOMAS

SENIOR DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT/SECONDARY

Emmitt Thomas was promoted to senior defensive assistant/secondary on January 19, 2004, after serving as the Falcons secondary coach for the past two seasons. In 2004, the Falcons will continue to benefit from Thomas' 30-plus years of NFL experience as both a player and coach.

In 2002, Thomas' first year guiding the Falcons defensive backs, the Falcons tied for third in the NFL with 24 interceptions. Furthermore, Atlanta's pass defense improved from 30th in 2001 to 16th in 2002.

The Falcons' upgraded play in pass defense came as no surprise to anyone who has ever worked around Thomas. He has been a winning presence on the NFL landscape for 36 seasons as a player and assistant coach. In that time, he has captured a total of three Super Bowl rings with two titles coming as an assistant coach and one as a player. Prior to landing in Atlanta, Thomas served as the Defensive Coordinator for the Minnesota Vikings from 2000-2001. In his first season in Minnesota, Thomas helped the Vikings win the NFC Central crown and advance to the NFC Championship Game. Under his direction, Minnesota's defense finished sixth in the NFC in rushing defense in 2000.

Thomas' extensive coaching career began at Central Missouri State University and in 1981 his NFL coaching career started with the then St. Louis Cardinals. A native of Angleton, Texas, Thomas moved on to the Washington Redskins (1986-94) for nine seasons as a wide receivers coach and then as a defensive backs coach. His time with the Redskins was marked with five trips to the Playoffs, two NFC Titles and victories in Super Bowl XXII and XXVI. Thomas joined the Philadelphia Eagles as a Defensive Coordinator for four seasons (1995-98) before taking a similar post with the Green Bay Packers (1999). The Eagles' 1998 defense was ranked No. 1 against the pass and was third in the NFL in sack percentage. His 1996 unit finished fifth in the league overall and his 1995 defense was fourth overall in yards surrendered as the Eagles posted back-to-back 10-6 records and a pair of playoff berths.

Thomas was a standout defensive back for 13 years with the Kansas City Chiefs (1966-78). Thomas played in 181 NFL games, including Super Bowls I and IV, and was selected to play in five Pro Bowls. He finished his career with 58 interceptions, which is still tied for eighth most ever in NFL history, as he led the league twice in interceptions in a single-season. A quarterback and receiver at Bishop College in Dallas, he was converted to defensive back as an undrafted rookie free agent with the Chiefs.

Thomas was born June 3, 1943 in Angleton, Texas. He has two grown children, a son Derek, who is head men's basketball coach at Western Illinois, and a daughter, Dedra a LVN in Marshall, Texas. He and his wife, Jacqui, reside in Suwanee, Ga.

OLLIE WILSON

RUNNING BACKS

Ollie Wilson, a 13-year NFL coaching veteran, enters his third season on Atlanta's staff in his second stint as the Falcons' running backs coach.

Last season, under Wilson's direction, Falcons running backs Warrick Dunn and T.J. Duckett distinguished themselves as one of the best one-two combinations in the NFL as the Falcons finished with their fourth-highest per-carry average in franchise history (4.480). Dunn was averaging 5.4 yards per carry, a full 1.5 yards above his career average, before he was lost for the season with a foot injury in the season's 11th game against Tennessee, while Duckett rushed for a career-best 779 yards and set a franchise record by scoring a touchdown in seven straight games.

In 2002, the Falcons averaged 148.0 yards rushing per game (fourth in the NFL), the fourth-highest mark in team history. In addition, they also established team records for most rushing touchdowns in a season (23) and best per-carry average (4.528 yards).

Wilson returned to Atlanta in 2002 after spending five seasons as the running backs coach with the San Diego Chargers. In San Diego, Wilson helped tutor rookie runner LaDainian Tomlinson in 2001 and saw the fruits of his labor pay immediate dividends when Tomlinson established a Chargers rookie record of 1,236 yards rushing with 10 touchdowns scored. The 1,236 yards stood second only in San Diego's team history to Natrone Means' 1,350 yards in 1994. In addition, through Wilson's guidance, Tomlinson also broke a 36-year old team record by totaling 1,603 combined yards from scrimmage with another 367 yards receiving on 59 receptions. Tomlinson finished second in the Associated Press' balloting for NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year to Chicago Bears RB Anthony Thomas.

Under Wilson's coaching influence in his first stint in Atlanta (1991-96), three Falcons running backs rushed for 1,000 yards or more, including Jamal Anderson (1,055 in 1996), Craig Heyward (1,083 in 1995) and Erric Pegram (1,185 in 1993). Heyward's productive 1995 season made him the first Falcons runner to be voted to the Pro Bowl since 1988.

Wilson's first taste of the NFL came as part of the league's successful Minority Coaching Fellowship program with the Houston Oilers and then with the Falcons. The native of Worcester, Mass., boasts a college coaching background that includes the University of California-Berkeley (1983-90), where he coached running backs, wide receivers and defensive backs. He also served as the offensive coordinator at Northeastern University for eight seasons (1976-82) and his first coaching position was wide receivers for Springfield College in 1975. Wilson was an honorable mention All-America wide out for Springfield College.

Wilson was born on March 3, 1951 in Worcester, Mass. He and his wife, Nadine, reside in Suwanee, Ga.

LES SNEAD - DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

Les Snead heads into his seventh season with the Falcons' personnel department and fourth as director of pro personnel. In his role with the Falcons, Snead oversees the Falcons scouting effort of all professional leagues, including the NFL, NFL Europe, the Canadian Football League and Arena Football League. He also plays a day-to-day role in the evaluation of the Falcons current roster and provides evaluation of all player acquisitions. In addition to his duties with pro personnel, Snead also assists with preparation of the annual college draft. Snead came to Atlanta after assisting current Falcons Vice President of Football operations Ron Hill in the daily operations of the pro scouting department for the Jacksonville Jaguars from 1995-97. Les played tight end for Auburn from 1992-93 and was part of the Tigers' perfect 11-0 team in 1993. He also earned Southeast Region Academic All-American honors during his college career. This 32 year-old native of Eufaula, Ala., was a graduate assistant at Auburn after his playing days were over. Snead also was an administrative assistant of football operations at his alma mater in 1995. He holds a B.S. in psychology and a master's of education degree. Les has finished two marathons and likes to mountain and road bike. He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside with their son, Logan, in Dacula, Ga.

RAY FARMER - PRO SCOUT

Ray Farmer heads into his third season in the team's pro scouting department. Farmer was a safety at Duke from 1992-95. This two-time All-ACC performer was also named a third-team All-America and to the conference's all-academic team in 1994. He set an NCAA record with eight career blocked PATs while at Duke. Ray was a fourth round draft choice by the Philadelphia Eagles in 1996 but after two seasons his career was cut short due to a knee injury. Farmer played linebacker for Emmitt Thomas, who was the Eagles' defensive coordinator. Farmer came to the Falcons after serving as the academic coordinator for football at Duke in 2001 and also assisted the school in football recruiting operations. Ray has been married to his wife, Vernet, for seven years. They have one son, Boyd.

SCOUTING

PHIL EMERY - DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE SCOUTING

Phil Emery was named the Falcons director of college scouting on May 18, 2004. Emery comes to the Falcons after a six-year stint (1998-2004) as an area scout with the Chicago Bears. In addition, he was responsible for the final grading, statistical evaluation and chart design and point system creation for all athletic testing items on all of the Bears' draft-eligible prospects (1999-2001). Emery performed numerous other duties within the Bears' scouting department, including the crosscheck evaluation of all offensive tackles and tight ends (2001-2004), wide receivers (1998-2001) and the recruitment and signing of undrafted free agents from the southeast (1999-2004) and northeast (1998-99) regions of the United States. Prior to joining the Bears, Emery served for seven years (1991-98) as the director of strength and conditioning services and an associate professor at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. In that capacity, Emery was responsible for the development, organization, administration and supervision of all strength and conditioning activities for 4,000 Midshipmen. In 1996, his program helped the Midshipmen football team to its first winning season in 15 years. Emery joined the U.S. Naval Academy from the University of Tennessee, where he was the assistant strength and conditioning coach for four years (1987-91). Emery's other coaching stopovers have included Central Michigan (graduate asst., 1981-82), Western New Mexico (head strength and conditioning, offensive line coach, 1982-84), Georgetown College (defensive line, 1984-85) and Saginaw Valley State (head strength and conditioning, defensive line 1985-87). Emery holds a bachelor's degree in physical education from Wayne State and a master's degree in secondary education from Western New Mexico.

MATT BERRY - COLLEGE SCOUT

After spending two seasons working in various capacities in the Falcons scouting department, Matt Berry was promoted to a college scout in charge of the Northeast territory. Since joining the Falcons in 2001, Berry has helped in the areas of pro and college personnel, research and development and football operations. Some of his responsibilities included preseason scouting, attending spring workouts at colleges and the combine, as well as helping with the draft preparation. Berry also spent time with the Baltimore Ravens during the summer of 2002, aiding the player personnel department in day-to-day operations during training camp. A Nashville native, he holds a B.A. in History from Davidson College (N.C.) where he was a four-year starter in football and also lettered in baseball.

SCOUTING

BILLY CAMPFIELD - COLLEGE SCOUT

Billy Campfield joined the Falcons in 2001 after spending three years with the St. Louis Rams. Campfield was an 11th round draft choice by the Philadelphia Eagles in 1978 and labored six seasons in the league. He played with the Eagles from 1978-82, including being a part of the Eagles' Super Bowl XV team in 1980 and spent one season with the New York Giants in 1983. His pro experience also included one year with the Arizona Outlaws of the USFL in 1985. His football resume entails a college coaching background as a running backs coach and special teams coordinator for Northern Colorado from 1991-93. He also tutored the running backs at the University of Nevada from 1994-95 and was a tight ends/special teams coach at Sacramento State from 1989-90. Campfield lettered four years at Kansas and was a second-team All-Big 8 choice in 1975. He and his wife, Sharon, have two sons, B.J. and Cameron.

BOYD DOWLER - COLLEGE SCOUT

Boyd Dowler has been a fixture in NFL circles for more than 30 years since his playing days on championship teams with the Green Bay Packers. His brilliance on the field as a wide receiver for the Packers included three NFL titles and a pair of Super Bowl championships under legendary head coach Vince Lombardi. A member of the Packers Hall of Fame, he performed in two Pro Bowls and was selected as a first-team wide receiver on the NFL's 1960's "All-Decade Team". Dowler has been on the coaching staff of the Rams, Redskins, Eagles, Bengals and Buccaneers. He came to the Falcons after being on the Panthers' scouting staff. He resides in Tampa with his wife, Patricia.

BOB HARRISON - COLLEGE SCOUT

Bob Harrison is in his eighth year as a Falcons scout but served in a previous coaching role in Atlanta. Harrison was the club's receivers coach from 1983-86 under Dan Henning and also coached two years with the Pittsburgh Steelers (1992-93). His other ties to the Peach State were a coaching stint with the University of Georgia (1988-91). Before coming back to the South, he was the receivers coach at Boston College from 1994-96. As a player, Harrison was an All-MAC receiver at Kent State. His coaching experience has spanned 33 years in college, the NFL and at the high school level. Bob's college time had been spent at Tennessee, North Carolina State and Iowa, among others. He and his wife, Faye, reside in nearby Athens, Ga.

SCOUTING

TAYLOR MORTON - COLLEGE SCOUT

The 2004 season will mark Taylor Morton's fifth season with the Atlanta Falcons and his fourth as a college scout. Morton returned to college scouting in 2002 after serving a stint in the pro personnel department in which he was responsible for the advance scouting of Falcons opponents and also involved in free agent acquisitions. Taylor joined the Falcons after coaching eight years in the college ranks. His coaching stints included Pearl River Community College, Hinds Community College in Mississippi, Auburn and Southern Miss. Morton received both his Masters and B.S. degree in sports administration from Southern Miss. Taylor is a native of Niceville, Fla. He and his wife, Carissa, have two sons, Thomas and Joshua.

MARK OLSON - COLLEGE SCOUT

Mark Olson will make the transition to college scouting in 2004 after serving the last three years as a pro scout. In his new role, Olson will be responsible for scouting the West region of the United States. Olson originally joined the Falcons in 1998 as a scouting assistant. In his role as a pro scout, Olson was responsible for advance scouting of Falcons opponents as well as evaluating players in the professional ranks, and assisting the club in its preparation for acquisitions through free agency or the waiver wire. His past experience has included stints with the Washington Redskins, Minnesota Vikings, and Montreal of the Canadian Football League. Olson graduated from the University of Wisconsin-River Falls with a degree in journalism in 1996. He earned his masters degree in sports management from the University of Minnesota in 1997.

BRUCE PLUMMER - COLLEGE SCOUT

The 2004 season marks Bruce Plummer's fifth year with the Falcons scouting department after joining the club from the Carolina Cobras of the Arena League where he served as secondary coach during their inaugural season of 2000. He handles Blesto combine scouting responsibilities for the Falcons. Plummer offers a wealth of professional playing experience, spending five years (1987-91) in the NFL with the Denver Broncos, Miami Dolphins, Indianapolis Colts, Philadelphia Eagles and San Francisco 49ers. He also added two seasons in the Canadian Football League with the Winnipeg Bombers and B.C. Lions and fours years in the Arena Football League with the Albany Firebirds, Milwaukee Mustangs, Memphis Pharaohs and Arizona Rattlers. Plummer was selected by the Denver Broncos in the ninth round of the 1987 NFL draft as an All-SEC defensive back out of Mississippi State. Plummer played in Super Bowl XXII with the Broncos and in the Grey Cup with Winnipeg, later capturing the Arena Bowl XI Championship with Arizona in 1997. He and his wife, Leslie, reside in Buford, Ga., with their daughter Madison.

BRIAN BOIGNER - EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Brian Boigner embarks on his eighth season as the club's equipment manager. He is responsible for properly outfitting players with the safest and most advanced equipment, as well as ordering and maintaining all of the team's equipment and sideline apparel. He also oversees the transportation of equipment and uniforms to and from all road trips and training camp each summer. Boigner came to Atlanta after a five-year stay with the New York Giants (1992-97). He is only the third equipment manager in Falcons' team history. The 38-year-old Brooklyn, Ohio native began his career in 1984 as a student manager at his alma mater, Kent State University. He was elevated to the position of equipment manager four years later. In 1992, Boigner worked as an assistant equipment manager of the N.Y./N.J. Knights of the World League of American Football.

MIKE CREWS - VIDEO DIRECTOR

Mike Crews heads into his fourth season as the club's video director and sixth year overall with the Falcons. Crews joined the Falcons after working at Georgia Tech. Crews puts into motion the team's weekly game plan by filming each game and practice and then editing it for players and coaches. He also breaks down the opponents' weekly game film for players and coaches to analyze. The native of Decatur, Ga., is responsible for overseeing the digital video system. He received his management degree with a minor in marketing from Tech in 1996 and he honed his craft with the Yellow Jackets' video department as a student assistant. After graduating, he served as the football video coordinator from 1996-98. Mike is a product of Brookwood High School. He and his wife, Jennifer, and their son, Bailey, and daughter, Kelsey, reside in Braselton, Ga.

RON MEDLIN - HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER

Ron will continue to handle the needs of the team's athletic training department for his 11th season in Atlanta. He is only the third head athletic trainer in team history. Prior to coming aboard with the Falcons, Medlin was the assistant athletic trainer for the Cleveland Browns from 1989-93. Medlin also served an internship with the birds for six seasons in the 1980s. His experience in his field has also extended to the collegiate level where he served as the head football trainer at Memphis University for two years. Medlin owns degrees from N.C. State (B.S. in education) and Memphis (M.S. in physical education). His brother, Tony, is the equipment manager of the Chicago Bears. Ron is a member of the NATA, GATA and PFAT's. He and his wife, Candace, and their son, Stevenson Ronald, live in Suwanee, Ga.

FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

BRIAN XANDERS - DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL ADMINISTRATION

In his 11th season with the Falcons organization, Brian Xanders serves as a principal contributor in salary cap management, player personnel and football analysis. As the salary cap analyst for the franchise, he conducts fiscal analysis and contract research for player negotiations. He also assures team compliance with the NFL Collective Bargaining Agreement and the NFL Management Council. In addition, he provides breakdowns of football data for offense, defense, and league-wide statistical trends for the coaching staff. For player personnel, he will assist with the evaluation of free agents and potential college draftees. From 1994 to 2003, Brian served in multiple areas for the Falcons: coaching staff (five years), salary cap management (three years), information technology (five years), sports club management (two years). Xanders, 33, played for Bobby Bowden at Florida State as a middle linebacker and was a member of four bowl winning teams, compiling a 42-7 record during his career. He received All-ACC academic honors at FSU and graduated with a Master's degree in business administration (MBA) and a Bachelor of Science degree in business management. He and his wife, Amy, and their one-year-old son, Reid Elias, reside in Suwanee, Ga.

DON ZULLICK - DIRECTOR OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Donald Zullick is entering his third season with the Atlanta Falcons and his seventh season in the NFL. Zullick will continue his role as the team's Director of Information Technology, targeting enterprise applications and development, as well as provide a strategic direction for the information technology department. Zullick will be heavily involved in the systems development solutions for the franchise, including coaching game analysis, personnel systems, ticketing systems and all other organizational systems needs. Zullick will continue to leverage NFL and internal data sources to enhance the information analysis capabilities for the club. In addition, Zullick will continue to be involved in game day activities, working as a headset coordinator. Zullick has valuable technical knowledge and League experience, which he will continue to apply in strengthening the Falcons' IT capabilities. Recently, Zullick accepted a three-year appointment to the NFL's Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) as the NFC South division's representative. Prior to coming to Atlanta in 2002, Zullick spent four seasons (1998-2001) with the Miami Dolphins where he began his NFL career as an intern in IT. He was later named the team's applications analyst. Zullick, 35, graduated with honors from Florida Atlanta University, earning a degree in computer information systems. He and his wife, Lisa, reside in Alpharetta, Ga.

DAVE COHEN - DIRECTOR OF TICKET SALES

Dave Cohen begins his third season with the Falcons. Cohen oversees the sale and servicing of all Falcons tickets, including season tickets, group tickets and all hospitality programs. This past year, the Falcons took on the additional responsibility of marketing the premium seat inventory in the Georgia Dome. Cohen and his staff now sell all club seats, suites and single game suites in the Georgia Dome. In addition to the sale and servicing of Falcons tickets, the Fan Services and Research & Development areas fall under Cohen's guidance. During his time in Atlanta, the Falcons have sold out all 20 home games (a franchise record) and sold out of all season tickets and club seats. In 2002, the team set an 83-year old NFL record by selling over 21,000 new season tickets. Prior to coming to the Falcons, Cohen spearheaded the sales effort for the Portland Trail Blazers. During his tenure, the team sold out 104 consecutive home games. A graduate from the University of Portland, Cohen and his wife, Kathy, reside in Suwanee, Ga. with their son Casey (6) and daughter Kamryn (4).

BILLY JOHNSON - DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Billy "White Shoes" Johnson continues his work with Falcon players on community appearances and continuing education, family assistance, counseling, financial decision-making and off-season job training. Johnson was honored as a member of the College Football Hall of Fame in 2000 and it follows up an induction into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame. Johnson enjoyed a record-breaking pro career from 1974-88, which culminated in Johnson being named to the NFL's "75th Anniversary All-Time team" for his exploits as a punt returner. This three-time Pro Bowler was also an all-star in the community during his time in the League. He was honored as the NFL Man-of-the-Year with the Houston Oilers and Falcons because of his community endeavors. Johnson displayed his speed recently by winning the 2001 National indoor title in the 60 meters in the over 30-year old category at a meet in Boston. He and his wife, Barbara, have four children: Marcy, Kendra, Jared and Jazmyn, and reside in Duluth, Ga.

ATLANTA

FRANK KLEHA - DIRECTOR OF MEDIA RELATIONS

Frank Kleha enters his 18th season with the organization. As the team's director of media relations, Kleha helps to arrange media interviews for players, coaches and front office personnel with local reporters from newspapers, television and radio stations, as well as national media from around the country. He works closely with the weekly NFL television partners in the broadcast of every game and for the local preseason telecasts. Kleha is also the club's publications editor for the annual 600+ page information guide for media/fans, as well as the editor of the NFL Gameday program, and works on the team's yearbook. He continues to coordinate the Falcons' extensive photo library and oversees the club's new expanded digital archives. A native of Springfield, Va., he graduated from George Mason University with a bachelor's degree in communications. Kleha worked for GMU's sports information office prior to coming to Atlanta, and his NFL background also includes a stint with the Washington Redskins. Kleha has been part of a department that has been nominated on two occasions for the prestigious Pete Rozelle Award presented by the Pro Football Writers of America for outstanding service to the media. Kleha has been selected by the NFL to assist with the media coordination of the NFC Championship Game in Green Bay in 1996 and San Francisco in 1997 and 1994. He's also staffed three Super Bowls for the League in Pasadena (XXVIII) and two in Atlanta (XXVIII & XXXIV), along with participating in the Falcons' Super Bowl (XXXIII) season in 1999. Kleha added to his championship-working resume by serving as a media liaison at the men's basketball Final Four in Atlanta in 2002. He and his wife, Wendy, have a four-year old son, Cody and a baby daughter, Allie.

JACK RAGSDALE - DIRECTOR OF TICKET OPERATIONS

The year 2004 will mark Jack Ragsdale's 21st with the Atlanta Falcons. Ragsdale will coordinate the club's ticket operations from the Georgia Dome for the 13th straight season. Jack was hired by the Falcons after a decorated career in the military as a U.S. Army Lieutenant Colonel. Ragsdale served 21 years in the Army and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star and Purple Heart for his bravery in action. A "Peach State" native of North Georgia College, he grew up rooting for the Falcons as a youth. He and his wife, Brenda, reside in Marietta, Ga.

ADMINISTRATION

AARON SALKIN - DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL COMMUNICATIONS

Aaron Salkin will enter his sixth season as director of football communications for the Falcons. A 1993 graduate of Syracuse University, Salkin spent six seasons with the New York Giants before joining Atlanta. He is responsible for coordinating all football-related media coverage for the Falcons. He spent his first five seasons with the Giants as the assistant director of public relations and was promoted to director of media relations prior to the start of the 1998 season. Salkin was part of the Giants' 1994 staff that received the coveted Pete Rozelle Award, which is presented annually by the Pro Football Writers of America to the NFL's top PR staff. The Giants were named a finalist for the award in 1993 and 1996. During his time in the NFL, he has been chosen by the NFL to work three NFC Championship games and eight Super Bowls. Before joining the Giants, Salkin spent two summers interning in the public relations department of the New England Patriots following the hiring of Syracuse head coach Dick MacPherson. A native of Sharon, Massachusetts, Salkin worked in the Syracuse University football department during his collegiate years.

RODDY WHITE - DIRECTOR OF EVENT MARKETING & ENTERTAINMENT

Roddy White enters his third season with the Falcons and his ninth year in the NFL. As director of event marketing and entertainment, White is responsible for all elements of the Falcons game day presentation including entertainment, in-stadium music, video boards, Falcons Landing, the Gulch and promotions. White also oversees merchandising, creative services, website, team mascot and cheerleading programs. In 2004, White served as ceremonies producer for Super Bowl XXXVIII in Houston, Texas. Prior to joining the Falcons, White spent six seasons with the Jacksonville Jaguars where he served as director of special events and promotions. White's past event production credits include the past eleven Super Bowl Pre Game Shows, the 2002 Winter Olympic Games and the 1994 World Cup Opening Ceremonies in Washington D.C. A graduate of the University of Georgia, White and his wife, Patti, reside in Alpharetta and are expecting their first child in November.

HT: 6-0 • WT: 205 • COLLEGE: West Virginia
1st Falcons Season • 9th NFL Season
BORN: 7-7-73 • Pottstown, PA
ACQ: UFA-'04 (New York Jets)

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Hosts annual Aaron Beasley Navajo Nation Youth Leadership Football Camp each June in Ariz.
- Attends numerous charity fundraisers during the year to help raise funds for Down Syndrome Association and other causes.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a third round (63rd pick overall) draft choice by Jacksonville in 1996. Waived by Jacksonville on February 28, 2002. Signed by the New York Jets as a free agent on March 8, 2002. Waived by the New York Jets on Febuary 27, 2004. Signed by Atlanta as a free agent on March 31, 2004.

NFL: A veteran of 107 regular season NFL games who has made 102 career starts at cornerback...Has made 471 tackles (358 solo) along with 20 interceptions, 7.5 sacks, nine forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries and 93 passes defensed...Has also appeared in 10 postseason contests, making eight starts...Owns the Jacksonville Jaguars' all-time career interception mark with 15 picks and is the all-time interception yardage leader (279 yards).

2003: Led the Jets with three interceptions and added 72 tackles, 10 passes defensed, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery as he started all 16 games at cornerback...Enjoyed a standout game against his former team when he led the defense with 11 tackles (eight solo and one for a loss), recovered a fumble and intercepted a QB Byron Leftwich pass in the end zone in the 13-10 win vs. Jacksonville (11/23)...Recorded six tackles (two solo), a pass defense, and made a crucial play in stripping the ball from Raiders RB Tyrone Wheatley inside the 10-yard line which was recovered by Marvin Jones in the 27-24 overtime win at Oakland, the 100th game of his career.

2002: Started 15 regular season games (missed the Denver game to injury) and recorded two interceptions, while setting a career-high with 89 tackles (62 solo), and tied for the team-lead with 17 passes defensed...Tallied 11 tackles (seven solo) and two passes defensed in game two against New England (9/15)...Had a productive Jets' debut in game one at Buffalo (9/8), recording five tackles (two solo), his 16th career interception, and two passes defensed from his starting RCB position.

2001: Started 12 games in Jacksonville before missing the final four contests due to shoulder injury suffered at Cincinnati (12/9)...Became all-time leader in team history in takeaways with 18 and defensive touchdowns with four...Finished with 42 tackles, three interceptions, and one fumble recovery...Started and played all 71 plays, making eight tackles at Tennessee (11/4).

2000: Started 14 games and finished the season with 53 tackles, 14 passes defensed, two forced fumbles, a fumble recovery, and an interception...Had a career-high five sacks (tied for third among NFL DB for the season)...Missed two games with a back injury...Registered two sacks and a forced fumble vs. Baltimore (10/8).

1999: Tied for fourth in the AFC and sixth in the NFL with six interceptions, one shy of the league lead...Returned two interceptions for touchdowns to set a team record (one of only six players to do so in 1999)...Set team single-season records for interceptions with six, return yards (200), average (33.3), long (93) and two touchdowns...Also finished eighth on team with 67 tackles (55 solo), one and a half sacks, two FF and a team-leading 18 passes defensed...Started all 16 games for first time in his career...Had six passes defensed and scored the second touchdown of his career on a 93-yard INT return in the fourth quarter off of Jeff Garcia, following an earlier pick off Steve Young, breaking his own team record (90-yard fumble return in 1998)...Scored his second touchdown of season on a 35-yard interception return for a touchdown vs. Tennessee (9/26)...Broke team record with two interceptions in Divisional Playoff game vs. Miami (1/15) both off of Dan Marino in Marino's final game, giving him three playoff interceptions in his career (another team record).

1998: Played in all 16 games for the first time in his career and started 15 games at LCB...Shared the team lead with a then career-high three interceptions...Ranked fifth on the team and tops among CB with 86 tackles (70 solo, second best on the team)...Added 15 passes defensed, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery...Scored the first touchdown of his career vs. Cincinnati on a 90-yard fumble return, marking the then-longest defensive touchdown in team history...Started both playoff games, making seven tackles, one fumble recovery and a pass defensed vs. New England.

1997: Regular starter at LCB who was out seven games with a fractured bone in his right hip joint and finished with 31 tackles (26 solo), one interception, six passes defensed and a forced fumble...Played the entire game vs. Cincinnati (10/5), even though he suffered a fractured bone in his right hip joint in the first quarter (injury was diagnosed two days later)...Inactive the next seven games.

1996: Moved into the starting line up at LCB following a season-ending injury to Dave Thomas in the Week 9...Had been inactive the first seven games after suffering a fractured right shoulder blade in the second preseason game...Made his first NFL interception vs. Cincinnati (12/1), stealing the ball away from Carl Pickens in the end zone, earning him his first defensive game ball...Started the first two playoff games, recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter to set up the game-winning field goal at Buffalo (12/28)...Did not start in the goal-line defense in the AFC Championship game, but made his second interception (first in post-season) to set up a field goal.

COLLEGE: He was a three-year starter at West Virginia who set a Big East record with 18 career interceptions. He totaled 19 interceptions, including bowl games, to rank second on school's all-time list. He was also second in career interception return yardage (365) behind former Atlanta Falcons S Tom Pridemore. He set a school record with three career interceptions returned for touchdown. A started 36 straight games and was a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the best defensive back in college football. He became first player in school history to return two interceptions for a touchdown in a season.

PERSONAL: He lettered as a defensive back and wide receiver at Valley Forge (PA) Military Academy (prep school) and was an All-State second-team choice in 1990 at Pottstown (PA) High. He was named Pottstown area's Male Athlete of the year in 1991. Aaron is married to Umme and has a one-year old daughter, Amirah. He hosts an annual Aaron Beasley Navajo Nation Youth Leadership Football Camp each June on the Navajo Indian Reservation in Arizona with several NFL players. He has attended numerous charity fundraisers during the year to help raise funds for the Down Syndrome Association and other causes. He served as honorary co-chair in 1997 of a capital campaign for The Bridge of Northeast Florida a local non-profit agency serving at-risk youth. He is the cousin of NYG defensive coordinator Tim Lewis and Seattle pro personnel director Will Lewis. He purchased 24 season tickets for the Variety Boys & Girls Club in Queens to attend each 2002 home game. He also visited the club during the season to meet with the children attending the games. He purchased gift cards for children from Variety Boys & Girls Club to go holiday shopping at Toys R Us. He hosted a football clinic and donated 200 turkeys to the families of the Variety Boys and Girls Club for Thanksgiving.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

➤ Was active in the Detriot Lions' hospital visits program, Toys for Tots and other charitable events.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Detroit as a rookie free agent on April 24, 1997. Waived by Detroit on August 24, 1997. Signed by Detroit to the practice squad on August 26, 1997. Signed by Detroit to the active roster from the practice squad on December 20, 1997. Signed by Atlanta as an unrestricted free agent from Detroit on March 10, 2004.

NFL: Has improved in technique and approach to game in previous off-seasons, with quick feet serving as one of his strengths...Will compete at guard/center positions in first season in Atlanta.

2003: Started the first 13 games of the season before suffering a sprained ankle in the second quarter vs. San Diego (12/7) that forced him to miss the final three games...Placed on injured reserve on December 13.

2002: Inactive for season opener vs. Miami (9/8) due to a calf injury...Played in 15 remaining games and started the final three games at left guard, vs. Tampa Bay (12/15), at Atlanta (12/22) and vs. Minnesota (12/29), due to an injury to starter Tony Semple.

2001: Durable center who anchored the offensive line vs. Tennessee (10/21) as QB Charlie Batch threw for 338 yards, and at Minnesota (10/14) when RB James Stewart posted 108 yards rushing and Batch registered 345 yards passing...Snapped to Charlie Batch during his 400-yard passing game at Arizona (11/18).

2000: Began season as backup center, but was thrust into starting lineup at that spot in Weeks 4-10 as Mike Compton shifted to left guard during that span...Seven starts were a career-high for a single-season...Acquainted himself well in starting role - two of James Stewart's three 100-yard outings of the year were during Beverly's stint in the starting lineup...Played in all 16 games for third consecutive year, serving as backup along the offensive line, as special teams performer and often as third tight end in goal-line and short-yardage situations in games in which he didn't start.

1999: Served as team's backup center for second consecutive season, appearing in all 16 regular season games, while earning first two starts of his career...One of team's unsung heroes in opening day win at Seattle (9/12), holding up well in first career start (Mike Compton out with an injured knee) against one of the league's most physical interior defensive lines...Returned to backup role in Weeks 2-15, but saw brief action at center vs. Minnesota (10/17) with Compton shifting to tackle for a few snaps...Suffered from plantar fasciatis injury on his foot late in the season...Despite injury, received second career start in regular season finale at Minnesota (1/2), with Compton moving to left tackle for injured Ray Roberts...Re-aggravated the condition in that contest, however, forcing him inactive for NFL Wild Card Playoff game at Washington (1/8).

1998: Saw first game action of career by appearing in all 16 games for the Lions...Did not see playing time as one of five core offensive linemen, but was a staple on special teams units and short-yardage formations...In the first portion of the season, was also used as third tight end along the goal line.

1997: Spent majority of rookie campaign on team's practice squad...Signed to active roster on December 20...Dressed, but did not play in club's regular season finale vs. New York Jets (12/21), and was inactive for Detroit's NFC Wild Card Playoff game at Tampa Bay (12/28).

COLLEGE: He was a four-year letter winner at Miami (Ohio). He played the first three years at tight end before shifting to tackle for senior campaign in 1996. He started all 11 games in 1996 along offensive line (nine at right tackle and two games at left tackle) and was voted a tri-captain as a senior. He caught six balls for 51 yards during first three years while playing tight end. He started all 11 games there as a junior in 1995 and six games in 1993 as a redshirt freshman.

PERSONAL: He spent part of the 2003 off-season as an intern in various departments throughout the league offices as part of a program within the NFL's Player Development office, which helps current athletes gain experience during the off-season to prepare them for a post-NFL career. He was an all-area tight end selection at Bedford Heights (Ohio) High School. He was active in Lions' hospital visits program, Toys for Tots and many other charitable activities. He was born Eric Raymonde Beverly in Cleveland, Ohio. He and his wife, Danielle, make their offseason home in Cleveland.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Supported Challenge Child and Friends by being a celebrity bowler.
- Participated in Junior Falcons Training Camp in Brunswick, Ga.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a fourth round (116th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2002.

NFL: Strong, hard working player who gained confidence in first two NFL starts in 2003 and is looking to use that experience as a springboard into 2004...Shut down seven-time Pro Bowler Warren Sapp at Tampa Bay in intial starting assignment of his career in big Falcons 30-28 victory in 2003.

2003: Played in 10 games with two starts and was inactive for six games...Played on special teams and also saw time at left guard when starter Roberto Garza was forced to leave the game with a torn ACL in his right knee in the fourth quarter at Indianapolis (12/14)...Continued momentum from Indianapolis game by making his first start of career at Tampa Bay (12/20), filling in for Garza at left guard after Garza was placed on injured reserve earlier in the week. Had brilliant performance, enabling the Falcons offense to rush for 148 yards while not allowing a sack. Performance is even more remarkable given the fact he lined up on many occasions opposite All-Pro DT Warren Sapp...Started at left guard and helped the Falcons offense amass 344 yards in total offense, including 166 yards rushing, in season finale vs. Jacksonville (12/28).

2002: Played in 10 games as a rookie, mainly on special teams...Inactive for five games and dressed but did not play in one game...Active for the first time in pro career vs. Cincinnati (9/22) due to a foot injury to starting G Roberto Garza. Saw his first action on the line in the fourth quarter for nine plays, filling in for injured C Todd McClure (knee)...Performed on special teams for seven consecutive weeks vs. Tampa Bay (10/6), at New York Giants (10/13), vs. Carolina (10/20), at New Orleans (10/27), vs. Baltimore (11/3), at Pittsburgh (11/10) and vs. New Orleans (11/17)...Finished his rookie season on special teams vs. Detroit (12/22) and at Cleveland (12/29)...Played in both playoff contests in a reserve role.

COLLEGE: At Miami, Bibla was a durable athlete who never missed a game due to injuries. He started 40 of 46 games played for the Hurricanes and never allowed a quarterback sack. He was an All-Big East Conference first-team choice as a senior, helping Miami to a National Championship. He was part of a powerful line that boasted the nation's most balanced offense, averaging 454.8 yards per game (eighth in the nation) and 43.2 points per game (3rd nationally). He started every game at right guard and keyed an offense that averaged 5.3 yards per rushing attempt and scored 25 rushing touchdowns in the regular season. He finished with 102 knockdown blocks and graded 84.9% for blocking consistency. As a junior, he was part of a line that enabled the offense to rack up a school-record 469 points and average a Big East Conference-best 460.8 yards total offense per game.

PERSONAL: Martin attended Crestwood (Mountaintop, Pa.) High School and was a Prep Star first-team All-American choice. He was a standout athlete who excelled on the offensive and defensive lines. Bibla tallied 105 tackles (38 solos), seven quarterback sacks and three fumble recoveries as a defensive tackle during his senior season and added 78 tackles (38 solos) and three sacks during his junior campaign. A criminology major at Miami, Martin speaks fluent Russian and Polish. He and his wife, Anna, have one son, Magnus.

COLLEGE: He was the leading tackler in school history at Georgia Tech with 467 career stops. He was the team leader in tackles his last three seasons, while averaging 12.8 per game. He recorded two of the top tackle seasons in Georgia Tech history with 147 and 146, respectively, as a junior and sophomore. Brooking collected 131 tackles in his final season and added two sacks, two interceptions, three passes defensed, eight QB pressures, a fumble recovery, and one blocked field goal to lead Tech to a Bowl game. He was a finalist for the Butkus Award for nation's most outstanding linebacker and voted as a permanent team captain in his final season by his teammates. He was the top tackler in ACC, averaging 13.3 stops a game in 1995 and second-leading tackler in the conference in 1996 with a 13.4 per game average. He started 34 consecutive games to end his college career and 36 overall in four years. He collared 20 tackles in a game four times as a collegian against Clemson and rival Georgia. He closed out his brilliant college career with 15 tackles (two for loss), an interception and a QB pressure to help the Yellow Jackets defeat West Virginia in the Carquest Bowl.

PERSONAL: He joined teammate Warrick Dunn, Baltimore TE Todd Heap and NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue on a four-day visit to Germany for members of the United States Armed Forces in May of 2004. He was the club's 2002 "Man of the Year" for his community involvement. He serves as the team's spokesman for the Atlanta Community Food Bank (ACFB). He also donated $56 (#56) for every tackle to the Atlanta Commuity Food Bank. He helped prepare Thanksgiving holiday meals for Atlanta's needy in a third annual event sponsored by the ACFB. Brooking captured his second "Extra Effort" Award by the NFL in 2002 for the month of November for his charitable contributions to the ACFB. He was awarded the same honor for the month of November in 2001 by the NFL. Brooking was nominated for 2002 USA Weekend Magazine's "Most Caring Athlete" award and a "Good Guys" award by The Sporting News for his work in the community. Keith is a big supporter of East Coweta High School as he holds a yearly golf tournament in the offseason with proceeds going to the school's athletic department. A plaque honoring the annual "Keith Brooking Most Dedicated Athlete Award" hangs in the school's front lobby. He owns a 180 pound Bull Mastiff dog that he named, Butkus, and a black labrador retriever named, Nobis. This self-described "throwback" player and lifelong NFL fan named his dogs after two of the most feared linebackers in their day, Dick Butkus and ex-Falcon great Tommy Nobis. One of his most cherished possessions is a copy of the 1970 Sports Illustrated with Butkus on the cover. He boasts a big, family fan base that includes mother, Brenda Hembree, and father Harvey Brooking, who often travels to road games to watch his son play. He has three brothers and sisters. He started playing peewee football at the age of five in Forest Park, GA. He is one of the few NFL players to have played his entire football career in the same state (high school, college, pro). His favorite Falcon growing up was Jessie Tuggle. He received a framed autographed Tuggle jersey for his 25th birthday from his family that hangs in his game room.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Spokesperson for the team's Rush for Reading campaign.
- Supports the Gwinnett County Meals on Wheels program.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Buffalo as a rookie free agent on April 19, 1999. Signed by Atlanta as a free agent on March 6, 2002.

NFL: Savvy veteran and vocal leader...Guiding force in the secondary in his first season in Atlanta in 2002 as 16-game starter at free safety, finishing with a career-high 73 total tackles...Rebounded from a neck injury suffered in Divisional Playoff game at Philadelphia (1/11/03) to start eight of 15 games played in 2003...Voted team captain by teammates last year along with RB Warrick Dunn...Tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee during offseason workouts on June 2, 2004.

2003: Tallied 40 tackles (33 solos), one forced fumble and tied for team lead with three interceptions in eight starts and 15 games played at free safety...Led the secondary with seven tackles at Carolina (9/28) and with six stops at St. Louis (10/13)...Replaced in team's base defense vs. Philadelphia (11/2) as entire secondary underwent changes at all four starting positions. Cory Hall moved from SS to FS and rookie Byran Scott moved to SS...Missed one game vs. Washington (9/14) with a hamstring injury and was replaced in starting lineup by Kevin McCadam at FS...Made key contributions as a reserve defensive back at Tampa Bay (12/20), accounting for three tackles, one pass breakup and his third interception of the season.

2002: Established a new single-season career-best with 73 tackles in 16 games, besting the 53 stops he had while playing with Buffalo in 2000...Tied for lead with CB Juran Bolden with four interceptions...Scored his first NFL touchdown at Carolina (11/24) on a 41-yard interception return...Collected a career-high 11 tackles with a forced and recovered fumble at Green Bay (9/8). The 11 tackles bested the eight stops vs. Chicago (11/12/00) as a member of the Bills...Started both playoff games but sustained a neck injury in the Divisional playoff game at Philadelphia (1/11/03) when he had a helmet-to-helmet hit with Eagles RB Duce Staley on the first offensive play of the game...Intercepted two passes at Green Bay (1/4/03) in NFC Wild Card game the week before.

2001: Started 10 of 15 games played for the Bills and finished with 34 tackles with one forced fumble and four passes defensed...Started the first seven games of the season before a rib injury forced him from the lineup and limited his effectiveness...Recorded a season-high seven tackles in the season finale at Miami (1/6).

2000: Won the starting free safety spot in his second year with a strong preseason...Started the first 12 games and led the team with five interceptions despite missing the final 4.5 games with an ankle injury...In his first NFL start vs. Tennessee (9/3) in the season opener, he intercepted a QB Steve McNair pass on the Titans' fifth play from scrimmage and returned it eight yards. It was his first NFL interception...Enjoyed a career-day vs. Chicago (11/12) with two interceptions and a then personal-best eight tackles.

1999: Became the only undrafted free agent rookie to make the Bills' roster following an outstanding preseason in which he posted nine tackles, an interception and a fumble recovery on special teams...After being placed on the deactivation list for the first six games of the year, he logged time in the season's final 10 games, mainly on special teams.

COLLEGE: He earned second-team All-Big East honors as a senior at Virginia Tech. He led the team and finished second in the conference with five interceptions. An excellent special teams player, he ended his career with more blocked punts (5) than anyone in school's rich history of dominant special teams. He also holds the school record with a 100-yard interception return as a sophomore vs. Miami Hurricanes and his 244 career return yardage (on interceptions) ranks second in school history and the Big East. He was the only conference player to be named Big East Defensive Player of the Week honors twice during his senior season.

PERSONAL: He quarterbacked the wishbone offense at Woodlawn High School, rushing for 617 yards and six touchdowns as a senior, while passing for 1,007 yards with 16 touchdowns. He grew up a fan of hard-hitting 49er S Ronnie Lott. He majored in housing, interior design and resource management at Tech and was a teammate for one season with QB Michael Vick He was born Keion Eric Carpenter on October 31, 1977 and is single.

- He and his wife, Jenn, help coordinate an annual golf tournament to benefit Hi Hope Service Center, which offers comprehensive services to adults with cognitive disabilities in Atlanta.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a second round (35th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2001.

NFL: Emerged as a Pro Bowl starter after earning full-time duty in 2003, following departure of TE Reggie Kelly to Cincinnati...First Falcons tight end ever to be named a starter in Pro Bowl...Established career-highs with 44 receptions for 552 yards last year in his first season as a full-time starter and those numbers were the most by a Falcons tight end in 23 years...Caught a pass in every game in 2003 and has at least one reception in 32 of his last 33 games...Possesses exceptional hands and has the uncanny ability to make a one-handed catch look routine...Displayed big-play mentality as a rookie with long catches of 57t, 49t, 47 and 30 yards...His playmaking skills are expected to be further enhanced in 2004 with a switch in offensive philosophy to a more aggressive attack.

2003: Finished with the most catches (44) and yards (552) for a Falcons tight end since Junior Miller had 46 receptions for 574 yards in 1980...Scored three touchdowns in starting all 16 games for the first time in his career as he took over for Reggie Kelly (Cincinnati)...With his strong blocking, he helped the Falcons to their fourth-highest per-carry average in franchise history (4.480)...Turned in career day in season opener at Dallas (9/7) by totaling 94 yards receiving to lead the team. The 94 yards bested the 78 yards he had at New Orleans (10/21/01) in his rookie year. Teamed up with QB Doug Johnson for Atlanta's longest play of the game in the third quarter by racing 41 yards untouched into the end zone on a throw from across the field for a 17-7 Atlanta lead. Tied a career-high with five catches against the Cowboys...Hauled in a career-long 63-yard reception from QB Doug Johnson at Carolina (9/28). The reception bested the 57-yard touchdown catch he had at New Orleans in 2001...Led the team with five receptions and tied for the team lead with WR Peerless Price in receiving yards with 57 vs. Carolina (12/7).

2002: Established then career-highs with 36 receptions and five touchdowns in 16 games played with nine starts...Caught at least one pass in 15 games and totaled three or more passes in a game six times with a season-best five receptions for 75 yards vs. Seattle (12/15)...Caught four passes for 62 yards, including a 33-yard long, at New Orleans (10/27)...Hauled in three receptions for 21 yards, including the game-clinching four-yard touchdown late in the fourth quarter, vs. New Orleans (11/17)...Caught a season-high five passes for 75 yards with one touchdown vs. Seattle (12/15). Hauled in a 20-yard touchdown pass from QB Michael Vick in the first quarter. Snared a pair of key receptions (19, 16 yards) on late fourth quarter scoring drive, which helped push game into OT...Caught one pass for nine yards in Wild Card playoff game at Green Bay (1/4/03) and recorded four catches for 62 yards with a long catch of 25 yards in Divisional playoff game at Philadelphia (1/11/03).

2001: Started in 12 of 16 games played and caught 25 passes for 330 yards for a 13.2 average with three touchdowns and a long catch of 57t yards...Started for the first time in his career vs. Carolina (9/23) when the team opened with two tight ends to become second member of 2001 draft class to start a game, following G Kynan Forney. FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Given the John H. Macy Award and the Henry P. Iba Citizen Athlete Award for philanthrophy.
- Continues to make an impression on the lives of single mothers in Atlanta, Tampa and Baton Rouge, La. with his nationally-acclaimed "Homes for the Holidays" program each year.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a first round (12th pick overall) draft choice by Tampa Bay in 1997. Signed by Atlanta as an unrestricted free agent from Tampa Bay on March 15, 2002.

NFL: Elusive, electrifying back who is a double threat as both a runner and receiver...Possesses exceptional game-breaking speed and quickness...Returning from a foot injury that made him miss final five games of 2003 season...Finished tied for second in the NFL last year with a 5.4 yard average (125 carries for 672 yards) for all running backs with at least 100 carries...Has produced six 100-yard rushing games in brief Falcons tenure highlighted by a 178-yard rushing effort and 162-yard mark in consecutive games in 2003 to establish a new Falcons club record for most rushing yards in consecutive games...Set another club record for the longest touchdown run in team history with a 69-yard jaunt vs. New Orleans (10/19/03) and had a career-long touchdown catch of 86 yards (tied for the fifth longest in club annals) vs. Tennessee (11/23)...Owns two of the top five longest touchdown runs ever by a Falcons player in team history...Tough, gritty performer who played through a painful toe injury and hamstring problems in 2001 in Tampa (that would have shelved most players) but still produced a career-best 68 receptions (fifth-best among all NFL runners) for 557 yards with three touchdowns...Finished strong at the end of 2001 campaign, averaging 112 rushing yards in the last five games...Two-time Pro Bowl selection in 2000 and 1997...As a receiver is averaging almost 50 receptions per year in seven seasons...Reached the 1,000-yard rushing plateau two times in his career in 2000 and 1998 and just missed in 2002 with 927...Has combined for more than 1,000 yards from scrimmage (rushing and receiving) in six out of seven NFL seasons...Plays prominent role off the field in the communities of Atanta, Tampa and Baton Rouge, La. through his "Homes for the the Holidays" program.

tory at the New York Giants (11/9) when he gained 178 yards on 25 rushes with one touchdown, which was the sixth-highest rushing total in single-game in club history and the most since Jamal Anderson's 188 yards against St. Louis (11/29/98) (see chart). It also marked the second most yards gained in a game to the 210 yards he had vs. Dallas (12/3/00) while with Tampa Bay and it was the third overall NFC honor in his career...The following week at New Orleans (11/16/03) he rushed for 162 yards on 23 carries to total 340 yards in two consecutive games to set a new club mark, surpassing Jamal Anderson's 310 yards in back-to-back contests in 1998 (see chart). Long runs in the contest covered 54 yards, the 16th longest in team history, and 41 yards...Rushed six times for 82 yards vs. New Orleans (10/19), including a 69-yard touchdown, the longest touchdown run in Falcons history and the second longest run from scrimmage ever by a Falcons player. The run also represented the third longest of his career and his longest as a member of the Falcons. The rush bested Harmon Wages' 66 yard touchdown run vs. New Orleans (12/7/69) in the team's record books...Accounted for the Falcons longest play from scrimmage in 2003 late in the first quarter vs. Tennessee (11/23) when he took a pass from QB Doug Johnson, broke two tackles and scampered 86 yards for a touchdown. The 86-yard reception represented a career best and was the longest play from scrimmage for the Falcons since 2001 and is tied for the fifth longest pass completion ever in team annals. Also, he totaled 129 yards receiving on nine receptions for his fourth 100-yard receiving game of his career and his first as a Falcons player. Was forced to leave the Tennessee game with a foot injury in the fourth quarter and was eventually placed on injured reserve on November 25, 2003 to end his season. Underwent surgery on November 30, 2003 to correct foot injury.

2002: Just missed out on another 1,000-yard rushing season with 927 yards on 230 carries for a 4.0 average with seven touchdowns and a long run of 59 yards for a touchdown...Top rushing games included 142, 132, 129 and 101 rushing yards for his total of four 100-yard games on the season...Caught 50 passes for 377 yards with two touchdowns scored in 14 starts and 15 overall games played...Also started both playoff games...Rushed for a season-high of 142 yards on 23 carries in a start at New Orleans (10/27). It was the first time in 2002 that a Falcons player has rushed for at least 100 yards. It was the 11th 100-yard rushing game of his career. Broke free for a 56-yard run in the third quarter which was the then third longest run of his career. Caught a team-leading five passes for 28 yards...Gained 129 yards rushing on 20 carries, including a 59-yard scoring run, and caught three passes for 14 yards at Pittsburgh (11/10). It was his second 100-yard rushing game of the season. He scored on 59-yard touchdown run in the third quarter, which was then the second longest run of his career. It was the longest touchdown run by a Falcons player since RB Bubba Bean scored on a 60-yarder vs. Tampa Bay on November 4, 1979. It is also the longest run by a Falcons player since

RB Maurice Smith ran for 58 yards vs. New England (11/4/01) and it is the longest run by a Falcon in 2002, besting his own 56 yarder at New Orleans (10/27). On 3-1 from the Atlanta 41-yard line on the first possession of the second half, he carried off of left guard, maneuvered through traffic, breaking tackles and scooted to the outside. He stiff-armed one Steeler defender and raced down the sideline for a 59-yard touchdown to pull Atlanta within a field goal at 17-14. Made a crucial catch during fourth quarter comeback...Dressed but did not play at Tampa Bay (12-8) due to a sprained right ankle suffered the previous week at Minnesota (12/1)...Back in the starting lineup vs. Seattle (12/15) and rushed 20 times for 101 yards and caught six passes for 45 yards. Rushed 13 times for 84 yards in the first half...Recorded a team-high 132 yards rushing on 30 carries for a 4.4 yard average with one touchdown vs. Detroit (12/22). The 132 yards rushing marked his second consecutive 100-yard rushing game and his fourth of the season. The 30 rushing attempts were a career-high, besting the 28 attempts he had at Miami (12/10/00)...Team's leading rusher and receiver in two combined playoff games with 109 yards rushing, including 64 at Green Bay (1/4/03), and 10 catches.

2001: Played in 13 games with 12 starts for Tampa Bay...Did not play vs. Green Bay (10/7), vs. Minnesota (10/28) and vs. Philadelphia (9/16) with foot/hamstring injuries...Played but did not start at Tennessee (10/14)...Rushed for 447 yards on 158 carries (2.8 avg.) and three TD's to rank second on the team...Ranked second on the squad with career-high 68 catches for 557 yards with three scores...Started at RB vs. Chicago (11/18) and tied for the team lead with a career-high 12 receptions for 138 yards, which was also a game-high and a career-high. The 138 receiving yards was the best single-game total for a RB in team history...Posted nine receptions for 54 yards vs. Detroit (12/9)...Led the team in receiving in playoff game at Philadelphia (1/12) with eight receptions for 37 yards...Finished his career in Tampa Bay ranked second all-time with 4,200 career rushing yards and fifth on the Bucs' all-time receptions list with 259 career catches for 2,384 yards...His 26 career touchdowns for Tampa Bay also are the sixth-best total all-time while his 17 rushing TD's are fifth.

2000: Played in all 16 games with 14 starts, and also started playoff contest...Finished the season with a career-high and team-best 1,133 rushing yards on 248 attempts (4.6 avg.) and eight TD's...Finished third on the team with 44 receptions for 422 yards (9.6 avg.) and one TD...His 1,133 yards rushing marked the most since RB Errict Rhett (1,207) in 1995...Became third Buccaneer (James Wilder and Errict Rhett) to reach 1,000 rushing yards twice in a career...Became go-to-guy in the Bucs offense the second half of the season...Gained 366 yards in the first half of the season, but more than doubled that output over the last eight games (767 yards)...Averaged just under one rushing touchdown per game over that eight-game stretch after finding the end zone on the ground only one time in the first eight games...Club was 9-2 when he rushed for 50 or more yards...Picked up rushing duties with FB Mike Alstott out with injury and had 20 rushes for 106 yards (5.3 avg.) and two rushing touchdowns vs. Buffalo (11/26). Sealed the victory with a 39-yard scoring run in the fourth quarter, becoming the first Buccaneer to rush for more than 100 yards since FB Mike Alstott vs. New Orleans in 1999...Topped the 100-yard rushing mark for the second consecutive week vs. Dallas (12/3) with a career-high 210 yards on 22 carries (9.5 avg.) and two touchdowns. The 210 yards surpassed his previous career-best of 130 yards rushing at Detroit (9/7/97) and ranked as the second-best single-game effort in Bucs history. Performance marked the first back-to-back 100-yard games on the ground for a Buccaneer since Dunn accomplished the feat in Week 2 (130 yards at Detroit) and Week 3 (101 yards at Minnesota) in 1997. Exploded for a 70-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, marking the fourth-longest run in team history, including the second-longest TD run...Played spectacular game on Monday Night vs. St. Louis (12/18), reaching the 1,000-yard mark for the second time in his career with 145 yards on 22 carries (6.6 avg.) and three touchdowns...Scored from two yards, 52 yards and one yard out to set a career-high and tie the team's single-game record for rushing TDs with three (also Reggie Cobb - 11/20/91 and Mike Alstott - 12/27/98)...Also had five receptions for 53 yards.

1999: Started 15 games, missing one contest vs. Minnesota (12/6) with a left ankle sprain...Rushed for 616 yards on 195 carries (3.2 avg.)...Caught a team-leading 64 passes for 589 yards (9.2 avg.) and two TDs...Assumed kickoff return duties during Tampa Bay's playoff push, averaging 19.5 yards on eight returns...Rushed for a season-best 82 yards on 24 carries in win at Philadelphia (9/19)...Posted nine catches (four for first downs) for 82 yards in win vs. Denver (9/26)...Recorded a then career-high 11 catches for 77 yards at Detroit (10/31)...Snagged six passes for a then career-high 115 yards in 23-16 win vs. Detroit (12/12). Turned a screen pass into a then career-long 68-yard jaunt, setting up Tampa Bay's first TD just before halftime.

1998: Led team in rushing for second time in two pro seasons with 1,026 yards on 245 carries (4.2 avg.), becoming just the fifth runner in team history to crack the 1,000-yard mark ...Finished ninth in the NFC in rushing yardage and eighth in total yards from scrimmage (1,370) after catching 44 passes for 344 yards...Scored two rushing TDs and posted a pair of 100-yard rushing games...Started 14 of 16 games and became the first primary rusher in team history to average over 4.0 yards per carry for two consecutive seasons...Needed just 17 carries to rack up 96 rushing yards (5.6 avg.) vs. Carolina (10/18)...Posted first 100-yard game of season in win vs. Minnesota (11/1), rushing for 115 yards and a TD on 18 carries (6.4) to become, in conjunction with FB Mike Alstott, the first pair of backs in team history to have 100-yard outings in the same game...Recorded second 100-yard rushing game in three weeks at Jacksonville (11/15), running for 107 yards on 16 carries (6.7 avg.)...Finished season with 89 yards on 19 carries at Cincinnati (12/27), in the process surpassing the 1,000-yard mark for the first time in his career.

1997: Started 10 of 16 regular-season games played and led the team in both receptions and rushing...Along with Pro Bowl honors, was named NFL Rookie of the Year by Football News, Pro Football Weekly and Sports Illustrated, and designated Offensive Rookie of the Year by the Associated Press, Football Digest and College and Pro Football Newsweekly...Other first-year honors included selection to Pro Football Weekly's and College and Pro Football Newsweekly's all-rookie teams...As team's primary ballcarrier, gained 978 yards and four TDs on 224 carries (4.4 avg.)...Led the team with 39 receptions for 462 yards and three TDs...Combined yardage total of 1,440 set as a Buccaneer rookie record and the fourth-highest single-season mark in team history...Tied James Wilder (1984 and '85) and Ricky Bell (1979) for club record with five 100-yard rushing performances, including three in his first six games...Earned NFC Offensive Rookie of the Month honors for September...Received NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors following Week two contest at Detroit (9/7) in which he collected 130 yards on 24 carries (5.4 avg.)...At Minnesota (9/14), became first Buccaneer running back since Errict Rhett (11/12/95, 11/19/95) to record consecutive 100-yard rushing performances with 101 yards on 16 carries (6.3 avg.), including a 52-yard scoring run for the team's final score of the game...Showcased receiving skills vs. Miami (9/21) by catching six passes for 106 yards, including a fourth-quarter screen pass on third-and-29 which he turned into a highlight reel 58-yard score...At Green Bay (10/5), broke the 100-yard rushing mark for the third time with 125 yards and a TD on 16 carries (7.8 avg.)...Accounted for 169 total yards of offense behind 120-yard rushing performance on 24 carries (5.0 avg.) at NY Giants (11/30)...Finished regular-season vs. Chicago (12/21) with 119 yards on 16 touches, including a 76-yard run in the third quarter that ranks as the longest running play in club history...Led team in rushing in both playoff contests, first with 72 yards on 18 carries vs. Detroit (12/28), then with 64 yards on 18 attempts at Green Bay (1/4).

COLLEGE: A three-time first-team All-ACC performer, he became the first back in Florida State history to record three 1,000-yard rushing seasons. He finished as Seminoles' career leader in rushing yards, gaining 3,959 to surpass Greg Allen's 3,769 (1981-84). He averaged 6.9 yards per carry as a collegian, a Seminole record and the top mark by a NCAA Division 1-A player (minimum 300 carries) in 50 years (Army's Glenn Davis, 8.3 avg., 1943-46). He was also considered one of nation's top pass-catching backs, snaring 132 career receptions for 1,314 yards. He scored 47 TDs in four FSU seasons, 37 rushing and 10 receiving, to break Allen's previous school record of 46. He broke Allen's school mark for all-purpose yards (4,996) with a total of 5,321. He secured 21 100-yard rushing games, the most in Seminole history. As a senior, he earned second-team All-America accolades from Associated Press and was a first-team choice by Football News. He rushed 189 times for 1,180 yards and 12 TDs and added 30 catches for 355 yards and a pair of TD's. He started all 11 games and averaged 6.2 yards per carry and 107.3 rushing yards per game. He was selected to All-ACC first team for third consecutive year and was presented with the conference's Commissioner's Award. During his junior year, he averaged 112.9 rushing yards per game en route to breaking school single-season records for rushing yards (1,242) and yards per carry (7.5). He rushed 166 times and scored a career-best 13 TDs on the ground. He also broke Seminole season records for 100-yard rushing games (eight) and consecutive 100-yard games (six). He graduated in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in information studies.

PERSONAL: He joined teammate Keith Brooking, Baltimore TE Todd Heap and NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue on a four-day visit to Germany for members of the United States Armed Forces in May of 2004. He brought his nationally renowned community project, "Homes for the Holidays" to Atlanta in 2002. The program has helped low-income families in Atlanta, Ga., Tampa, Fla. and Baton Rouge, La. buy homes through a down payment provided by Dunn, who also worked with area sponsors to furnish and outfit the homes. In the fall of 2002, Dunn helped four women in Atlanta, two in Tampa and three more in Baton Rouge purchase homes. Since launching the program in 1997, Dunn has enabled 45 single mothers realize their lifelong dreams. Warrick's motivation for the program stems the memory of his mother, Betty Smothers, who was a Baton Rouge police officer and single parent. She was killed during a robbery in 1993 while working a second job as a security officer. She died before her dream of buying her own home was achieved. "I hope I'm living right for her," said Dunn. Warrick received a Giant Steps Award in civic leadership from former President Bill Clinton for his program. He was also honored with an "Oprah's Angel" by Oprah Winfrey on her show in spring of 2002 for his work on "Homes for the Holidays." He has garnered past recognition as one of The Sporting News' Top 100 most powerful sports personalities. In May of 2003, he was ranked #79 on Sports Illustrated's list of the "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports". This list is comprised of "men and women who are reshaping the sports industry and opening doors through which others will follow". He was an All-America honorable mention selection by USA Today as a prep at Catholic High School in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, playing cornerback, quarterback and running back. He is single and his full name is Warrick De'Mon Dunn.

WARRICK DUNN'S "HOMES FOR HOLIDAYS" PROGRAM

Every year since his 1997 rookie season with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Falcons running back Warrick Dunn seemed to swoop out of nowhere and perform miracles for single mothers during one of the most crucial times of the year – the holiday season. Dunn has helped many families in the Tampa Bay area along with his hometown of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Now he has brought his "Homes for the Holidays" program to the city of Atlanta, where many single mothers will experience the same joy he has brought to the lives of other women and their children.

The program was inspired to honor Dunn's mother, Betty Smothers. Smothers, a single mother and a Baton Rouge police officer, was shot and killed in 1993 while making a late-night bank deposit as part of an off-duty security job. She left behind six children and an unfulfilled dream of owning a home.

"This is just a matter of living through her, and living out her dreams of owning a home," Dunn said. "Anyone who does charitable work does things they're familiar with."

Each time another family walks through the front door of their new home, Dunn sees her dream and it fills him with happiness.

"It feels great to be able to give back to the community and be a part of their lives," he said.

"Homes for the Holidays" helps disadvantaged, single-mother families become first-time homeowners. Dunn initiated the program in 1997, when he made the down payments on four new houses in Tampa and filled all the homes with the necessary furnishings to get them up and running. Dunn then expanded the effort in 1998 to benefit families in Baton Rouge, as well as Tampa. Now, ever since his first season with the Atlanta Falcons in 2002, Dunn has been helping needy mothers in the Atlanta area.

As part of Dunn's program, he not only makes the down payments of $5,000 on the new houses, but then works with local businesses to fill the homes with necessities in every room, including washers and dryers, linens, lawn and garden equipment, dishes and kitchen appliances. In addition, every kitchen is stocked with food for Thanksgiving dinner. As if fully furnishing every room in the house was not enough, he also provides the little comforts that make a house a home, such as scented candles, cookie jars, oven mitts and even a "Welcome" door mat.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Helped build a playground for kids at St. Jude's Recovery Center in Atlanta.
- Second all-time in powerful SEC history with 204 receptions and 30 touchdowns while at the University of Georgia.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Atlanta as a rookie free agent on April 29, 2003.

NFL: Competitive, hard working player...Carved out a spot on the roster through strong training camp performance.

2003: Played in six games as a rookie and was deactivated for eight games while dressing but not playing in two games vs. Washington (9/14) and vs. Jacksonville (12/28)...Saw first NFL action playing on special teams at Carolina (9/28)...Played in three wide receiver sets and on special teams vs. Tennessee (11/23), returning one punt for two yards when regular punt returner Allen Rossum was on the sidelines recovering from an earlier hit. Also posted one special teams tackle...At Houston (11/30), he played in three wide receiver sets and recorded the first reception of his career for 10 yards and a first down in the third quarter.

COLLEGE: He started 40 of 46 games during his career at Georgia, ranking second in Southeastern Conference history (behind Kentucky's Craig Yeast -- 208 catches, 1995-98) with a career and school-record 204 receptions. He set a conference and school record with 3,093 career yards receiving, topping the previous SEC mark of 3,001 yards by Josh Reed of Louisiana State (1999-2001). His 30 touchdown catches are topped only by Florida's Chris Doering (31, 1992-95) in SEC annals. He established another school career record with 10 games of 100 yards receiving. As a senior, he started the first 10 games and the Sugar Bowl at split end. He led the team in 2002 with 59 receptions for 1,004 yards (17.0 avg.) and 11 touchdowns, topping the previous school season records of 970 yards by Brice Hunter (1993) and his own nine scoring grabs in 1999 (Hunter, 1993, and Hason Graham, 1994, also had 9 touchdown catches).

PERSONAL: He attended Washington County (Tennille, Ga.) High where he was a USA Today All-USA honorable mention, adding Class AA all-state first-team honors from the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the Georgia Sports Writers Association. He totaled 3,180 yards passing for 34 touchdowns in his career. Housing major...His brother is former Georgia All-America tailback Robert Edwards (1993-97). Robert was drafted in the first round of the 1998 NFL draft by the New England Patriots but ruptured tendons in his knee at the 1999 Pro Bowl festivities and did not return to the gridiron until 2002.

ATL. MOST CAREER POINTS SCORED

620	Morten Andersen, 1995-00
558	Mick Luckhurst, 1981-87
395	Norm Johnson, 1991-94
354	Terance Mathis, 1994-01
342	Jay Feely, 2001-2003

2003: Connected on 19 of 27 field goals and 32 of 33 PAT's for 89 points in 16 games...Moved from eighth place on the all-time scoring list to fifth with those 89 points...Successfully converted a season-best three field goals (40, 25 and 46) and his only PAT attempt vs. Philadelphia (11/2)...At Tampa Bay (12/20), he contributed heavily to Atlanta's 30-28 upset of the Buccaneers, registering successes on all three of his field goal attempts (26, 38, 37) and all three PATs. His 37 yarder with 3:40 left to play was the fourth game-deciding field goal of his career and sealed the win.

2002: Established team records for field goals in a season with 32, attempts with 40 and most points in a season with 138 in 16 games played...The 32 field goals were tied for the highest in the NFL, the 40 attempts were tops in the NFL and the 138 points were second-best in the league...Nailed two game-winning field goals at New Orleans (10/27) and vs. Baltimore (11/3)...First Falcons kicker to enjoy consecutive 100-point seasons (115 in 2001) since Morten Andersen had 104 and 120 points, respectively, in 1997-98...Connected on a career-high five field goals vs. Detroit (12/22), one away from the team record of six by Norm Johnson at New Orleans (11/13/94)...Hit a clutch 52-yard field goal in final seconds of regulation to tie the score at 34-34 and force overtime at Green Bay (9/8) in the season opener. The 52-yarder was tied for the second longest of his career matched vs. Buffalo...Booted field goals of 44, 26, and 34 yards and connected on three PAT's for 12 points vs. Cincinnati (9/22)...Vs. Carolina (10/20), he kicked three 40+ yard field goals, covering 41, 45 and 49 yards and added three extra points for 12 points. It was the first time a Falcons kicker had three 40+ yard field goals since Morten Andersen in 1995. Captured his first-ever NFC Special Teams Player of the Week honor and was also named special teams MVP by coaches...Booted the game-winning field goal from 47 yards as time expired to claim the 37-35 victory at New Orleans (10/27). It was the second game-winning field goal of his career with the last coming vs. Buffalo (12/23/01). Connected on 31-and 32-yard field goals, as well, and booted four PAT's for 13 points, the third-most points ever in a game in his career. Named NFC Special Teams Player of the Month (of October) and captured special teams MVP by coaches for second straight week. Hit on nine of 10 field goals, including three of four from 45 yards and beyond to finish the month with 36 points...Kicked field goals of 36 and 40 yards before having a 56-yard attempt in overtime blocked at Pittsburgh (11/10) to end a streak of 13 straight field goals made...Set a new career-high with five field goals of 23, 23, 36, 20, and 39 yards vs. Detroit (12/22). His previous best was four each vs. Buffalo (12/23/01) and vs. St. Louis (12/2/01). Hit three extra points for a career-high of 18 total points on the day to tie for second-most in a game in Falcons history to K Norm Johnson's 20 points. Andersen also totaled 18 points vs. San Francisco on September 3, 2000. The 18 points pushed his season total to 128, setting a Falcons record for most points in a season. Andersen held the previous mark with 122 points in 1995...Booted field goals of 42, 49 and 30 yards with one miss from 28 yards in regular season finale at Cleveland (12/29) to break Morten Andersen's club record of 31 field goals (in 1995) to finish with 32 and added to his new mark for most points in a season with 138. Also, broke Nick Mike-Mayer's club record of 38 field goal attempts (in 1973) by totaling four attempts for a season-record of 40.

2001: Booted 29 of 37 field goals (.784) and connected on all 28 PAT's for a total of 115 points...Missed only one field goal on the road (14/15) at Miami (12/30) on a 44-yarder that was batted away...The 29 field goals made were also ranked first in the NFC and fourth overall in the NFL...His 115 points were tied with Pro Bowler David Akers of the Eagles for second in the NFC to St. Louis K Jeff Wilkins, who led the NFL with 127 points...Kicked the longest field goal outdoors in team history with a 55-yarder at Arizona (9/30), which tied Andersen (three times) for the second longest field goal ever...Equaled the second longest kick in Falcons history with a 55-yard field goal in the second quarter at Arizona (9/30). The kick was second only to the 59-yard field goal by Morten Andersen vs. San Franciso (12/24/95). Andersen booted a 55-yarder three times during his Falcons career. Feely's 55-yarder is the Falcons' longest field goal in an outdoor stadium...Kicked his first-ever game-winning field goal as time expired from 52 yards away to claim a 33-30 victory vs. Buffalo (12/23). Made four field goals on the day from 35, 32, 43 and 52 yards and added two extra points for a career-best 14 points. After Atlanta marched down to the Buffalo 34-yard line with :02 left on the clock, he drilled a perfect 52-yard field goal between the uprights as time expired to give the Falcons the win.

COLLEGE: He ended his career at Michigan by hitting 20-26 field goals and 43-44 PAT's and also served as the team's kickoff specialist. As a senior, he connected on 17 of 22 field goals and 40 of 41 extra points. He was named Big Ten honorable mention by coaches and media. Feely booted the longest field goal in the nation with a 51-yarder vs. Baylor as a junior, which was also the sixth longest in Michigan history.

PERSONAL: He donated monetarily to the Empty Stocking Fund, Feed the Homeless campaign and the Falcons' new ball boy mentoring program. He was a member of the Falcons' "Rush for Reading" program for the second straight year as third, fourth and fifth grade classes in the Atlanta city school system competed against each other to read the most books. Before he signed with the Falcons, Jay had been working as a financial consultant for a financial investment firm, Minnesota-based Wealth Enhancement Group. He wrote columns giving out financial advice in 2001 for Falcons fans on club's web site at atlantafalcons.com. He filled in for an injured kicker, Matt Huerkamp, for one game stint with the Tampa Bay Storm of the Arena League in 2000. He set Jesuit High School and Hillsborough County career and season records for field goals and PAT's as a prep in Tampa, Fla. area. He was named a second-team All-America by Blue Chip Illustrated magazine and was a Class 4-A state and All-Southeast Regional choice. His father is a junior varsity coach at his alma mater, Jesuit H.S. He served as the 2002 Grand Marshall for the Special Olympics Indoor Winter Games. Jay and his wife, Rebecca, have a daughter, Alexandra (Dec. 2000) and a son, Jace (Feb. 2003).

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Seattle as a rookie free agent on April 28, 1998. Waived by Seattle on August 25, 1998. Signed by Philadelphia as a free agent on July 6,1999. Waived by Philadelphia on October 12,1999. Signed by Atlanta to the practice squad on December 13, 1999.

NFL: Tall, rangy target who earned starting role in 2002 and produced career-highs in catches, yards and touchdowns in leading the team in receiving...A broken left hand suffered in the season opener at Dallas (9/7/03) that cost him four games and an injury to QB Michael Vick slowed progress in 2003...In Falcons career, 88 out of his 112 catches have been for either a first down (77) or touchdown (11)...Began his pro career with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1999 after a strong showing in NFL Europe with the Barcelona Dragons...Emerged as a solid receiver with big-play ability in second season in Atlanta in 2001...Led the team with a 21.3 per catch average in 2001 and among his 23 receptions, 16 were for first downs and three went for touchdowns...Made the Falcons' 53-man active roster after a strong preseason in 2000...Orginally signed to Atlanta's practice squad late in 1999...Used in nickel defense during late game prevent situations.

NFL EUROPE: Finished third in NFL Europe in receptions with 54, fourth in yards with 844 and fourth in touchdowns with eight while playing for Barcelona Dragons...Named offensive player of the week at Amsterdam after hauling in seven passes for 205 yards with three touchdowns. Those single-game totals were ranked first and second, respectively, all-time in an NFL Europe game.

2003: Caught 26 passes for 368 yards for a 14.2-yard average with a pair of touchdowns scored in 12 games and 10 starts...Missed four games due to a broken left hand suffered in season opening victory at Dallas (9/7)...Did not play vs. Washington (9/14), vs. Tampa Bay (9/21), at Carolina (9/28) and vs. Minnesota (10/5)...Returned to starting lineup at St. Louis (10/13) and tied for the team lead in receptions with three and led the team in receiving yards with 55...Tied a season-high with four catches for 49 yards, including a long reception of 15 yards vs. Philadelphia (11/2)...At Tampa Bay (12/20), he made one catch, a 13-yard touchdown reception from QB Michael Vick late in the first half. On third and four from the Buccaneers 13-yard line, Vick lofted a pass on a fade route to Finneran in which the 6-5 receiver used his physical advantage to come up with the ball over 5-9 Bucs CB Ronyell Whitaker....Did not start at Dallas (9/7) and vs. Tennessee (11/23), when the team opened in a two-tight end formation.

2002: Set new career-highs by leading all receivers with 56 receptions for 838 yards with six touchdowns in 16 regular season starts...Of those 56 receptions, 39 went for first downs with another six for scores...Recorded two 100-yard receiving games with 114 yards at Minnesota (12/1) and at Carolina (11/24) with 104 yards...He blocked one potential game-winning field goal at Pittsburgh (11/10)...Tied a career-high with six receptions for 76 yards vs. Chicago

(9/15). The six catches tied his performance vs. New Orleans on December 2, 2001...Led the team with six receptions for 77 yards with two touchdowns vs. Cincinnati (9/22). The two touchdown catches were a career-high and the six receptions tied a career-mark vs. Chicago (9/15/02) and again vs. New Orleans (12/9/01)...Caught the game-winning 14-yard touchdown with 8:13 remaining at the New York Giants (10/13)...Hauled in six passes for 72 yards at Pittsburgh (11/10). On 3-22 from the Atlanta 42-yard line in the third quarter, he caught a pass for a gain of 23 yards. Blocked a potential game-winning 48-yard field goal attempt by K Todd Peterson in overtime...Caught four passes for a then career-high of 104 yards, first 100-yard receiving game of his career, at Carolina (11/24). Totaled long receptions of 42, 35 and 21 yards..Produced his second straight 100-yard receiving game at Minnesota (12/1) with a career-high 114 yards on five receptions. The 114 yards bested the 104 yards the week before at Carolina (11/24). Included among his 114 receiving yards was a 39-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter...Started both playoff games and caught four passes for 35 yards at Green Bay (1/4/03) and five passes for 76 yards at Philadelphia (1/11/03).

HEIGHT ADVANTAGE

WR Brian Finneran put his 6-5 frame to good use at Pittsburgh (11/10) in 2002 in a crucial situation. TE Alge Crumpler approached Falcons special teams coach Joe DeCamillis before a Steelers field goal attempt with the suggestion to put Finneran on the field goal block unit. DeCamillis agreed and Finneran was sent out to the field as the Steelers lined up for a potential game-winning field goal from 48-yards away in overtime. The strategy worked as Finneran, who was playing on special teams for the first time since high school, jumped up to block Todd Peterson's attempt with his left forearm to give Atlanta new life. The game would eventually end in a 34-34 tie but Fin's heroic effort was timely.

2001: Break out season included a then career-high 23 receptions for 491 yards for a team-high 21.3 average with three touchdowns scored... Big year of "firsts" included his first NFL start at New Orleans (10/21) and first NFL touchdown from 47 yards out vs. S.F (10/14)...Played in all 16 games with the one start...Also contributed a career-best 11 special teams tackles to finish sixth on the club...On the receiving end of QB Michael Vick's two longest completions of his young career with a 52-yarder at Miami (12/30) and 50-yarder vs. New England (11/4)...Vs. S.F. (10/14), he scored his first NFL touchdown on a 47-yard catch-and-run in the fourth quarter for the go-ahead touchdown with just over two minutes remaining and a tied game at 24-24. On 1-10 from the S.F. 47-yard line, he hauled in a short pass from QB Chris Chandler on the left sideline, eluded a S.F. DB, and outraced the rest of the secondary to the end zone for his first-ever score...On the heels of his clutch performance a week earlier, he earned a start for the first time in his Falcons career when the team opened with three wide receivers at New Orleans (10/21). Caught one pass for seven yards and made one special teams tackle. Inserted into the game on the final plays as a center-fielder in prevent defense and knocked down the final "Hail Mary" pass attempt in the end zone as time expired...Hauled in a game-clinching 12-yard touchdown pass with 8:54 remaining to give Atlanta a 23-13 advantage at Green Bay (11/18). On 1-10 from the Green Bay 12-yard line, he dove for a pass in the end zone from QB Chris Chandler to provide the final winning points with 8:54 remaining in an eventual 23-20 win...Assumed the role of third wide receiver (ahead of Shawn Jefferson) when the team worked out of two-back formations with no tight ends vs. New Orleans (12/9) and enjoyed a then career day with team-leading six receptions for 92 yards.

2000: Played in 12 games in his first full season in Atlanta and was inactive for four other contests...Recorded seven catches for 60 yards with a long of 14 yards...Also returned one squibbed kickoff for two yards...Made the club after a solid preseason in which he led the team with 16 receptions for 254 yards, a 15.9 average with four touchdowns...Took over role as third wide receiver with the absence of WR Tim Dwight (appendicitis) at Carolina (9/17) and finished with three receptions for 17 yards...Caught two passes for 25 yards in the second half at St. Louis (10/15) when starter Shawn Jefferson left the game with a bruised back...With season-ending injury to Jammi German (ankle), saw limited time in four wide receiver sets in final two games at New Orleans (12/17) and vs. Kansas City (12/24).

1999: Made Philadelphia's final roster and played in three games, while being inactive for two other games...Caught two passes for 21 yards with an 11-yard long...Saw action vs. Arizona (9/12), at Buffalo (9/26) and at New York Giants (10/3)...In NFL debut vs. Arizona caught his first pro pass for a 10-yard gain from QB Doug Pederson...At Buffalo (9/26) the following week lined up at tight end at various times and caught one pass for 11 yards...Played but did not catch a pass at New York (10/3).

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Brings at-risk kids from his hometown to Falcons training camp.
- Helps to prepare holiday meals for needy in community and donated money to a local shelter in downtown Atlanta.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a seventh round, the second of four seventh round selections, (219th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2001.

NFL: Started all 16 games for the first time in his career last year at right guard...Strong training camp during rookie season landed him a starting spot at right guard in the season opener and he went on to earn eight total starting assignments as a rookie in 2001.

2003: Started at right guard in every contest...His timely blocking helped the Falcons to their fourth-highest per-carry average in franchise history (4.480)...Opened holes for RB Warrick Dunn's team record for the best two game rushing totals in consecutive games with 178 at New York Giants (11/9) and 162 at New Orleans (11/16)...Also paved the way for RB T.J. Duckett's new team mark for most consecutive games with a touchdown scored with seven...Part of a line vs. Carolina (9/28) that helped RB T.J. Duckett rush for 100 yards on 14 carries, Duckett's first 100-yard rushing effort of his career...Helped the Falcons to 440 yards of total offense vs. Minnesota (10/5), 380 yards vs. Carolina (12/7) and 344 vs. Jacksonville (12/28)...Part of a line that helped the Falcons rush for 148 yards while not allowing a sack of QB Michael Vick at Tampa Bay (12/20).

2002: Started in 12 of 14 games played at right guard...Enabled QB Doug Johnson to have a career-day with 257 yards passing at New York Giants (10/13) on 19-of-25 attempts with one passing touchdown and one rushing touchdown...Vs. Carolina (10/20), he helped offense amass 393 total yards and score 30 points in another start...At New Orleans (10/27), he opened holes for the offense to amass 260 yards rushing, the most since a team-record 297 vs. L.A. Rams on October 1, 1972, and score four rushing touchdowns, which were the most since October 21, 1973 at San Diego, en route to scoring 37 points in a win...As the starting right guard at Carolina (11/24), he was partly responsible for the offense amassing 426 total yards and scoring 35 of team's 41 total points in a 41-0 blanking...Returned to the starting lineup for second straight week for the injured Roberto Garza vs. Detroit (12/22) as the offense racked up a season-high 533 yards of total offense en route to scoring 36 points.

2001: Started in eight of 12 games played, missing four games due to nagging toe injury suffered in the opener at S.F. (9/9)...Started at right guard for first pro start at S.F. (9/9) to become the third rookie to start on opening day in the last four seasons...In the rematch with S.F. (10/14), he played for the first time on the line since the opener. Entered the game on the fourth series in place of starting RG Travis Claridge for six plays...At Green Bay (11/18), he replaced starting right guard Travis Claridge in the third and fourth series of the game in the first half, which entailed the first quarter and parts of the second quarter, as well in the fourth quarter. Helped offense manage 25 first downs, 417 total yards, the second-highest offense production of the season, and 335 net passing yards. It was the most total yards in three years since amassing 504 yards at New Orleans (12/13/98) and it was the first time the Falcons have had at least 400 yards in total offense in a game since gaining 434 vs. St. Louis (11/1/98)...Started at Carolina (11/25) for the first time since the season opener at S.F. (9/9) at right guard in place of Travis Claridge and played the entire game and remained a starter at right guard for the final six games of the season...Vs. Buffalo (12/23), he helped the offense to a season-high 489 total yards, the second 400+ yard performance of the season...In the season finale at St. Louis (1/6) started at right guard and was one of four rookie offensive starters, joining QB Michael Vick, TE Alge Crumpler and C Roberto Garza.

COLLEGE: He began his college career at Trinity Valley (Texas) Community College. But he moved to Hawaii where he became an All-Western Athletic Conference choice in his final season. He started 11 games at right tackle, collecting 94 knockdown blocks, as the unit allowed only 10 sacks on the season, as a senior. Forney was one of the key cogs in former Falcons Head Coach June Jones' high-powered offense as the Warriors averaged 322.9 yards per game through the air. He appeared in every game and managed five starts as a junior. Forney opened the 1998 season as the school's starting right tackle but switched to left guard and then on to right guard for an offense that generated 3,524 yards. He helped lead his team to the National JUCO Championship with a perfect 12-0 record in 1997 at Trinity Valley.

PERSONAL: Forney was an all-district and all-east Texas selection in football at Nacogdoches (Texas) High School. He lettered three years in football and two seasons for the track team as he threw the discus and shot put. He resides with his new wife, Alicia, in Buford, Ga.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a fourth round, the first of two fourth round selections, (99th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2001.

NFL: Smart, heady lineman who won the starting right guard spot in 2002 only to suffer injuries during the season, which limited his playing time...Sustained injuries to his elbow in training camp 2003 and ended his 2003 season on injured reserve with a torn ACL of his right knee...Versatile player who can play guard or center.

2003: Started eight of 14 games played before being lost for the season with a torn ACL in his right knee at Indianapolis (12/14)...Placed on injured reserve on December 16...Began the season competing for the starting center position with Todd McClure but a right elbow injury early in training camp slowed his progress...Relegated mainly to special teams duty for the first four games...Vs. Minnesota (10/5), he replaced Travis Claridge at left guard after Claridge went out with a knee injury late in the first quarter...Made first start of the year at left guard in place of Claridge vs. New Orleans (10/19)...Started the next eight games and was part of the line that opened holes for RB Warrick Dunn's team record for the best two game rushing totals in consecutive games with 178 at New York Giants (11/9) and 162 at New Orleans (11/16)...Also paved the way for RB T.J. Duckett's new team mark for most consecutive games with a touchdown scored with seven...Suffered the torn ACL in his right knee in the fourth quarter at Indianapolis (12/14) which ended his season.

2002: Began the season as the club's starting right guard but was hampered with a broken left foot and sprained right knee that limited him to four starts in six total games played...Inactive for both playoff games...Started at guard for the first time in a season opening game at Green Bay (9/8) and opened up holes for offense to amass 374 yards of total offense and score 34 points...The following week vs. Chicago (9/15), he started at guard but broke a bone in his left foot on first series and played the entire game. He underwent surgery on September 17, 2002 to repair the foot and missed the next seven games...Returned for the first time at Carolina (11/24) and relieved Todd McClure at center late in the game. Helped offense total 426 yards en route to scoring 35 of 41 total points in a 41-0 victory...Entered the Minnesota (12/1) game for Kynan Forney at right guard in fourth quarter after Forney suffered hamstring injury and stayed in for the remainder of the contest...Started at right guard for the first time since Week 2 at Tampa Bay (12/8)...Started again the next week vs. Seattle (12/15) but sprained his right knee and did not return...Finished the season on the deactivation list vs. Detroit (12/22) and at Cleveland (12/29), as well as the two postseason contests.

2001: Started four of 16 games played during rookie campaign...Substituted for season starter Bob Hallen at left guard in the early part of the season before taking over full-time duties in Week 14 at Indianapolis (12/16)...Started at center for the only time in the season finale at St. Louis (1/6) when incumbent Todd McClure was lost for the season with a foot injury the week before at Miami (12/30)...Played his most extensive time of the first half of the season by replacing starting LG Bob Hallen in the second half vs. New England (11/4)...Made his first NFL start at Indianapolis (12/16) when he was inserted at left guard in place of Bob Hallen (coaches decision). He became the fourth member of the 2001 draft class to start in a game in 2001...Started at center for the first time in the season finale at St. Louis (1/6) after an injury to Todd McClure (foot) the previous week necessitated the move.

COLLEGE: He was named a little college All-America first-team selection and an All-Lone Star Conference performer at center as a senior. He collected 44 and 88 knockdown blocks, respectively, during his final two seasons in starting every contest. He moved into the starting spot late in his freshman year and continued to be a stalwart on the line for the rest of his career, earning three straight all-conference nods in starting 30 of the team's last 40 games. In 14 starts as a sophomore, he registered a personal-best 102 knockdowns to help the team average 297.3 yards rushing per game. He garnered a spot on the All-Lone Star conference freshman team.

PERSONAL: He provided monetary donations to the Empty Stocking Fund, Falcons Feed the Homeless campaign. He mentors boys from the Hall County Boys & Girls Club through the Falcons' Ball Boy Mentoring Program. He speaks fluent Spanish and is one of 19 Hispanic players in the NFL. Garza holds a football camp for Hispanic boys and girls in the Atlanta area. He lettered in football and track at Rio Hondo (Texas) High School. He was a member of the school's National Honor Society for his work in the classroom. Every December 2 is the official "Roberto Garza Day" in his hometown of Rio Hondo (pop. 2000). He finished third in the shot put at the 1999 NCAA Championships and won the NCAA title in 2000 with a toss of 57'0". Garza captured the conference crown in college in the discus in 1999. Garza grew up in Rio Hondo, Texas, where many of the 2,000 residents were of Hispanic descent. He and his wife, Ashley M., reside in Buford, GA.

2003: Recorded 61 tackles and five sacks in 15 games with two starts...Started those two games at right end for injured Brady Smith (elbow) in the final two games of the season at Tampa Bay (12/20) and vs. Jacksonville (12/28)...Made game-saving play when he swatted away Bucs QB Brad Johnson's pass attempt on two-point conversion with 27 seconds remaining and Falcons ahead 30-28 at Tampa Bay (12/20)...Had strong outing in return to the lineup at New Orleans (11/16) after missing previous week at New York Giants (11/9) with a neck strain, collecting six combined tackles and 0.5 sack...Led the defensive line with nine combined tackles to go along with one sack at Indianapolis (12/14).

2002: Played in 11 games with one start due to injuries to lower abdomen and sprained right foot and finished with 40 tackles and one sack...Only start was registered vs. Baltimore (11/3) at left end when Brady Smith (shoulder) did not play...Suffered lower abdominal strain in training camp and missed the first three games of the season at Green Bay (9/8), vs. Chicago (9/15) and vs. Cincinnati (9/22)...Returned to a reserve role vs. Tampa Bay (10/6) in first action of the season...Made one tackle in a reserve role but had to leave the game vs. New Orleans (11/17) after participating in only two plays after aggravating a sprained right foot...Foot injury forced him to miss two games at Carolina (11/24) and at Minnesota (12/1)...Returned to fill a reserve role along the line for the remainder of the season and in both playoff games.

2001: Started all 16 games and contributed 68 tackles, sixth-highest on team, 2.5 sacks, and one fumble recovery...Tied LB Keith Brooking with six tackles at Green Bay (11/18). Helped shut down the NFL's leading rusher, Ahman Green, holding him to 62 yards. Part of a defense that created four turnovers with three interceptions and one fumble recovery and held Green Bay to 70 total yards rushing...Part of an aggressive defense that stopped the Panthers on a goal-line stand on four straight downs on the one-yard line in the third quarter at Carolina (11/25). In the fourth quarter, with two minutes remaining and Atlanta clinging to a 10-7 lead, he was part of a defense that stuffed QB Chris Weinke on fourth down and inches. Made six tackles with one QB pressure and a team-high three QB hits. Defense allowed a then season-low of 247 total yards. Along with SS Johndale Carty was named defensive MVP by coaches.

2000: Led all defensive linemen with 85 tackles and tied for the team lead in sacks with 4.5 with Brady Smith in starting all 16 games...Added a fumble recovery, half a block of a field goal (with Chuck Wiley) and two batted balls to his totals on the year...Started the season at left defensive end vs. S.F. (9/3) for the first time in a game since college days at BYU when a preseason groin injury to starter Brady Smith necessitated moves across the defensive line. (Patrick Kerney moved from LE to RE while Ed Jasper took over for Hall at his regular LDT position.)...Registered a season-high and game-best 13 tackles, third-most ever in a single-game, vs. New York Giants (10/8)...Posted a sack and a huge fumble recovery with four tackles and a QB pressure in a close victory vs. Carolina (10/29)...At San Francisco (11/19) tied again for second on team with 10 tackles and had a team-best four QB pressures. The 49ers were held without a touchdown for the first time since vs. Jacksonville (11/29/99).

1999: Finished with the second highest total among Falcons defensive linemen with 76 tackles, including 44 solos in starting 15 of 16 games...Missed his lone start vs. Baltimore (10/3) because of thumb surgery but played. Lester Archambeau moved into his starting spot while rookie Patrick Kerney took over at left defensive end. Hall played for much of season with a bulky cast on hand...Matched his 1998 sack total by finishing with 4.5 sacks...Added 25 QB pressures, a fumble recovery, a forced fumble, and nine batted balls...Amassed 267.5 total points on the defensive grading system, fifth highest on the unit...At Pittsburgh (10/25), tallied eight tackles and collared seven stops and four QB pressures at Tampa Bay (11/21)...Made eight tackles, a batted ball and QB pressure at Carolina (11/28) and recovered a huge Steve Beuerlein fumble late in fourth quarter to give Atlanta a chance to win at Carolina 20 with 3:12 left with team trailing 34-28...The next week vs. New Orleans (12/5) he recorded his third career two-sack game and first since a game vs. Oakland (9/14/97). Also added nine tackles, second highest on team, and a team-high four QB pressures...Finished with a season-high 11 tackles and blocked a 39-yard field goal attempt in third quarter at San Francisco (12/12).

1998: Started 13 of 14 games played and all three playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXXIII vs. Denver (1/31/99)...Finished with 72 tackles, 4.5 sacks, 30 pressures, four recovered fumbles and one forced fumble...Blocked three PAT's...Began season as Defensive MVP at Carolina (9/6) with career-high seven QB pressures, four tackles and two batted balls as he was in the Panthers backfield all day...Recorded eight tackles vs. Philadelphia (9/13) the next week and seven stops at San Francisco (9/27) after the bye week...In rematch vs. Carolina (10/4) produced six tackles, six pressures, 0.5 sack, one forced fumble, one recovered fumble, a blocked extra point and a batted ball...Collared six tackles, 0.5 sack and two pressures at Giants (10/25)...Registered seven tackles, a fumble recovery and four pressures vs. New Orleans (10/18)...Sat out Jets game (10/25) with knee and ankle injuries to end starting streak at 27 games in-a-row...Left knee was scoped on Saturday before game vs. St. Louis (11/1)...Returned the following week at New England (11/8) and contributed a sack of Drew Bledsoe and a crushing block on Chuck Smith's 71-yard fumble return TD...Totaled six tackles each vs. Indianapolis (12/6) and at Detroit (12/20)...Recovered two fumbles, blocked an extra point and made three tackles vs. Miami (12/27)...In NFC Title game at Minnesota (1/17) he recovered a fumble, collected four tackles, and a pass defensed.

1997: Started all 16 games for first time in career...Collected career-highs in tackles with 109, solo stops with 66, and sacks with 10.5...Became first interior lineman to record double-digits in sacks in team history...His 10.5 sacks was also the seventh-highest total by a Falcon linemen ever and third-best total by a defensive tackle in NFL...Played a big hand in helping set a new team record of 55 QB sacks...Combined with Chuck Smith for 23.5 sacks, the fourth-most productive duo in league and second-best ever in club history...Recorded six or more tackles in a game 11 times and 7 or more stops eight times...Earned first ever NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors at Seattle (11/30) with a career-high 15 tackles, two for losses, 0.5 sack, two pressures and a deflected pass...Registered 10 tackles, two sacks, a forced fumble, a recovered fumble and two pressures at New Orleans (10/12) as club set a franchise record with 10 sacks...Posted nine tackles, two sacks, and three pressures to be named defensive MVP by coaches vs. Oakland (9/14)...At San Diego (12/7), he collared nine tackles, a sack, two pressures and a pass break-up.

1996: Earned starting spot in training camp and went on to finish second on team in tackles with 98...Most tackles by a Falcon interior lineman since Moe Gardner's 128 in 1993...Made 13 starting assignments in 14 games played...Credited with six sacks, second-best total on team, 26 pressures, two forced fumbles and one recovered fumble...First ever pro start at Carolina (9/1) produced Kerry Collins sack and forced fumble...In third start vs. Philadelphia (9/22) registered a then personal-best with 14 tackles and trapped Rodney Peete twice for sacks...Collared nine solo stops out of 12 total tackles vs. Houston (10/13)...At Dallas (10/20) OL Erik Williams rolled his legs from behind to cause a high ankle sprain which made him miss two games...Returned to record 10 tackles and three pressures against San Francisco (12/2)...Underwent left thumb surgery on Dec. 26 for injury in season finale at Jacksonville (12/22).

1995: Saw action in only three plays from scrimmage vs. Detroit (11/5)...Made final roster by snaring nine tackles with seven solos in the last three preseason contests.

COLLEGE: He was a Super Sleeper Team and All-Western Athletic Conference first team choice by the NFL Draft Report. Hall started all 13 games at right defensive end for the Top 20 ranked Cougars in 1994. He recorded 61 tackles (38 solo), eight sacks, 19 QB pressures, and 13 stops for losses. Despite playing on the line, he still managed to lead the team with 10 pass deflections, while corralling an interception and recovering two fumbles. One of his best all-around games came in a 13-12 win over Hawaii when he recorded three solo tackles, three QB pressures, deflected three passes, intercepted a pass to set up a score, and forced three fumbles, earning WAC Defensive Player-of-the-Week honors.

PERSONAL: He made a strong commitment to be a role model for fathers by becoming a member of the All-Pro Dad Team (allprodad.com), which featured him and his three children on a billboard with an emphasis on speaking to fathers about their most important job - being a dad. Hall is a self-made player who credits his time growing up in the wild of Kenai, Alaska (150 miles south of Anchorage) for his trademark intensity and relentless drive. He hunted live game (mostly moose) for food and to heat the old wood burning stove he chopped wood daily. Sometimes he would have to fight through heavy snow at knee length to find fuel. One of his summer jobs while with his father in Alaska was working on commercial fishing boats. Hall was humbled when his West Jordan (Utah) High School retired his #78 jersey in May of 1997. He is just the sixth native Alaskan to ever play in the NFL. His father, Mark Hall, played center and every defensive position except safety, as well as excelling as a wrestler in high school. Hall was an All-State selection by the Salt Lake Tribune/Desert News as a senior. He earned academic all-state honors for his 4.0 GPA as a senior and 3.76 mark as a junior. An excellent hockey player, he captured a medal in hockey at the 1989-90 Utah Winter Games as a junior club player. He laced up the skates in the 1997 off-season and won a division title played at the old Omni after starting out competing in pick-up games at the Atlanta Ice Forum where the Atlanta Thrashers practice. He and his wife, Tonya, have two sons, Austin and Jacob, and one daughter, Tataina.

2002: Started all 16 games for first time in his career and finished with a personal-best of 76 tackles and 39 solos...Started 15 games at nose tackle and one game at right end due to an injury to Brady Smith...The 79 tackles bested the 60 stops he totaled in 2000...Collected a total of two sacks, one forced fumble and one recovered fumble...Started both playoff games...Recovered the first fumble of his career vs. Tampa Bay (10/6) and registered a season-high eight tackles with two QB pressures...Part of a strong defensive effort vs. Carolina (10/20) and at Carolina (11/24) that twice produced shutouts...Registered six tackles with one forced fumble and one sack vs. Seattle (12/15).

2001: Played in all 16 games in the club's defensive line rotation with one start and finished with 51 tackles (26 solos), a career-high four sacks (fourth-highest), one forced fumble and three QB pressures...Started in the season finale at St. Louis (1/6) at right tackle in place of Shane Dronett (injured)...At New Orleans (10/21) credited for a sack and forced fumble of QB Aaron Brooks (that New Orleans recovered) in the third quarter to force a punt. Helped to hold RB Ricky Williams, the NFC's second leading rusher (at the time), to five yards on eight second-half carries. Limited the Saints to 63 rushing yards on 24 attempts for an average of just 2.6 yards per rush for the game. That is the lowest total since Atlanta held Carolina to a 1.5 average on 20 attempts for 30 yards in 2000...Started for the first time all season at St. Louis (1/6) when Shane Dronett was deactivated due to a knee injury and finished with a season-high six tackles.

2000: Set then career-bests in every category with his 69 tackles, sixth on team's ledgers, 36 solo stops, 3.5 sacks, 22 QB pressures and two forced fumbles, tied for team-high honors with S Marty Carer in 15 starts...Pushed incumbent left defensive tackle Travis Hall for starting spot with a strong training camp and became starter with loss of right defensive tackle Shane Dronett to serious knee injury...Vs. New Orleans (10/22), totaled nine tackles, second-highest on team and collected a season and career-high 11 tackles vs. Tampa Bay (11/5)..Ended up with nine tackles, third-best on team, at Oakland (11/26) with a forced fumble and QB pressure.

1999: Totaled 46 tackles in 13 games played...Added five QB pressures...Finished with three tackles each in the first three games vs. Minnesota (9/12), at Dallas (9/20) and at St. Louis (9/26) before spraining his right knee in the Rams game...Deactivated for the next three games vs. Baltimore (10/3), at New Orleans (10/10) and vs. St. Louis (10/17)...Returned for strong second half of season...Registered a season and then career-high seven tackles with two QB pressures at Carolina (11/28)...Tied then career-high with seven tackles and added two more QB pressures at San Francisco (12/12).

1998: In seven games, totaled 17 tackles (10 solos) and a pair of QB pressures...In mid-season stint was used in the Eagles' four-man rotation with starters Hollis Thomas and Bill Johnson and fellow reserve Brandon Whiting.

1997: Played in 10 games with one start...Amassed 14 tackles, one sack, one pressure, and a forced fumble...After being deactivated three of the first four games was worked into defensive tackle rotation...Hospitalized with irregular breathing and was deactivated for weeks 12-14...At Baltimore (11/16), recorded a key third down stop of RB Jay Graham in backfield in overtime...Made first NFL start at Washington (12/21) in season finale in place of Rhett Hall (knee) and registered first pro sack of QB Jeff Hostetler.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Owns two farms in Indianapolis, where he lives in the offseason
- Has taken diving lessons and loves to fish

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a first round (15th pick overall) draft choice by Indianapolis in 1995. Waived by Indianapolis on August 28, 2002. Signed by Atlanta as a free agent on September 1, 2002.

NFL: Key acquisition after he was granted release by new coaching staff in Indianapolis prior to season opener in 2002...Displays great quickness off the ball...His 8.0 sacks in 2003 led all NFL interior linemen and tied a career-high...Has 15.0 sacks over the last two seasons, which is second only to teammate Rod Coleman among interior linemen...Started every game he played in for the Colts over the course of five years (76 games).

2003: Finished with 64 tackles, 35 solos and a team-leading 8.0 sacks to tie a career-high...The 8.0 sacks led all NFL interior linemen and tied his own career mark established in 1998 in Indianapolis...Played in all 16 games with three starting assignments...Recorded a pair of two sack games vs. New Orleans (10/19) and at Houston (11/30)...Posted five tackles, including four unassisted tackles, and one sack in reserve action vs. Washington (9/14)...Tied with DE Patrick Kerney for the team lead among Falcons defensive lineman with seven tackles, including six unassisted stops, at Carolina (9/28)...Vs. New Orleans (10/19), he made five combined tackles and dumped New Orleans quarterback Aaron Brooks for a pair of sacks, the second two-sack game of his Falcons career after recording two in 2002 at Carolina (11/29/02)...At Houston (11/30), he had a relentless effort that produced his second two-sack game of the season and the fourth of his career to go along with seven combined tackles.

2002: Became a key cog in the defensive line rotation after his acquistion a week before the season opener at Green Bay and finished with 54 tackles in 16 games played with two starts...Second on the team in sacks with seven and added one forced fumble along with 13 QB pressures..In a reserve role vs. Baltimore (11/3), he made six tackles, one sack and one QB pressure...At Minnesota (12/1), he amassed one sack to go along with six tackles and a season-high three QB pressures...Came up with a big play in the Falcons upset at Green Bay (1/4/03). In the second quarter with Green Bay attempting to score its first points of the night, he slipped by a block into the backfield and stopped RB Ahman Green for a four-yard loss on 4-2 from the Atlanta two-yard line to thwart a potential scoring opportunity for the Packers and negate any momentum.

2001: Started all 16 games at right defensive tackle, the third time in his career and the third time in four seasons that he has started all 16 games...Totaled 61 tackles (25 solos), 3.5 sacks for 38.5 yards, two batted passes and one forced fumble...Had at least four tackles in 11 games...Posted four tackles at N.Y. FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Active board member on Special Olympics of Georgia and is team's United Way spokesperson.
- Raises money for the Lt. Thomas L. Kerney Endowment Fund, named after his brother who was a police officer killed in the line of duty. Program provides scholarships for children of fallen officers in Georgia and South Carolina.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a first round (30th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 1999.

NFL: Strong, quick player with a non-stop motor and relentless pursuit...Making the transition back to a conventional defensive end in new 4-3 scheme after playing the last two seasons in 3-4 alignment...Prides himself on playing both the pass and run with equal effeciency and has the fourth-most tackles of any defensive end over the last two seasons with 191...Dependable player who has never missed a game in five seasons (80 games) and has a streak of 64 straight starts (since 2000), entering the 2004 season...Eclipsed 100 tackles for the first time in his career with a career-high 104 stops to lead all NFL defensive ends in 2002...Became only the second player in team history to record back-to-back double-digit sack seasons with 12.0 and 10.5, respectively in 2001-02...Already stands in eighth place on the club's all-time sack list with 34.0 in only five seasons...Enjoyed break out season in 2001 as he posted a career and team-high 12 sacks, the fifth highest total in the NFC...It was the most sacks by a Falcons player since DE Chuck Smith tallied 12 in 1997...Had a stretch of seven straight games with at least a 0.5 sack...Earned starting left defensive end spot with departure of Smith and Lester Archambeau in 2000.

2003: Started all 16 games at defensive end for the fourth straight season and totaled 87 tackles with 52 solos to finish fourth overall on team charts...Added 6.5 sacks, second-highest to Ellis Johnson's 8.0, as well as a team-high three recovered fumbles and two forced fumbles...Recorded his first multi-sack game of the season with two sacks at New Orleans (11/16) and also contributed six combined tackles. Thwarted a Saints drive in the second quarter when he sacked Saints QB Aaron Brooks for a six-yard loss on third-and-goal from the Atlanta four-yard line. The Saints were forced to settle for a field goal. Recorded another sack of Brooks in the fourth quarter for a six-yard loss...Registered a season-best nine tackles, including six unassisted and one tackle for loss. vs. Tennessee (11/23)...Named defensive MVP by coaches after recording seven combined tackles, including his fifth sack of the year at Houston (11/30)...In the big 30-28 victory at Tampa Bay (12/20), he tied for the team lead (Ed Jasper) among defensive lineman with seven combined stops and played a big hand in Juran Bolden's 41-yard interception return for a touchdown. Kerney's heavy pass rush on Bucs QB Brad Johnson forced a bad throw, which Bolden picked off and returned for the touchdown and an early Falcons lead.

2002: Posted new career-highs in total tackles with 104 and solo stops with 54, as well as recording his second straight double-digit sack season with 10.5 to lead the team for the second consecutive season...Added two fumble recoveries, including one return for his first NFL touchdown and recorded a pair of fumble recoveries...Had a pair of two sack games vs. Carolina (10/20) and vs. Baltimore (11/3)...Earned first NFC Defensive Player of the Week (9) honor in career for effort vs. Baltimore...Totaled 11 tackles, most by a lineman, with one sack in the season opener at Green Bay (9/8)...Picked up a fumble recovery and scored a touchdown for the first time in his career on a four-yard return vs. Baltimore (11/3). Also added two sacks to go along with seven total tackles. Recorded his second two-sack game of the season to be named the NFC Defensive Player of the Week. It marked the first defensive touchdown by Atlanta since CB Ashley Ambrose returned an interception 36 yards for a score on opening day of the 2000 season vs. San Francisco (9/3/00). Also, it was the first fumble that was returned for a touchdown since LB Jessie Tuggle returned a fumble one-yard for a touchdown vs. San Francisco (11/15/98)...Totaled 1.5 sacks to go along with eight tackles at Pittsburgh (11/10)...Pushed his season sack totals to double-digits at 10.5 with one sack vs. Detroit (12/22). The last time the Falcons had a player finish with back-to-back 10+ sack totals was DE Claude Humphrey, who had 10 sacks in 1973 and 12.5 sacks in 1974...Recorded a sack and forced fumble in both playoff contests, as well as a fumble recovery vs. Green Bay (1/4/03).

2001: Started all 16 games for the second consecutive season at left defensive end and led the team with a personal-best of 12 sacks. His 12 sacks were ninth in the NFL and tied Chuck Smith (in 1997) for the most sacks by a Falcons player since the category became an official NFL stat in 1982...Set a single-game career-high with 2.5 sacks vs. Dallas (11/11) and added 1.5 sack games vs. Carolina (9/23) and New England (11/4)...Streak of seven games in-a-row with at least a 0.5 sack lasted almost two months as it began vs. S.F. (10/14) and ended vs. New Orleans (12/9)...Finished with 67 tackles, a then career-best two forced fumbles and two recovered fumbles. The pair of FF and FR were tied for team-high honors.

2000: Started all 16 games and finished with a then personal-best of 81 tackles, including 38 solos, to end up with fifth-best total on team...Started first two games at right end because of a preseason groin injury to Brady Smith before moving back to left end position for final 14 starts...Recorded 2.5 sacks and a forced and recovered fumble...Registered his then second-highest tackle total in a game with nine stops vs. St. Louis (9/24) and also added his first NFL interception and a sack...Established a then career-high with 11 tackles at St. Louis (10/15).

- Read to kids at a local elementary school during the Read Across America national program in spring of 2004.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a fourth round (108th pick overall) draft choice by Kansas City in 2001. Waived by Kansas City on September 2, 2001. Signed by Kansas City to the practice squad on September 4, 2001. Signed by Atlanta to the active roster from the Kansas City practice squad on October 2, 2001. Waived by Atlanta on September 1, 2002. Signed by Atlanta on November 12, 2002. Waived by Atlanta on September 2, 2003. Signed by Carolina to the practice squad on September 10, 2003. Waived by Carolina from the practice squad on October 1, 2003. Signed by Atlanta on November 26, 2003.

NFL: Strong blocker with good hands...Signed off the Kansas City Chiefs' practice squad to the Falcons' 53-man roster in 2001...Opened holes for San Diego Chargers No. 1 pick in 2001 RB LaDainian Tomlinson at TCU...Was waived following training camp 2003 but re-signed after RB Warrick Dunn was injured late in the season.

2003: After being waived in training camp, he returned after RB Warrick Dunn was lost for the season to play in three games before suffering a PCL tear of his left knee that ended his season...Initially re-signed with Atlanta due to a foot injury to Dunn after the game vs. Tennessee (11/23) that opened up a roster spot when Dunn was placed on injured reserve...Rushed one time for 15 yards, caught one pass for three yards and added two special teams tackles...Played on special teams and had one tackle at Houston (11/30) in his first action of the season...Logged time at fullback in addition to his special teams duties at Indianapolis (12/14) before being forced out of the game with the PCL tear that placed him on injured reserve.

2002: Re-signed to the Falcons' 53-man roster in the middle of the 2002 season after being waived on final cutdown and played in two games...Inactive for five games after re-joining the team and played in the final two games...Rushed one time for five yards and caught two passes for 11 yards...Played for the first time as reserve fullback vs. Detroit (12/22) and filled in for starter Bob Christian when Christian was felled with a concussion. Also played on special teams. Rushed one time for five yards...At Cleveland (12/29), he replaced Bob Christian at fullback when Christian was deactivated due to a concussion vs. Detroit (12/22). Caught two passes for 11 yards. Led the special teams with a career-high three tackles...Started at fullback at Green Bay (1/4/03) in the Wild Card playoff game and recovered a muffed punt, which led to a Falcons touchdown and served in a reserve role at Philadelphia (1/11/03) in Divisional playoff game.

2001: After being waived on the final cutdown with Kansas City, he was re-signed to the Chiefs' practice squad...Signed by Atlanta after the season-ending injury to RB Jamal Anderson to provide depth in the backfield...Saw action in two games in Atlanta, mainly on special teams...Activated for the first time due to a knee injury to starting TE Reggie Kelly and made his NFL debut at Green Bay (11/18). Played on the kickoff return team...Active for the second time all season at St. Louis (1/6) in the season finale and logged his first action at fullback and first plays from scrimmage as a Falcon. On the field for eight plays when starting FB Bob Christian was knocked out of the game with a knee injury in the second quarter.

COLLEGE: He was a two-year starter at fullback at TCU and was a dominating lead blocker, who was largely responsible for creating huge holes for All-American runner LaDainian Tomlinson. He finished his career with 482 rushing yards with eight touchdowns on 97 carries (5.0 avg.) and proved to be an effective third down receiver throughout his career. He carried 46 times for 279 yards (6.1 avg.) with six scores and caught eight passes for 151 yards for an 18.9 average with a pair of touchdowns as a senior. Layne scored on long touchdown receptions covering 46 yards vs. Arkansas State and 23 yards vs. Navy. He opened holes for Tomlinson to become one of only two players (Ricky Williams at Texas) in college football history to rush for more than 2,000 yards in a season and 5,000 yards for a career as he racked up 2,158 and 5,263 yards (6th best ever in NCAA history), respectively. Tomlinson was a Heisman Trophy finalist in 2001 and Doak Walker award winner (as the nation's top back) as he led the country in rushing with those 2,158 yards to go along with 22 touchdowns, both single-season TCU records. As a junior, he bull-dozed holes for Tomlinson to gain 1,850 yards, including an NCAA single-game record of 406 yards with six touchdowns scored vs. UTEP.

PERSONAL: He lettered in football at Alvin (TX) High School as a senior and at Sweeny (TX) High as a junior as a tailback and inside linebacker. He averaged more than seven yards a carry as a runner and recorded 208 tackles with nine sacks and three interceptions on defense as a prep. His father, George, was a quarterback at TCU in 1976. He was born on October 9, 1978 in Alvin, Texas and he and his wife, Blythe, live in the Longhorn state in the offseason.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Gives monetarily to teammate Allen Rossum's Healthy Kids Foundation.
- Participated in the Eagle Ranch Golf Tournament to benefit the team's courage house.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Dallas as a rookie free agent on March 24, 1997. Traded by Dallas to New Orleans on April 26, 2000 for linebacker Chris Bordano. Signed by Atlanta as a free agent on September 17, 2002.

NFL: A veteran of 92 games, including 43 starts, with three teams in seven seasons (Dallas 1997-99, New Orleans 2000-01, Atlanta 2002-03)...Started 13 games at cornerback with the Saints in 2001 and tied his then career-high in interceptions with two, despite playing with a nagging neck injury which caused him to miss one game...Suffered a spine injury late in 2001, which caused him to miss the season finale...Fully recovered from his injury and played in 11 games with the Falcons in 2002 and in 14 contests as a key reserve DB in 2003.

2003: Served as a nickel/dime defensive back and spot starter in three of 14 total games played...Finished with 32 tackles, one sack, two fumble recoveries, one forced fumble and his only interception came vs. Carolina (12/7) which he returned 32 yards for a touchdown in overtime in a 20-14 victory...Started vs. Minnesota (10/5) in base defense at RCB and vs. New Orleans (10/19) and at Indianapolis (12/14) in nickel defense...Missed two games due to a hamstring injury vs. Philadelphia (11/2) and at New York Giants (11/9)...Had his best games against the Panthers as he made four tackles with a forced and recovered fumble at Carolina (9/28). Stripped the ball away from RB DeShaun Foster in the fourth quarter and returned it four yards to stop a Carolina drive at the Atlanta 33-yard line...In the rematch vs. Carolina (12/7), he ended the game with a 32-yard interception for a touchdown in overtime to clinch the 20-14 victory. Carolina faced a 3-3 from its own 29-yard line on the first possession of overtime when Mathis stepped in front of WR Muhsin Muhammad, picked off QB Jake Delhomme's pass and raced down the sideline and dove for the pylon for the game-winner. It was the first NFL touchdown of his career and the third time that a Falcons game ended with an interception returned for a touchdown (as well as the 15th time an NFL overtime game ended with an interception for a touchdown).

2002: Played in 11 games after signing with Atlanta on September 17...Missed two games vs. Carolina (10/20) and at New Orleans (10/27) due to a sprained knee and one game at Minnesota (12/1) with a hamstring injury...Finished with 15 tackles, a career-high three interceptions, three passes defensed and a fumble recovery as a nickel and dime back...The three interceptions were tied for the third-highest on the team and broke his own personal-best of two in 2001 and 1998...At New York Giants (10/13), he recovered a huge fumble with 3:22 remaining deep into Atlanta territory with the Falcons clinging to a 17-10 lead...Nickel back who picked off one pass in overtime at Pittsburgh (11/10) with 1:57 remaining to give Atlanta one last chance at a field goal. Finished with a season-high six total tackles.

2001: Started 13 games at left cornerback and appeared in 14 for the Saints...Tied a then career-high in interceptions (2), while also chipping in 79 tackles (61 solo), one sack for a loss of six yards, eight pass defenses and three forced fumbles...Started games 1-10 and 13-15 at LCB...Was declared inactive for Game 11 with a neck injury and placed on injured reserve on 1/2/02 after suffering a cervical spine injury in Game 15...Posted a season-high eight tackles and chipped in a pass defense at Carolina (10/14)...Was enjoying one of his finest games of the season vs. Washington (12/30) with six tackles (five solo), an 11-yard interception return and one pass defense, when he suffered a third quarter cervical spine injury and was taken to the hospital for further observation...Was placed on injured reserve on 1/2/02.

2000: With cornerback Alex Molden injured, Mathis opened the season as a starter and never relinquished the spot...Started games 1-12 at LCB, and moved over to RCB after Fred Weary's season-ending knee injury placed Molden back in the starting lineup...Finished the season with a career-high 87 tackles (65 solo), one interception, nine pass defenses, two forced fumbles and ten special teams tackles (two solo)...Also had eight kickoff returns for 187 yards and one punt return for five yards...Started both playoff games...Tied a career high in total tackles with nine (seven solo) at Seattle (9/17).

1999: Saw action in eight games on the year, starting four at the left cornerback position... Was slowed by injury during the year...Recorded 16 tackles (11 solo) and had 18 kickoff returns for 408 yards (22.7 avg.), with a long of 37 yards...Recorded a season-high five tackles and broke up a pass in his second start of the year vs. Atlanta (9/20)...Had a career-high six kickoff returns for a 19.2 yard average as well as tying for the team lead with two special teams tackles at Minnesota (11/8).

1998: Started the final four games of the regular season, and the Wild Card Playoff loss to Arizona to cap a very productive second NFL season...Also established himself as one of the more productive kickoff return men in the NFL, averaging 24.8 yards-per-attempt to finish the year ranked sixth in the NFC (13th in the NFL)...Made his first career NFL kickoff return good for 38 yards, while also adding three tackles for the defense in season opening win over Arizona (9/6)...Registered his first career interception, picking off a second quarter pass that led to a Dallas field goal in the Monday night win at the N.Y. Giants (9/21)...Tied a club record with two fumble recoveries in the same game in a 27-20 win over Carolina (10/11)...Recorded the first sack of his career the following week at Chicago (10/18).

1997: Saw action in all 16 games for Dallas as a rookie and started the final three at cornerback following Deion Sanders' season ending rib fracture...Was one of three rookie free agents to play the entire 1997 season for the Cowboys...Was also a stellar performer on special teams, finishing the season ranked fourth on the squad with 16 special teams tackles...Earned his first NFL start for the ailing Sanders vs. Carolina (12/8) and responded with three tackles and three pass defenses, the most passes defensed in a game by a Cowboy rookie since Larry Brown had four against Houston (11/10/91).

COLLEGE: He finished his senior campaign at Texas A&M-Commerce (formerly East Texas State) with 48 tackles, 17 passes broken up, four interceptions, two tackles for losses and a sack while leading the team with 16 punt returns for a 9.7 average and 15 kickoff returns for a 24.9 average. As a junior, he totaled 55 tackles, 16 passes defensed and six interceptions while also registering 26 punt returns for a 10.4 average.

PERSONAL: He was a two-time all-district honoree at Gainesville (TX) High School, where he also lettered in basketball and track. He and his wife, Kimberly, have one daughter, Kennedy.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Seattle as a rookie free agent on April 23, 1999. Waived by Seattle on June 23, 1999. Claimed off waivers by Green Bay from Seattle on July 1, 1999. Signed by Atlanta as an unrestricted free agent from Green Bay on March 24, 2003.

NFL: Started nine of 12 games played in his first season in Atlanta after getting off to a slow start due to a broken right thumb suffered in training camp, missing the first four regular season games...Had been a valuable backup in the Green Bay secondary the previous four seasons.

2003: Broke into the starting lineup in Week 9 vs. Philadelphia (11/2) when four new starters were named in the secondary by coaches and went on to post nine starts in 12 games played and finished with 29 tackles (27 solos), a team-high tying three interceptions, one forced fumble and eight passes defensed...Was competing for a starting spot in training camp before breaking his right thumb early in camp, which forced him to miss the first four games of the season...At New York Giants (11/9), he started and intercepted one pass to go along with six tackles and a total of three passes defensed (team high) to earn team defensive player of the week honors...Intercepted one pass and ran it back for a 15-yard touchdown in the first quarter at New Orleans (11/16) to put Atlanta on top 7-0. It was his first career touchdown and it was the Falcons' first of three defensive touchdowns of the season.

2002: Served as Green Bay's top backup at cornerback for a third straight year...Played in 15 games, including four starts...Was inactive for late-season contest with Buffalo, as well as playoff game with Atlanta, due to a groin injury...An accomplished special teams player, tied for fourth on the club with 13 coverage stops...Contributed 43 tackles from scrimmage (tops among Green Bay reserves), along with one interception, two fumble recoveries, one forced fumble and eight passes defensed (fourth on team)...Tied for NFC lead in defensive fumble recoveries with three, including one he picked up while covering kicks...Intercepted Lions quarterback Joey Harrington at the Packers' three-yard line with 35 seconds remaining, sealing 37-31 Green Bay victory at Detroit (9/22)...Recovered a second half Rodney Peete fumble (forced by teammate Joe Johnson) deep in Packers territory in 17-14 win over Carolina (9/29)...Contributed a season-best three special teams stops in Monday night triumph over Chicago (10/7)...Posted a career-best 11 tackles in rematch victory over Minnesota (12/8) while starting at right cornerback in place of an inactive Tyrone Williams (hamstring).

2001: Was a regular contributor in the Packers' 'dime' defense and on special teams throughout the year...Played in all 16 games for the first time as a pro, along with seeing action in both of the club's playoff contests...Ranked as Green Bay's third-leading tackler on special teams with 10 coverage stops...Totaled 34 stops from scrimmage, including the first two sacks of his NFL career, and seven passes defensed...Matched his then career high with eight tackles at the N.Y. Giants in the season finale (1/6)...Dropped a pair of Florida-based QBs over the course of the year, first sacking the Buccaneers' Brad Johnson (11/4), then pulling down the Jaguars' Mark Brunell about a month later (12/3) in a Monday night contest.

2000: Came out of training camp as the top backup at cornerback, a role he held for much of the season...Played in the first 15 games before he was inactive for the season finale due to a hairline fracture within his right knee...Made six starts at left cornerback throughout the year, including Weeks 3-7 when the starter, Mike McKenzie, and his replacement, Antuan Edwards, both were hampered by knee injuries...Contributed 46 tackles (41 solo), the first two interceptions of his pro career and 11 passes defensed...Turned in a strong performance at Arizona (9/24) in his second straight start, establishing his then career high of eight tackles along with one pass breakup...Picked off the Colts' QB Peyton Manning for his first NFL interception in narrow win over Indianapolis (11/19) while starting for an inactive McKenzie.

1999: An anonymous waiver wire acquisition at the start of the year, showed enough promise during training camp to capture a roster spot...Became one of the Packers' special teams standouts during rookie campaign...Played in final 15 games, mostly on coverage units, after being inactive for season opener vs. Oakland...Ranked third among special teams players with 15 tackles (12 solo)...Also had two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble in coverage...Made five stops (four solo) in limited action at defensive back...Registered a career-high four special teams tackles in Monday night win at San Francisco (11/29)...Earlier had posted two stops, plus a forced fumble, on special teams at Denver (10/17)...Grabbed a Randy Moss fumble out of the air on a punt return at the Vikings' 37-yard line, setting up a fourth-quarter, go-ahead touchdown by Green Bay, at Minnesota (12/20)...Recovered a muffed punt by Eric Metcalf at the Panthers' five-yard line vs. Carolina (12/12)...Saw his most extensive action of the year at defensive back in the season finale vs. Arizona (1/2), replacing LeRoy Butler (shoulder) at strong safety for the entire second half; recorded two tackles in win over the Cardinals.

COLLEGE: He played four seasons (1995-98) at UCLA after redshirting in 1994. He moved to safety for his 1998 senior season after playing wide receiver in 1995-96. He missed the first half of the 1997 season due to surgery on both knees for patella tendon tears suffered in spring practice. He returned to action in time to play on special teams in six games in 1997. He recorded 26 tackles (22 solo), including two sacks and three for loss, plus one pass defensed and two blocked kicks as a senior. He caught nine passes in both the 1995 and 1996 seasons, totaling 18 receptions for 247 yards and three touchdowns as a collegian.

PERSONAL: He was named as his football team's MVP his senior year at Walnut (Calif.) High School. He made 36 receptions for 561 yards and nine touchdowns as a senior despite breaking his jaw in the sixth game. He lettered twice as a wide receiver and also earned two letters in basketball and one in baseball. He is an avid reader in his spare time and his interests lie in published conspiracy theories. He also enjoys fishing and racing remote control cars. He took the opportunity to go hunting for the first time in his life while in Green Bay for the 2001 season. He has spoken to teenage students in both Los Angeles and Wisconsin, along with giving time to the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. He read to students at Ashwaubenon's Pioneer Elementary School in November of 2001 as part of the Coca-Cola Literacy Program. His given name is Tod Anthony McBride. 2003: Started all 16 games at center for the second straight season...His solid blocking helped the Falcons to their fourth-highest per-carry average in franchise history (4.480)...Opened holes for RB Warrick Dunn's team record for the best two-game rushing totals in consecutive games with 178 yards at New York Giants (11/9) and 162 yards at New Orleans (11/16)...Also paved the way for RB T.J. Duckett's new team mark for most consecutive games with a touchdown scored with seven...Part of a line vs. Carolina (9/28) that helped RB T.J. Duckett rush for 100 yards on 14 carries, Duckett's first 100-yard rushing effort of his career...Helped the Falcons to 440 yards of total offense vs. Minnesota (10/5), a season-high 224 rushing yards vs. Carolina (12/7) to defeat eventual NFC Champion Panthers, and 216 rushing yards in another victory at New York Giants (11/9)...Part of a line that helped stymie the Buccaneers' heralded front line as the Falcons rushed for 148 yards while not allowing a sack of QB Michael Vick in a big victory at Tampa Bay (12/20). Atlanta's offense scored 24 of the club's 30 points and kept the Buccaneers defense off balance all afternoon with the run and the pass.

2002: Started all 16 games at center for the first time in his career...Helped pave the way for QB Michael Vick to earn first Pro Bowl nod...Started both playoff games...Opened holes for the offense to amass 260 yards rushing at New Orleans (10/27), the most since a team-record 297 vs. L.A. Rams on October 1, 1972 and score four rushing touchdowns, which were the most since October 21, 1973 at San Diego, en route to scoring 37 points...Helped offense amass 426 total yards at Carolina (11/24) en route to scoring 35 of team's 41 total points...Opened holes for a season-high 533 yards of total offense with 36 points scored vs. Detroit (12/22).

2001: Started all 15 games played at center, missing the season finale at St. Louis (1/6) due to a foot injury suffered at Miami (12/30). It was the most starts in a season of his career after starting seven games in 2000...Opened holes for RB Maurice Smith's career-high 148 yards rushing vs. Dallas (11/11), which was the club's most rushing yards since RB Jamal Anderson also had 148 at New Orleans (12/13/98)...Vs. Buffalo (12/23) helped the offense to a season-high 489 total yards.

2000: Took over as starter at center for Calvin Collins, who moved to left guard, in the ninth week of the season vs. Carolina (10/29)...Started the next seven straight contests before sitting out the season-finale vs. Kansas City (12/24) due to strained right calf...Dressed but did not play in the first five games...Saw first action as a pro in a special teams role vs. New York Giants (10/8)...Logged first action ever as a pro on the line at St. Louis (10/15)...Vs. New Orleans (10/22), came in on the second play from scrimmage at center, replacing Calvin Collins, who moved to right guard in place of Chris Banks...Saw his most extensive time of pro career and graded out the second-best offensive lineman by Falcon coaches. Helped offense score 19 points and rush for 75 yards against the NFL's #1 ranked defense...Started for first time in pro career at center the following week vs. Carolina (10/29). Paved the way for RB Jamal Anderson's 90 rushing yards with one touchdown and WR Terance Mathis' seven receptions for 89 yards...Opened holes from his center position for RB Jamal Anderson to enjoy his first 100-yard rushing day of the season and first since vs. Miami (12/27/98) with a season-high 119 yards on the ground at Detroit (11/22).

1999: Suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee during practice on the second day of camp on July 30. Underwent reconstructive surgery on August 12th.

COLLEGE: He was a consensus All-SEC first-team choice as a senior and junior. He boasted 185 knockdown blocks in his four-year career. He started every game and registered 62 knockdowns and graded out 83.2% for an offense that averaged 384.6 yards per game as a senior. He was chosen to All-SEC first-team as a junior, starting 10 games, grading out 84.8% and collecting 68 knockdowns for an offense that totaled 4,517 yards. He started every game, leading the front wall with an 83.7% grade for blocking consistency, as a sophomore. He amassed 49 knockdowns for the Tigers as they totaled an SEC-high 2,322 yards on the ground in 1996. In 1995, he served as a reserve center until taking over for an injured Marcus Carmouche in the final three games of his freshman campaign.

PERSONAL: He is continuing his studies to attain his business degree from LSU. His brother, Trey, was a member of LSU's College World Series baseball team in 1997. He and his wife, Heidi, have one son, Maverick, and a daughter, Ryann.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Participated in the NFL United Way Hometown Huddle program.
- Donates monetarily to Eagle Ranch, the official NFL "courage house" that provides a home for abused children in northeast Georgia.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a third round (80th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2002.

NFL: Hard-nosed, relentless player who leaves everything he has out on the field...Earned starting spot out of first NFL training camp as a rookie but has suffered through two tough years with injuries to his left shoulder that have ended his seasons prematurely limiting him to just six games...College defensive end that was switched to linebacker in 3-4 scheme but will move back to end in new 4-3 alignment in 2004.

2003: Played in four games with two starts before tearing a ligament in his left shoulder at Carolina (9/28) and was lost for the season...He underwent surgery to repair the injury on October 2 and was placed on injured reserve on October 3...Finished with eight tackles (4 solos)...Made first NFL start at OLB in place of injured Sam Rogers (leg) at Dallas (9/7) in season opener. Left the game in the third quarter due to a shoulder strain and did not return...The following week as a reserve linebacker vs. Washington (9/14), he had two tackles, a team-leading five QB pressures and added one special teams tackle...Started for the second time in his career at Carolina (9/28) with a leg injury to Sam Rogers and finished with six tackles. Left game in first half due to injury to left shoulder that was later diagnosed as a torn ligament.

2002: Played in just two games due to left shoulder injury that required surgery and finished with two tackles...He originally suffered a slight torn labrum and ligament during a training camp practice and was trying to play without undergoing surgery at the beginning of the season...Placed on injured reserve on October 14, 2002...Started the season at Green Bay (9/8) as a Sunday deactivation due to the injured shoulder that was re-injured at Cincinnati in preseason finale (8/29/02)...Stayed on the inactive list for two more games vs. Chicago (9/15) and vs. Cincinnati (9/22)...Made his NFL debut vs. Tampa Bay (10/6). Finished with two tackles as a reserve...Played as a reserve linebacker again at New York Giants (10/13) and had one QB pressure but re-injured his shoulder in the third quarter and did not return.

COLLEGE: He totaled 146 tackles (103 solos) with 19 quarterback sacks and 37 stops behind the line of scrimmage during his career with the Volunteers. His 19 sacks rank eighth on the school's career-record list. He recorded 35 tackles (25 solos) with five sacks for minus-59 yards and nine stops for losses of 70 yards with 11 quarterback pressures and a fumble recovery as a senior. As a junior in 2000, he earned honors as an Associated Press first-team All-Southeastern Conference pick and was named an academic All-SEC choice. He started all year at right defensive end, recording 43 tackles (31 solos) with 4.5 sacks for minus-38 yards and 11 stops for losses of 51 yards. He also led the team with 17 quarterback pressures. He was credited with 7.5 sacks for minus 56 yards and 14 stops for losses of 75 yards as a sophomore.

PERSONAL: A SuperPrep All-America selection at Jackson (Miss.) Prep, he was rated the state's No. 1 prospect by the Jackson Clarion-Ledger. He had three two-sack games as a prep and was a first-team all-state and "Player of the Year" for Jackson area. He had 139 tackles, 14 sacks, seven caused fumbles, four fumble recoveries and six passes defended for teams which compiled 10-2, 11-1 and 10-1 records. He started two years at defensive tackle and played defensive end, nose guard and middle linebacker his senior season.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a second round (53rd pick overall) draft choice by Buffalo in 1999. Traded by Buffalo to Atlanta on March 7, 2003 for Atlanta's first round draft pick (23rd pick-overall).

NFL: Talented playmaker, whose combination of speed and strength has made him one of top receivers in the NFL...Posted increases in both receptions and yards receiving three straight seasons from 2000-02, including the 2002 campaign when he enjoyed a breakout season with 94 receptions for 1,252 yards and nine touchdowns – all career highs...Played his first 10 games as a Falcon without the services of starting QB Michael Vick...Has displayed pass catching consistency with a streak of at least one pass reception in his last 71 straight games.

2003: Led the team with 64 receptions for 838 yards for a 13.1 average with a long catch of 49 yards and three touchdowns in 15 starts and 16 games played...Did not start at Carolina (9/28) when the team opened with three tight ends...Enjoyed the second best game of his career vs. Minnesota (10/5) with 12 receptions for 168 yards. It was the 11th 100-yard receiving day of his career and first as a Falcon. The 168 yards are his second-most ever to the 185 at Minnesoa (9/15/02) while with the Bills...Led the team with six catches for 84 yards, including a long catch of 48 yards that set-up Atlanta's final field goal, vs. Philadelphia (11/2)...Caught five passes for 87 yards, including a 41-yard touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter to pull the Falcons to within seven points at 38-31 with 5:12 remaining, vs. Tennessee (11/23)...Helped defeat the Buccaneers at Tampa Bay (12/20) and knock them out of the playoff race with a team leading four receptions for 76 yards, including a 49-yard reception from QB Michael Vick. The 49-yard catch was his longest as a Falcon, surpassing the 48-yarder he had from QB Doug Johnson vs. Philadelphia (11/2/03)...Ended the season with four receptions for 74 yards with one touchdown catch of 44 yards vs. Jacksonville (12/28). On 1-10 from the Jacksonville 44-yard line in the first quarter, QB Michael Vick handed off to RB T.J. Duckett. Duckett spun back around and flipped the ball back to Vick who hit Price in stride for a 44-yard touchdown and a 14-7 Atlanta lead.

2002: Turned in his best season as a pro, which culminated with being selected as an alternate to the 2003 Pro Bowl...Finished fifth in the AFC and seventh in the NFL with 94 catches...Was sixth in the AFC and 11th in the NFL with 1,252 receiving yards...In season opener had seven catches for 80 yards vs. the N.Y. Jets (9/8)...Caught 13 passes for 185 yards and two touchdowns, all of which were career highs in overtime victory at Minnesota (9/15). His 48-yard touchdown reception in overtime was the first overtime score of his career...Turned in his second 100-yard game of the season vs. Oakland (10/6), catching seven passes for 126 yards vs. Oakland (10/6). Also added his fourth touchdown reception...Recorded his second consecutive 100-yard receiving effort when he led the team with eight receptions for 121 yards at Houston (10/13). Included in eight receptions was a game-winning 26-yard touchdown reception in the fourth quarter...Pulled in four receptions for 101 yards (ninth career 100-yard game and fourth of the season), including a 59-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter vs. Detroit (10/27)...Led the team with nine catches for 105 yards, topping the 100-yard mark for the fifth time in loss at New England (12/8).

2001: Started all 16 games at wide receiver for the second consecutive season...Led the Bills with seven touchdown catches and finished second on the team with 895 receiving yards on 55 receptions...Joined fellow teammates Larry Centers and Eric Moulds as the only Bills to catch at least one pass in all 16 games...Posted his second consecutive 50-catch season and extended his streak of games with a reception to 39, the fifth-longest such streak in team history. Also served as the team's primary punt returner with 19 returns for 110 yards...Rushed six times for 97 yards, including a career-long 31-yard dash vs. New Orleans (9/9)...Had a then-career-long 70-yard touchdown reception vs. N.Y. Jets (10/7)...Had his fourth career 100-yard game with eight receptions for 151 yards at San Diego (10/28). The receiving effort also included a 61-yard touchdown reception, the third longest of his career...Recorded his fifth career 100-yard receiving game on a then career-best 10 receptions for 138 yards vs. Seattle (11/18) with a 16-yard touchdown reception.

2000: Started all 16 games and finished second on the team with 52 receptions for 762 yards and three touchdowns...Caught six passes for 75 yards in overtime win vs. San Diego (10/15)...Tallied a game-high 93 yards receiving on only four receptions, including a 29-yard touchdown catch at Indianapolis (12/11)...Dominated in season-finale at Seattle (12/23), catching eight passes for 132 yards and one touchdown.

1999: Played in all 16 games with four starts...Saw action in first NFL game at Indianapolis (9/12) and finished second on the team with 51 yards receiving on three receptions...Made his first NFL start when the Bills opened in three-receiver set vs. Oakland (10/17)...Had best outing of the season when he replaced an injured Eric Moulds at Seattle (10/24) as he caught five passes for 106 yards. Became the first Bills rookie to register a 100-yard receiving game since Chris Burkett accomplished the feat in 1995. Also caught his first NFL touchdown pass when he hauled in an 18-yard pass in the third quarter...Led the Bills and posted a game-high 62 yards receiving on five catches in win at New England (12/26)...Made memorable postseason debut in Wild Card game at Tennessee (1/8), catching five passes for 62 yards.

COLLEGE: He finished his career third on the Volunteers all-time receiving charts with 147 catches for 2,298 yards and 19 touchdowns. He also competed on Tennessee's track team as a sprinter and ran a 6.52 in the 55-meter dash at the 1998 SEC Indoor Finals. He started all 12 games in 1998 at wide receiver and led the team with 61 catches (fourth in school history) for 920 yards (fifth) and caught 10 touchdown passes (only Marcus Nash - 13 in '97 - had more). He was a second-team All-Southeastern Conference selection. He capped his collegiate career with four catches for a bowl-record 199 yards, including a 71-yard touchdown in the Vols' Fiesta Bowl win over Florida State that gave Tennessee the national title. In the SEC Championship game vs. Mississippi State at the Georgia Dome, he caught seven passes for 97 yards, including a 41-yard touchdown with 6:35 to play. The touchdown proved to be the game-winner. The performance earned him MVP honors in the game. He also returned 14 kickoffs for 389 yards (27.8 average) and had a 100-yard return vs. Alabama that tied Willie Gault's school record. He performed best in the big games during his junior season as he recorded a season-high 161 yards on eight receptions with touchdowns of 40 and 46 yards in the SEC Championship Game against Auburn.

PERSONAL: He was the Dayton-area Player of the Year and a high school All-America selection following his senior season at Meadowvale High School. He was a two-year starter as a flanker and free safety. As a senior, he caught 38 passes for 980 yards and 13 touchdowns on offense, intercepted 10 passes as a safety, and racked up 286 yards and two touchdowns on kickoff returns. He also averaged 24 points per game for the school's basketball team. His four siblings include: sisters Sabre, Letitica and Annie; and one brother, Diego. He majored in marketing. His full name is Peerless LeCross Price and has one daughter, Caeden.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

➤ Plays host to annual golf tournament in hometown in Minnesota that benefits The Derek Rackley Scholarship Fund that awards two scholarships from students of his former high school and the Spare Key Foundation whose primary goal is to provide support to families of critically ill or seriously injured children.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally signed by Atlanta as a rookie free agent on April 28, 2000.

NFL: One of the best snappers in the NFL...Made the club as the designated snapper on all punts and placekicks after a strong rookie training camp, edging incumbent Whit Marshall in 2000...Has a playing streak of 64 straight games as the team's primary snapper, entering 2004...Caught his one and only NFL pass in 2001 for a one-yard touchdown from QB Michael Vick at Miami.

2003: Performed all the snapping duties solidly for the fourth straight season in all 16 games...Made his first NFL start at tight end as the club opened with three tight ends and one running back at Carolina (9/28)...Finished with one special teams tackle.

2002: Continued to hold down all of the snapping responsibilities in solid fashion through all 16 games, plus two playoff contests...Finished the season with three special teams tackles...Totaled a special teams stop at Pittsburgh (11/10) and two tackles to tie for the team lead vs. Seattle (12/15)...Part of a special teams unit vs. New Orleans (11/17) that helped shut down dangerous returner Michael Lewis, holding him to just three yards on two punt returns.

2001: Handled all of the club's snapping duties on punts, field goal attempts and extra point attempts in all 16 contests...Made the most of his opportunity at tight end at Miami (12/30), hauling in his first NFL pass for a one-yard touchdown, in the fourth quarter...Played tight end for the first time in his career vs. Dallas (11/11) after an injury to starter Reggie Kelly (knee/ankle) that forced him out of the game in the second half...At Miami (12/30), he performed in six plays at tight end. Pressed into service when starter Reggie Kelly was felled with a rib cartilage injury in the second quarter. Slipped out to the left end zone on first-and-goal from the Miami one-yard line and caught a touchdown pass from QB Michael Vick to help cut the deficit to 21-14 with nine minutes remaining in the game.

2000: Played in all 16 games and handled all the snapping chores for first time...Made one tackle on special teams...Did not record a bad snap all season and although one punt was blocked, the breakdown did not come on the snap...Made his lone tackle on special teams at Philadelphia (10/1)...Helped shut down the NFL's leading punt returner (at the time) Desmond Howard to just 13 yards on three returns with five forced fair catches at Detroit (11/12).

COLLEGE: He played in all 11 games his senior season for Minnesota after returning to school after completing his undergraduate degree in 1998. He handled the long snapping duties on the Golden Gophers punt coverage unit. He caught his first career pass in Minnesota's victory over Illinois State on a 44-yard gain to set up a touchdown. He finished with four special teams tackles, including three solo stops. He saw action in a total of 134 plays as a senior and earned four letters during his career in Minnesota.

PERSONAL: A native of Apple Valley, Minn., he worked at General Mills as a sales management associate in addition to taking post-graduate courses while playing college football his senior season. His mother, Besty, was voted one of the Chunky Soup's top 10 most valuable moms in 2003. He continues to host a a yearly golf tournament for charity in his hometown in Minnesota each offseason, benefiting a scholarship in his name (Derek Rackley Scholarship) at his former high school. The other charity that is a recipient is the Spare Key Foundation. They award one-time mortgage grants to families with children suffering from diseases and illnesses where they are spending a lot of time in the hospital away from work. This is the only organization that gives such grants in the country. Derek was born on July 18, 1977 and is single.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

➤ As a member of Dallas Cowboys' Rookie Club, he participated in monthly charity visits to non-profit organizations serving children.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a third round (75th pick overall) draft choice by Dallas in 2002. Waived by Dallas on December 2, 2003. Claimed off waivers by Atlanta from Dallas on December 3, 2003.

NFL: Late season acquisition by the Falcons in 2003 after spending the first 12 weeks in Dallas...Led all NFL rookie corners in interceptions with five in 2002 with the Cowboys, while proving to be the type of physical run stopper that can make a difference in any situation in a game...Has a solid physical build to go along with a naturally aggressive style of play... Can be used as a returner.

2003: Split time in Dallas and Atlanta in second season...Played in eight games with Dallas and two games with one start in Atlanta...Missed the Cowboys' first four games after suffering meniscus damage in his right knee in preseason action at Pittsburgh (8/21). Had surgery on August 28 to repair the injury...Returned to action vs. Philadelphia (10/12) and played primarily on special teams before playing as the nickel back in the fourth quarter...Moved into the slot position in the club's nickel package full time at Detroit (10/19) and recorded two tackles and an interception to end the Lions final drive. Helped hold the Lions to 74 net yards passing, including just two catches for 30 yards by the Lions receivers...Took over kickoff duties at Tampa Bay (10/26) and recorded four returns for 103 yards (25.8 avg.). It was his first NFL action as a kickoff returner...Recorded two tackles in the nickel package vs. Washington (11/2) while helping limit the Redskins to 124 net passing yards. In his second game as the kickoff return man, averaged 27.5 yards on two returns and opened the game with a 100-yard return for a touchdown that was called back by a penalty...Averaged 22.0 yards on three kickoff returns, including a 33-yarder to the Dallas 44-yard line to open the second half vs. Buffalo (11/9). That return set up a Dallas field goal. He also recorded one tackle and one special teams stop as the defense limited the Bills to 85 net passing yards...Claimed off waivers by Atlanta on December 3 and was deactivated vs. Carolina (12/7)...Started for the first time as a Falcon at Indianapolis (12/14) when the team opened in nickel defense, finishing with two tackles and one forced fumble...Reserve DB at Tampa Bay (12/20) and deactivated in season finale vs. Jacksonville (12/28).

2002: Established a league-wide reputation as a rookie playmaker in his first season in Dallas...He led all NFL rookie cornerbacks in interceptions with five, tying for 10th among all NFL defensive backs...His five interceptions were the most by a Dallas rookie since 1981 when Everson Walls recorded 11 and Michael Downs had seven...Rookie safeties Roy Williams and Ed Reed (Baltimore) also had five interceptions in 2002...In addition to tying the team lead in interceptions, he also led the Cowboys in passes broken up with 12...Although he missed the final two games of the year with a hip contusion, he was Dallas' ninth leading tackler with 67 stops...One of only four starting rookie corners in the league and only one of those starters was drafted higher than Ross...Finished a stellar season by earning All-Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly...Took over for Duane Hawthorne (strained hamstring) at Philadelphia (9/22) midway through the third quarter and recorded one tackle and broke up a pass...Earned his first NFL start the following week at St. Louis (9/29), replacing the injured Hawthorne at left cornerback and finishing second on the team with nine tackles...Started the following week against the Giants (10/6) and responded with seven tackles, two pass deflections and his first career interception...Returned to the starting lineup at Detroit (11/3) after reserve duty for three consecutive games and picked off two QB Joey Harrington passes. It was the first time a Dallas rookie had recorded multiple interceptions in a game since Everson Walls did so against Buffalo on Nov. 9, 1981...In a loss at Indianapolis (11/17), he recorded a career-high 13 tackles, marking the most tackles by a Dallas cornerback since game-by-game records were kept beginning in 1984...In loss to San Francisco (12/8), he tallied nine tackles and helped limit San Francisco to 17 points through the first 50 minutes of the game before suffering a bruised left hip...He then sat out the Philadelphia (12/21) and Washington (12/29) games with lingering problems from his hip contusion.

COLLEGE: In just one season as a starter at Ohio State, he emerged as one of the top corners in the college game. As a senior, he earned All-Big Ten Conference second-team selection while starting all season at weakside cornerback. His seven interceptions ranked among the nation's leaders and his big-play ability allowed him to bring those picks back for 194 yards and a touchdown. His 217 career yards in interception returns ranks fourth on the school's all-time list. He finished his career with 91 tackles and three blocked punts. His seven pass thefts in 2001 ranked fifth on the school's all-time list. He finished his career with 91 tackles and three blocked punts. His seven pass thefts in 2001 ranked fifth on the school's single-season charts, while his 194 yards set a Buckeye record. In addition, he recorded 41 tackles, including three stops behind the line of scrimmage and a sack.

PERSONAL: He was an all-state quarterback and the South Carolina Offensive Player of the Year while starring at Northwestern High School in Rock Hill, S.C. Northwestern finished second in the state his senior year with a 12-3 record. He excelled on both sides of the ball with 15 interceptions in his career at cornerback and totaled 25 touchdowns as a junior. In 2003, Ross was the recipient of the Torch Award, given by the Urban League of Greater Dallas for his off the field contributions to the community. As a member of the Cowboys 2002 Rookie Club - a program designed to introduce rookie team members to community service in the Dallas area - he participated in monthly charity visits to non-profit organizations serving children. He majored in criminology at Ohio State.

➤ Focuses his attention on his Healthy Kids Foundation, which fights childhood obesity through programs that emphasize exercise and healthy eating. Started a Mobile Fitness for Kids program that tours different non-profit youth organizations in Atlanta to promote his cause.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a third round (85th pick overall) draft choice by Philadelphia in 1998. Traded by Philadelphia to Green Bay on August 25, 2000 for a 2001 fifth-round draft choice. Signed by Atlanta as an unrestricted free agent from Green Bay on March 13, 2002.

NFL: Versatile, dangerous returner and capable cornerback...Boasts impressive career kickoff return average of 23.1 and punt return average of 10.6...Established Falcons team season records in 2003: with 545 punt return yards to pass Billy "White Shoes" Johnson's mark of 489 in 1983, with 62 kickoff returns, besting Darrick Vaughn's mark of 61 in 2001, for most combined returns with 101 ahead of his own record of 77 in 2002, and for most combined return yards with 1,836 to break his record of 1,452 in 2002...His career-best 14.0 punt return average last year was the second-highest in Falcons history to Darrien Gordon's 14.1 in 2001...One of only five players to rank in the top 10 in the NFC in both punt and kickoff returns during the 2000 season...Began NFL career as the Eagles' main punt and kickoff returner during the 1998-99 seasons, ranking in the top half of the NFC in both specialties each year...Became the first player in Eagles history to twice record 1,000 kickoff return yards with 1,080 in 1998 and 1,347 in 1999.

2003: Returned 39 punts for a team record 545 yards and a career-high 14.0 average to finish second in the NFC and third in NFL...Also finished with one touchdown...Flirted with setting the team mark for highest return average in a season all year until falling just short with the 14.0 average, second-best ever in team annals, and the highest single-season average in career, surpassing to the 12.0 mark in 2002 in first season in Atlanta...Ran back 62 kickoffs for 1,291 yards and a 20.8 average in 16 games played...Returned five punts for 74 yards and a 14.8 average and a long return of 26 yards vs. Washington (9/14). Amassed a 52-yard kickoff return in the second quarter to help set-up a touchdown and a 28-yard punt return in the fourth quarter...Vs. Philadelphia (11/2), he returned three punts for 81 yards, including a career-best 72-yard return, and three kickoffs for 53 yards. The 81 punt return yards were a single-game career high, besting the 74 yards vs. Washington (9/14) earlier in the season...Returned a first quarter punt 59 yards for a touchdown, the second touchdown of his career via a punt, vs. Tennessee (11/23). It was the second-longest return of his career to the 72-yarder he had vs. Philadelphia (11/2) but the longest return of his career for a score.

2002: Returned 53 kickoffs for 1,164 yards for a 22.0 average with one touchdown on a 91-yard return vs. Seattle (12/15)...Ran back 24 punts for 288 yards for a then career-high 12.0 average...Added six tackles on defense as a reserve DB in 14 games played...Missed two games with a strained hamstring vs. Chicago (9/15) and vs. Cincinnati (9/22)...Played in both playoff contests on special teams and in the secondary...Returned after missing two games with a hamstring injury vs. Tampa Bay (10/6) and returned four kickoffs for 111 yards for a 27.8 average with a long of 47 and returned three punts for 40 yards with a long of 23...Ran back a kickoff 91 yards for a touchdown vs. Seattle (12/15) for the team's first score in the first quarter. It was his third career kickoff return touchdown and first since a 92-yard career-long vs. Indianapolis as a member of Green Bay in 2000.

2001: Averaged 9.9 yards on 11 punt returns and 18.7 yards on 23 kickoff returns in Green Bay...Also made two stops from scrimmage and three tackles on special teams...Played in six games and was inactive for 10 contests due to lingering hamstring injury and then knee injury...Returned from hamstring injury to contribute a game-winning 55 yard punt return touchdown with 3:03 remaining in an eventual 21-20 victory vs. Tampa Bay (11/14)...Lined up as a dime back in a win at Detroit (11/22) before injuring his right knee. Suffered a cartilage tear in his right knee that required arthroscopic surgery on November 23, 2001 and was placed on the club's deactivation list for the final six regular season games because of the injury...Returned for playoff match-up vs. S.F. (1/13) and played a role in 25-15 victory. Totaled two tackles, returned two punts for 41 yards and brought back five kickoffs for 83 yards in pair of playoff games.

2000: Made a big contribution to the Packers' return game following his acquisition in a trade with Philadelphia late in the preseason...Averaged a career-high 25.8 yards (third in the NFC, fourth in the NFL) on 50 kickoff returns and 8.6 yards (tied for eighth in the NFC) on 29 punt returns...One of only five returners in the conference to rank in the top 10 in both punt and kickoff returns...Returned one kickoff for a touchdown – a career-long 92-yarder in the Colts game – along with a 90-yard runback in first meeting with the Vikings...Had 33 kickoff returns of 20-or-more yards to tie for fourth in the NFC...Also posted the third-most kickoff return yards (1,288) in a season in Packers history, behind merely the 1,497 of Roell Preston in 1998 and the 1,314 of Dave Hampton in 1971...Against Indianapolis (11/19) after the Colts had pulled to within 19-17 with 4:32 remaining, he took the ensuing kickoff a career-best 92 yards down the right sideline for the game-turning touchdown in an eventual 26-24 victory. Named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week. Had a 43.3-yard kickoff return average on four returns for a season-high 173 yards.

1999: Set the Eagles' single-season records for kickoff returns (54) and kickoff return yards (1,347) while ranking fourth in the NFC (and fifth in the NFL) with a 24.9-yard average...Was seventh in the conference with an 8.9-yard average on 28 punt returns...Played in all 16 games for the first time...Contributed 12 tackles (11 solo) plus a pass defensed as a cornerback...Also made a career-high 17 special teams stops...Was selected as the Eagles' special teams MVP in a player vote...Had a career-best 222 kickoff return yards in 35-28 victory vs. Washington (11/14), including his first pro return touchdown (covering 89 yards) and an 86-yarder, to earn NFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors.

1998: Made an immediate impact as a return specialist during his rookie season in Philadelphia, returning nine kickoffs 30 yards or more...Averaged 24.5 yards per kickoff return to rank seventh in the NFC...Became only the fourth player in Eagles history to log 1,000 yards in a season (1,080)...Shared punt return duties with Freddie Solomon for much of the year, returning 22 for 187 yards (8.5 avg.) to tie for sixth in the conference...Played in 15 games with two starts...Totaled 26 stops, including one sack, as well as two pass breakups in the secondary...Made a career-high eight tackles in Week 2 start at Atlanta (9/13)...Dropped the Cowboys' Troy Aikman for his first NFL sack at Dallas (12/20) while seeing significant time at defensive back with Bobby Taylor sidelined by the flu...Had season-long punt (25 yards) and kickoff (54 yards) returns in finale vs. N.Y. Giants (12/27).

COLLEGE: He was a three-year starter and four-time letterman (1994-97) at Notre Dame. He set an NCAA career record with nine return touchdowns (three interceptions, three punts, three kickoffs). He had the second-best career punt return average (15.8 yards) in school history, achieved on 27 attempts for 427 yards with 3 TDs. He also ran back 29 kickoffs for 891 yards (30.7 avg.) and three touchdowns as a collegian. He started 36 straight games at cornerback to conclude his Irish career. He had seven collegiate interceptions, along with 144 total tackles (92 solo), two sacks, three stops for loss and 12 passes defensed. He served as one of three senior captains in 1997, when he ranked fourth nationally with a 28.5-yard average on 20 kickoff returns, including two for scores. He also made a career-best 53 tackles his senior season. He led the nation in punt return average (22.9 yards) in 1996 as a junior. Rossum was the only player in the country to return three punts for touchdowns in 1996. He tied NCAA and school records with two punt return touchdowns (of 83 and 55 yards) in the second quarter of 1996 victory over Pittsburgh.

PERSONAL: He played football and ran track at Skyline (Tex.) High School in Dallas. He rushed for 1,634 yards and had 12 touchdown receptions as a senior. He also made 580 total tackles and 13 interceptions as a prep. He captained the school's track squad all four years. He posted the fastest time in the nation in the 100 meters (10.02 seconds) in 1993. He is one of eight children. His hobbies include billiards and video games. He and his wife, Angela, have three daughters: twins Alexa and Avian, and Trinity Amaia.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Involved in a bowling tournament to benefit Challenge Child and Friends.
- Finished second in competition with other NFL players and recording artists for ABC's Monday Night at the Mics last year as he and singer Michelle Branch teamed up to reach the finals.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a second round (55th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2003.

NFL: Tough, competitive, physical hitter who made an impact as a six-game starter during rookie season last year...Began his NFL career as a cornerback before making the switch from cornerback to safety as a rookie and new aggressive defense will play to his strengths in 2004.

2003: Lead all defensive backs with 63 tackles (53 solos) despite only starting six contests while playing in 15 total games...Missed contest at Houston (11/30) due to arthroscopic right knee surgery during the week, following an injury during the game vs. Tennessee (11/23)...Added two interceptions, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries to his season totals...Finished tied for team-high honors with Artie Ulmer on special teams with 13 tackles...Totaled a team-high four special teams tackles vs. Washington (9/14)...Team opened in nickel defense and he played in base defense vs. Philadelphia (11/2), switching from CB to SS in a revamped secondary with four new starters, and contributed a career-high six tackles with one pass defensed...Started for the first time in his NFL career the following week at New York Giants (11/9) and played a superb all-around game. Intercepted his first NFL pass in the end zone off the hand of QB Kerry Collins to thwart a scoring opportunity at the end of the first half with 17 seconds remaining to preserve a 7-7 tie. Recovered a fumble at the Atlanta five-yard line to stop another potential scoring drive after S Keion Carpenter forced a fumble from RB Tiki Barber and finished with seven tackles and one pass defensed in Falcons' 27-7 win...Diagnosed with ligament damage in his knee after the Tennessee (11/23) game and missed the next week's contest at Houston (11/30) after undergoing knee surgery...Returned to the starting lineup a week later vs. Carolina (12/7) and contributed in the 20-14 upset win with six tackles...Started and was part of a strong secondary performance at Tampa Bay (12/20) that included three of the team's four interceptions on the day. Picked off a QB Brad Johnson pass with 40 seconds remaining in the first half at the Tampa Bay 45-yard line and returned it three yards. The interception resulted in a 38-yard field goal to close out the Falcons' scoring in the first half with a 27-7 lead in an eventual 30-28 win.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at Penn State, he played in all 48 career games...He finished his career with 202 tackles (153 solos), five interceptions, 22 passes defensed, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. He recorded 77 tackles (59 solos) with a pair of stops behind the line of scrimmage as a senior while returning four interceptions for 47 yards and totaling a team-high 10 passes defensed...Started every game at left cornerback as a junior, recording a career-high 82 tackles (62 solos) with a six-yard sack and three stops for losses of 13 yards.

PERSONAL: He attended Central Bucks (Pa.) East High, where he was a three-sport standout and consensus first-team All-American, while also being honored as the Associated Press

Pennsylvania Big School Player of the Year and the USA Today Pennsylvania Player of the Year as a senior in 1998. He rushed for more than 3,000 career yards and made 53 tackles with three interceptions as a senior defensive back. He also averaged nearly 20 points per contest as a senior on the basketball court and was a Pennsylvania state prep champion in the 100- and 200-meter dashes. An accomplished musician, he sings, plays the piano, drums and saxophone. He participated in the ABC Monday Night Football's musical competition called "Monday Night at the Mic" with Grammy Award winning artist Michelle Branch. The duo advanced to the finals after competing against other NFL players and recording artists from the world of rock, hip-hop, rap, R&B and country in a round-robin play. Scott sang at the funeral service for Kevin Dare, the Penn State pole vaulter who died while competing at the Big Ten Indoor Track and Field Championships in February of 2002. He was named one of five recipients of the Frank Patrick Memorial Total Commitment Award, which is given to the player who consistently follows through with their responsibilities in all facets of the football program and does so in an exemplary manner. His brother, Brandon, plays basketball at Randolph-Macon (in Virginia). He is cousins with former Penn State teammate Kinta Palmer, and Ryan Stewart, a former defensive back with the Detroit Lions (1996-99) and radio personality in Atlanta.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a seventh round, the second of two seventh round selections (244th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2002.

NFL: Young, improving blocker...Gained extensive playing time at left tackle in 2003 with eight starts due to season-ending injury to Bob Whitfield and was a solid contributor...Looking to take the next step in 2004 as he competes for full-time duty.

2003: Played in 16 games with eight starts in relief of Bob Whitfield (broken right fibula)...Whitfield was injured vs. Philadelphia (11/2) in Week 9 and lost for the season...Relieved injured Whitfield vs. Philadelphia (11/2) in the third quarter and played the rest of the contest in his most extensive action in brief career...Delivered a strong performance in his first NFL start at left tackle at New York Giants (11/9) as offense managed 216 yards rushing, including 178 yards by RB Warrick Dunn, on 37 carries for an impressive 5.8 yards per carry in 27-7 win...Another solid start at left tackle came in big 20-14 upset win vs. Carolina (12/7) as he shut down DE Mike Rucker, who was leading the NFL at the time with 12 sacks...At Tampa Bay (12/20), he held DE Simeon Rice without a sack as Rice entered the game with 15 sacks. Part of a line that helped stymie the Buccaneers' front line. Atlanta's offense rushed for 148 yards and kept the Buccaneers defense off balance all afternoon with the run and the pass in a 30-28 victory.

2002: Played in the season opener at Green Bay (9/8) and was inactive for the next 10 games before seeing action in the final five games of the season...Performed in six games on special teams at Green Bay (9/8), at Minnesota (12/1), at Tampa Bay (12/8), vs. Seattle (12/15), vs. Detroit (12/22) and at Cleveland (12/29)...Played in both playoff contests on special teams and as a back-up tackle.

COLLEGE: He started 10 games at left tackle at Tulsa as a senior. He graded over 80 percent in all 10 games played. He was an honorable mention all-WAC performer. Named to the National Strength and Conditioning Association All-America Athlete Team. He had a streak of 26 straight starts snapped during the 2001 campaign when he was sidelined against New Mexico State in the fourth game with a lower leg infection. He started all 12 games at left tackle as a junior and once again graded out over 80 percent in all 12 games. In 1999 as a sophomore, Shaffer started all 11 games at strong tackle.

PERSONAL: He was a two-year letter winner at Conestoga Valley High School. He started at offensive guard and defensive tackle both his junior and senior seasons.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a first round (1st pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 2001.

NFL: Became a bono fide star and MVP candidate in his first season as full-time starter at the age of 22 in 2002...Named to the Pro Bowl in 2002 to become only the sixth quarterback to be voted to the NFL All-Star game in his first year as a starter since 1970, joining Dan Marino of Miami (1983), Brett Favre of Green Bay (1992), Kurt Warner of St. Louis (1999), Daunte Culpepper of Minnesota (2000) and Tom Brady of New England (2001)...Blessed with rare athletic abilities not before seen at the quarterback position in the history of the NFL...Possesses deft combination of blazing speed as a runner and a cannon for a left arm...Intense competitor...Called the "most electrifying and exciting player in the NFL" by his peers and media throughout the League...Missed 11 games in 2003 after breaking his right fibula vs. Baltimore (8/16) in preseason...Returned to start in Week 14 and led Falcons to a 20-14 overtime victory vs. Carolina (12/7)...Guided team to a 3-1 overall record as a starter in final four weeks of the season...Established four new NFL records in 2002, including most rushing yards in a game by a quarterback with 173 yards at Minnesota (12/1) to shatter a 51 year-old mark...With a 141 yard rushing day vs. Carolina (12/7/03), he now owns two of the top three best rushing games ever for a quarterback in NFL history...Ran for more yards in his first two seasons (1,066) than any quarterback in NFL history...Top overall NFL draft choice in 2001 after a celebrated college career at Virginia Tech...Fourth Falcons #1 overall pick in club history (Tommy Nobis in 1966, Steve Bartkowski in 1975, Aundray Bruce in 1988)...Falcons traded their #1 pick (5th overall) and #3 pick in 2001, a #2 pick in 2002 and WR/KR Tim Dwight to San Diego for the rights to the #1 overall choice a day before the draft...One of the most heralded players to come out of the college ranks in years...Working on new offensive system with new coordinator in 2004.

2003: Completed 50 of 100 passes for 585 yards, four touchdowns, three interceptions and rushed 40 times for 255 yards and one touchdown in five games played with four starts...Made first appearance of the season at Houston (11/30), entering the contest with 2:14 left in the third quarter after a LB Chris Draft interception, relieving starter Doug Johnson, with Atlanta trailing 17-7. Looked impressive in 2003 debut, completing a crisp 8-of-11 passes for 60 yards and rushing three times for 16 yards in just over one quarter of work to pull Atlanta from behind, but effort fell short in a 17-13 loss...Started for the first time all season the next week vs. Carolina (12/7) on national TV on ESPN and amassed the third-highest total rushing yards EVER by a quarterback with 141 yards on 14 carries and scored one rushing touchdown to lead the Falcons to a come-from-behind 20-14 overtime victory. The 141 yards trails only the 150 by Tobin Rote from Green Bay on November 18, 1951 and his own NFL record of 173 at Minnesota December 1, 2002 on the NFL's all-time list for quarterbacks. The 14 carries were a career-high, besting the 10 he has had in a game four times. A 43-yard rush in the fourth quarter on the game-tying drive was the fourth longest run ever by a Falcons quarterback. Completed 16 of 33 passes for 179 yards and accounted for 320 of the team's 380 total yards worth of offense...At Tampa Bay (12/20), he engineered a 30-28 victory to knock the Buccaneers out of the playoff race and stop a five-game losing skid vs. Tampa Bay. Completed 8-of-15 passes for 119 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions for a passer rating of 119.2. It was the sixth, two touchdown game of his career. Rushed 12 times for 39 yards with a long rush of 12 yards...Closed out the season with a 21-14 victory vs. Jacksonville (12/28), where he completed 12 of 22 passes for 180 yards with two touchdowns and one interception.

PRO CAREER

FLASHES OF BRILLIANCE AS A 2001 ROOKIE

After three weeks of inaction the 21 year-old rookie came off the bench at Miami (12/30/01) in Week 16 in the second quarter when starter Chris Chandler injured his elbow. All he did was almost single-handidly engineer the upset in the second half as the Falcons trailed 21-7 to a Dolphins team that was trying to secure a spot in the playoffs. Vick proved four important traits that a quarterback needs to be successful at the NFL level. He flashed his leadership skills, his speed and elusiveness and his arm strength. He completed 11 of 20 passes for 214 yards and rushed five times for 63 yards in the game. But beyond the numbers, Vick won over his teammates with his magical flair for coming up with key plays in crucial situations. Vick's competiveness and leadership helped the Falcons edge the Dolphins in every phase but the scoreboard and get the birds back into the game. Atlanta outgained Miami in total yards (388-226), first downs (21-12), rushing yards (152-50) and time of possession (36:52-23:08). On 3-9 from the Atlanta 38-yard line early in the third quarter, Vick scrambles for 30 yards to the Miami 32. On 3-16 at the Atlanta 44-yard line later in the quarter, he takes the shotgun snap and fires a bullet to WR Brian Finneran for a gain of 52 yards to the Miami four-yard line. An apparent touchdown pass to FB Bob Christian on 3-1 from the one-yard line three plays later is ruled incomplete. The subsequent challenge by the Falcons is upheld and the birds fail to convert on a fourth down running play as Atlanta misses out on a scoring opportunity despite Vick's heroics. On the Falcons' first possession of the fourth quarter, Vick stares down a 4-15 from the Miami 41-yard line. Facing a heavy rush, Vick somehow instinctively ducks under a potential sack by DE Lorenzo Bromell and races downfield away from several would-be Dolphin defenders for 23 yards and a crucial first down to the Miami 18-yard line, which shows off his speed and elusiveness. He throws an interception on the next play but Atlanta recovers a fumble on the return and the Falcons take over again on the Miami 49-yard line. On first down, he again proves his arm strength by throwing a laser that travels some 60 yards in the air on-the-run, hitting WR Shawn Jefferson in the chest for a 48-yard gain to the Miami one-yard line. On the next play, he throws a touchdown pass to TE Derek Rackley to close the gap to 21-14. With 5:22 remaining in the contest, Vick marches the team on a potential tying touchdown drive from his own 23-yard line. A 34-yard completion to WR Terance Mathis and a 13-yard completion to FB Bob Christian highlight the drive, as well as his 10-yard run around left end to place the ball at the Miami four-yard line with 2:29 left. Atlanta fails to score though on four straight running plays and the Dolphins prevail 21-14. All the talk after the game by Dolphin players and coaches centers around the amazing athletic skills of the rookie left-hander even though they had just clinched a playoff berth. Vick himself calls the performance his "best in the NFL" and would be a precursor to even bigger things to come in 2002.

DEFINING MOMENT AT GREEN BAY IN 2002

Stepping out onto the hallowed grounds of Lambeau Field (September 8, 2002) to take on the Green Bay Packers as the youngest starting quarterback in the NFL on opening day (and the youngest since Drew Bledsoe of the Patriots in 1993) could have been overwhelming for a young Michael Vick. But the 22-year-old wasn't intimidated by his surroundings or the task at hand. Vick made a strong statement in his first game as a full-time starter and it foreshadowed the kind of breakout year he would enjoy. He displays pin-point accuracy and superb touch by connecting on his first 10 passes for 134 yards in the first half en route to leading the Falcons to a 21-13 halftime advantage. Vick leads the Falcons on a total of six scoring drives in the game, including three short rushing touchdowns with one coming on his own two-yard run, as well as one touchdown pass. Two other potential touchdown passes were dropped as he completed 15-of-23 passes for 209 yards on the day with no interceptions and added a then Falcons quarterback record of 72 yards rushing on just nine carries with long runs of 18, 14 and 13 yards. Despite his heroics, Atlanta trails 34-31 with 1:01 to play and he's forced to face two serious hurdles in the form of a hostile crowd and no team timeouts. Vick's cool demeanor and commanding presence in this pressure situation belie his age and experience. Taking over at his own 31-yard line, Vick finds TE Alge Crumpler for 12 yards and a first down to the Atlanta 43. After a sack of a loss for five yards, Vick needs to make a big play with :32 remaining. He calmly pulls the trigger by connecting with WR Willie Jackson for 23 yards to the Green Bay 34-yard line with :14 left to position the Falcons within field goal range. K Jay Feely ties the score and sends the game into overtime with a 52-yard field goal. The Falcons would eventually lose 37-34 but for Vick this opening game was a defining moment.

SPEED MERCHANT LANDS IN NEW ORLEANS

Atlanta travels to New Orleans to take on the 6-1 Saints in a pivotal match-up to try to get back into the NFC South race (October 27, 2002). Vick faces not only a red-hot Saints team at home but also a growing family rivalry in second cousin and mentor Saints QB Aaron Brooks. He completes a work-man like 16-of-24 passes for 195 yards but also puts on display his dazzling speed on the way to 91 yards rushing, including two rushing touchdowns. It marks the first time ever in NFL history that a quarterback has had back-to-back 90+ yard rushing games (after he had 91 vs. Carolina the previous week.) In the second quarter on first-and-goal from the three-yard line, Atlanta trails 10-0 and desperately needs a jump start in front of a raucous crowd. Vick takes off around right end on a designed sweep and is seemingly fenced in by three Saints defenders. But he turns on his "second gear" and somehow beats all three defenders to the corner of the end zone for the improbable touchdown to close the deficit to 10-7. In a close, see-saw battle in the fourth quarter, Vick eyes a 3-8 from the New Orleans 32-yard line. He takes the shotgun snap on a quarterback draw and turns on the afterburners. Vick jukes one would-be tackler in stride and then outruns three other Saints defenders for a 32-yard touchdown to put Atlanta ahead 34-25. The Saints comeback to take the lead 35-34 on two quick scores with 2:12 remaining. Starting at his own 11-yard line, Vick methodically guides the birds down the field with no timeouts. He completes four-of-seven passes for 42 yards (with two incompletions coming to kill the clock), including a big 14-yard pass to WR Shawn Jefferson and rushes two times for 14 yards to put the Falcons in striking distance at the New Orleans 29-yard line for the win. K Jay Feely hits a 47-yard game-winning field goal with no time left for the victory and Vick's penchant for coming through in pressure situations garners national headlines.

COMEBACK FLAIR AT PITTSBURGH

After the Falcons have been outplayed by the Steelers for three quarters at Pittsburgh (November 10, 2002), Vick takes the burden squarely on his shoulders and is determined to reverse the trend. Atlanta is down 34-17 with 10:18 to play when Vick takes over the huddle and tells his teammates, "Ride my back. I'm about to make it happen." Beginning a drive at the Pittsburgh 37-yard line after a fumbled punt return, Vick hits WR Brian Finneran for 15 yards to the Steelers 22-yard-line and then runs 12 yards for a first down to the four-yard line. FB Bob Christian bulldozes over for a touchdown to pull Atlanta within 10 points at 34-24. On Atlanta's next possession, he moves the team 43 yards on 11 plays in position for a field goal and just a seven-point deficit. Included in the drive were completions of 35, 21 and 16 yards. On 3-24 at the Atlanta 43-yard line, he connects with WR Shawn Jefferson for a huge 35-yard gain to the Pittsburgh 22-yard line. The key play helped set-up the 40-yard field goal. Earlier in the game, he successfully converts a 3-22 and 3-24 into first downs. With 1:55 to play and behind 34-27, he cooly begins a drive by hitting WR Shawn Jefferson for 20 yards to the Pittsburgh 30-yard line. On 3-3 from the 27, he goes around left end for seven yards and a big first down with :56 left to the 11-yard line. Facing a 2-10 from the 11, Vick takes the snap from center and fades back to pass but is forced to scramble when his receivers are covered. He bursts up the middle past one Steeler defender and then stiff arms another Steeler at the five-yard line and beats him to the left end zone for the 11-yard tying touchdown to cap the 17-point fourth quarter comeback and force overtime. Both teams fail to score in overtime but the Falcons salvage a 34-34 tie behind the NFL's new comeback kid. With the comeback against the Steelers, Vick continues to get prominent mention as a serious Most Valuable Player candidate.

HOUDINI IN CLEATS TRIPS UP MINNESOTA

Riding the crest of a seven-game unbeaten streak, Vick goes to Minnesota (December 1, 2002) and places his name (and shoes) in select company. No quarterback ever in the history of the NFL runs for more yards in a single-game than Vick as he rushes 10 times for an electrifying 173 yards. (The old mark was 150 yards by Tobin Rote of Green Bay 51 years earlier on November 18, 1951.) Vick also passes for 173 yards to account for 346 of the team's 379 total yards. He amasses runs of 46, 40, 28, 19, 13, 9, 8, 8 and 2 yards. With the birds trailing 21-14 late in the third quarter, Vick mounts a drive with his legs. On 2-10 from the Atlanta 24-yard line, he takes off from a shotgun snap and gains 19 yards. Later in the drive, he gains 13 more yards on a run around left end to the Minnesota 28. On the next play, Vick slices through the Vikings defense for a 28-yard touchdown to tie the score. The teams trade field goals in the fourth quarter with Minnesota sending the game into overtime with :11 seconds left. Minnesota wins the toss in overtime but is held deep in its own territory, setting the stage for his next Vick-tim. On the second offensive play at the Minnesota 46-yard line, Vick fades back to pass and right away notices the defensive backs have their backs turned. He senses that if he can get around the initial rush up front then the opportunity to run is there. So, Vick takes off around left end. Viking defenders were left chasing a blur as Vick turns on another gear. LB Greg Biekert approaches from Vick's left side at the 20-yard line and S Corey Chavous closes fast on the right. But both players collide behind him as Vick splits the pair and leaves them helpless on the ground. Vick continues to jet through several remaining Vikings and ends the game with a resounding exclamation point on a remarkable game-winning 46-yard touchdown run. (The 46-yard jaunt also is the longest run ever by a Falcons quarterback in team history.) Minnesota LB Henri Crockett recounted, "When he got past Biekert and Chavous, I yelled, 'Holy Cow. How did that happen?'" Vick escapes from a total of seven Vikings players on his Houdini-like amazing run. The Pro Football Hall of Fame collects Vick's red Air Jordan Nike's for posterity and #7 also wins his first NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for his astonishing accomplishment.

STEALING THE SHOW IN SNOWY GREEN BAY

Vick faces many challenges as he leads the Falcons into the postseason. Starting in his first playoff game on the road at the age of 22 against a Packers team that has never lost a home playoff game in its 82-year history can be a daunting task. Throw in 31-degree weather at game time with a steady snow fall in the second half, and it adds up to a quite a challenge. But Vick didn't blink under the pressure of the moment as he takes the field on January 4, 2003 in front of a Saturday night prime time television audience intent on carving out his own history. Vick picks the perfect time to lead the Falcons on their first touchdown of the season on the opening drive of the game. He confidently guides the Falcons down the field on an impressive 10-play, 76-yard march that culminates with his 10-yard touchdown pass to WR Shawn Jefferson and an early 7-0 lead. The rest of his teammates feed off Vick's inspiring play and never look back, building a 24-0 halftime lead, en route to becoming the first team ever to defeat the Packers at home in the playoffs with a convincing 27-7 victory. Vick plays like a savvy veteran, neutralizing the Packers with his arm by completing 13-of-25 passes for 117 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions, as well as dazzling Green Bay with his legs by rushing 10 times for 64 yards. Vick pulls one of his signature impromptu plays in the second quarter that further illustrates his impact on the game. On 3-3 from the Green Bay 39-yard line at the two minute warning, Vick fakes a handoff to WR Quentin McCord going in motion to the right. He rolls to his left but is seemingly caught by DE Kabeer Gbaja-Biamila, who grabs Vick around the helmet and is about to throw him to the ground. But, somehow Vick escapes and wheels back to his right and sprints upfield for a gain of 11 incredible yards. The Packers defense is deflated again and surrenders a field goal to the Falcons to close out the first half scoring. Vick makes a strong statement in his playoff debut and shows why he earned the right to be called by many "the NFL's most exciting player."

COLLEGE: He was one of the most exciting athletes to ever play college football. He applied for early entry into NFL draft (as a redshirt sophomore) after two seasons as Virginia Tech's starter and one appearance in a National Championship Game. He led the Hokies into the national spotlight for two seasons and carried the school (on his arm and legs) to the National Championship Game in his first season as a college starting quarterback in 1999. He captured the first-ever Archie Griffin Award as college football Player of the Year as a (redshirt) freshman that season when he led the nation in passing efficiency at 180.37, the second-highest total ever and guided the Hokies to a perfect 11-0 regular season record. He set an NCAA record for a freshman in the process and established single-season school records for highest yards passing per completion (20.4), per attempt (12.1), highest completion % (59.2) and most yards per play (9.3). He appeared in 10 games, completing 90 of 152 passes for 1,840 yards with 12 touchdowns, and rushed 108 times for 585 yards with eight more scores. He averaged 242.5 yards of offense per game. His incredible performance in the Sugar Bowl vs. Florida State for the National Championship included completing 15 of 29 pass attempts for 225 yards with a 49-yard touchdown pass, as well as gaining 97 yards on 23 carries with a three-yard score, to total 322 yards of offense in almost single-handidly engineering an upset before falling, 46-29. He finished third in the balloting for the coveted Heisman Trophy (matching the highest finish ever by a freshman) while coming away with the hardware for Big East Conference Offensive and Rookie of the Year and finished runner-up in voting for the Associated Press Player of the Year. He became the first player in Division I history to win a league's Player of the Year Award in the same season he won Rookie of the Year. As a sophomore in 2000, he completed 87 of 161 passes for 1,234 yards with eight touchdowns while carrying 104 times for 607 yards. He finished his career with a 20-1 record as starter at Virginia Tech. On September 1, 2002 prior to the Virginia Tech-LSU contest, Vick's No. 7 jersey was retired by the school in a special ceremony. (Under Virginia Tech's new policy, the No. 7 jersey will continue to be worn as Tech retires jerseys but not numbers.) The school added a banner featuring Vick's jersey and his name in the north end of the end zone.

PERSONAL: He was a spokesperson for the Boys & Girls Club of Metro Atlanta and the Empty Stocking Fund. He gives credit to the Boys & Girls Club in his hometown for helping him grow as a youth. He provided a monetary donation through a player performance pledge to the local chapter for every touchdown pass. Vick also invited more than 100 kids from the Boys & Girls club locally to the team's facility after a Saturday practice for a punt, pass and kick competition, as well as a flag football game. He purchased tickets for the kids to attend a Falcons game the next day. As a part of ESPN.com's "Jocks to GI's", he had a GI email pen pal overseas during the war with Iraq that he communicated with in the spring of 2003. He and SSgt, USAF Angela Geist from Lawrenceville, Ga., shared emails and life experiences. He was named to Sports Illustrated's "101 Most Influential Minorities In Sports" in May of 2003 at #77, the highest-rated current football player. This list is comprised of "men and women who are reshaping the sports industry and opening doors through which others will follow". He was chosen to be the EA Sports cover athlete and spokesman for (John) Madden NFL 2004. Vick has always been a big fan of the game. He is the second cousin of Saints QB Aaron Brooks. He became the 11th quarterback selected with the top overall pick in the NFL draft since the NFL-AFL merger in 1970 and the first African-American quarterback ever taken with the #1 overall choice. He was ironically drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the 30th round of the 2000 MLB draft despite not playing baseball since the 8th grade. A three-year starter at Warwick High School in Newport News, Va., under coach Tommy Reamon, he passed for 4,846 yards with 43 touchdowns during his career. He also added 1,048 yards and 18 scores on the ground. He accounted for 10 passing and 10 rushing touchdowns as a senior as he passed for 1,668 yards. His brother, Marcus, followed his footsteps at Warwick H.S. and is a quarterback at Virginia Tech. He hails from talent-rich Tidewater, Va. area that has also produced the likes of athletes such as Allen Iverson (76ers), Ronald Curry (ex-UNC football and basketball player) and Brooks. He throws the football left-handed but does just about everything else right-handed. His mother, Brenda Boddie, is a strong positive influence in his life.

2002 SEASON PASSING

Completed 231 of 421 passes (.549) for 2,936 yards with 16 touchdowns and eight interceptions in 15 starts. Missed the New York Giants (10/13) contest due to a sprained right shoulder suffered early in the third quarter vs. Tampa Bay (10/6) for his only missed game of the year.

Recorded career-bests for a single-game in passes completed with 24 and pass attempts with 46 at Pittsburgh (11/10), as well as passing yards with 337 vs. Detroit (12/22). Also, established a career-high with a .791 completion percentage (19-of-24) at Carolina (11/24).

Continued streak of consecutive passes without an interception that began at St. Louis (1/6/02) in the season-finale of the 2002 season and extended it to 171 passes without a pick, the third-best streak in team history. Did not throw an interception until the end of the first quarter vs. Baltimore (11/3) in Week 9, covering 25 straight quarters without an interception.

Tied for third in team history for lowest interception percentage in a season at 1.90 (with Chris Miller's same 1.90 mark in 1989).

Connected for a career-long pass of 74 yards and a touchdown to WR Trevor Gaylor vs. New Orleans (11/17).

Completed 45 passes of 20+ yards, including long passes of 74t, 60, 55, 47, 43t, 42, 41, 39t, 39, 35 (twice) 34t, 33 (twice), 31t, 31 and 30 yards.

2002 SEASON RUSHING

Finished with 777 rushing yards on 113 carries to lead all NFL quarterbacks and set a new single-season rushing record for a Falcons quarterback. (The old mark was David Archer with 347 yards in 1985.)

The 777 rushing yards are the third-most ever in single-season by an NFL quarterback.

His 6.9 yards per carry rushing average led the NFL.

Established a new NFL record for most rushing yards by a quarterback in a single-game with 173 yards at Minnesota (12/1).

Broke Cleveland FB Marion Motley's old NFL record for highest rushing average in a single-game (11-188-17.09 on October 29, 1950 vs. Pittsburgh) with his 17.3 yards per carry average at Minnesota (12/1).

With those 173 yards and 20 yards rushing at Carolina (11/24), he totaled the second-besttwo-game rushing total by a quarterback since 1970 with 193 yards (to QB Bobby Douglas' 202 in 1972).

Set another NFL record by becoming the first quarterback to ever register the back-to-back 90 yard rushing games with 91 vs. Carolina (10/20) and 91 at New Orleans (10/27).

Shattered the mark for the most yards rushing by a quarterback in his first two NFL seasons with 1,028 rushing yards (289 in 2001, 777 in 2002).

Totaled the longest run ever by a Falcons quarterback at Minnesota (12/1) on a 46-yard touchdown run in overtime to win the game 30-24.

Scored eight rushing touchdowns to surpass QB Randy Johnson's old Falcons record of four in 1966.

2001 SEASON PASSING / RUSHING

Completed 50 of 113 passes for 785 yards with two touchdowns and three interceptions and rushed 29 times for 289 yards with one touchdown.

Completed passes of 20+ yards 10 times with six passes coming from 30+ yards.

Turned in long runs of 10 or more yards 12 times, including six of 20+ yards.

Recorded three of the then 10 longest runs from scrimmage by a Falcons quarterback ever.

Scored his first NFL touchdown on a third-and-goal situation vs. Carolina (9/23) on a designed roll out on for a two-yard rushing score in the fourth quarter to help in a 24-16 victory.

Completed his first NFL pass with an 18-yard strike to WR Tony Martin in the second quarter in that same Carolina (9/23) game.

Started for first time as a pro vs. Dallas (11/11) and threw his first touchdown pass of his career with a nine-yard toss to TE Alge Crumpler in a 20-13 win.

Threw for a then career best of 214 yards on 11-of-20 completions at Miami (12/30) as he entered the contest in the second quarter. Also completed a 52-yard pass to WR Brian Finneran, a then career-long.

Finished the season by starting for the second time at St. Louis (1/6/02) and accounted for 234 of the team's 255 total yards.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT VICK...

"If you put him in a six-by-six room with 11 guys, it'd take them an hour to touch him. Other than Deion (Sanders), I've never seen anybody with as much ability and Deion didn't handle the ball every play." - Green Bay QB Brett Favre

"He's the hardest guy in the League to tackle...harder than any running back I've faced. He's going to be really good for a long time." - Chicago LB Brian Urlacher

"(Vick) has the [physical] ability to defy belief, like [Michael] Jordan and a true desire to be the orchestrator of the offense. That's an interesting combination I think will be very fun to watch unfold." - Former 49ers QB Steve Young

"There's a lot of great players in the NFL but there aren't but a couple of game-changers. Vick changes the game. A few people have come along in life in the game of football, basketball or baseball that change your perception of the game. That's what he's done."
- Former Falcons CB Deion Sanders

"Potentially as scary as anyone who has ever played the position. He can be the next dimension of quarterback in this League. He is a defense's worst nightmare, a running quarterback who can throw. You can't account for him on defense. He can go places no quarterback has ever gone." - Charley Casserly, Houston GM

"Vick is Steve Young, Randall Cunningham, Fran Tarkenton and Roger Staubach wrapped into one -- with accelerated athleticism none of them could match. Donovan McNabb can run; this guy can explode." - Paul Attner, Sporting News

"He's like Houdini. When guys try to tackle him, their eyes get bigger. My players were amazed watching him on tape. He was making people look like semi-pro players."
- Baltimore defensive coordinator Mike Nolan

"The man upstairs only makes a few of those guys. (Vick) is one of them. He's a great athlete, and he's probably going to terrorize this League for years to come."
- Green Bay Packers DE Joe Johnson

So, where is he most dangerous?
``On the field. As long as he's on the field, he's dangerous."
- Tampa Bay NT Anthony McFarland

"If you don't like Vick, you don't like ice cream." - Peter King, Sports Illustrated

"He scares me more than (the movie) Friday the 13th, and that was when I was 13 (years-old).This guy is the real deal." - New York Giants defensive coordinator Tim Lewis

"There is no label you can put on him. He is an original. There has never been anyone like him before. He is the prototype. Vick is just one of the greatest athletes ever to play in this League, probably the best ever at quarterback."
- Atlanta Falcons President/General Manager Rich McKay

"He is a Frankenstein. He is a monster on offense that no one has figured out how to deal with yet." - Indianapolis Colts GM Bill Polian

...but judging Vick by his passer rating is like judging (actress/singer) Jennifer Lopez by her shoe size." - Joe Starkey, Tribune-Review

"Who is going to catch him? It's like putting a rabbit in a room and trying to catch him."
- New Orleans head coach Jim Haslett

"As far as escapability goes, there is no better. I rank him right up there with Barry Sanders." - Buffalo LB Takeo Spikes

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Involved in Pro Athlete Outreach, an organization that trains athletes to be community leaders.
- Donates his time and financial resources to the club's Feed the Homeless campaign and to the Empty Stocking Fund.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a second round (47th pick overall) draft choice by Seattle in 1998. Signed by Atlanta as unrestricted free agent from Seattle on March 15, 2002.

NFL: Strong, physical player who is in charge of protecting the blindside of QB Michael Vick at right tackle...Played four seasons in Seattle after being the Seahawks' second round pick in 1998...Helped Falcons rushing attack in 2002 set franchise records for best per-carry average (4.5), most rushing touchdowns (23) and most 30 point games (8)...His solid blocks allowed RB T.J. Duckett to set a new team mark for consecutive touchdowns scored in seven straight games in 2003...Started 13 games in 2001 at right tackle and helped Seattle post the 9th best rushing attack in the NFL, including opening holes for RB Shaun Alexander's fifth-most rushing yards ever in a single-game in NFL history with 266 yards vs. Oakland (11/11).

2003: In the starting lineup for all 16 games for the first time in his career...Strong blocks helped the Falcons to their fourth-highest per-carry average in franchise history at 4.48...Opened holes for RB Warrick Dunn's team record for the best two game rushing totals ever in consecutive games with 178 yards at New York Giants (11/9) and 162 yards at New Orleans (11/16)...Paved the way for RB T.J. Duckett's new team mark for most consecutive games with a touchdown scored with seven...Part of a line vs. Carolina (9/28) that helped RB T.J. Duckett rush for 100 yards on 14 carries, Duckett's first 100-yard rushing effort of his career...Helped the Falcons to 440 yards of total offense vs. Minnesota (10/5), a season-high 224 rushing yards vs. Carolna (12/7) to defeat eventual NFC Champion Panthers, and 216 rushing yards and 5.8 average in another victory at New York Giants (11/9)...Solid play along the line helped stymie the Buccaneers' heralded front line as the Falcons rushed for 148 yards while not allowing a sack of QB Michael Vick in a big victory at Tampa Bay (12/20). Atlanta's offense scored 24 of the club's 30 points and kept the Buccaneers defense off balance all afternoon with the run and the pass.

2002: Started 15 of 16 games, missing one start at New Orleans (10/27) with a calf injury but played in the contest as a reserve...He also started both playoff contests...Helped offense amass 393 total yards and score 30 points vs. Carolina (10/20) and also recorded his first reception of his career for a loss of 12 yards. On 2-15 from the Atlanta 49-yard line in the first quarter, QB Michael Vick attempted a screen pass but it was batted down by a Carolina lineman into the arms of Weiner. Weiner lateraled back to Vick and Vick scampered 28 yards to the Carolina 35-yard line...At Carolina (11/24), he helped the offense total 426 yards en route to scoring 35 of team's 41 total points...Vs. Detroit, he was partly responsible for the unit amassing a season-high 533 yards of total offense en route to 36 points scored.

2001: Started the most games in a single-season of his four-year career to date with 13 out of his 16 games played to help Seattle to a 9-7 record and second place showing in the tough former AFC Western Division...With his presence in the lineup, the Seahawks averaged 121 yards rushing per game (9th in League), including nine games with over 100+ rushing yards with a season-high of 319 yards coming vs. Oakland (11/11) to establish a new club record...Seattle's two top rushers, Shaun Alexander and Ricky Watters, finished with impressive rushing averages of 4.3 and 4.4 yards per carry, respectively...Alexander enjoyed a break-out season with a career-high 1,318 rushing yards and an NFL-best 14 rushing touchdowns scored...Bulldozed holes for RB Shaun Alexander's 176 yards rushing with two touchdowns vs. Jacksonville (10/7)...Helped Alexander total his second straight 100-yard game with 142 yards on 33 rushes, including a 60 yard touchdown run, vs. Denver (10/14)...Part of the line that paved the way for RB Shaun Alexander to gain the then fourth-highest rushing total ever in a single-game in NFL history with 266 yards (on 35 carries) vs. Oakland (11/11). The 319 total rushing yards in the game broke the old Seattle record of 298 in 1986.

2000: Started the first six games at right guard, including his second career start at Miami (9/3)...Split time with first-rounder Chris McIntosh until being replaced in the lineup vs. Indianapolis (10/15)...Saw action on special teams the remainder of the season...Key component of a Seahawks special teams unit that paved the way for Charlie Rogers to set or tie 13 career season and single-game records in 2000.

1999: Made first career start in season opener vs. Detroit (9/12), but left the game in the second quarter with an ankle injury...Was inactive the next six games...Returned vs. Green Bay (11/1) but did not play...Saw first action since injury vs. Cincinnati (11/7)...Played special teams the remainder of season.

1998: Reserve offensive lineman, who played both guard and tackle...Saw first career action at Dallas (11/22) on special teams...Logged time on special teams vs. Tennessee (11/29)....Played left guard for parts of two series at New York Jets (12/6) when Pete Kendall moved to center and Chris Gray left the game with a knee injury...Performed on special teams vs. Indianapolis (12/20)...Inactive for eight games.

COLLEGE: He was a two-year starter at left tackle where he earned second-team All-America by The Sporting News in 1997. He was a consensus All-Big 12 selection after guiding a ground attack that averaged 220.3 yards per game as a senior. He became a starter before his junior year. He played on the second unit in 1995 as a sophomore and the third team as a freshman.

PERSONAL: He donated monetarily to the Hunter's Dream for a Cure. He was a two-time all-county selection and team MVP as a senior at Taravella (Fla.) High School in Coral Springs, Fla. He played tight end and guard on offense and both tackle and end on defense. He majored in social science. He lives in Coral Springs, Fla. in the offseason. He and his wife, Sunny, have two children; son, Austin and daughter, Audrey.

2001: Started six of 14 games played, ranking as Chicago's second-leading receiver with 45 catches for 428 yards...Caught three passes for 44 yards with, including a 20-yard reception in the first start of his career at Baltimore (9/9)...Tallied a season-high seven catches for team-high 68 yards vs. San Francisco (10/28)...Equaled season-high of seven receptions for season-high 92 yards vs. Cleveland (11/4)...Posted third consecutive seven-catch game (45 yards) vs. Green Bay (11/11)...Was listed as inactive for the season's final two games due to hamstring injury suffered in practice on Dec. 28...Came back to lead Bears in receiving with four catches for 30 yards in postseason debut in Divisional Playoff vs. Philadelphia (1/19/02).

2000: Caught 10 passes for 87 yards while playing 15 games as a rookie...Made NFL debut at Tampa Bay (9/10), catching two passes for 15 yards...Scored first career touchdown on season-long 25-yard pass play vs. Minnesota (10/15)...Hauled in two catches for 20 yards vs. Green Bay (12/3) and again at Detroit (12/24).

COLLEGE: He entered the draft following his junior season at Georgia Tech (1997-99), ranking second on school's all-time receiving list with 90 catches for 1,833 yards while his 14 career touchdowns tied for the best mark in Georgia Tech history. He finished sixth in school annals with 3,601 all-purpose yards and second in kickoff return yards with 1,701. He was one of just three Yellow Jackets to return two kickoffs for a touchdown in career. He earned second-team All-ACC honors as a sophomore and junior while averaging 20.4 yards per catch in two seasons as a wide receiver after playing strictly as a return specialist as a true freshman. He was one of 10 finalists for Biletnikoff Award (given annually to nation's top receiver) as a sophomore. He was the co-MVP of Gator Bowl vs. Notre Dame that season after catching second-half touchdown passes of 44 and 55 yards. He majored in management.

PERSONAL: He was a consensus first-team All-American as he helped lead The Bolles School (Orange Park, Fla.) to a four-year record of 54-5. He kicked a 43-yard field goal in the state title game as senior. He was also an all-state pick in soccer. He lettered three times in football, two times in track and four times in soccer. He scored seven touchdowns as a senior: three receiving, three punt returns and one kickoff return. His uncle, Adrian White, played in NFL for the Giants, Packers and Patriots.

FINER POINTS OF THE GAME...

- Has hosted a youth football camp for children ages 8-16 that was held at different Atlanta locations.
- Helped build a playground along with teammates and staff for St. Jude's Recovery Center.

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a first round (8th pick overall) draft choice by Atlanta in 1992.

NFL: Recovering from a broken right fibula that ended his 2003 season after eight games ...Has started 151 career games in a Falcons uniform, the fourth-most starts in team history...Broke C Jeff Van Note's club record for most consecutive starts in 2000 at 112 and extended the streak to 123 games in-a-row until he was forced to sit out at S.F. (11/19/00) for first time since streak started in 1993 due to a neck injury...Most tenure on club as he enters his 13th season...Played in first Pro Bowl in 1998.

2003: Started the first eight games at left tackle before breaking his right fibula vs. Philadelphia (11/2) in the third quarter and was lost for the season...Replaced at left tackle by Kevin Shaffer for remainder of the season...Placed on injured reserve on November 3...Part of a line vs. Carolina (9/28) that helped RB T.J. Duckett rush for 100 yards on 14 carries, Duckett's first 100-yard rushing effort of his career...Helped the Falcons to 440 yards of total offense vs. Minnesota (10/5).

2002: Started all 16 games at left tackle for the ninth time in his career...Added two starts in both playoff games...At New Orleans (10/27), he was partly responsible for the running game to tally 260 yards rushing, the most since a team-record 297 vs. L.A. Rams on October 1, 1972, and score four rushing touchdowns, which were the most since October 21, 1973 at San Diego, en route to scoring 37 points...In the rematch at Carolina (11/24), he helped the offense amass 426 total yards en route to scoring 35 of team's 41 total points...Vs. Detroit (12/22), he paved the way for an offense that amassed a season-high 533 yards of total offense with 36 points scored.

2001: Started all 16 games at left tackle for the eighth time in nine seasons as a Falcon...Opened holes for RB Maurice Smith's career-best 148 yards and 5.5 average vs. Dallas (11/11). It was the most yards by a Falcon runner in 43 games as the team totaled a season-high 155 rushing yards... At Green Bay (11/18), he helped offense manage 25 first downs, 417 total yards and 335 net passing yards in a 23-20 victory. It was the most total yards in three years since amassing 504 yards at New Orleans (12/13/98) and it was the first time the Falcons had at least 400 yards in total offense in a game since gaining 434 vs. St. Louis (11/1/98)...Vs. Buffalo (12/23) was part of an offense that amassed a season-high 489 total yards.

2000: Started 15 games with one missed start due to a neck injury that forced him out at S.F. (11/19) with injury occuring in third quarter at Detroit (11/12)...Became club leader in consecutive starts with 113 in-a-row with opening day assignment vs. S.F. (9/3), breaking C Jeff Van Note's mark of 112, which stood since 1984...At Carolina (9/17), singled-out by coaches for his overall play and named MVP on offense. Lined up against former teammate

Chuck Smith for most of the game and did not surrender a sack. Paved the way for RB Jamal Anderson to average 4.4 yards per carry en route to 97 rushing yards in a hard-fought 15-10 victory...Started in his 123rd game in-a-row at Detroit (11/12) but left the game early in the third quarter with a neck burner and did not return. Before he left, Whitfield's blocks enabled RB Jamal Anderson to rush for a season-best 119 yards, the first 100-yard rushing game of the season and his first since the regular season finale vs. Miami (12/27/98) of the 1998 season...With neck injury, he was forced to sit out a game at S.F. (11/19) to end his team record consecutive starting streak at 123 games. It marked his first missed game since his rookie season vs. Phoenix (11/15/92) and also ended a streak of 129 consecutive games played. Whitfield first entered the starting lineup in 1993 at right tackle, before taking over at left tackle in 1994.

1999: Starter in every game for seventh straight season...Helped offense score 28 points with 279 yards passing at Carolina (11/28)...At Tennessee (12/19) rolled up 347 total yards of offense in a close loss...Helped offense produce the best effort of the year vs. Arizona (12/26) with season-highs in points with 37, total yards with 393, time of possession at 35:20 and rushing yards with 163. RB Byron Hanspard set a career-high with 102 yards rushing.

1998: Named to first Pro Bowl...Started all 16 regular season games and all three postseason games, including Super Bowl XXXIII vs. Denver (1/31/99) at left tackle...Helped open holes for RB Jamal Anderson's single-season rushing mark of 1,846 yards that included an NFL-high 12 100-yard rushing games...Blocking at St. Louis (11/29) helped Anderson set a personal-best with 188 yards rushing.

1997: Started every contest at left tackle for the fifth consecutive season...Solid play helped the Falcons finish sixth in the NFL in time of possession with a three minute difference over their opponents...Blocking helped the Falcons score over 300 points for the eighth consecutive season and finish 13th in the League in touchdowns scored in the red zone...Pushed the pile to help spring rookie RB Byron Hanspard for a team record 77-yard run vs. Oakland (9/14), a 57-yarder vs. Denver (9/28) and a 53-yarder vs. Philadelphia (12/14)...Also paved the way for RB Jamal Anderson's 162 rushing yards (seventh most ever) vs. St. Louis (11/2) and 152 yards at Arizona (12/21) on his way to his second straight 1,000-yard season.

1996: For the fourth straight season he started all 16 games at left tackle...Bulldozed holes for RB Jamal Anderson's first 1,000-yard season (1,055), allowed time for WR Bert Emanuel's three 100-yard receiving games and team produced over 300 points for a fourth straight season...The Falcons offense tallied 423 total yards vs. St. Louis (12/15), 417 at Cincinnati (11/24), 391 vs. Philadelphia (9/22) and 369 at Dallas (10/20)...Atlanta boasted the eighth-best passing attack in the NFL with 26 touchdowns through the air and an average of 244 yards per contest...Was named to UPI's second-team All-NFC.

1995: Started all 16 games at left tackle...Missed only nine plays all season...Dominant play along the line resulted in the unit finishing tenth-best in total offense in the NFL and being ranked sixth in the passing department...Blocking allowed the Falcons to throw for a team record 4,456 yards, as QB Jeff George became the first Falcon passer to hit the 4,000-yard plateau...Strong work in the trenches enabled the Falcons to become the first club in NFL history to boast four different players with over 1,000 yards...Lent a big hand in helping RB Craig Heyward amass a personal-best 1,083 yards, Eric Metcalf to haul in 104 passes and George to set career highs in completions, quarterback rating and most 300 yard games in a season.

1994: Started all 16 games at left tackle...Play enabled the Falcons to set six offensive records, including net yards passing (4,112) and pass completions with 374...Was responsible for helping QB Jeff George (24 touchdown passes), WR Terance Mathis (111 receptions for 1,342 yards and 11 touchdowns) and RB Craig Heyward (1,114 combined yards) produce the finest seasons of their careers...Blocking helped the Falcons finish seventh in the NFL in total offense and ninth in passing...Also contributed to the Falcons setting a club record for allowing the fewest sacks per play (one per 17).

1993: Stepped into the starting role at right tackle for the Falcons and started every contest for the first time...Opened holes for a 1,000-yard season by RB Erric Pegram (fifth in the NFL) and two Pro Bowlers in QB Bobby Hebert (career-best 24 passing touchdowns) and WR Andre Rison (career-best 15 touchdowns)...With his play, the Falcons offense ranked 12th in scoring, sixth in passing and 11th in total offense...The Falcons were also seventh-best in the NFL in time of possession at 31:23 and scored 300 points for the fourth straight season...Missed only two plays all season.

1992: Played in 11 games for the Falcons as a rookie with most of his time on special teams...After Mike Kenn's knee problems forced him from the game at New Orleans (12/3) after only three plays, he took over at left tackle in his first extensive action lining up against perennial sack specialist LB Pat Swilling. Shut down Swilling for the entire game...His other action on the line came at the Rams (12/27), vs. Dallas (12/21), vs. New England (11/29) and vs. San Francisco (11/9).

COLLEGE: He was a consensus junior All-American tackle who led the Cardinal of Dennis Green to an 8-3 record and a Bowl bid in his final season at Stanford. A starter for three seasons, Whitfield was a two-time finalist for the Vince Lombardi Award and also a nominee for the Outland Trophy as the best lineman in college football. During his final season, the 290-pounder bulldozed holes for "Touchdown" Tommy Vardell, helping Stanford post big victories over top 20 teams like Colorado and UCLA, while the offense averaged almost 400 yards and 32 points a game. In his sophomore season, he garnered second team All-America honors and All-PAC 10 accolades by not allowing a sack all season for a unit that averaged 384 yards per outing. He was the only sophomore nominated for the Outland Trophy out of the 14 finalists. He was afforded first team freshman NCAA All-America honors as a 17-year-old starter.

PERSONAL: In January of 1994, he started PatchWerk Recordings in the basement of his Alpharetta home. The business has grown into a 3,000 square-foot facility in downtown Atlanta that increased its bookings from 12 to 22 hours per day and calls Columbia/Sony Records, LaFace Records, Def, Arista, and Priority Records, as clients. Whitfield earned a place on Banning High School's honor roll in Los Angeles. In 1995, he was part of the NFL's Golden Circle of 50 players who each donated $10,000 in honor of the 50th Anniversary of the United Negro College Fund in a program which helped fund 39 scholarships at black colleges. Bob was just the fifth lineman in Falcons history (at the time) to be chosen in the first round. Whitfield was the first recruit of Dennis Green at Stanford and was the highest drafted player (#8 overall) at the school since John Elway in 1983. "Big Whit" began as an imposing 6-4, 270 pound defensive lineman as a 9th grader at Banning. Named prestigious Gatorade Circle of Champions Player-of-the-Year in '88. He helped guide Banning to a berth in the city of Los Angeles finals with an 11-3 record. He is working on continuing education at Stanford. His mother, Eartha, relocated to Atlanta from California and is a big part of his life. She was voted one of Chunky Soup's 10 most valuable moms last year. She is the unofficial "team mother".

FALCONS 27, DALLAS 13
At Dallas, September 7, 2003

Doug Johnson took the reins for the injured Michael Vick and led the Falcons to a 27-13 victory against the Dallas Cowboys at Texas Stadium. Johnson accounted for all three of the Falcons touchdowns with touchdown passes to RB Warrick Dunn and TE Alge Crumpler and a one-yard rushing touchdown. He led the Falcons to a 24-point second half by completing 11-of-13 passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns, and scored the clinching touchdown on a one-yard run with 3:11 left in the game. The Falcons defense played well but was burned by two big plays, a 63-yard run by RB Aveion Cason, and a 49-yard touchdown pass from QB Quincy Carter to WR Joey Galloway. The Falcons took the opening kickoff and went on a 10-play, 56-yard drive that ended in a 37-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely. On third-and-six Johnson hit WR Quentin McCord for an apparent touchdown, but the play was called back due to an offensive pass interference call on McCord. Cason scored on the 63-yard touchdown run up the middle on a third-and-two situation from the Dallas 37-yard line to take a 7-3 lead and after a scoreless second quarter took the lead into halftime. The Falcons started three of their four second half drives inside Dallas territory and scored on each to take a 20-7 lead. The Falcons opened the second half by forcing a turnover on Dallas' first drive. DE Patrick Kerney forced Carter to fumble on a scramble up the middle, and LB Matt Stewart recovered the loose ball at the Cowboys 40-yard line. Rookie FB Justin Griffith had an eight-yard run and a 15-yard run sandwiched between a 10-yard run by Dunn, moving the Falcons to the Dallas seven-yard line to set up a Johnson- to-Dunn touchdown pass for a 10-7 Atlanta lead. The Falcons pinned the Cowboys deep in their own territory on the next two possessions, and a strong defensive effort allowed the Falcons to field Cowboys punts inside Dallas territory. On the first play from scrimmage from the 41-yard line, Johnson rolled right, stopped and threw back across the field to a wide open TE Alge Crumpler, who then raced 41 yards untouched into the end zone for a 17-3 lead. Then, after beginning at the Dallas 46-yard line on their next series, the Falcons moved to the Dallas 13-yard line before settling for a 31-yard Feely field goal. Carter hit Galloway for a 49-yard touchdown on the next series, but NT Ed Jasper blocked the point after to hold Atlanta to a 20-13 lead. The Falcons responded with a drive that took 8:26 off the clock during a 13-play, 75-yard drive in the fourth quarter. That drive was culminated with a one-yard touchdown by Johnson for a 27-13 lead.

GAME 2

At Atlanta, September 14, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons had a 17-point lead dissolve into a two-point loss with a 33-31 defeat against the Washington Redskins at the Georgia Dome. The Falcons led 17-0 in the second quarter and 24-17 at the half before Washington stormed back behind QB Patrick Ramsey's 356 passing yards and WR Laveranues Coles' 180 yards pass receiving. The Washington defense came up big, too. S Ifeanyi Ohalete set up a touchdown with a 30-yard interception return to the Falcons one-yard line, and LB Jessie Armstead sacked QB Doug Johnson in the end zone for a safety that gave the Redskins the lead in the third quarter. Atlanta built a 10-0 lead and had a chance to put the game out of reach following two forced fumbles on sacks of Ramsey deep in Atlanta territory. Falcons LB Matt Stewart forced Ramsey to fumble on a six-yard sack and DT Ed Jasper recovered at the one-yard line to set up a one-yard touchdown by RB T.J. Duckett for a 17-0 lead with less than two minutes gone in the second quarter. On the next series, LB Sam Rogers forced Ramsey to fumble on a sack and DE Patrick Kerney recovered the loose ball at the Washington 25-yard line. PK Jay Feely missed on a 45-yard field goal attempt, and the Redskins capitalized on the good field position by driving 65 yards to the Atlanta 13-yard line before RB Ladell Betts scored on a run up the middle. Ohalete intercepted Johnson deep in Atlanta territory on the ensuing drive and returned the ball 30 yards to the Atlanta one-yard line to set by a touchdown run by RB Trung Canidate that cut the Falcons lead to 17-14. A 52-yard kickoff return by KR Allen Rossum seemed to get the Falcons back in control, setting up a touchdown drive by Atlanta that culminated in a one-yard touchdown pass from Johnson to TE Alge Crumpler and a 24-14 lead. But, Washington PK John Hall nailed a 54-yard field goal at the end of the first half to cut the Falcons lead to 24-17. The second half was total domination by Washington. The Falcons, who gained 92 yards rushing on 18 carries in the first half, were held to just seven yards on four carries in the second half. The Redskins tied the game with a 10-play, 76-yard drive to open the second half that resulted in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Ramsey to WR Rod Gardner, and took the lead late in the third quarter when Armstead sacked Johnson in the end zone for a safety for a 26-24 lead. The Redskins took the free kick and marched to the Atlanta 19-yard line where Ramsey found Coles for a 19-yard touchdown pass and a 33-24 advantage. Johnson connected with WR Jimmy Farris to close the score to 33-31 with just over two minutes to play, but the Falcons failed to recover an onside kick and Washington ran out the clock to secure the victory.

GAME 3
TAMPA BAY 31, FALCONS 10
At Atlanta, September 21, 2003

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers limited the Falcons to just 136 total yards and forced five turnovers in a 31-10 rout at the Georgia Dome. After spotting the Buccaneers a first quarter field goal, the Falcons had a window of opportunity in the second quarter. The Falcons drove into Tampa Bay territory four times in the second quarter but came out with just three points. QB Doug Johnson was intercepted three times in the second quarter, including one at the three-yard line, one in the end zone and one deep inside Atlanta territory that helped set up a Tampa touchdown. After the Buccaneers took a 17-3 halftime lead, the Falcons fought back with a break early in the third quarter. S Gerald McBurrows stripped RB Thomas Jones of the ball after Tampa Bay was pinned down at its own 40-yard line. LB Sam Rogers recovered the ball and raced 37 yards to the Tampa Bay two-yard line. RB Woodrow Dantzler lined up at quarterback and scored on a one-yard run off the option to cut the Tampa Bay lead to 17-10. The Buccaneers responded with a 10-play, 73-yard drive that culminated with a two-yard touchdown run by FB Mike Alstott to recapture the momentum and extend the lead to 24-10. TE Brian Kozlowski fumbled on the kickoff, and the Buccaneers capitalized on the key field position at the Atlanta 40-yard line. A 29-yard run by Alstott set up his one-yard touchdown run for a 31-10 third quarter lead. Trailing 3-0 late in the first quarter, PR Allen Rossum returned a punt 42 yards to the Buccaneers 45-yard line. On the first play of the second quarter Johnson attempted to hit a wide open WR Quentin McCord on a post pattern for what might have been a touchdown, but his pass was overthrown and S John Lynch intercepted the ball in the end zone to end the drive. The Falcons defense held on the next series and fielded a Tampa Bay punt at the Buccaneers 49-yard line. A 30-yard pass interference call against the Buccaneers set up a 29-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely to tie the game at 3-3. The Buccaneers answered that drive when QB Brad Johnson connected with RB Michael Pittman on a short pass on a third-and-two situation. Pittman then out raced LB Keith Brooking for a 68-yard touchdown and a 10-3 lead. The Falcons moved to the 26-yard line on the ensuing drive but Feely's 44-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the right. The Falcons next two drives ended in interceptions with the first deep in Atlanta territory. Johnson lofted a pass down field, and Tampa Bay FS Dwight Smith intercepted the ball at the 37-yard line. Tampa Bay converted two third downs to move to the six-yard line. DT Warren Sapp lined up as a tight end and maneuvered into position to catch a six-yard touchdown pass for a 17-3 lead. The Falcons drove to the Tampa Bay 35-yard line on the next series, but Johnson overthrew WR Peerless Price down the middle and was intercepted by Smith for the second time.

GAME 4
CAROLINA 23, FALCONS 3
At Carolina, September 28, 2003

RB Stephen Davis gained 153 of the Panthers 193 total rushing yards to power Carolina to 23-3 win at Ericsson Stadium to snap a six-game losing streak to Atlanta. The Falcons swept the series in 2002 with a 30-0 win at the Georgia Dome followed by a 41-0 win at Carolina. The only bright spot for the Falcons was the running of TJ Duckett, who had his first NFL 100-yard rushing day with 100 yards on 14 carries. QB Doug Johnson was sacked six times and limited to just 123 yards passing by a stingy Panthers defense. Only a late field goal by PK Jay Feely in the fourth quarter prevented a shutout. Johnson's 63-yard pass to TE Alge Crumpler late in the game generated the Falcons only score with the 28-yard field goal by Feely to cut it to 20-3 with just over three minutes to play. The only other time the Falcons were in scoring range was in the third quarter when Feely had his 55-yard field goal attempt tipped at the line to send the ball wide to the right. Davis reeled off a 29-yard run on Carolina's second possession to set up his one-yard touchdown run to go up 7-0. In the second quarter, the Falcons special teams units had the team's first major blunder of the day. The Falcons defense held Carolina on a third-and-four situation from the Atlanta 40-yard line and were lined up to field a Panthers punt. CB Tyrone Williams was penalized for moving his body in a manner to drive the Carolina opponent offsides. The penalty led to a Carolina first down at the Atlanta 35-yard line. QB Jake Delhomme moved the Panthers to the five-yard line before completing a five-yard touchdown pass to WR Ricky Proehl on third down for a 14-0 lead. Carolina extended its lead to 17-0 before the half with a 53-yard PK John Kasay field goal, and added two more field goals in the fourth quarter.

GAME 5
MINNESOTA 39, FALCONS 26
At Atlanta, October 5, 2003

Despite a 352-yard passing effort by QB Doug Johnson and 168 yards receiving by WR Peerless Price, the Falcons could not hold onto a 20-12 halftime lead in a 39-26 loss to the Minnesota Vikings at the Georgia Dome. Minnesota scored 15 points in the third quarter and limited the Falcons to just 24 net yards to take command of the game. After gaining just 31 yards rushing in the first half, Minnesota gained 135 yards on the ground in the second half. The Falcons took a 6-0 lead on two PK Jay Feely field goals in the first quarter, before WR Randy Moss put Minnesota in front with a 32-yard touchdown pass from QB Gus Frerotte early in the second quarter. The Vikings scored the first of two safeties in the game to get their next points and then turned the free kick into a field goal for a 12-6 lead midway through the first half. With the Falcons backed up at their own seven-yard line, Johnson got caught in a heavy pass rush by the Vikings and was called for intentionally grounding in the end zone for a safety. The Vikings fielded the ensuing free kick and drove to the Atlanta 14-yard line before settling for a 32-yard field goal by PK Aaron Elling. The Falcons responded with two touchdown drives before the half to take a 20-12 lead. A 55-yard run by RB TJ Duckett to the Minnesota eight-yard line set up an eight-yard touchdown run by RB Warrick Dunn for a 13-12 Falcons advantage. After holding Minnesota on the next series, the Falcons executed a perfect two-minute drill, moving to the Minnesota six-yard line where Johnson fired a six-yard scoring strike to Price on a third down pass to extend the lead to 20-12. The Vikings scored on two of their three third quarter possessions and added a two-point play to take a 27-20 lead heading into the final quarter. Their first score was set up when a 15-yard interference penalty following a Falcons punt gave Minnesota a first down at the Atlanta 45-yard line. RB Moe Williams scrambled 18 yards up the middle, and then Frerotte hit Moss on a 17-yard touchdown pass in the side of the end zone and the two-point play tied the game at 20-20. A 51-yard pass from Frerotte to WR Kelly Campbell set up an 11-yard touchdown run by Williams for a 27-20 lead. Williams' second touchdown run, a five-yarder to open the fourth quarter, pushed Minnesota in front 34-20 and then on the next series a holding call in the end zone gave Minnesota its second safety of the day and a 36-20 lead. Dunn tried to get the Falcons back in the game after catching a short pass and jolting 24 yards before being hit at the two-yard line and fumbling into the end zone. Minnesota recovered the ball for a touchback. The Falcons next chance to score ended when Johnson was intercepted at the 10-yard line. The Vikings returned the ball 50 yards to the Atlanta 12 to set up a field goal for a 39-20 lead. WR Jimmy Farris caught an eight-yard touchdown pass from Johnson with 1:46 left to close out the scoring.

GAME 6
ST. LOUIS 36, FALCONS 0
At St. Louis, October 13, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons lost their fifth consecutive game, 36-0, to the St. Louis Rams on Monday Night Football to drop to a 1-5 season record. Atlanta was outgained 496 yards to 209 and gained just 38 yards in the second half. Despite the troubles stopping the high-powered Rams offense, the Falcons were still in the game until a disastrous third quarter. After falling behind 10-0 at the break, the Falcons ran just nine plays for minus-four yards in the third quarter. The Rams scored nine points to pull out to a 19-0 lead. QB Marc Bulger, who finished the night with 352 yards passing and two touchdowns, finished a 69-yard drive with a 21-yard touchdown pass to WR Torry Holt to open the second half and give St. Louis a 17-0 lead. Later in the quarter CB Ray Buchanan intercepted Bulger in the Falcons end zone, but he was tackled on the one-yard line on the return. RB T.J. Duckett was tackled on the goal line on the first offensive play and then was tackled in the end zone for a safety on the next play to extend the Rams lead to 19-0. Holt, who had a big night with 11 receptions for 161 yards, capped a five-play, 69-yard drive in the fourth quarter with a 14-yard touchdown pass from Bulger for a 26-0 lead. A 38-yard Jeff Wilkins field goal and a 74-yard interception returned for a touchdown by CB Travis Fisher ended a 36-0 shutout win. Early in the first quarter the Falcons offense appeared to be in sync, as Johnson drove the Falcons to the St. Louis 14-yard line. That drive ended when Johnson was intercepted in the end zone. The Rams began the ensuing drive at their own one-yard line and moved to the Falcons 10-yard line before settling for a field goal and a 3-0 first quarter lead. Big mistakes plagued the Falcons again in the second quarter. Johnson hit TE Alge Crumpler for a gain of 24 yards into St. Louis territory, but a big hit forced a fumble that the Rams recovered at the 42-yard line to end the Atlanta drive. The Rams took over and drove 58 yards to the Falcons three-yard line to set up a three-yard touchdown run by Bulger and a 10-0 lead. Atlanta took over with 1:15 to play and drove to the St. Louis 32-yard line. The Falcons chance to at least get a field goal before the half ended when a holding call forced a 60-yard field goal attempt that was blocked with just nine seconds to play in the first half.

GAME 7
NEW ORLEANS 45, FALCONS 17
At Atlanta, October 19, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons dropped to a 1-6 season record following a 45-17 route by the visiting New Orleans Saints. Atlanta scored on a 69-yard touchdown run by RB Warrick Dunn on the game's second play and was tied 14-14 with eight minutes to play in the first half before the Saints capped a 21-point second quarter for a 35-14 halftime lead. New Orleans chalked up 507 total yards in offense behind 116 rushing yards by RB Deuce McAllister, 352 passing yards and three touchdown passes by QB Aaron Brooks and 133 receiving yards by WR Joe Horn. Third-string QB Kurt Kittner was handed the starting job and mustered just nine completions on 29 attempts for 115 yards. Two plays after Dunn's touchdown run, WR Donte' Stallworth caught an eight-yard slant from Brooks, broke one tackle and then raced 69 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 7-7. The Saints used three big plays on their next offensive series to take a 14-7 lead. First, Brooks converted a third-and-15 situation from his own eight-yard line with a 22-yard pass to Horn. Then RB Fred McAfee took a direct snap and converted a fake punt attempt to get in to Atlanta territory. Horn then outraced CB Ray Buchanan to catch a 32-yard touchdown pass from Brooks for a 14-7 lead. The Falcons responded with their only sustained touchdown drive of the day. Kittner converted two third-down passes, including a 31-yard pass to TE Alge Crumpler on a third-and-eight situation, before culminating the drive with his first NFL touchdown pass on an 18-yard pass to WR Brian Finneran to tie the game at 14-14. New Orleans scored touchdowns on its final three drives of the first half to take a 35-14 lead. Brooks was 15-of-18 for 281 yards with three touchdown passes in the first half as the Saints gained 369 yards of total offense. After both teams kicked field goals in the third quarter for a 38-17 Saints lead, New Orleans possessed the ball for over 11 minutes in the final quarter to ruin any chance of a Falcons comeback.

GAME 8
PHILADELPHIA 23, FALCONS 16
At Atlanta, November 2, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons could not hold onto a 13-10 halftime lead in a 23-16 defeat to the visiting Philadelphia Eagles. The Falcons overcame a 10-0 first quarter deficit and scored 13 unanswered points in the second quarter. Atlanta had 111 yards rushing in the first half, including 90 yards in the first quarter. Philadelphia dominated the third quarter, outgaining the Falcons 171-28 and limiting Atlanta to just 20 yards on the ground in the second half. The game got off to an inauspicious start for the Falcons. On the game's opening kickoff Allen Rossum lost control of the ball, and Philadelphia recovered at the Atlanta 11-yard line to set up a field goal and a quick 3-0 lead. A combination of RB T.J. Duckett and RB Warrick Dunn helped move the Falcons to the Philadelphia 25-yard line on the ensuing drive. QB Kurt Kittner had WR Peerless Price wide open in the end zone, but he under threw his pass and was intercepted at the two-yard line by CB Lito Sheppard. The Eagles responded with a nine-play, 64-yard drive that was culminated with a 37-yard touchdown pass to WR Freddie Mitchell for a 10-0 lead. Duckett and Dunn again helped move Atlanta, and a 13-yard pass from Kittner to WR Brian Finneran on third-and-nine paved the way for a one-yard touchdown run by Duckett to make it 10-7 early in the second quarter. The Falcons scored field goals on their next two offensive drives to a take a 13-10 lead into the break. After PK Jay Feely tied the game at 10-10 with a 40-yard field goal with under four minutes to play in the first half, Atlanta's defense held the Eagles on three straight plays to force a punt. Rossum returned the punt 72 yards to the Philadelphia 11-yard line with 1:42 to play. But, the Eagles defense held the Falcons to a Feely field goal. Philadelphia opened the second half with a nine-play, 66-yard drive that ended in a 25-yard field goal to tie the game at 13-13. A 36-yard pass from Eagles QB Donovan McNabb to TE L.J. Smith followed by a 28-yard pass from McNabb to Smith set up a RB Duce Staley one-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter for a 20-13 Eagles lead. A 41-yard pass from McNabb to WR James Thrash on a third-and-eight situation helped set up an Akers field goal for a 23-13 fourth quarter lead. The Falcons attempeted to get a spark in the final quarter with Doug Johnson taking over for Kittner. Johnson hit Price on a 48-yard pass to help set up the Falcons final field goal, but went three-and-out on the last chance to tie the game in a 23-16 final.

GAME 9

FALCONS 27, NEW YORK GIANTS 7
At New York, November 9, 2003

Head coach Dan Reeves became the seventh coach in NFL history to reach 200 victories with the Falcons 27-7 win over the New York Giants at Giants Stadium to snap a seven-game losing streak. The Falcons offense generated 216 yards on the ground, and the Falcons defense forced four turnovers, including three deep in Falcons territory - Giants RB Tiki Barber fumbled twice, and QB Kerry Collins was intercepted once in the end zone. RB Warrick Dunn exploded for a season-high 178 rushing yards, including a 45-yard touchdown run to cap the Falcons first drive of the game and give the team a 7-0 first quarter lead. The Giants tied the game at 7-7 in the second quarter and had a chance to take a lead into the break, but rookie SS Bryan Scott intercepted a Collins pass in the end zone with just 17 seconds to play in the first half to secure the 7-7 tie. The Falcons scored on their first two third quarter possessions to take command of the game with a 20-7 lead. QB Kurt Kittner was limited to just nine completions for 65 yards, but he did make some clutch throws. On the Falcons first touchdown drive of the third quarter, Kittner converted a third-and-six situation from the Atlanta 27-yard line with a 16-yard pass to WR Peerless Price followed by an 11-yard pass to Price for a first down inside Giants territory. Dunn powered the Falcons to the four-yard line to set up a four-yard touchdown pass from Kittner to FB Justin Griffith for a 14-7 Falcons lead. CB Tod McBride intercepted a Collins pass on the ensuing drive to give Atlanta a first down at the Giants eight-yard line. Atlanta was faced with a fourth-and-one situation when Reeves elected to go for the touchdown rather than the field goal. RB T.J. Duckett scored on a one-yard run up the middle, but the extra point was blocked for a 20-7 Falcons lead. The Giants comeback try in the fourth quarter was stopped when Barber was stripped of the ball on a tackle by S Keion Carpenter at the Falcons seven-yard line, allowing Scott to recover at the Atlanta five-yard line. With 5:09 left to play, Collins attempted three-straight passes that fell incomplete before a fourth-down attempt sailed past WR Amani Toomer to give Atlanta the ball at the Giants 40-yard line with 4:28 to play. The Falcons moved to the 12-yard line to set up Duckett's second touchdown run on a 12-yard run for a 27-7 final.

GAME 10

NEW ORLEANS 23, FALCONS 20 (overtime)
At New Orleans, November 16, 2003

The Falcons squandered a 20-3 halftime lead in a 23-20 overtime loss against the New Orleans Saints at the Louisiana Superdome. The Falcons turned two interceptions into touchdowns, sacked QB Aaron Brooks seven times and kept him under constant pressure to build the lead. Down 20-17 with two minutes to play, New Orleans reached the Atlanta 15-yard line when RB Deuce McAllister was stripped of the football by rookie S Bryan Scott. NT Ellis Johnson recovered the ball but lost control of it. The Saints recovered and kicked the game-tying field goal with five seconds remaining to send the game into overtime. The Saints got the first possession of overtime and McAllister ran 58 yards on the first play. But CB Juran Bolden slapped the ball out of McAllister's hands and into the end zone, giving the Falcons a first down at the 20. On Atlanta's first play from scrimmage, RB Warrick Dunn broke free for a 41-yard gain to the New Orleans 39-yard line. The Falcons could not move any further, and PK Jay Feely's 54-yard game-winning field goal fell short. A 14-yard pass from Brooks to WR Joe Horn, followed by a 23-yard run by McAllister set up a 36-yard game-winning field goal by PK Jeff Carney to drop the Falcons to a 2-8 season record. McAllister was held to just 20 yards in the first half but finished with 173 yards and two touchdowns. Atlanta got on the board when CB Tod McBride picked off Brooks and scampered 15 yards to make it 7-0. Feely's 38-yard field goal made it 10-0 as time ran out in the first quarter. In the second quarter, Bolden got his first interception of the season and returned it to the New Orleans five. Two plays later, RB T.J. Duckett took it the final four yards to make it 17-0. New Orleans then went on a 16-play, 70-yard drive to the Atlanta four-yard line, but came up with a field goal after Brooks was sacked on a third-down play. PR Allen Rossum helped set up the Falcons final points of the second quarter with a 22-yard punt return to the New Orleans 45-yard line with 1:40 left to play that led to a Feely 27-yard field goal. Two costly interceptions by QB Kurt Kittner and a short punt by P Chris Mohr helped fuel the New Orleans comeback. Early in the third quarter when the Falcons were backed up at their own 12-yard line, Kittner was intercepted by CB Fred Thomas to set up a five-yard touchdown run by McAllister to cut the Atlanta lead to 20-10. Then a 34-yard field goal by Mohr late in the second quarter allowed the Saints to begin a drive at midfield. Aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty and a defensive holding call, the Saints drove to the seven-yard line where McAllister's second touchdown run helped the Saints pull to 20-17. Atlanta appeared to get a break when Dunn went off gurard and broke free for a 54-yard run to the New Orleans 18-yard line. But, three plays later Kittner was intercepted at the five-yard line when he was trying to get the ball over the defenders and into a wide open WR Brian Finneran in the end zone. The Saints responded with the game-tying drive.

GAME 11

TENNESSEE 38, FALCONS 31
At Atlanta, November 23, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons built a 21-0 first quarter lead on a 59-yard punt return for a touchdown by PR Allen Rossum, a fumble that led to a two-yard touchdown run by RB T.J. Duckett and a play that resulted in an 86-yard touchdown pass from QB Doug Johnson to RB Warrick Dunn. Atlanta was leading 21-14 at halftime and took the second half kickoff down the field for a field goal to take a 24-14 lead. For the fifth time in 2003 the Falcons failed to hold onto a first half lead, as the Tennessee Titans rallied around back-up QB Billy Volek in a 38-31 come-from-behind victory at the Georgia Dome to drop the Falcons to a 2-9 season record. Volek entered the game late in the second quarter when QB Steve McNair was forced out of the game with a calf strain. After the Titans scored to make it 21-7, RB Travis Jervey fumbled the ensuing kickoff when it bounced off his shoulder pads. Tennessee recovered, setting up a five-yard touchdown pass from McNair to TE Frank Wycheck to cut the Falcons lead to 21-14. The Titans did not miss a beat with Volek in at quarterback. He completed nine of 15 passes for 117 yards, a touchdown and a quarterback rating of 106.8. Tennessee RB Eddie George, who finished the game with 115 yards, had runs of 17 and 19 yards before capping a 62-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown to cut the Atlanta lead to 24-21 in the third quarter. After stopping the Falcons on three straight plays on the next series, Titans PR Justin McCareins returned a punt 58 yards for a touchdown to give Tennessee its first lead of the game with a 28-24 advantage. Tennessee scored 10 points in the fourth quarter on a field goal by PK Gary Anderson and then on a 14-yard pass from Volek to McCareins after a Tennessee interception deep in Atlanta territory, extending the lead to 38-24. The Falcons cut the lead to seven on Johnson's 41-yard pass to WR Peerless Price, then got the ball back in the final two minutes. But a fourth-down pass from Johnson to TE Brian Kozlowski fell short, and Tennessee ran out the clock to secure the win. Johnson returned to the starting lineup after four games on the bench and completed 19-of-32 passes for 276 yards.

GAME 12

HOUSTON 17, FALCONS 13

At Houston, November 30, 2003

At exactly 2:24 p.m. local time, QB Michael Vick made his return from a preseason leg injury that held him out of action for the first 11 games. On his first play from scrimmage, Vick rolled to his left and completed a short pass to FB Justin Griffith for a nine-yard gain. Vick entered the game with the Falcons down 17-7 with 2:14 left in the third quarter after LB Chris Draft intercepted a Houston pass at the Texans 33-yard line. Vick's first offensive drive ended in a 35-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely to cut the lead to 17-10. With 7:09 left to play, Vick and the Falcons began a drive at their own 20-yard line. Vick completed five-of-eight passes for 45 yards and gained 16 yards on the ground to move the Falcons to the Houston 11-yard line at the two-minute warning. An intentional grounding penalty pushed the Falcons to the 25-yard line and into a third-and-24 situation. After failing on third down, the Falcons kicked a 42-yard field goal and attempted an onsides kick with 1:24 to play. Houston recovered the attempt and ran off the clock to secure the 17-13 win and drop the Falcons to a 2-10 season record. After a scoreless first quarter, the Falcons jumped to a 7-0 lead when RB T.J. Duckett culminated an eight-play, 68-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown run. Houston KR J.J. Moses returned the ensuing kickoff 33 yards and Houston moved to the Atlanta 22-yard line before settling for a 40-yard field goal. Feely missed on a 49-yard field goal try later in the second quarter, and Houston failed on a 52-yard attempt right before halftime to secure Atlanta's 7-3 halftime advantage. For the sixth time in 2003 the Falcons failed to hold onto a first half lead, allowing a 14-point third quarter that proved the difference. QB David Carr, playing with a sore shoulder, was forced into the game in the second half after QB Tony Banks left late in the first half with a broken bone in his throwing hand. On Houston's first possession of the second half, Carr broke free for a 36-yard run to the Atlanta 22-yard line. The Texans moved to the seven-yard line to set up a touchdown run by RB Domanick Davis for a 10-7 lead. QB Doug Johnson's pass intended for WR Peerless Price was intercepted at the 35-yard line by CB Marcus Coleman on the next series. Coleman's 22-yard return helped lead to Davis' second touchdown on a two-yard run for a 17-10 lead.

GAME 13

FALCONS 20, CAROLINA 14 (overtime)
At Atlanta, December 7, 2003

Quarterback Michael Vick used the national spotlight to showcase his return to the starting lineup as part of ESPN's Sunday Night Football telecast. It was Vick's first start since suffering a fracture of his right fibula in a preseason game on August 16 vs. Baltimore. Vick's immense talents propelled the Falcons to a 20-14 overtime win over NFC West Division rival Carolina at a soldout Georgia Dome. Vick accounted for 320 of the Falcons 380 total yards in offense. He completed 16-of-33 pass attempts for 179 yards, but it was his ground game that left the NFL community on the edge of their seats. Vick gained 141 yards on 14 carries for a 10.1-yard average. It was his second NFL 100-yard rushing day and the third-highest total ever by an NFL quarterback. Vick set the NFL mark with 173 yards rushing in a win at Minnesota in 2002. A 43-yard run by Vick in the fourth quarter helped set up his one-yard touchdown run off a perfect play-fake to tie the game at 14-14. Despite Vick's heroics, it was the defense that gave the team the victory. On the third play in overtime, CB Kevin Mathis intercepted Carolina CB Jake Delhomme and returned the ball 32 yards for the game-winning touchdown to give Atlanta a 20-14 victory. For the first time in 2003 the Falcons defense held the opponent under 100 yards rushing, allowing just 90 yards on 33 attempts for a 2.7-yard average. RB T.J. Duckett put the Falcons on the scoreboard early in the second quarter after culminating an 11-play, 67-yard drive with a nine-yard touchdown run. That drive was set up when DE Patrick Kerney recovered a Delhomme fumble at the Atlanta 33-yard line. Delhomme connected with TE Jermaine Wiggins for a 16-yard touchdown pass to tie the game at 7-7 later in the second quarter. PK Jay Feely missed on field goal attempts of 36 and 34 yards in the second quarter to allow Carolina to hold on to a 7-7 halftime score. The Panthers took the lead in the third quarter after taking advantage of a Duckett fumble deep in Atlanta territory. Carolina turned the turnover into a one-yard touchdown run by RB Stephen Davis.

GAME 14

INDIANAPOLIS 38, FALCONS 7
At Indianapolis, December 14, 2003

The Indianapolis Colts rolled past the Atlanta Falcons at the RCA Dome with a 38-7 thrashing. The Colts hit the Falcons with all three of their offensive weapons. QB Peyton Manning threw for 290 yards and five touchdowns, WR Marvin Harrison had seven receptions for 117 yards and two touchdowns and RB Edgerrin James had 126 yards rushing on 20 attempts. The Colts defense limited the Falcons to just 29 yards passing and only 154 total yards from scrimmage. Wade Phillips took control of the Falcons early in the week after head coach Dan Reeves was released. Phillips' team got off to an inauspicious start. On the fourth play of the game, QB Michael Vick fumbled on a scramble, allowing the Colts to start a drive at the Atlanta 14-yard line. On the Colts first play from scrimmage, Manning completed a 14-yard touchdown pass to WR Reggie Wayne for a quick 7-0 lead. Two series later, Manning led the Colts 49 yards, hooking up with WR Brandon Stokley on a four-yard touchdown and the rout was on. Things got worse before the half. A 43-yard field goal early in the second quarter and a Manning-to-Harrison 17-yard touchdown pass made it 24-0 at the half. After jumping to a 17-0 lead in the second quarter, the Falcons had a chance to get back into the game when CB Derek Ross stripped Harrison of the football after a short gain and LB Chris Draft recovered at the Indianapolis 28-yard line. But on first play from scrimmage, Vick was intercepted in the end zone. The Colts responded with an 80-yard drive that ended in the 17-yard Harrison touchdown reception. A 37-yard touchdown pass from Manning to Stokley on the Colts first drive in the second half made it 31-0. A 16-yard run by Vick on a fourth-and-six situation helped set up a 17-yard touchdown run by RB T.J. Duckett for the Falcons only points of the afternoon. With the touchdown, Duckett set a franchise record by scoring a touchdown in seven consecutive games. He also became just the fourth player in franchise history to reach 10 or more rushing touchdowns in a single-season. Manning and Harrison connected again in the third quarter on a 16-yard touchdown pass to finish the scoring in a 38-7 Colts victory.

GAME 15

At Tampa, December 20, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons jumped out to a 30-7 lead and survived a 21-point fourth quarter rally by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to hold on for a 30-28 win at Raymond James Stadium. The Falcons win knocked the defending Super Bowl champions out of the playoff race. The Falcons faced a first-and-goal from the Tampa Bay eight-yard line with just over four minutes remaining and were looking to add to their 30-14 lead and secure the victory. RB T.J. Duckett was stripped of the ball on the next play, and Tampa Bay recovered at the four-yard line. After moving to the 20-yard line, Tampa Bay QB Brad Johnson connected with WR Keenan McCardell for a 76-yard touchdown. A successful two-point play closed the gap to 30-22 with just 2:20 left in regulation. Tampa Bay CB Dwight Smith recovered a PK Martin Gramatica onside kick attempt on the ensuing kickoff, allowing the Buccaneers to start a drive near midfield with a touchdown and a two-point play away from trying the game. Johnson moved the Buccaneers to the 11-yard line before hitting FB Jameel Cook on a short pass to the flat that resulted in a touchdown. However, DE Travis Hall broke through the line of scrimmage and deflected Johnson's pass attempt on the two-point play to secure the Falcons win. Atlanta intercepted Johnson four times in the first half to help build a 27-7 lead. LB Keith Newman, S Keion Carpenter, CB Juran Bolden and S Bryan Scott made the picks. After the Falcons opened the game with an 11-play, 56-yard drive that resulted in a field goal, Newman made his first NFL interception and returned it 29 yards to the Tampa Bay six-yard line to set up a QB Michael Vick-to-TE Alge Crumpler touchdown pass and a 10-0 first quarter lead. After Tampa Bay closed in at 10-7, the Falcons scored 17 points in the final 1:53 of the second half to gain a 27-7 halftime lead. Carpenter dove in front of McCardell to intercept the ball and give Atlanta a first down at their own 32-yard line. On the first play following the turnover, Vick hit WR Peerless Price for a 49-yard gain to the Tampa Bay 19-yard line. That helped set up Vick's second touchdown pass on a 13-yard fade route to WR Brian Finneran for a 17-7 lead. Tampa Bay's next series ended when Bolden scored his first NFL touchdown after taking a Johnson pass 41 yards for the score to make it 24-7 with just 54 seconds left to play. On the Buccaneers second play of the ensuing drive, Scott intercepted Johnson for a Falcons first down at midfield. A five-yard run by Vick, followed by a 10-yard pass from Vick to FB Justin Griffith helped set up a 38-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely at the buzzer for the 27-7 lead. Vick took the Falcons on a 12-play, 44-yard drive that took 6:15 off the clock before the drive ended in a 37-yard Feely field goal in the third quarter for a 30-7 lead. Johnson, who passed for 346 yards, threw three touchdowns in the final 11 minutes to help rally the Buccaneers.

GAME 16

FALCONS 21, JACKSONVILLE 14
At Atlanta, December 28, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons closed out the 2003 season with a 21-14 victory over the Jacksonville Jaguars at the Georgia Dome. The Falcons built up a 21-7 halftime lead and then held on for the win to finish the year at 5-11. The Falcons won three out of their final four games with QB Michael Vick back in the lineup. RB T.J. Duckett pounded out 96 yards on the ground and put the Falcons on the board with a two-yard run to cap off the Falcons first offensive drive for a 7-0 lead. Duckett set the tone for the drive with a 21-yard run on the second play from scrimmage. An unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against the Falcons on the extra point was assessed on the ensuing kickoff, allowing Jacksonville to begin its next drive on their own 38-yard line. The Jaguars took advantage of the key field position and maneuvered to the Atlanta 15-yard line before QB Byron Leftwich hit WR Troy Edwards for a touchdown pass to tie the game at 7-7. On the ensuing drive, head coach Wade Phillips used a trick play to catch the Jaguars off guard. Duckett took a handoff from Vick, who then pitched back to Vick on the flea-flicker before connecting with WR Peerless Price on a 44-yard touchdown pass for a 14-7 first quarter lead. Vick executed a perfect two-minute drill before the half that took the Falcons from their own 37-yard line to the Jacksonville one-yard line and ended in a one-yard Vick-to-FB Justin Griffith touchdown pass. Vick completed three third-down plays, but none more spectacular then when the Falcons were faced with a third-and-12 situation from the Jaguars 42-yard line with 27 seconds to play. Vick scrambled back to the Atlanta 40-yard line, and then from his back foot hauled a pass at least 55 yards in the air to WR Brian Finneran for a first down at the Jacksonville four-yard line with 15 seconds left. Jacksonville was called for a pass interference penalty on the next play to give Atlanta a first down at the one-yard line to set up Vick's one-yard pass to Griffith off a play action fake. Jacksonville closed the gap to 21-14 late in the third quarter after PR David Allen set up a Jaguars score with a 48-yard punt return into Falcons territory. A Vick interception put the Jaguars into position to score in the fourth quarter, but CB Juran Bolden blocked a 30-yard field goal attempt. Jacksonville got the ball back with 4:16 to play and moved to the Atlanta 14-yard line with 32 seconds to play. But, Leftwich's fourth-down pass to the end zone fell incomplete to secure the Falcons victory

GAME 1

PACKERS 27, FALCONS 21
At Atlanta, August 9, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons opened the 2003 preseason with a 27-21 loss to the visiting Green Bay Packers. The Falcons starting offense rolled to a 21-3 lead and were ahead 21-10 at halftime before Green Bay rallied for a 17-point third quarter once the starters were done. CB Allen Rossum opened the game with a 49-yard kickoff return, and QB Michael Vick moved the Falcons to the three-yard line to set up a three-yard touchdown run by RB Warrick Dunn. Newly acquired WR Peerless Price opened his Falcons career by catching a 13-yard pass from Vick on the first play from scrimmage. On the Falcons next offensive possession, a 17-yard punt return by Rossum positioned the Falcons for their next score. Vick connected with WR Brian Finneran on a 43-yard touchdown reception for a 14-0 first quarter lead. Vick finished the night six-of-seven for 110 yards with one touchdown for a quarterback rating of 158.3, the highest rating that a passer can achieve. Green Bay got on the board in the first quarter with a 44-yard field goal by PK Ryan Longwell. Backup QB Doug Johnson entered the game in the second quarter and on his first offensive series took the team to the Green Bay seven-yard line before connecting with RB T.J. Duckett on a seven-yard touchdown pass. With just over a minute left in the first half, Packers RB Najeh Davenport finished a 13-play, 71-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run to close the gap to 21-10 at the half. Green Bay scored 17 points in the third quarter to take a 27-21 lead. After Davenport scored on a four-yard run on the Packers first drive in the second half, Green Bay converted two Falcons turnovers into 10 points to claim the win.

GAME 2

At Atlanta, August 16, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons dropped to an 0-2 preseason record with a 13-10 loss to the visiting Ravens. The night began with an inauspicious start with a sack followed by an interception on the Falcons first series, leading to a Baltimore field goal. Later in the first quarter the Falcons took a major hit when QB Michael Vick was forced to leave the game with a broken fibula in his right leg. The Falcons defense did limit the Ravens to just 14 first downs, but the Falcons offense struggled to just seven first downs and only 188 total yards against a stingy Ravens defense. PK Jay Feely kicked a 53-yard field goal in the second quarter to tie the game at 3-3 at the end of the first half after a 42-yard pass from QB Doug Johnson to WR MarTay Jenkins. Baltimore chalked up ten points in the second quarter after taking the second half kickoff 74 yards on nine plays before QB Kyle Boller connected with TE John Jones on a one-yard pass, and a 30-yard field goal by PK Matt Stover on their second series in the second half. The Falcons scored their only touchdown with just over two minutes to play when rookie CB Bryan Scott scooped up a fumble caused by LB Will Overstreet and raced 67 yards for a touchdown to close the gap to 13-10. Feely recovered his own onsides kick on the ensuing kick, giving the Falcons a first down at the Atlanta 44-yard line with 1:49 left in regulation. However, on the next play QB Kurt Kittner was intercepted by FS Will Demps, and Baltimore was able to run out the clock to secure the win.

GAME 3

At Miami, August 22, 2003

The Miami Dolphins handed the visiting Atlanta Falcons a 30-21 defeat, dropping Atlanta to an 0-3 preseason record. The Miami defense limited the Falcons to just 26 yards rushing on nine attempts and just 13 first downs. Atlanta lost three turnovers and held the ball for less than 22 minutes. One positive was the run defense, which limited NFL rushing champion Ricky Williams to minus-one yard on nine carries. Miami jumped to a quick 10-0. Miami's scores were set up by two Falcons special teams blunders. The Dolphins recovered a muffed punt early in the first quarter that led to a touchdown. Then, early in the second quarter Miami PR Charlie Rogers returned a punt 30 yards into Atlanta territory to set up a field goal. Doug Johnson made his first start in place of the injured Mike Vick (leg), completing 12 of 20 passes for 148 yards, including a 35-yard score to WR Peerless Price before departing in the second half with Atlanta trailing 10-7. Johnson hit two long passes on an 80-yard drive for the Falcons first touchdown. He hit WR Brian Finneran for a 32-yard gain, and then Price got open on a third-and-eight situation for the 35-yard touchdown pass with just 2:10 left in the first half. The Falcons held Miami on the ensuing drive and moved to the Miami 37-yard line with 36 seconds to play, but Johnson's pass intended for Price was intercepted by Dolphins CB Terrell Buckley, and Miami ran off the final seconds to secure the 10-7 half-time lead. Miami backups Brian Griese and Sage Rosenfels each led Miami on a pair of scoring drives in the third quarter to take a 24-7 lead. LB Karon Riley forced Rosenfels to fumble on a sack early in the fourth quarter, and rookie DE Demetrin Veal scooped up the ball and ran 40 yards into the end zone to close the Miami lead to 24-14. Miami extended its lead to 30-14 on two PK Olindo Mare field goals. Miami's second field goal was set up when QB Kurt Kittner was intercepted by S Alphonso Roundtree, who returned the ball to the 16-yard line. Kittner finished a nine-play, 65-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown pass to WR Jimmy Farris to close out the scoring.

GAME 4

At Cleveland, August 28, 2003

The Atlanta Falcons closed out the 2003 preseason with a 20-9 loss against the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland Browns Stadium to finish winless in the preseason. The Falcons defense managed to hold the Browns to a 2.1-yard rushing average, but the Cleveland passing game gained 333 yards passing on just 17 completions for an average of 19 yards per reception. The Falcons were plagued by mistakes, committing nine penalties and losing two fumbles. The Falcons running game did improve, gaining 138 yards for a 5.1-yard average, and WR Peerless Price had an impressive first half with four receptions for 90 yards, including a 33-yard touchdown reception. Cleveland took a 10-0 lead with scores on its first two possessions. On Cleveland's first play from scrimmage, QB Kelly Holcomb completed a 68-yard pass to WR Kevin Johnson on a flea-flicker to position the Browns for a 28-yard field goal. Cleveland converted three third-down plays on their next offensive series before RB William Green scored from the two yard line. QB Doug Johnson closed the gap later in the second quarter with a 33-yard touchdown pass to Price, but PK Jay Feely's point after was blocked. Backup QB Tim Couch completed a 31-yard pass to Andre King into Atlanta territory, and then two plays later hit WR Dennis Northcutt for a 57-yard touchdown pass and a 17-6 lead. DE Patrick Kerney forced Couch to fumble on a sack late in the first half, and DE Travis Hall recovered the ball for a Falcons first down at the Cleveland 49-yard line. Johnson hit Price for an 18-yard gain to the Cleveland 33-yard line with just four seconds to play in the first half to set up a successful 51-yard Feely field goal for a 17-9 Browns lead at the end of the first half. QB Kurt Kittner and RB Jeff Chaney fumbled the exchange in the fourth quarter to set up the Browns final points on a 46-yard field goal.

TEAM FOUNDER RANKIN M. SMITH

"He was a pioneer and a quiet leader. He was a person of great integrity and had a lot of respect from me and my predecessor, Pete Rozelle, and from all of the other owners. He was such a high quality person. He was a person on whose work you could rely on. In the 1960s he was a pioneer in bringing the NFL to Georgia, and particularly in the Southeast."

– NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue

Team owner and founder Rankin M. Smith passed away from heart complications just hours before the Falcons October 26, 1997 game at Carolina. Some of the largest footprints on professional, college and high school sports in Atlanta belong to Smith, who founded the Atlanta Falcons in 1966.

- Over three decades ago in the early 1960s, Smith began planting the seeds that saw professional sports finally blossom in Atlanta.

- Smith was part of a group that formed "Major Sports, Inc.," with goals of pro sports franchises for Atlanta. That group helped get Atlanta Stadium built by 1965. Major Sports, Inc., later became the Stadium Authority that operated Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

- Smith paid the highest price in NFL history at the time in 1965 for an NFL franchise. Former commissioner Pete Rozelle and Smith made the deal in about five minutes and the Atlanta Falcons brought the largest and most popular sport to the city of Atlanta.

- Smith worked with the city, county and state to build one of the largest facilities for conventions, trade shows and other major events in the world. The spectacular Georgia Dome opened its doors in 1992, giving the Falcons one of the best fan-friendly stadiums in America. Having the Georgia Dome helped land the Olympic games to Atlanta in 1992.

- He was the catalyst and the driving force in bringing the most prestigious of all sporting events, the Super Bowl, to Atlanta in 1994. The week-long fanfare and the most-watched TV sport in the world had a huge economic value to the city and tons of free publicity to lure other events, conventions and meetings to the city. He lobbied hard to bring back the game to Atlanta in 2000.

HISTORY CAPSULE

The date June 30, 1965, always will be remembered as both a termination and a commencement in the history of Atlanta sports. For on that day the end came to the many and disparate struggles to place a professional football team in the Southeast's key metropolis. At the same time the Atlanta Falcons were born and began a storied tenure in the National Football League.

All that had gone before – the successes (an $18 million stadium to play in) and the near-misses (aborted attempts to place other franchises in the city) – was set aside for the immediate business of fielding a team in little over a year's time.

Prime mover in this task was Rankin Smith, a young insurance executive who had controlling ownership of the Falcons.

Virtually unknown to the general public before that June day, Smith immediately endeared himself to aficionados of the sport by asking a choice rhetorical question at a press conference following his acquisition of the franchise: "Doesn't every adult male in America want to own his own football team?" Not every adult male American has the wherewithal to swing such a deal, but it was comforting to hear that a man is capable of dreams like those of any other guy.

The day's proceedings threw the city into a happy delirium unequaled in the history of football. By the time Smith got back to his insurance office 24 hours later, there had been over 1,000 phone calls for tickets. He had to push his way through stacks of mail. By August, when a contest was completed which resulted in the nickname Falcons, a few of the avid fans even had come to blows in defense of what they believed their adopted team should be called. Several persons suggested the name "Falcons" in a contest, but a school teacher from nearby Griffin, Miss Julia Elliott, was selected winner because of her reasons: "the falcon is proud and dignified, with great courage and fight. It never drops prey. It is deadly and has a great sporting tradition."

By the middle of December, Smith had signed the most coveted college football player in the nation, Texas linebacker Tommy Nobis. By Christmas Eve, when the Falcons cut off a brief 54-day ticket sale requiring almost no promotion, an NFL record had been established for season tickets sold by a new club (45,000).

And in January, Smith surprised the entire athletic fraternity by naming a head coach who never had been mentioned in the perpetual stream of journalistic speculation about the job. But Green Bay Packer assistant Norb Hecker assumed his new post with vigor and immediately embraced the gigantic job of sifting – along with Director of Player Personnel Gene Cronin – a huge list of NFL players made available to the Atlanta expansion team by other teams in the league.

Finally, three men were chosen from each club and these 42 formed the nucleus of the roster Hecker had to work with when he took the team to summer training camp in Black Mountain, North Carolina in early July. Added to this group were the drafted rookies, scores of free agents and a few miscellaneous players obtained in trades. In all, Hecker and his staff were faced with evaluating over 130 men from July to September.

Then, on August 27, in Columbia, South Carolina, the Falcons recorded their first victory, defeating the San Francisco 49ers, 24-17, in a preseason game.

Once the stadium, Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium, was built, Atlantans felt the time was ripe to start pursuing professional football. One independent group which had been active in NFL preseason promotions in Atlanta applied for franchises in both the AFL and the NFL, acting entirely on its own with no guarantee of stadium rights. Another group reported it had deposited earnest money for a team in the AFL.

With everyone running in different directions, some local businessmen worked out a deal and were awarded an AFL franchise on June 7, 1965, contingent upon acquiring exclusive stadium rights from city officials. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who had been moving deliberately in Atlanta matters, headed on the next plane down to Atlanta to protect his league's claim on the city of Atlanta. He forced the city to make a choice between the two leagues. Of course, on that memorable June 30, Rankin Smith and the NFL were the choice.

The huge void which had been the Southeast without an NFL team was beginning to close. Fans were looking now toward Atlanta. The Falcons expect to be filling that void for a long time.

A new chapter in the history of the Atlanta Falcons began on December 6, 2001. On that day, Arthur M. Blank, the co-founder and retired co-chairman of Atlanta-based Home Depot, reached a preliminary agreement with the Falcons' Taylor Smith to purchase the team. In a special meeting prior to Super Bowl XXXVI in New Orleans on February 2, 2002, NFL owners voted unanimously to approve the purchase.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY OF THE FALCONS

Rankin M. Smith was awarded, by the National Football League, a franchise for the city of Atlanta for $8.5 million. At the time there were 14 NFL franchises in existence, eight AFL clubs. Officially, Atlanta became the 23rd professional football club in existence, the 15th in the NFL prior to the merger. An average of 56,526 people filled Atlanta Stadium to watch the Falcons finish their inaugural season at 3-11. The Falcons claimed their first victory on November 20 defeating the New York Giants, 27-16, at storied Yankee Stadium. Head Coach Norb Hecker's team, at the time, became the only expansion team in history not to finish in last place. The Falcons finished in seventh place in a field of eight teams in the NFL's Eastern Conference. The Falcons' first pick in the draft, LB Tommy Nobis, was voted to the Pro Bowl and named Rookie of the Year.

1967

A disappointing second year saw the Falcons finish the season at 1-12-1. While the broad picture looked bleak, there were cameos of excellence that led to a promising future. LB Tommy Nobis was named to his second Pro Bowl and RB Junior Coffey ended the year with 722 yards to finish as the eighth leading rusher in the league and the Falcons' Most Valuable Player.

1968

Norm Van Brocklin was named to replace Norb Hecker as head coach after three games in the season. The 2-12 Falcons won twice after Brocklin's arrival and finished short by a touchdown or less in three other games. Claude Humphrey, the Falcons first-round draft choice, was voted NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year for his play at left end. Billy Lothridge, despite having to start at safety, won his second consecutive NFL punting championship. LB Tommy Nobis was also named to his third-straight Pro Bowl.

1969

The Falcons doubled their best victory total ending the season at 6-8. Atlanta started the season with its first victory in a season opener, a 24-12 decision vs. San Francisco at Fulton-County Stadium. Backup QB Randy Johnson was named NFL Offensive Player of the Week for his four-touchdown effort in the Falcons' 48-31 victory over the Chicago Bears on November16. RB Harmon Wages scored three touchdowns vs. New Orleans on December 7, as he threw, caught and ran for a touchdown in a 45-17 win. The club would finish the season in its highest place yet in the Coastal Division at third. Seven Falcons were named to the Pro Bowl: RB Jim Butler, QB Bob Berry, LB Greg Brezina, K Bob Etter, T George Kunz, TE Jim Mitchell and DB Ken Reaves.

1970

The Falcons completed their fifth season at 4-8-2, but were not far away from having their first winning season as four times Atlanta led deep in the fourth quarter (vs. San Francisco, Green Bay, Los Angeles and Philadelphia) only to lose or be tied in the final moments. Quarterback Bob Berry had the franchise's first 300-yard passing game vs. the Packers on September 27 and RB Jim Butler set a new club record in rushing with 127 yards on 17 carries in the home opener vs. the 49ers on October 4. Over 30 million viewers saw the Falcons face the Dolphins in Atlanta's first game nationally on Monday Night Football with Miami prevailing, 20-7. Defensive end Claude Humphrey, T George Kunz and LB Tommy Nobis represented the Falcons at the Pro Bowl.

1971

For the first time in team history, ticket prices are raised. Most seats increase in price from $6 to $7.50. Head coach Norm Van Brocklin was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina, becomes the third home of the Falcons' training camp. The Falcon uniform is also changed as the team switches to red jerseys. On November 22, Atlanta wins its first nationally-televised game with a 28-21 victory over Green Bay at home on Monday Night Football. The Falcons post their first winning season in history at 7-6-1, after WR Ken Burrow pulls in a winning touchdown pass from QB Bob Berry with 40 seconds remaining in a 24-20 victory over New Orleans on December 19 in the regular-season finale but still do not qualify for the postseason. Defensive end Claude Humphrey is named to his second-straight Pro Bowl.

1972

Draft rights for Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan of Auburn are obtained as the Falcons make four deals involving six veterans. Running back Dave Hampton scores two touchdowns and rushes for a club record of 161 yards as the Falcons stop Los Angeles, 31-3, on October 1 for the team's first victory ever, in 11 games, over the Rams. Fellow RB Art Malone rushes for 103 yards, marking the first time in Atlanta's seven-year history that two backs have ever gained 100 yards or more rushing in one game. On December 17, Hampton gains enough yards to go past the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the season, but then loses six of it to finish with 995 yards on the season, thus not becoming the team's first 1,000-yard rusher. The Falcons finish with a 7-7 record and in second place in the NFC Western Division. Defensive end Claude Humphrey, LB Tommy Nobis and TE Jim Mitchell are named to the Pro Bowl for the Falcons.

1973

Smashing 35 team records, the Falcons defeat New Orleans in the season opener, 62-7. In one of the most dramatic comebacks in the club's history, Atlanta rebounds to defeat the previously unbeaten Minnesota Vikings, 20-14, before a capacity crowd at Atlanta Stadium and a national-television audience. The Falcons finish the season at 9-5 for their most wins and best record ever, but lose out for the playoffs by just one game. Rookie kicking specialist Nick Mike-Mayer, DE Claude Humphrey, DE John Zook and T George Kunz were named to the National Football Conference Pro Bowl team on December 18.

1974

Norm Van Brocklin is fired as head coach-general manager after eight games into the season on November 5. Marion Campbell, the Falcons' defensive coordinator since 1969, is named head coach the following day. A record low of 40,202 "no shows" is recorded at Atlanta Stadium as Los Angeles defeats the Falcons, 30-7, in sub-freezing weather on December 1. Rookie QB Kim McQuilken, making his second start of the year, leads the Falcons to a season-closing 10-3 victory over Green Bay to finish the team's record for the year at 3-11. DE Claude Humphrey and C Jeff Van Note are selected to represent Atlanta at the Pro Bowl.

1975

The Falcons trade veteran T George Kunz and a draft choice to Baltimore for the No. 1 pick in the 1975 NFL draft. Atlanta also got the Colts' sixth round choice. Quarterback Steve Bartkowski of California, a consensus All-America, is selected by the Falcons as the No. 1 draft choice on January 28. On February 26, Pat Peppler, instrumental in the construction of two Super Bowl championships at Green Bay (1967 and 1968) and Miami (1973 and 1974), is named the Falcons' new general manager. Running back Dave Hampton finally cracked the elusive 1,000-yard Club, by gaining 61 yards in the final game of the season against the Green Bay Packers. Those yards pushed his total to 1,002, making him the first back in Falcons history to gain 1,000 or more yards rushing. Atlanta ended the season at 4-10. The Falcons had two players selected to the Pro Bowl following the season: C Jeff Van Note and P John James.

1976

After the club's fourth loss in five starts, Marion Campbell is fired as head coach. Chairman of the Board Rankin M. Smith Sr. names Pat Peppler interim head coach on October 11. Atlanta exploded for 17 points in the fourth quarter to upset playoff-bound Dallas, 17-10, on Nov. 21, before 54,992 fans at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. Under Peppler, the Falcons finish the season 4-10. Punter John James is selected to his second straight Pro Bowl.

1977

The Falcons begin a complete revamping of the front office. On February 1, former Washington Redskin and Dallas Cowboy quarterback Eddie LeBaron is named General Manager and Rankin M. Smith, Jr. is named President of the team. Leeman Bennett, an assistant coach with the Los Angeles Rams for four years, is named the Falcons' head coach on February 3. The May 3-4 draft sees the Falcons with two first round choices, which are used to select T Warren Bryant of Kentucky and DT Wilson Famuina of San Jose State. During the season, the Falcons defense established a modern-day NFL record of 129 points allowed in a 14-game season, as the club finishes 7-7. The defense gains the popular nickname "The Gritz Blitz". Punter John James, DE Claude Humphrey and DB Rolland Lawrence are named to the Pro Bowl.

1978

On March 30, the Falcons announce plans for a new year-round training site and team headquarters to be constructed in Suwanee, Georgia. The team unveiled new uniforms, which featured silver-gray pants on August 19. The Falcons record their first ever shutout in Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium on October 15, with a 14-0 defeat of Detroit. Tim Mazzetti kicks five field goals to give Atlanta a 15-7 Monday Night victory over the Los Angeles Rams on October 30. On December 16, the Falcons clinch their first ever playoff berth when Chicago defeats Washington as the Falcons close out the season with a 9-7 record. Quarterback Steve Bartowski throws two touchdown passes in the final eight minutes to spark a 14-13 Atlanta win vs. Philadelphia in the NFC Wild card Playoff Game on December 24 for the Falcons first-ever playoff victory. The Falcons lose the next week in the Divisional Playoff Game 27-20 at Dallas after squandering a 20-13 halftime lead.

1979

Rookie RB William Andrews establishes a new club single game rushing record with a 167-yard performance at New Orleans on September 2, in his NFL debut. On September 16, QB Steve Bartkowski sets a new franchise record for single game passing with 326 yards on 20 of 29 passing against Denver. Running back Lynn Cain becomes the first Falcon player to ever score three touchdowns in a single game as he catches two and rushes for another against Oakland on October 14. In a 31-21 victory over San Francisco on December 16, records were broken for the season by Andrews with 1,023 yards rushing, WR Wallace Francis with 74 catches for 1,013 yards and by Bartkowski with 2,502 passing yards (203-379). The Falcons finish the year at 6-10 and C Jeff Van Note is selected to play in the Pro Bowl.

1980

The Falcons go on a nine-game winning streak, starting with a 41-14 rout of New Orleans, to finish with a 12-4 record to capture the team's first-ever NFC Western Division title. The Falcons nine straight wins and 12 wins on the season are both club bests. In a battle of 12-4 teams in Atlanta, the Falcons build a 27-17 lead over Dallas in the NFC Divisional Playoff game, but are defeated by the Cowboys 30-27 in front of the largest crowd in stadium history (60,022). The year features club records in passing from QB Steve Bartkowski (3,544 yards and 31 TDs), rushing by RB William Andrews (1,308 yards) and receiving by WR Alfred Jenkins (1,025 yards) plus LB Al Richardson got a takeaway in nine consecutive games as the team garnered a total of 42 takeaways. A record six Falcons are selected to play in the Pro Bowl: Andrews, Bartkowski, Jenkins, C Jeff Van Note, T Mike Kenn and TE Junior Miller.

1981

Trailing Green Bay 17-0 after three quarters on the road, the Falcons erupt for an NFL record tying 31 fourth quarter points in a 31-17 win. The team finishes the year at 7-9 and has a club-record seven members selected to the Pro Bowl: T Mike Kenn, QB Steve Bartkowski, C Jeff Van Note, WR Alfred Jenkins, RB William Andrews, TE Junior Miller and G R.C. Thielemann. The team will look back on seven losses of five points or less as to why they finished with the 7-9 record. The defeats were by 1,2,2,3,3,3 and 5 points.

1982

Season ticket sales are halted after reaching a club record 55,144 as Atlanta finishes the strike-shortened season at 5-4. For the third time in five seasons, the Falcons go to the playoffs with a playoff-clinching 17-7 victory on national-television at San Francisco on December 19. In the opening round of the playoffs at Minnesota, the Falcons special teams score touchdowns on a blocked punt and a fake field goal to help build a 21-13 lead in the second half. But the Vikings rally for 14 points in the 4th quarter to win 30-24. Tackle Mike Kenn, G R.C. Thielemann, C Jeff Van Note and RB William Andrews are selected to the Pro Bowl.

1983

The Falcons end the year with a 7-9 record as new head coach Dan Henning takes over the team. Defensive end Kenny Johnson became only the 12th player in NFL history to score two touchdowns in the same game on interception returns as Atlanta defeats Green Bay 41-34 in overtime. Running back William Andrews sets a new club record with 331 rushing attempts for 1,567 yards. Quarterback Steve Bartkowski has his third 3,000-yard season and set a team mark with a 63.4% completion rate and just a 1.1% interception rate (5 interceptions in 432 passing attempts), while C Jeff Van Note starts his 200th game as a Falcon on December 18. Andrews, PR Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, T Mike Kenn and G R.C. Thielemann are all named to the Pro Bowl for the Falcons.

1984

Running back Gerald Riggs takes over for the Falcons' all-time leading rusher William Andrews who is out for the season after knee surgery. On opening day at New Orleans, Riggs sets a new club record with 35 attempts for 202 yards in a 36-28 win. This begins the first of three consecutive 1,000-yard seasons for Riggs who carries 483 times over 18 games without fumbling. The Falcons finish the year at 4-12 and T Mike Kenn is the lone player for Atlanta selected to play in the Pro Bowl.

1985

Billy "White Shoes" Johnson became the NFL's all-time leading punt returner as he gains 58 yards in the season opener versus Detroit on September 8. On the final game of the season, RB Gerald Riggs runs for 158 yards, his 9th 100-yard game of the year, in a 16-10 win at New Orleans to finish the season with 1,719 yards and leads the NFC in rushing, while being named to the Pro Bowl. The team ends their second straight season at 4-12. Eddie LeBaron, Vice President and CEO, is dismissed, while former Falcon head coach Marion Campbell is hired as defensive coordinator.

1986

The Falcons soared to four straight wins by beating New Orleans, St. Louis, Dallas and Tampa Bay for the best-ever start in club history. On December 14, Atlanta Fulton-County Stadium played host to Jeff Van Note day as the 18-year veteran center was honored after 246 games. With all his family present, Van Note was presented gifts including a vintage 1957 Chevy (symbolic of his jersey #57 and being a classic). Place kicker Mick Luckhurst extended his club record to 117 consecutive PATs, as the team lost seven of their last nine contests to end the year at 7-8-1. Guard Bill Fralic and RB Gerald Riggs were selected to represent the Falcons at the Pro Bowl.

1987

For the second time in his career, Marion Campbell is named head coach of the team. After being defeated 48-10 at Tampa Bay in the season opener the Falcons rebound claiming victory over the eventual World Champion Washington Redskins 21-20 in front of over 50,000 fans at Fulton-County Stadium on September 20. Also on that day, PR Billy "White Shoes" Johnson added another milestone to his brilliant career by becoming the NFL's all-time leading punt returner by recording his 259th lifetime return. On September 22, the NFL Players Association walk off the job for the second time in five years, but only one game is cancelled. The League's owners decide to continue with replacement players. Running back Gerald Riggs becomes the club's all-time leading rusher with 5,987 yards, surpassing William Andrews on December 6. Punter Rick Donnelly and WR Sylvester Stamps claim a pair of NFL individual titles as they finish the season with the league's punting title with a 44.03 average and a league-best 27.5 kick-off return average, respectinely. The Falcons end the year with a 3-12 record, while G Bill Fralic and Riggs are named to the Pro Bowl.

1988

An improving Falcons defense was among the best in the NFL during the second half of the season as Atlanta finishes the '88 campaign at 5-11. Atlanta's "baby boomers" (average age of 25) allowed only six touchdowns over the final seven games. Cornerback Scott Case laid claim to a spot in the Pro Bowl by being named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for November. Case picked off 10 passes on the season to finish atop the league charts and set a Falcons record for interceptions in a season. Running back John Settle put his name in the league record book by becoming the first free agent in NFL history since the 1970 merger to gain 1,000 yards in a season with 1,024 yards. Guard Bill Fralic joined Case and Settle in the Pro Bowl following the season.

1989

Deion "Prime Time" Sanders, who after a lengthy holdout, reports to camp and takes part in practice on Friday and a Saturday walk-through before the season opener versus the Los Angeles Rams. In the first quarter, Sanders returns a punt 68 yards for a touchdown. After hitting a home run for the New York Yankees earlier in the week, it makes him the only modern day athlete to hit a homerun and score a touchdown in the same week. G Bill Fralic goes to a fourth consecutive Pro Bowl, the only guard in the NFL to do so, and is named to the 2nd team of the All-NFL team of the 80's. Rookie WR Shawn Collins leads all NFL rookies and sets a club rookie mark with 58 catches, while Sanders gains post-season recognition by leading all rookie defensive backs with five interceptions and gaining over 1,000 yards in return yardage. Head coach Marion Campbell announces his resignation after 12 games (3-9); leaving assistant head coach Jim Hanifan to take over for the final four games. The team ends the season with a 3-13 mark.

1990

Former Falcons defensive coordinator and Houston Oilers head coach Jerry Glanville accepts the offer to become the Falcons 9th head coach in franchise history. The team announces plans for their 25th Anniversary season that includes going back to the original black jerseys of 1966. In addition, black helmets are unveiled along with the anniversary logo patches for the uniforms. With the number one pick in the draft, Atlanta trades with Indianapolis for six-time Pro Bowl lineman T Chris Hinton, all-rookie WR Andre Rison and the following year's #1 pick. The Falcons close their first-ever undefeated preseason at 4-0 with a 45-14 win over New England. On September 9, Houston comes to town to face Atlanta and their former coach, but the Falcons prevail scoring three defensive touchdowns en route to a 47-27 victory. The Falcons led the NFL with a 3.3 per carry rush defense as the team moved up in over 20 statistical categories from the previous season to finish the year at 5-11. Linebacker Jessie Tuggle led the NFL in tackles with 201 and Rison sets a club mark with 82 pass receptions on his way to a Pro Bowl berth.

1991

The Falcons proved to be one of the most exciting and entertaining teams of the NFL in '91, winning six straight games down the stretch and eight of their last 11 contests, to earn a playoff berth at 10-6. Atlanta had the second most wins in club history with 11 and captured their first road playoff victory at New Orleans. The Falcons also made team history by sweeping through their NFC West road trips by defeating the Saints, Rams, and 49ers, giving San Francisco their only home loss on the season. A sell-out crowd witnessed the Falcons final home game of the 1991 season, as well as Atlanta's final game in Fulton-County Stadium. The Falcons defeated Seattle, 26-13, to run their home win streak to five straight. Cornerbacks Deion Sanders and Tim McKyer both co-led the NFC in interceptions with six apiece. Sanders was joined at the Pro Bowl by teammates WR Andre Rison, QB Chris Miller and T Chris Hinton.

1992

On August 23, a sold-out crowd and a national TV audience saw the Falcons win the first-ever football game in the new Georgia Dome, 20-10, over the Philadelphia Eagles. In the regular season opener in the Dome, Atlanta scored on their first four possessions en route to a 20-17 win over the New York Jets before another sellout crowd. The Falcons led the NFL with a club record 33-touchdown passes and became the only team to have 30 or more touchdowns in both '91 and '92. The 336 pass completions were a club season best as were the 194 passing first downs. Wide receiver Andre Rison set a club record with 93 receptions and became the first player in NFL history to have 300 catches in their first four years in the league. The Rison-Michael Haynes wide receiver tandem netted 21 touchdowns to lead the NFL for the second straight year (23 in '91). The team finished the season with a 6-10 record as Rison, DB Deion Sanders, LB Jessie Tuggle and special teams standout Elbert Shelley were named to the Pro Bowl.

1993

Led by Pro Bowlers WR Andre Rison, QB Bobby Hebert, S Elbert Shelley and PK Norm Johnson, Atlanta's offense scored over 300 points for the fourth consecutive season. Rison scored a club record 15 TDs and set a new standard for the most receptions in his first five seasons with 394. Hebert finished third in the NFL with a career-high 24 touchdown passes and had the NFL's longest play of the year, a 98-yard strike to WR Michael Haynes. Johnson nearly had a perfect season, connecting on 26-of-27 field goals (.963), while stretching his consecutive FG streak to 26 in-a-row, the second best mark in NFL history. Pro Bowl cornerback Deion Sanders continued to be an impact player, picking off seven passes while shutting down the league's top receivers. Third-year RB Erric Pegram made a name for himself, rushing for 1,185 yards, the fourth highest total in '93 as the team ended the year for a second straight season at 6-10.

1994

June Jones was named the Falcons' 10th head coach on January 24 replacing Jerry Glanville who resigned following the 1993 season. The '94 season was trademarked by the way the team started and ended each game. The Falcons came out ready to play in the first quarters, rolling up a combined 93-61 advantage in those first 15 minutes of play. Atlanta also had the lead in 14 of the 16 games they played in and led 12 of those 16 games, heading into the fourth quarter only to finish the year with a 7-9 record. In 11 of the 16 games, the Falcons had the lead at the two-minute warning only to falter in the end. Wide receiver Terance Mathis closes out a brilliant season with a club record 111 receptions, the fourth highest total of all-time. His 1,342 receiving yards ranks second on the Atlanta's all-time charts. For his efforts, he is voted to the '95 Pro Bowl along with teammates LB Jessie Tuggle and S Elbert Shelley.

1995

In what would be Atlanta's first playoff season since 1991, the Falcons ended the regular season with a 9-7 mark, while establishing some club and league records along the way. Placekicker Morten Andersen, who was signed as a free agent from New Orleans before training camp, sets an NFL- mark with three field goals from beyond 50 yards in one game. Shots from 55, 55 and 51 capped a 19-14 victory over Andersen's former Saints teammates to give Atlanta their first sweep of New Orleans since 1985. Needing a win to make the playoffs, the Falcons pull off the improbable, defeating the defending World Champion 49ers, 28-27, in front of a frenzied crowd at the Georgia Dome on Christmas Eve. Quarterback Bobby Hebert connects with WR Terance Mathis on two touchdowns, including the game-winner, as Mathis makes an incredible run to the end zone with 1:45 remaining. Atlanta establishes an NFL record by having four players each gain 1,000 yards, including WRs Eric Metcalf (1,189), Terance Mathis (1,039), Bert Emanuel (1,039) and RB Craig Heyward (1,083). Quarterback Jeff George, meanwhile, became only the 18th quarterback in league history to have over 4,000 yards passing in a season by finishing with 4,143 yards. Linebacker Jessie Tuggle, S Elbert Shelley, DE Chris Doleman, Andersen and Hayward were named to the Pro Bowl.

1996

Only one season after earning a wild-card berth, Atlanta tied a club-mark for most losses and finished with the third-poorest winning percentage (.188) in team history with a 3-13 mark. A 31-15 victory over the Saints on December 8 snapped a 10-game road losing streak and provided the team with its first NFC West win outside the Georgia Dome since an overtime win in New Orleans on September 17, 1995. In a lone bright spot, RB Jamal Anderson became the seventh Falcons player in club history to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season, gaining 1,055 on the year. With Anderson's accomplishment, the Falcons were the only NFL team to have three different players in the past four years to gain 1,000 yards. On December 23, head coach June Jones was dismissed from the team.

1997

On January 3, Dan Reeves is named the 11th head coach in franchise history as he comes to Atlanta as Executive Vice President of Football Operations/Head Coach. After a difficult 1-7 start, the Falcons went 6-2 in their final eight games to finish 7-9, marking one of the best second-half comebacks in NFL history. Quarteback Chris Chandler came on strong and ranked second in the NFL in QB rating (95.1) on his way to his first Pro Bowl appearance, joining teammate LB Jessie Tuggle. The real story of the season, however, was the tremendous play of the defensive line, which established a club record 55 sacks to rank 2nd in the NFL. Defensive end Chuck Smith (12.0 sacks) and DT Travis Hall (10.5 sacks) led the charge. Team owner and founder Rankin M. Smith passed away on October 26 from heart complications just hours before the Falcons were to play a nationally televised game at Carolina. The 72-year old was remembered at a Tuesday memorial service as a quiet, behind-the-scenes "pioneer" who helped bring professional sports, and other major contributions, to his beloved city of Atlanta.

1998

The Falcons, who jumped from a 7-9 finish in 1997 to a franchise record 14-2 in 1998, specialized in quick turnovers. In one of the more heart felt stories of the year, head coach Dan Reeves underwent quadruple bypass surgery and a mere five weeks later coached his team to a 30-27 overtime victory against Minnesota to capture the NFC Championship that matched the Falcons against the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXXIII in Miami. The team accomplished many firsts in 1998 with the first-ever 8-0 home mark, best overall record at 14-2, most points in a season with 442 that included a best 53 touchdowns and a league-high 44 takeaways. Atlanta was paced by RB Jamal Anderson, who set a team record with 1,846 yards rushing, including an NFL high 12 100-yard games. The Falcons dubbed themselves the "Dirty Birds" and Anderson created a touchdown dance to fit the name. The dance, which even consisted of flapping arms to act like wings, was introduced when TE O.J. Santiago celebrated his two-touchdown effort following a 41-10 victory at New England in early November. The fever it generated captivated a national audience as well as brought the Falcons to the front of the Atlanta sports scene. Dan Reeves joining Anderson on stage for a rendition of the "Dirty Bird" following the NFC Championship trophy presentation was a lasting highlight of the team's journey to the Super Bowl. Reeves, who was named NFL Coach of the Year, guided his Falcons to just the second NFC West title in the 33-year history of the franchise. Quarterback Chris Chandler, CB Ray Buchanan, S Eugene Robinson, LB Jessie Tuggle and T Bob Whitfield joined Anderson in representing the Falcons in the Pro Bowl.

1999

The Atlanta Falcons entered the 1999 season with the hopes of defending their 1998 NFC Championship crown and becoming the first NFL team ever to reach the Super Bowl in its own stadium. The Georgia Dome was the site of Super Bowl XXXIV. Unfortunately the setbacks of an 0-4 start led the Falcons to a disappointing 5-11 finish. In Week 2 against the Dallas Cowboys in a Monday Night Football matchup at Texas Stadium, RB Jamal Anderson was lost for the season with a knee injury. The Falcons did reach some milestones through the season. Wide receiver Ternace Mathis became the club's all-time leader in receptions with a 12-catch, 166-yard performance in a Monday Night Football game at Pittsburgh. Linebacker Jessie Tuggle had his 12th-straight 100-tackle season after finishing with a team-leading 122 total tackles.

2000

After a 2-1 start that included victories over two key NFC West opponents, the Falcons season took a turn for the worse with a 4-12 final record. The Falcons suffered several key injuries including a season-ending foot injury to LB Keith Brooking after five games and LB Jessie Tuggle in the eighth game of the season. Running back Jamal Anderson returned to action following a 1999 season-ending knee injury, starting all 16 games and finishing with his fourth 1,000-yard season with 1,024 yards. Placekicker Morten Andersen began the season with a five-field goal game vs. San Francisco and then ended the year with five field goals in the season-finale vs. Kansas City. In the process he became the Falcons all-time leader in both field goals and points. Wide receiver Ternace Mathis became the club's all-time leader in receiving yards to pass WR Alfred Jenkins in that category. Rookie CB Darrick Vaughn, the Falcons seventh round draft choice, led the NFL with a 27.7 average and three kickoff returns for a touchdown. That average and the three touchdowns are both Falcons single-season high marks.

2001

The 2001 Atlanta Falcons entered Week 15 with a matchup at Miami with a 7-7 record and still alive in the NFC playoff race. Three controversial calls by the officials and two goal line stands by the Dolphins defense ended the Falcons postseason hopes with a 21-14 defeat. The next week the Falcons traveled to St. Louis and lost 31-13 to finish the year with a disappointing 7-9 record. Even with two overtime losses to San Francisco when the Falcons squandered fourth quarter leads, Atlanta jumped to a 6-4 record before winning just one of their remaining six games. Included in the wins was a big 23-20 victory over the Green Bay Packers at Lambeau Field, highlighted by a 352-passing effort by QB Chris Chandler. Long after memories of the disappointing 2001 season end, the year will be remembered for the nucleus of young players that emerged and will hopefully lead the Falcons to a successful future. Among the group of young players that stood out were Pro Bowl LB Keith Brooking, who had 10 or more tackles in 11 of the team's 16 games, and first-round draft pick QB Michael Vick. Vick had the normal growing pains of any rookie quarterback, but in the Miami game Vick, who played following an elbow injury to Chandler, showed flashes of his potential, completing 11 of 20 passes for 214 yards with a touchdown and gaining 63 yards rushing on five carries. Among his highlights were a 52-yard pass to WR Brian Finneran and a 23-yard scramble for a first down on a fourth-and-15 play. A renewed Chandler led the team to a 6-4 record in games where he started and finished, and DE Patrick Kerney had a break-out year with a team-leading 12.0 sacks. The day before the draft, the Falcons obtained the first pick in a trade with San Diego and used the pick on Vick, who is expected to be the quarterback of the future. In another historical move, team President Taylor Smith agreed to sell the team to local businessman Arthur Blank, who was approved by the NFL owners the day before the Super Bowl. A week before the final preseason game the end of an era came upon the Falcons when LB Jessie Tuggle retired following 14 seasons in Atlanta. The example he set helped his replacement Brooking, who was moved from the weakside linebacker spot to the middle, spring to the top of the middle linebacker lists in the NFL with a career-high 167 tackles.

2002

The Atlanta Falcons began the Arthur Blank era with a 9-6-1 record and a berth in the playoffs as a Wild Card participant. Blank helped resurrect the excitement in the Georgia Dome with added value to the fans with increased tailgating, parking and entertainment. The fans responded with every game being sold out. After beginning the year with a 1-3 record, head coach Dan Reeves and QB Michael Vick led the Falcons to an NFL-best eight-game unbeaten streak (7-0-1). The Falcons set records and showcased numerous highlights during that stretch. In a game at Pittsburgh, the Falcons rallied from a 34-17 deficit with just over eight minutes to play to tie the game at 34-34. The Falcons also shutout Carolina two times with a 30-0 victory at the Dome and a 41-0 win in Charlotte. The Falcons finished the season with a team-record 23 rushing touchdowns and a franchise-best eight games with 30 or more points. After finishing 30th in rushing in 1999, 28th in 2000 and 16th in 2001, the Falcons improved to 4th in the NFL in 2002. On the defensive side of the ball, new defensive coordinator Wade Phillips made a switch to a 3-4 defensive alignment that helped the team finish third in interceptions with 24, second in takeaways with 39 and fourth in sacks with 47. In his first season as a starter, Vick earned a Pro Bowl berth to become just the sixth quarterback to be voted to the Pro Bowl in his first year as a starter. Vick rushed for 173 yards in an overtime win at Minnesota, the highest single-game rushing total for an NFL quarterback ever. Vick also had the longest run ever by a Falcons quarterback with a 46-yard game-winning touchdown in overtime against the Vikings. LB Keith Brooking earned his second consecutive Pro Bowl berth after setting a career-high with 212 total tackles. Brooking had ten or more tackles in all 16 regular season games. In the postseason, the Falcons became the first team ever to defeat the Green Bay Packers in the postseason at Lambeau Field with a 27-7 win to advance to the second round of the NFC playoffs. The Falcons season came to an end the next week with a 20-6 loss against the Philadelphia Eagles at Veterans Stadium in an NFC Divisional playoff game.

One season removed from a playoff berth and a historical win over Green Bay in the playoffs, the 2003 Falcons fell to 5-11. Injuries and a lack of consistency punctuated the Falcons 2003 season. QB Michael Vick, who played a large role in the Falcons' push for the playoffs in 2002, suffered a broken right leg in the second preseason game against Baltimore and did not return until the 11th game of the regular season in a relief appearance at Houston. Strong first half efforts would give way to second half heartbreak as the Falcons went 2-6 in the eight games which they led at the half. The Falcons defeated the Dallas Cowboys in the regular season opener, 27-13, before losing their next seven contests. They did not win again until the ninth game of the season when they went on the road and defeated the New York Giants 27-7. The victory gave Falcons head coach Dan Reeves the 200th win of his career. Following the win over the Giants, Atlanta dropped its next three games before beating eventual NFC Champion Carolina 20-14 in overtime in a Sunday Night game. One year after setting the NFL single-game record for most yards rushing by a quarterback, Vick went out and rushed for a 141 yards in his first start of the season against the Panthers. His rushing performance marked the third-highest single game rushing total by a quarterback in NFL history. Three days after the victory against the Panthers, Reeves, who coached the Falcons for seven seasons, was released from his contract on December 10. Defensive coordinator Wade Phillips took over as interim coach for the final three games. After a disappointing 38-7 defeat at Indianapolis, Phillips led the Falcons to victories in their final two games, including a 30-28 victory on the road over the defending Super Bowl champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers, which knocked the Buccaneers from playoff contention. In the days leading up to the Buccaneers game, Rich McKay, who for the previous eight seasons was general manager of the Buccaneers, was named president and general manager of the Falcons on December 15. Less than two weeks after the conclusion of the season, Jim Mora was named head coach on January 9, 2004. LB Keith Brooking and TE Alge Crumpler were named to the Pro Bowl, with Crumpler earning a starting nod on the NFC squad.

HISTORICAL CALENDAR

THE START
June 30, 1965

The NFL awards a franchise to 41-year-old Rankin M. Smith, Executive Vice President of Life Insurance Company of Georgia, for $8.5 million. At the time there were 14 NFL franchises in existence, 8 AFL clubs. Officially, Atlanta became the 23rd professional football club in existence, the 15th in the NFL prior to the merger of the Leagues.

OFFICIALLY TITLED
Aug. 20, 1965

"Five Smiths, Inc." is registered as the corporate name for the Atlanta franchise. It is so named for Rankin Smith's five children: Rankin, Jr., Carrol Christine, Dorothy Ann, Taylor, and Nancy Karen.

STOCKHOLDERS
Aug. 24, 1965

The listed stockholders of the franchise included Lindsey Hopkins, Jr., Howard Dobbs, Jr., Cody Laird, Jr., I. M. Sheffield III, Dorothy Laird Williams, W. Barrett Howell, and M. E. Kilpatrick.

THE NICKNAME
Aug. 29, 1965

"Falcons" was suggested by many, with reasons from a school teacher from Griffin, Georgia singled out. Miss Julia Elliott said: "the Falcon is proud and dignified, with great courage and fight. It never drops its prey. It is deadly and has a great sporting tradition." A logo was designed by Wayland Moore Studios.

YOU NEED PLAYERS
Sept. 9, 1965

Halfback Bob Paremore and split end Gary Barnes, who had been in the NFL with the Cardinals and Bears, were the first two players to sign with the Falcons.

THE FIRST DRAFT
Nov. 27, 1965

With the first pick in the entire draft, the Falcons chose Outland Trophy winning Linebacker Tommy Nobis from the University of Texas. After being drafted also by Houston of the AFL, he chose the Falcons on Dec. 14 and signed a contract. As the Falcons got two choices in each of the first five rounds, QB Randy Johnson of Texas A&I was the other first round pick by Atlanta. All told, the Falcons gained 25 players in the 20 round draft, the last one being defensive back Bob Riggle from Penn State. Nobis is the club's Vice President/Corporate Development, while Riggle served 21 years as a team scout.

THE HEAD COACH
Jan. 26, 1966

Norb Hecker, 39, left the Green Bay staff of Vince Lombardi to accept the job as the Falcons first head coach. He was with Lombardi seven years as they won three world titles and four conference titles. Gene Cronin, the Director of Player Personnel, deserves the distinction of being the first member of the Falcon organization named by Mr. Smith.

SUPPLEMENTAL DRAFT
Feb. 16, 1966

Allotted three picks from each of the 14 other NFL teams, the Falcons added 42 more players. Each team, who had a 40-man roster, placed 11 available for the Falcons to select from. Among those picks was their first leading rusher (Junior Coffey from Green Bay), their first leading receiver (Alex Hawkins from Baltimore), and a defensive captain (Bill Jobko from Minnesota).

HEAD FOR THE MOUNTAINS

March 26, 1966

A YMCA Camp, Blue Ridge Assembly on Black Mountain, N.C. (near Asheville) is selected as the first summer training camp home.

THE MERGER OCCURS

June 8, 1966

The AFL and NFL agree to merge with a Championship Game to be played. The teams would not actually begin playing regular season games until 1970. Atlanta was assigned to the NFL's Western Conference, Coastal Division, with the Los Angeles Rams, Baltimore Colts, and San Francisco 49ers.

THE FIRST PRACTICE

July 2, 1966

Training Camp opened with some 130 players checking in for physicals and their chance to be an NFL player. One of the camp's visitors was Rev. Billy Graham, who lived just a few miles from the Blue Ridge Assembly. All told, 66 rookies reported with the vets checking in on July 9.

THE FIRST GAME

Aug. 1, 1966

Before 26,072 at Atlanta Stadium, Philadelphia claims a 9-7 win over the Falcons. Trivia fans might want to note that QB Dennis Claridge passed one yard to Tom Wilson for the Falcons first ever touchdown (second quarter) to provide a 7-6 halftime lead.

THIS GAME IS FOR REAL

Sept. 11, 1966

The Los Angeles Rams handed the Falcons a 19-14 loss before 54,418 at Atlanta Stadium. The Rams of George Allen were led by QB Roman Gabriel (294 yards). After a 16-0 lead, Atlanta rallied to make it 16-14 before a third quarter Ram FG ended the scoring. Pre-game ceremonies included Commissioner Pete Rozelle, Governor Carl Sanders, and Mayor Ivan Allen. Falcon RB Ernie Wheelwright ran for 91 yards and caught a pass for 25 more to lead the offense.

THE FIRST POINTS

Sept. 11, 1966

It was the second quarter when QB Randy Johnson hit Gary Barnes for a 53-yard touchdown to officially score the first points for the Atlanta Falcons.

THE FIRST OFFICIAL WIN

Nov. 30, 1966

After nine straight losses, the Falcons claimed one for the W column at Yankee Stadium (62,746), 27-16. Former Giant Ernie Wheelwright scored two TD's receiving and ran for 51 more yards as QB Randy Johnson hit for a trio of TD's.

TYING AN NFL RECORD WITH FIRST HOME WIN

Dec. 11, 1966

The Falcons tied an NFL record for an expansion team (Minnesota) by winning a third game. This victim was the St. Louis Cardinals, 16-10, before 57,169. The second win had been at Minnesota with Bobby Riggle returning an interception 62 yards for a touchdown.

ATLANTA'S FIRST ALL-PRO
Dec. 15, 1967

Linebacker Tommy Nobis was named to the AP All-Pro team, a Falcon first. This honor followed his Rookie of the Year performance in 1966 (Bert Bell Award and Pro Football Writers Association).

A NEW REGIME
Oct. 1, 1968

Norm Van Brocklin, formerly head coach of Vikings, is named to replace Norb Hecker after three games of season. Two weeks later, his Falcons beat New York, 24-21, in first meeting between Van Brocklin and his former QB, Fran Tarkenton.

STARTING ON THE RIGHT FOOT
Sept. 21, 1969

Falcons win first season opener ever, beating 49ers, 24-12, before home fans. Rookie Tight End Jim Mitchell scored two TD's and club set team record with 229 yards rushing.

TRIPLE PLAY
Dec. 7, 1969

Harmon Wages had a game to remember in this 45-17 rout of the Saints. The second year back threw for a TD in the first quarter (16 yards to Flatley), then caught a pass for a TD in the second quarter (88 yards), and then ran for a TD in the fourth quarter (66 yards).

A PASSING FEAT
Sept. 27, 1970

In Week Two at Green Bay, QB Bob Berry sets club records with the Franchise's first 300-yard passing game (28-44 for 302), but Packers rally for 27-24 win.

CANNONBALL EXPLODES
Oct. 4, 1970

Jim "Cannonball" Butler, just one week after Berry's passing record, sets a new club rushing record in the home opener against the 49ers. The seven-year veteran set two club records that day. One was for most yards (127 on 17 carries), the other was for most fumbles (4).

NATIONAL TV!
Nov. 30, 1970

Over 30 million Monday Night TV viewers saw their first game from Atlanta as the Miami Dolphins came to town with ABC-TV. Larry Csonka (108) and Mercury Morris (76) ran away with a 20-7 Miami victory.

A HALL OF FAMER
Feb. 23, 1971

Coach Norm Van Brocklin is elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

CATCH THIS ACT
Oct. 3 and Dec. 19, 1971

Rookie sensation Ken Burrow made more yardage receiving in one game than any NFC receiver, and he wrote his name in the club record book TWICE. He had 190 yards at Detroit and duplicated that feat at New Orleans. All of this was done playing the final 11 games with a broken wrist.

A WINNING SEASON
Dec. 19, 1971

In dramatic fashion with 40 seconds left, the Falcons score to beat New Orleans, 24-20, to finish the season at 7-6-1, thus giving them the first winning season in club history.

A COAST TO COAST WIN
Nov. 22, 1971

Falcons win their first Nationally televised game with a 28-21 triumph over Green Bay in Atlanta. Atlanta had 77 plays to the Packers 33, outgaining them 386-143, as Monday Night TV televised the action.

A JINX IS ENDED WITH 1-2 PUNCH
Oct. 1, 1972

After 10 unsuccessful tries, Falcons finally defeat the L.A. Rams, in humiliating fashion, 31-3 at Atlanta Stadium. Hampton and Art Malone set a club record by each running for over 100 yards (161 Hampton and 103 Malone).

"UNOFFICIAL" 1,000
Dec. 17, 1972

Dave Hampton technically was the club's first 1,000- yard rusher. At Kansas City, the veteran running back scampered around end for his 1,000th yard. However, his next carry was a six-yard loss and his final carry a one-yard gain. Thus, he ended at 995, never officially getting his name in the Falcon record book.

LIGHTING UP SCOREBOARD
Sept. 16, 1973

Opening against New Orleans, Falcons smash 35 team records en route to 62-7 victory.

MONDAY NIGHT MADNESS
Oct. 19, 1973

Unbeaten Vikings (9-0) come to town to face surging Falcons (five in a row) before national audience. No Falcon fan is disappointed as club responds to challenge with 20-14 win for 6th straight.

"HARD LUCK" HAMPTON AND FALCONS
1973 Season

After missing by five yards for a 1,000-yard season in 1972, Dave Hampton comes even closer in 1973. Needing 87 yards in the finale, he gets just 84 and finishes three yards shy of the magic number. The Falcons are equally close, finishing 9-5 for their most wins and best record ever, but losing out for the playoffs by one game.

TRADING FOR THE FUTURE
Jan. 27, 1975

In order to obtain the rights to the number one pick in the college draft, the Falcons send offensive tackle George Kunz and a draft choice to Baltimore. Falcons also got a 6th round pick (and took LB Fulton Kuykendall).

THE FUTURE IS HERE
Jan. 28, 1975

With that top choice, the Falcons select all-America QB Steve Bartkowski from California.

HOORAY FOR HAMPTON
Dec. 21, 1975

Running Back Dave Hampton becomes first Falcon to gain 1,000 yards rushing (1,002) with 61 in final game vs. Green Bay.

FRONT OFFICE MOVES
Feb. 1-3, 1977

Former NFL quarterback Eddie LeBaron is named General Manager, with Rankin M. Smith, Jr. assuming the title of Club President. Two days later, Leeman Bennett, a Rams assistant becomes fifth Head Coach in club history.

ZERO HOUR
Nov. 27, 1977

In shutout of Bucs, Falcons set club record by allowing just 78 total yards. It is also the second 0 performance by the defense on the season, also a club first.

NFL RECORD!
1977 Defense

With 35-7 final win over Saints, Falcons establish new NFL modern day record for 14-game season by allowing just 129 points all year as club finishes 7-7.

JUNE JONES, GRITZ BLITZ GO NATIONAL
Oct. 30, 1978

In their first national TV game in four years, the Falcons lose Bartkowski in 2nd quarter. Enter June Jones, kicker Tim Mazzetti's five field goals, and the hard hitting Gritz Blitz defense and you have a 15-7 upset of the Rams.

"BIG BEN RIGHT"
Nov. 12, 1978

With 2:23 remaining the Falcons were trailing 17-6 at their own 20-yard line at New Orleans. An 80-yard march made it 17-13 with 59 seconds left. With 19 seconds left, Bartkowski threw 57 yards into a cluster where Alfred Jackson caught a pass deflected by Wallace Francis and the Falcons clock struck victory.

CLINCHING A PLAYOFF BERTH THE EASY WAY
Dec. 15, 1978

When Redskins lose to Bears, Falcons are ensured their first Playoff berth. The next day, L.A. beat Green Bay to give the Falcons a home field game.

DEALING THE WILD CARD
Dec. 24, 1978

With two TD's in the final eight minutes, the Falcons overcame the rainy weather to win their Playoff game over the Eagles, 14-13. The Christmas Eve present to the fans was not complete until the Eagles missed a 34-yard FG in the final seconds. Merry Christmas!

VALIANT UNDERDOGS
Dec. 30, 1978

As 14-point underdogs in Texas Stadium, the Falcons came ready to win. They jumped out to a 20-13 halftime lead and knocked QB Roger Staubach unconscious just before the half. The home-team Cowboys regained the lead 27-20 as the Falcons marched for a tying score. With 4th-and-1 at the Cowboy 32, the Falcons came up inches short and never got the ball back.

WILIAM WHO?
Sept. 2, 1979

Third-round draft choice William Andrews made his NFL debut memorable with a club- record 167 yard effort in a 40-34 overtime win at the Superdome. Each team gained over 500 yards offense before Falcons won with special teams interception TD.

ADDING UP THE TOTALS
Dec. 16, 1979

Records were broken for the season by William Andrews with 1,023 yards, by Wallace Francis with 74 catches for 1,013 yards and by Steve Bartkowski with 2,502 yards (203-379).

THE BIGGER THEY ARE, THE HARDER THE FALL
Sept. 28 - Oct. 5, 1980

Undefeated opponents fall on successive weekends to the Falcons. First, the 49ers are upset 20-17 at Candlestick, then with a record-breaking 34-point first half, the Lions fall, 43-28.

HOW THE WEST WAS WON
Dec. 14, 1980

Bartkowski's 28th, 29th and 30th TD passes, Andrews, sixth 100-yard game and a rugged defense led to a 35-10 rout of the 49ers and the Falcons had earned their first-ever NFC Western Division Title. The win was the Falcons 9th straight and 12th of the season, both club bests.

HEARTBREAK IN GEORGIA
Jan. 5, 1981

Leading 24-10 heading into the 4th quarter, Falcons end up on short end of 30-27 score as Cowboys rally for 20 points in Atlanta Fulton County Stadium before record 60,022 fans.

ALOHA
Feb. 1, 1981

Record six Falcons selected to Pro Bowl as Bartkowski passes for new high 178 yards (55 TD to Alfred Jenkins) to lead NFC to 21-7 win.

SEEING IS BELIEVING
Sept. 13, 1981

Green Bay Packer fans were enjoying a 17-0 lead after three quarters, but no one knew what was in store next. In a nine-minute span, the Falcons erupted for an NFL record tying 31 points (4 TD's, 1 FG) to win 31-17.

GOOD NEWS, BAD NEWS
Sept. 20, 1981

Atlanta fans were treated to a 34-17 thumping of the rival 49ers (soon to be Super Bowl bound) and the fastest start in club history, 3-0. The Falcons had now won 12 of the last 13 regular season games and 14 of last 15. Tommy Pridemore even set a club record with a 101-yard interception return. The bad news: three starters were lost in a five-minute span (LB Joel Williams, DE Jeff Merrow and T Warren Bryant).

NUMBERS TO REMEMBER
1981 Season

The team will look back on seven losses of five points or less as to why they were 7-9. The defeats were by 1, 2, 2, 3, 3, 3, and 5 points. Individually, records were set by Steve Bartkowski (3,830 yards), William Andrews (81 catches), Alfred Jenkins (1,358 yards, 13 TD's - 3 in one game), and Mick Luckhurst (114 points). A team high seven Falcons are picked for the Pro Bowl.

NO MORE TICKETS
May 17, 1982

Season ticket sales are halted after reaching a club record 55,144.

BACK ON TRACK
Nov. 21, 1982

In first game after strike, William Andrews gains 207 yards (119 rush, 88 rec.) and rookie Gerald Riggs scores his first two NFL TD's in 34-17 win over Rams. Falcons are 2-1 and thinking playoffs in short season.

A NATIONAL CLINCH
Dec. 19, 1982

With a powerful 17-7 win over the Super Bowl Champion 49ers before a national Sunday Night audience, the Falcons become third NFC team to clinch a playoff berth as they up record to 5-2. Team controlled ball for 43 minutes to 17 for 49ers and ran the ball 57 times for 223 yards.

INDOOR PLAYOFFS
Jan. 9, 1983

Falcons journeyed to Minnesota's Metrodome for the opening round Playoff game and led 7–3 after one quarter and 21-16 after three quarters, but Vikings rallied for 30-24 win. In an oddity, all 24 Falcon points were scored by the special teams (blocked punt for TD, pass to Luckhurst for TD, and FG) and the defense (Glazebrook TD interception).

A TWO-TIME HERO
Nov. 27, 1983

Kenny Johnson became only the 12th player in NFL history to score two TD's in the same game with interceptions. His first one put the Falcons ahead of Green Bay, 41-34, but the Pack came back to force overtime. With another chance to be the hero, Johnson returned an interception 31 yards to win the game.

STATS TO REMEMBER
Dec. 18, 1983

William Andrews sets new club record with 331 rushes for 1,567 yards, Steve Bartkowski has third 3,000-yard season and sets mark with 63.4% completion rate and just 1.1% interception rate (5 in 432), while C Jeff Van Note starts his 200th game as a Falcon.

SURGERY FOR WILLIAM
Aug. 21, 1984

Falcon all-time leading rusher, William Andrews, injures knee ligaments, cartilage and nerve in practice session and is out indefinitely.

A NEW LEADER
Sept. 2, 1984

Gerald Riggs gets the starting call and sets new club records with 35 attempts for 202 yards in 36-28 opening win at the Superdome in New Orleans.

A CATCHY RECORD
Dec. 2, 1984

Receiver Alfred Jackson broke the club record with 11 catches for 193 yards vs. San Francisco in 35-17 loss.

"WHITE SHOES" IS #1

Sept. 8, 1985

Billy "White Shoes" Johnson becomes the NFL's all-time career punt returner with 58 yards against Detroit.

DETERMINED GERALD

Dec. 22, 1985

With 158 yards in the 16-10 win over New Orleans, Gerald Riggs had a club best 9 100-yard games and a season record 1,719 yards to lead the entire NFC.

A RECORD START

Sept. 1986

The Falcons came out roaring with four straight wins over New Orleans, St. Louis, Dallas and Tampa Bay for the best-ever start in club history. The Cowboy game featured a 10-point rally with a game-winning FG with 20 seconds left and the Buc game featured a 20-7 come-from-behind win with an overtime FG the decider. Gerald Riggs ran for a touchdown in each game to tie a club mark. The opener also featured the return of William Andrews after a two-year layoff following knee surgery.

LEADING THE WAY

Oct. 12, 1986

In a game that featured the return of QB Steve Bartkowski to Atlanta (as an LA Ram), the Falcons rolled to a 26-14 win to up their mark to 5-1. The next week, the Falcons fought to an overtime tie with the 49ers to stay atop the Western Division.

A NOTE OF THANKS

Dec. 14, 1986

It was Jeff Van Note day at Atlanta Fulton County Stadium as the 18-year veteran center was honored after 246 games. With all his family present, he was presented gifts including a vintage 1957 Chevy (symbolic of his #57 and being a classic). Mick Luckhurst extended his club record to 117 consecutive PAT's.

RIGGS' RECORD BREAKING DAY IS DOOMSDAY FOR DALLAS

Dec. 6, 1987

Gerald Riggs becomes the club's all-time leading rusher, surpassing William Andrews with a five-yard run in the third quarter at Dallas, giving the six-year pro from Arizona State a career total of 5,987 yards. Riggs finishes up the day with 119 yards to help the Falcons break a seven-game losing streak and knock the Cowboys out of the playoffs for the second straight year with a 21-10 victory in Texas Stadium.

MAKING A CASE FOR HIMSELF

Nov. 6-27, 1988

CB Scott Case laid claim to a spot in the Pro Bowl by being named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for November. Case intercepted five passes (two each vs. Packers and Raiders), registered a forced fumble and QB sack and made 20 tackles with nine passes defensed to help the Falcons to a 3-1 record during the month.

SETTLE-ING FOR A PLACE IN HISTORY

Dec. 18, 1988

RB John Settle put his name in the League's record book by becoming the first free agent in NFL history since the 1970 merger to gain 1,000 yards in a season as he rushed for 66 yards against the Saints to finish with 1,024. Paul Lowe (Chargers) and Clem Daniels (Raiders) of the AFL were the only other undrafted players to accomplish the feat (in 1963 and 1965). The former Appalachian State star was fourth in the NFL in total yards (1594) and the club leader in receptions with 68 as he garnered his first trip to the Pro Bowl.

A CASE OF A PERFECT 10

Dec. 18, 1988

CB Scott Case picked off his 10th pass of the year against the Saints to finish atop the NFL charts. Case set a new Falcon record for interceptions in a season eclipsing the old mark of nine by Rolland Lawrence in 1975. The Oklahoma product stole seven passes in the second half of the season when the young Falcons defense began to jell.

PRIME TIME SCORES TWICE

1989

Deion "Prime Time" Sanders ends his lengthy Sept. contract holdout and reports to camp. He takes a Friday practice and Saturday walk through and puts on the football pads for the first time in seven months in the season opener vs. the Rams. In the first quarter, Deion returns a punt 68 yards for a touchdown. After hitting a home run for the New York Yankees earlier that week, it makes him the only modern day athlete to hit a HR and score a TD in the same week.

HERSCHEL'S HOMECOMING

Sept. 17, 1989

Heisman trophy winning Herschel Walker returns to Homecoming, his native Georgia, for his first NFL game. The hometown Falcons spoil his party, but the sellout crowd enjoys a 27-21 Atlanta win over the Cowboys and Herschel.

GOOD JOB

Dec. 1989

Guard Bill Fralic goes to a fourth consecutive Pro Bowl (the only guard in the NFL to do so). Rookie WR Shawn Collins leads all NFL rookies and sets a club rookie mark with 58 catches, while fellow rookie Deion Sanders gains post-season recognition by leading all rookie DB's with five thefts and gaining over 1,000 yards in returns.

BACK IN BLACK

March 20, 1990

The Falcons announce plans for their 25th Anniversary season that include going back to their original black jerseys of 1966. In addition, black helmets are unveiled along with the 25th anniversary logo patches for the uniforms.

SHOWSTOPPING TRADE

April 20, 1990

With the number one pick overall in the Draft, the Falcons deal with the Colts for six-time Pro Bowl lineman, Chris Hinton, all-rookie WR Andre Rison, and next year's #1 pick.

THAT'S SUPER

May 23, 1990

Falcons owner Rankin Smith leads the way in securing Super Bowl XXVIII for the City of Atlanta at the NFL Owners Meeting in Dallas.

OPENING DAY

Sept. 9, 1990

Houston, Jerry Glanville's former team, comes to town to face the new black-clad Falcons. With the defense scoring three touchdowns, the Falcons win in a rout, 47-27, before a sellout crowd.

NATIONAL TV
Oct. 28, 1990

With a national TV audience watching for the first time since 1984, the Falcons storm the Cincinnati Bengals, 38-17. The prime time viewers see "Prime Time" Deion Sanders set a club record with a 79-yard punt return TD in what was TNT's highest rated game of the season.

HAPPY ENDING
Dec. 30, 1990

With the Dallas Cowboys coming to town, needing a win to secure a playoff berth, the Falcons close out with a second straight win and a 26-7 romp behind a club record 68-yard run by Mike Rozier. The Falcons donated 2,000 tickets from the sellout to the USO for servicemen to attend.

TWO-TIMER
Jan. 30, 1991

Deion Sanders becomes both an Atlanta Brave and an Atlanta Falcon as he signs a baseball contract. He's the first to play two sports in the same city in 30 years.

BIG BEN III RINGS
Nov. 3, 1991

QB Billy Joe Tolliver, subbing for injured Chris Miller, lofted a 44-yard "Big Ben" pass caught in a crowd of seven players by WR Michael Haynes with nine seconds remaining. That gave the Falcons a 17-14 victory and season sweep over the San Francisco 49ers. San Francisco had just taken the lead with only 53 seconds left in the game.

COMING UP 3's
Nov. 17, 1991

The Falcons go on a scoring spree in the second quarter and set a new club record for most points in one quarter with 33. WR Andre Rison scores 3 TD's (18 of the 33 points) with scores of 39, 12 and 15 yards. Rison also tied a club record for most points scored by an individual in a game. The 33 in a quarter were seventh highest ever in NFL history.

WEST COAST SWEEP

Atlanta recorded an NFL rarity by sweeping all western opponents either on the road or at home. The Falcons were 7-0, defeating the Rams and the 49ers twice, along with the Raiders, Chargers and the Seahawks. Atlanta was the only team in 1991 to defeat the 49ers in Candlestick Park.

LONG FLIGHTS

WR Michael Haynes led the entire NFL in average yardage per catch with a 22.4 rate (the NFL's highest since 1983). Mike had 50 receptions on the year for 1,122 yards and 11 touchdowns. His 11 touchdown catches averaged 44.9 yards per play as he recorded 12 receptions over 30 yards.

PRINCE OF THIEVES

CB's Deion Sanders and Tim McKyer both co-led the NFC in interceptions with six thefts apiece.

NATIONAL OT VICTORY
Nov. 24, 1991

The Falcons scored 10 points in the last two minutes of regulation to send the New Orleans game into overtime on ESPN's Pigout Game of the Week. A 54-yard completion from QB Chris Miller to WR Michael Haynes set up the 50-yard field goal by K Norm Johnson for the OT win before ESPN's largest TV audience of the season.

THE TUGGLE STRUGGLE

1991 Season

Falcon LB Jessie Tuggle, who had over 200 tackles the previous two seasons, had led the entire NFL in tackles, only to be forgotten when All-Pro teams and Pro Bowl selections were made. A 1992 Pro Bowl selection rejection, Tuggle was finally recognized as a first team All-Pro pick by Sports Illustrated.

ROAD KILL

1991 Season

The Falcons made club history as they swept through their NFC West road trips by defeating the Rams 31-14 in Anaheim, dropping New Orleans in Overtime 23-20 at the Superdome, and by giving the 49ers their only loss in 1991 at Candlestick Park 39-34. This was the first time ever the birds had beaten all their division rivals on the road.

ONE LAST TIME A FINAL GAME OUTDOORS

Dec. 15, 1991

A sellout crowd witnessed the Falcons' final home game of the 1991 season, as well as the birds' final game in Fulton-County Stadium. Atlanta defeated the Seattle Seahawks' 26-13, to run their home win streak to five straight. NFL thieves Tim McKyer and Deion Sanders combined on a 55-yard interception and lateral for a memorable touchdown. On hand with the 59,000 fans were Hammer, World Heavy Weight Champion Evander Holyfield, singer Wayne Newton, and country and western group Diamond Rio.

PLAYOFF WIN

Dec. 29, 1991

On the road at arch-rival New Orleans on ABC's national TV, the Falcons came from 10 points down to win their first-ever Playoff game away from home. New Orleans native Michael Haynes scored two touchdowns, including the game winning 61-yarder in the fourth quarter, then CB Tim McKyer ended any suspense by intercepting a pass.

THE FIRST GAME IN THE NEW DOME

Aug. 23, 1992

A sold-out crowd (66,834 actual) and a national TV audience (ABC) on this Sunday afternoon saw the Falcons win the first-ever football game in the new Georgia Dome, 20-10, over the Philadelphia Eagles. While the Eagles' Ian Howfield kicked a 33-yard FG for the first points ever, the Falcons hooked up on their first play in the Dome for a 76-yard TD pass - Chris Miller to Michael Haynes (left). While all fans received a special souvenir ticket and commemorative pin, the day of entertainment included performances by megastar MC Hammer, doing the "Too Legit to Quit" theme song of the team, plus a Georgia native halftime show featuring major country recording stars Travis Tritt, Alan Jackson, Trisha Yearwood, Doug Stone, and T. Graham Brown. Recording star John Denver preformed the national anthem, while Las Vegas boxing announcer Michael Buffer began the proceedings with his trademark , "Let's get ready to rumble." The pre-game festivities also included a 100-yard red ribbon cutting by Commissioner Paul Tagliabue and Falcons owner Rankin M. Smith.

THIS FIRST ONE COUNTS AS A "W"

Sept. 6, 1992

In the regular season opener in the Dome, the Falcons scored on their first four possessions en route to a 20-17 win over the New York Jets before a sellout of 65,585. The first play saw rookie RB Tony Smith run for 32 yards and the first points came on a Norm Johnson 25-yard FG. Just 17 seconds later, the Falcons scored the first TD in the Dome on a Chris Miller-to-Michael Haynes pass of 14 yards. Miller and Haynes hooked up again on an 11-yard play later in the first quarter as the Birds ran up a 17-0 lead. In the second period, Norm Johnson tied a club record with a 54-yard FG. Miller's 72% passing (21-29) and 117 yards from the ground game led the Falcons to victory.

DOUBLE DUTY
Oct. 11, 1992

Deion Sanders pulled off yet another first by participating in two pro sports in the SAME DAY. On Saturday night, he played in the Braves Playoff game in Pittsburgh, flew to Miami to play for the Falcons, then flew back to Pittsburgh for a game Sunday night. His presence helped the Falcons hold Dan Marino to a rare game without a TD pass, but the Falcons lost a 17-7 third quarter lead to bow, 21-17.

SHUT 'EM OUT
Nov. 29, 1992

The Falcons defense posted the first shutout since 1988 in a 34-0 rout of the New England Patriots. Atlanta allowed just 15 net yards passing, second best in club history, and just 105 total yards with five QB sacks, two pass interceptions (both by Deion) and two fumble recoveries. Rookie Tony Smith had another hot day with an 8.1 rush average (10-81-1 td) and a 15-yard average on PR (5-75) for 151 yards.

OF PASSING INTEREST
1992 Season

The Falcons led the NFL with a club record 33-TD passes and became the only team to have 30 or more TD's in both '91 and '92. The 336 pass completions were a club season best as were the 194 passing first downs. Andre Rison set a club record with 93 receptions and became the first player in NFL history to have 300 catches in their first four years in the League. The Rison-Haynes tandem netted 21 TD's to lead the NFL for a second straight year (23 in '91). Mike Pritchard's 77 catches were the 5th most in club history, 9th in the NFL. Wade Wilson finished with three consecutive 300-yard games (324, 342, 374) and 10 TD's in those three games and two consecutive 30-completion games.

OFFENSIVE WARFARE
1993 Season

Led by Pro Bowlers Andre Rison, Bobby Hebert and Norm Johnson, Atlanta's offense scored over 300 points for the fourth consecutive season. Rison scored a club-record 15 TD's, and set a new standard for most receptions in his first five seasons with 394. Hebert, meanwhile, finished third in the NFL with a career-high 24 TD passes and had the NFL's longest play of the year, a 98-yard TD strike to Michael Haynes. Johnson nearly had a perfect season, connecting on 26-of-27 field goals (.963), while stretching his consecutive FG streak to 26 in a row, the second best mark in NFL history. On defense, LB Jessie Tuggle led the team in tackles for the fifth consecutive season (183). Pro Bowl cornerback Deion Sanders continued to be an impact player, picking off seven passes while shutting down the league's top receivers. Third-year RB Erric Pegram more than made a name for himself, rushing for 1,185 yards, the fourth highest total in '93.

JUNE JONES NAMED HEAD COACH
Jan. 24, 1994

June Jones III is named the Falcons' 10th head coach, replacing Jerry Glanville, who resigned following the 1993 season.

FALCONS LOSE LONGTIME FRIEND
Nov. 3, 1994

Whitey Zimmerman, the Falcons original equipment manager since 1966, passes away. Always a constant in the locker room, "Zeke" will always be remembered as former Falcon Tommy Nobis stated, the "Original Falcon."

111 CATCHES!
Dec. 24, 1994

Terance Mathis closes out a brilliant season against Arizona, finishing the '94 campaign with a club-record 111 receptions, the 4th highest total of all-time. His 1,342 receiving yards ranks second on Atlanta's all-time charts. For his efforts, he is voted to '95 Pro Bowl.

MIKE KENN RETIRES
Dec. 24, 1994

Offensive lineman Mike Kenn finally closes out 17-year NFL career after being drafted by the Falcons in 1978. His last game against Arizona was his 251st game played, ranking 6th on the NFL's all-time list. He played in five Pro Bowls and six playoff games.

FALCONS LAND MORTEN ANDERSEN
July 21, 1995

The birds kick off camp by signing Morten Andersen, one of the best kickers in NFL history. Andersen, a long-time Falcons nemisis with New Orleans, had been cut by the Saints, who wanted to re-work his contract. The Falcons act swiftly by waiving Norm Johnson and bringing in the former Saint.

I-85 RIVALRY BEGINS
Sept. 3, 1995

The new Carolina Panthers make NFL debut in Georgia Dome and jump out to a 10-0 lead. Atlanta then takes over, building a 20-13 lead on first drive of third quarter. But, Carolina hits on a 44-yard bomb with 26 seconds left to force overtime. The Falcons register their record-tying 9th QB sack of the game, forcing a fumble, and go on to quickly kick the game-winning 35-yard field goal.

SWEET REVENGE
Sept. 17, 1995

Morten Andersen goes against his former team for the first time as a Falcon and boots the game-winning field goal from 21-yards out in overtime at the Superdome.

MORTEN SETS NFL RECORD
Dec. 10, 1995

Morten Andersen beats his old team again, but this time sets another NFL record in the process. Andersen establishes a new League mark with three field goals from beyond 50 yards in one game, including shots from 55, 55, and 51 yards, as Atlanta comes away with a 19-14 victory and sweeps the Saints for the first time since 1985.

PLAYOFF BOUND
Dec. 24, 1995

Needing a win to make the playoffs, the Falcons pull off the improbable, defeating the world champion 49ers, 28-27, in front of a frenzied crowd at the Georgia Dome on Christmas eve. Bobby Hebert connects with Terance Mathis (left) on two touchdowns, including the game-winner as Mathis makes an incredible run to the end zone with 1:45 remaining. Hebert was filling in for an injured Jeff George, who was knocked out with a concussion and neck injury just before halftime. Atlanta finishes 7-1 at home, the second best home record in the NFL in '95, tying a club record.

THE GHOSTS OF LAMBEAU
Dec. 31, 1995

The Falcons play in their first playoff game since 1991, but face a hot Packers team who had never lost a post-season game in Lambeau Field. That record stays in tact as Green Bay's balanced offensive attack offsets a 366-yard passing day by Jeff George. The Falcons outgain Green Bay, 360-307, despite the muddy conditions of Lambeau.

FOUR 1,000-YARD PLAYERS
1995 Season

The Falcons establish an NFL record by having four players each gain 1,000 yards, including receivers Eric Metcalf (1,189), Terance Mathis (1,039), Bert Emanuel (1,039), and running back Craig Heyward (1,083). Jeff George, meanwhile, became only the 18th QB in League history to have over 4,000 yards passing (4,143).

JAMAL ANDERSON HITS 1,000
Dec. 15, 1996

RB Jamal Anderson becomes the 7th Falcon in club history to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season, combining for 111 yards against the Rams in Atlanta. Anderson had previously signed a 3-year contract extension on 10-28-96, taking him through the 1999 season.

JONES LET GO AS FALCONS COACH
Dec. 23, 1996

Head Coach June Jones was fired with two years left on his contract following Atlanta's 3-13 season in 1996. During his three years (1994-96), he compiled a 19-29 record and led the Falcons to a playoff berth in 1995.

TUGGLE HAMMERS OUT EXTENSION
Jan. 3, 1997

Jessie Tuggle, fresh off a club-leading 184-tackle season in '96, signs a 2-year contract extension, taking him through the 1999 campaign. Tuggle, a 3-time Pro Bowler, has led the Falcons in tackles for eight straight seasons.

DAN REEVES BECOMES 11TH FALCONS HEAD COACH
Jan. 20, 1997

Dan Reeves becomes the 11th head coach in franchise history, signing a 5-year contract as Exec. VP of Football Operations/Head Coach. He quickly assembles an impressive staff, including Rich Brooks as Asst. Head Coach/Defensive Coord. and Hall of Famer Art Shell as Offensive Line Coach.

FALCONS OWNER RANKIN SMITH PASSES AWAY
Oct. 26, 1997

Team owner and founder Rankin M. Smith passed away from heart complications just hours before the Falcons were to play a nationally-televised game at Carolina on TNT. The 72-year old was remembered at a Tuesday memorial service as a quiet, behind-the-scenes "pioneer" who helped bring professional sports, and other major contributions, to his beloved city of Atlanta.

FALCONS SWEEP WEST COACH TRIP!
Nov., Dec. 1997

Due to back-to-back west coast trips, the team spent all week practicing in La Jolla, Calif., following its 24-17 win at Seattle to get ready for the Chargers. The extra time saved from not traveling across the country twice in four days translated into a 14-3 win at San Diego.

FALCONS FINISH SEASON 6-2 UNDER REEVES
1997 Season

After a difficult 1-7 start, the Falcons went 6-2 in their final eight games to finish 7-9, marking one of the best second-half comebacks in NFL history. QB Chris Chandler came on strong and ranked second in the NFL in QB rating (95.1) behind Steve Young en route to his first Pro Bowl appearance, joining teammate Jessie Tuggle. The real story of the season, however, was the tremendous play of the defensive line, which established a club-record 55 sacks to rank 2nd in the NFL. Chuck Smith (12.0 sacks) and Travis Hall (10.5 sacks) led the charge. The Falcons sweep the Carolina Panthers for the first time with a 51-23 rout and set an NFL record in the process. Atlanta scores three touchdowns in just :48 seconds, the fastest in NFL history since the 1970 merger.

SCORING BARRAGE
Oct. 4, 1998

The Falcons sweep the Carolina Panthers for the first time with a 51-23 rout and set an NFL record in the process. Atlanta scores three touchdowns in just :48 seconds, the fastest in NFL history since the 1970 merger.

"DIRTY BIRD" TAKES FLIGHT

Nov. 8, 1998

The Falcons defense forces a club record five New England turnovers and limits the Patriots to a new club record low of just 13 rushing yards but it's what happened on offense that creates a buzz. The "Dirty Bird" touchdown dance is born as originators, RB Jamal Anderson and TE O.J. Santiago, each score twice with Santiago celebrating with the new end zone dances. The fever the dance generates captivates a national following as well as brings the Falcons to the front of the Atlanta sports scene throughout the rest of the season.

TEAM LEADER SUFFERS SETBACK

Dec. 13, 1998

After Atlanta defeats New Orleans, 27-17, on the road, Coach Reeves has health issues. The next day (on Dec. 14) he is admitted to Piedmont Hospital for tests. Reeves undergoes successful quadruple bypass heart surgery that same afternoon. Assistant Head Coach Rich Brooks assumes the coaching reins in Reeves' absence.

NFC WEST CHAMPS ARE CROWNED

Dec. 20, 1998

Without their ailing coach, Atlanta wins a close 24-17 victory on the road against the Lions after trailing 14-0 at halftime to capture their 13th win of the season and their second NFC Western Division title in team history. The historic win also helps the Falcons clinch a first-round playoff bye. In one of the true highlights of the year, Jamal Anderson was hit in the backfield on 1st-and-goal at the one-yard line, but shook loose and broke another tackle to plow into the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown with 6:57 left.

FALCONS PUT EXCLAMATION POINT ON FINEST SEASON

Dec. 27, 1998

By pounding the Dolphins of Dan Marino in the season-finale, 38-16, the Falcons win their club record ninth straight game to finish the regular season with a club-best 14-2 record, including a first-ever 8-0 home record. The birds play inspired football after a pre-game visit from Head Coach Dan Reeves. The "Bomb Squad" defense also sets a new mark by allowing just 1,203 rushing yards by opponents on the season and finishes atop the NFL's charts with 44 total takeaways. Jamal Anderson registers his new team record and NFL-high 12th 100-yard rushing game with 103 yards. Anderson also breaks James Wilder's NFL record for carries in a season with 410 en route to the ninth highest rushing total ever in a single-season in league history with 1,846 yards.The team accomplishes many "firsts", including most points in a season with 442 on the heels of a Falcon-best 53 touchdowns.

"DIRTY BIRDS" DANCE TO NFC CHAMPIONSHIP

Jan. 17, 1999

After a clutch 20-18 victory at home vs. San Francisco in the Divisional playoffs with Dan Reeves back on the sideline, Atlanta travels to 15-1 Minnesota for the right to go to Super Bowl XXXIII. The Falcons upset highly favored Minnesota in a hostile Metrodome Stadium, 30-27, in overtime in one of the most memorable Championship games ever in NFL history. Atlanta fights back from a 10 point 4th quarter deficit by shutting down the NFL's record breaking Vikings offense with stingy defense and turns the table with an potent offense of their own. QB Chris Chandler throws a bullet to WR Terance Mathis in the end zone from 16-yards out with :49 seconds left to tie the score. Minnesota wins the coin toss in OT but Atlanta's defense is stout and holds the Vikes in the extra period on two occasions. K Morten Andersen delivers "The Kick" from 38-yards out with 11:52 elapsed in overtime to claim the club's first-ever NFC Title and a trip to Super Bowl XXXIII as a wild "Dirty Bird" celebration erupts in the city of Atlanta.

FALCONS FALL SHORT IN FIRST SUPER BOWL

Jan. 31, 1999

Almost all of the Falcons' traditional factors for success in the 16-win season eluded them in a 34-19 loss to the Broncos. But the lasting images of the finest season in team history could not be diminished. Reeves is named NFL Coach of the Year and the birds send six players to the Pro Bowl (RB Jamal Anderson, QB Chris Chandler, CB Ray Buchanan, S Eugene Robinson, LB Jessie Tuggle, T Bob Whitfield).

MATHIS SETS MILESTONE

Oct. 25, 1999

WR Terance Mathis breaks the club record for career receptions in grand style at Pittsburgh on Monday Night Football, moving past Andre Rison (423), as he hauls in 12 catches for 166 yards to push his total to 427. He eclipses Rison's record with a two-yard catch on the fourth play of the fourth quarter.

MATHIS ADDS ANOTHER RECORD

Sept. 17, 2000

WR Terance Mathis becomes the club's all-time leader in receiving yards, surpassing Alfred Jenkins' mark of 6,257, by totatling 42 yards (on five catches) at Carolilna. He establishes the record in the fourth quarter on a 15-yard reception to push his record totals to 6,262. Mathis now holds the record for career catches and yards in team history.

FALCONS MAKE VICK THE PICK

April 21, 2001

The Falcons trade WR/KR Tim Dwight, their #1 pick (5th overall) and 3rd pick in 2001, as well as a 2nd round choice in 2002, to San Diego for the #1 overall selection (a day before the NFL draft). With the top choice, Atlanta tabs electrifying, strong-armed QB Michael Vick of Virginia Tech. Excited fans in the thousands create a buzz by driving to the Falcons' new facility in Flowery Branch, Ga. for the team's draft day party to celebrate the choice. It marks the fourth time in franchise history that Atlanta selects the #1 overall player in a draft, following LB Tommy Nobis in 1966, QB Steve Bartkowski in 1975 and LB Andray Bruce in 1988.

"NOBLE WARRIOR" LAYS DOWN HIS HAMMER

Aug. 28, 2001

One of the all-time Falcon greats, Jessie "The Hammer" Tuggle, retires after a brilliant 14-year playing career. Tuggle played his entire football career in the state of Georgia from Griffin High School to Valdosta State to the Atlanta Falcons. "The Hammer" pounded out a team record 2,065 tackles in 209 games played, the third-most ever in team history. His 14 seasons played and 189 starts also are the third-highest total in team annals. Tuggle was honored with five Pro Bowl invitations from his peers (1992, 1994, 1995, 1997, 1998) during his consistent career that included 12 straight 100-taqckle seasons. Tuggle's place in Falcons history is even more special among his many fans because of his endearing commitment to the Atlanta community over the years. Fittingly, Tuggle's # 58 jersey is retired, because he will always be revered for his work on and off the field for the Falcons.

TRAGEDY FORCES NFL TO POSTPONE GAMES

Sept. 11, 2001

Commisioner Paul Tagliabue postpones all NFL games for the week of Sept. 16 after terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center on Sept. 11. The Falcons' contest at St. Louis is re-scheduled for Jan. 6, 2002 as the regular season finale. Atlanta management quickly arranges a flag football game to be played one week after the attacks with proceeds benefitting the families of New York firefighters and police officers. With the help of Falcons fans, players, coaches and Falcons front office staff, the succesful event raises over $243,000 as several thousand fans showed up at the team's facility, and supporters continued to send in donations even weeks after the event.

MATHIS BREAKS TOUCHDOWN MARK

Sept. 30, 2001

WR Terance Mathis places his name in select company by breaking Andre Rison's club record of 56 career touchdowns at Arizona. Entering the contest with 55 career touchdowns, Mathis catches two scoring passes against the Cardinals to total 57 in his career (since 1994) to help the birds to a 34-14 victory. He already owns Falcons career marks for receptions and receiving yards. Mathis tied Rison at 56 touchdowns by hauling in a 17 yard scoring pass in the first quarter. The record breaking score came on a 10-yard touchdown in the third quarter when Mathis caught a pass over the middle near the Arizona goal line and ran over two Cardinal defenders for the score and the record.

FALCONS OWNERSHIP TO CHANGE HANDS

Dec. 6, 2001

For the first time in 36 years, the Falcons will be owned by someone other than the Smith family as Arthur M. Blank reaches a preliminary agreement to purchase the team from Taylor Smith. Blank, co-founder and retired co-chairman of Atlanta-based Home Depot, is a passionate sports fan, a Falcons season-ticket holder and has been a resident of Atlanta since 1978.

BROOKING REWARDED FOR FINE SEASON WITH PRO BOWL NOD

Jan. 31, 2002

LB Keith Brooking is selected to his first Pro Bowl as the NFC's "need" player by Head Coach Andy Reid of the Eagles. Brooking made the switch from weakside linebacker to middle linebacker in 2001 to fill the void left by the retirement of Jessie Tuggle. Brooking finished with a team-leading 167 total tackles, surpassing his previous season-best of 95 tackles in 1999. The 167 stops are the most by a Falcon since Tuggle's 184 tackles in 1996. Brooking is the first Falcons player to receive Pro Bowl recognition since the 1998 campaign.

SALE OF THE FALCONS APPROVED

Feb. 2002

In a special meeting in New Orleans on February 2, 2002, NFL owners vote unanimously to approve the sale of the Falcons to Arthur Blank. "We want to create an organization that has a unique and special bond with the community," stated Blank after the sale was approved. "I personally will not rest until I have a chance to wear a Super Bowl ring on behalf of everybody in Atlanta and in the state of Georgia."At his press conference on February 2, Mr. Blank announces a new three-year contract for Head Coach Dan Reeves. On February 12, 2002, the sale of the franchise to Mr. Blank by the Smith family is completed. This marks the end of an era for the Smith family, who were pioneers in bringing professional football to the Southeast.

PASS THE MAIC

2002 Season

After a sluggish 1-3 start, the Falcons become one of the hottest stories of 2002 as they mount an NFL-best eight-game unbeaten streak (7-0-1). Included in the Falcons run of success were a pair of victories over division rival New Orleans, who started the season 6-1, a pair of shutout wins (30-0, 41-0) over division rival Carolina and a 34-34 tie at Pittsburgh in which the Falcons overcame a 17-point deficit in the fourth quarter to force overtime and the eventual tie.

DOME SWEET DOME

2002 Season

For the first time in 10 years the Falcons sold out all eight of their regular season home games and they increased their season ticket base by more than 100 percent, which set an NFL record for the highest rate of increase in new season tickets sold. Included in the Falcons eight home games were three of the top 10 crowds in team history.

VICK RUNS INTO NFL RECORD BOOK

Dec. 1, 2002

Falcons QB Michael Vick single-handedly leads the Falcons to an OT victory over the Minnesota Vikings by establishing a new NFL rushing record for quarterbacks with 173 yards on 10 carries. He also set the NFL record for the highest per-carry average in a single game (17.3 yards). His 46-yard touchdown dash in overtime not only propelled the Falcons to a 30-24 victory, but also set the record for the longest run by a Falcons QB in team history.

BROOKING AND VICK NAMED TO PRO BOWL

Dec. 19, 2002

The respective leaders of the Falcons offense and defense, Michael Vick and Keith Brooking, were named to the NFC's Pro Bowl squad. It was the first such honor for Vick, who became just the sixth quarterback since 1970 to be voted to the Pro Bowl in his first year as a starter. In addition to passing for 2,936 yards, Vick set a Falcons quarterback record with 777 yards rushing, the third-highest total in NFL history. It was the second straight year Brooking was named to the Pro Bowl after accounting for a career-high 212 tackles, including 100 solos. He set a career-best with 22 tackles in the season opener vs. Green Bay and would go on to register double-digit tackle totals in all 16 games.

FALCONS MAKE HISTORY IN GREEN BAY

Jan. 4, 2003

Despite losing three of their last four games of the regular season to end with a 9-6-1 record, the Falcons still managed to get into the playoffs thanks to some outside help. Facing seemingly insurmountable odds, the Falcons became the first team ever to defeat the Green Bay Packers in a playoff game at Lambeau Field with a 27-7 victory. Entering the game, the Packers had never lost a home playoff game in 13 tries. A solid performance by Vick, who accounted for 181 combined yards, a stingy outing by the Falcons defense, which forced five turnovers, and an opportunistic special teams unit, which blocked a punt for a touchdown and forced a fumble to set up another, would be all the Falcons would need. It marked the Falcons first playoff appearance and victory since the Super Bowl season of 1998.

FALCONS UNVEIL NEW LOGO

March 19, 2003

Before a large gathering of media and the entire Falcons organization, the Falcons unveiled their new logo. The logo was designed in conjunction with NFL Properties after a lengthy research process, which included conducting focus groups and polls with many fans. In addition, Falcons players, coaches and staff had the opportunity to give their thoughts.

FALCONS UNVEIL NEW UNIFORMS

April 19, 2003

In front of a crowd of several hundred fans at the Mall of Georgia in Buford, Ga., the Falcons unveiled their new uniforms, a change for the first time since 1990. Falcons fans voiced their approval as LB Keith Brooking, TE Alge Crumpler, RB Warrick Dunn, DE Patrick Kerney, WR Peerless Price and QB Michael Vick modeled the new threads. The home uniforms consisted of black jerseys and white pants, while the road attire featured white jerseys and white pants. The team also introduced alternate versions of the uniforms, which included wearing black jerseys with black pants at home and white jerseys with black pants on the road.

INJURY TO VICK TARNISHES PROMISING SEASON

Aug. 16, 2003

In the Falcons second preseason game against the Baltimore Ravens, Pro Bowl quarterback Michael Vick was injured in the first quarter when he attempted to scramble for a first down on a third-and-six situation from the Falcons five-yard line. Vick is diagnosed with a broken right fibula, which sidelines him for the first 11 games of the regular season. Without Vick, the Falcons go 2-9 and their hopes of back-to-back winning seasons for the first time in team history are vanquished.

REEVES WINS 200TH GAME

Nov. 9, 2003

Atlanta Falcons head coach Dan Reeves captures the 200th victory of his career as the Falcons defeat the New York Giants on the road 27-7. After the Falcons earned Reeves his 199th victory in the season's opening game against Dallas, the Falcons lost seven consecutive contests before snapping the losing streak against the Giants. Reeves became the seventh coach in NFL history to win at least 200 games in his career.

VICK RETURNS

Dec. 7, 2003

Before a sell-out crowd at the Georgia Dome and a national television audience on ESPN's Sunday Night Football, Michael Vick makes his first start of the season and rushes for 141 yards, the third-highest total by a quarterback in NFL history, as the Falcons defeat the eventual NFC Champion Carolina Panthers in overtime, 20-14. One week earlier at Houston, Vick made his 2003 debut in a second half relief appearance. Despite Vick's ability to lead the Falcons on two scoring drives, the Falcons came up short against the Texans, 17-13.

REEVES RELEASED

Dec. 10, 2003

Arthur Blank announces that Falcons head coach Dan Reeves has been released from his contract and that defensive coordinator Wade Phillips will serve as interim coach for the final three games of the regular season. In his seven-plus seasons with the Falcons, Reeves accumulated a record of 49-69-1. He leaves the Falcons with the seventh-most wins (201) in NFL history.

MCKAY JOINS FALCONS

Dec. 15, 2003

Longtime Tampa Bay Buccaneers executive Rich McKay leaves the Buccaneers with two games remaining in the 2003 season to assume the role of Falcons president and general manager. At his introductory press conference, McKay offered a description of his vision for the Atlanta Falcons - "Our object is to build a football team, and one that can win not just today, not just tomorrow, but can win into the future. That's what we tried to accomplish in Tampa and that's certainly what we're going to try to accomplish here." Coincidentally, McKay was hired five days prior to the Falcons game against the Buccaneers in Tampa. It would be a pleasant homecoming for McKay as the Falcons upset the Buccaneers 30-28, knocking Tampa Bay from playoff contention.

JIM MORA NAMED HEAD COACH

Jan. 9, 2004

San Francisco 49ers defensive coordinator Jim Mora is named the 12th head coach in team history. At the time of his hiring, Mora, who is the son of former NFL head coach Jim Mora, is the third-youngest coach in the NFL at 42 years of age. The same day Mora is introduced as head coach, Greg Knapp is named the Falcons offensive coordinator.

BROOKING AND CRUMPLER REWARDED

Feb. 8, 2004

Falcons LB Keith Brooking and TE Alge Crumper were recognized for their outstanding seasons with a trip to the Pro Bowl in Hawaii. It was the third consecutive trip for Brooking, who led the team with 207 tackles, and the first for Crumpler, who finished with career bests in receptions (44) and receiving yards (552). Crumpler made the most of his Pro Bowl opportunity, scoring on a 33-yard reception from St. Louis Rams QB Marc Bulger as the NFC beat the AFC, 55-52.

FALCONS STADUIMS

GEORGIA DOME (1992-PRESENT)-FALCONS RECORD (51-45-0)

In 1992, the Atlanta Falcons and the state of Georgia unveiled to the rest of the world the latest crown jewel in an ever-shining southern skyline with the opening of the Georgia Dome.

The Georgia Dome is the culmination of efforts which began in earnest in June of 1984 as business, civic and governmental leaders gathered to discuss a new stadium in Atlanta. The project continued to gain steam in January of 1988 as a "consensus" of leaders agreed on using a hotel/motel tax increase to finance the local portion of construction.

In January of 1989, Rankin Smith and then-governor Joe Frank Harris signed a "memorandum of understanding" for the Falcons to play in the Dome under a 20-year lease.

The project came to fruition in the spring of 1989 when the state, the Atlanta City Council, and Fulton County Commission approved the $210 million Dome. Groundbreaking ceremonies took place on November 22, 1989, with construction getting underway on March 27, 1990.

As soon as the project was passed, the Dome became a major 'player' in the sporting community. Rankin Smith was determined to introduce the south's latest showpiece to the football world and he succeeded. With the determined backing of the Smith family, the Georgia Dome played host to the most significant sporting events in the world as global attention was focused on Atlanta for Super Bowl XXVI-II played on January 31, 1994 between the Dallas Cowboys and the Buffalo Bills. The Georgia Dome hosted its second Super Bowl on January 30, 2000 between the St. Louis Rams and the Tennessee Titans.

ATLANTA-FULTON COUNTY STADIUM (1966-91)- FALCONS RECORD (85-106-2)

Twenty-six years of NFL football in Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium came to an end on December 15, 1991 when the Falcons met the Seattle Seahawks for their final game in their very first home.

Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium was built in 51 weeks and gave the city the foundation to support big-league baseball and pro football. Less than a year after construction, the stadium was primped for a cameo appearance by the baseball Braves, who were still playing in Milwaukee at the time, on April 9, 1965. On August 14 of that same year, the Minnesota Vikings defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers in the first football game ever played at the stadium. Some local people deemed the Stadium "The Miracle on Capital Avenue."

The Braves eventually moved to Atlanta in 1966 and shared the stadium with the Falcons, who opened their tenure at Fulton-County that fall following their acceptance into the NFL. The stadium propelled the city into the big leagues with a professional basketball team (Hawks) and hockey team (Flames, since departed) arriving following the success of the Atlanta community in its support of professional sports.

Atlanta's Fulton County Stadium was the Falcons' home from 1966-91. Atlanta defeated Seattle 26-13 in the final football game at the stadium on Dec. 15, 1991.

The Georgia Dome, built in 1992, was the site of its second Super Bowl (XXXIV) on January 30, 2000.

FALCONS UNIFORM HISTORY

1966-67

Black Jersey's with white numbers and red trim at home with a white Falcon crest on the sleeves. The away jersey was white with black numbers trimmed in red and a black Falcon crest on the sleeves. The Falcons had white pants with a red strip bordered by two black stripes for both home and away games. The helmet was red with a black Falcon crest logo trimmed in white, and there was a black strip trimmed in white down the middle of the helmet.

1968-70

In 1968, the Falcons removed the Falcon crest logo from the sleeves and replaced it with red and white stripes. Also, a red-black-red stripe combination was added to the sleeves.

1971-1989

In 1971, the Falcons switched to red jerseys for the first time and wore them all the way up to the 1989 season. The only other significant change to this uniform was the addition of silver-gray pants in 1978. Also in 1984, the Falcons switched to a black face mask. The home jersey was red with white numbers and black trim with white-black-white sleeve stripes. The away jersey was white with red numbers and black trim with red and black stripes on the sleeves. In 1979 the Falcon crest logo was added to the sleeves.

1990-2002

In 1990, the Falcons once again wore black jerseys as they did in their inaugural years. The 1990 season marked Atlanta's 25th anniversary season in the NFL, and the team wore a commemorative patch on their left shoulder. In addition, the Falcons switched to a black helmet with a black face mask and a white Falcon crest logo. From 1990-2002, the home jersey was black with white numbers trimmed in red with a black Falcon crest logo trimmed in red on the sleeves. The away jersey was white with red numbers trimmed in black with a black Falcon crest logo trimmed in red on the sleeves. The pants were Falcon silver with a black stripe down the middle trimmed in white and red.

2003 - PRESENT

The year 2003 continued to bring about many new changes for the Atlanta Falcons. Perhaps the biggest changes came with the introduction of the team's new logo and uniforms unveiled over the course of a two-month period.

On March 19, 2003, before a large gathering of media and the entire Falcons organization, the Falcons presented their new logo.

"The new Atlanta Falcons logo is fresh, strong and dynamic, and yet appreciates the tradition and history of this franchise," said Falcons owner and CEO Arthur Blank. "The new logo depicts a more powerful, aggressive Falcon - one of fast movement. It is also representative of the evolution and direction of our team."

The logo was designed in conjunction with NFL Properties after a lengthy research process, which included conducting focus groups and polls with many fans. In addition, Falcons players, coaches and staff had the opportunity to give their thoughts.

One month later in a rally at the Mall of Georgia in Buford, Ga., the Falcons unveiled their new uniforms. Six Falcons players - LB Keith Brooking, TE Alge Crumpler, RB Warrick Dunn, DE Patrick Kerney, WR Peerless Price and QB Michael Vick - modeled the uniforms for the crowd.

The home uniforms consisted of black jerseys and white pants, while the road attire featured white jerseys and white pants. The team also introduced modified versions of the uniforms, which included wearing black jerseys with black pants at home and white jerseys with black pants on the road.

The jerseys and pants included red piping down the side, which expand at the knee for a fast, streamlined look. They also have "Falcons" stitched at the neckline in a newly developed font and include a number font that was designed specifically for the Falcons, consisting of a drop shadow for more depth. The black jerseys contained white numbers with red trim, while the white jerseys contained red numbers with black trim. The new Falcons logo appeared on the sleeve of both jerseys on a red background. The helmet remained black, however it also featured a metallic flack compared to the previous flat black-colored helmet.

In 2004, the Falcons announced they would wear red jerseys at home and use the black jerseys as their alternate third jersey. Declared the team's alternate third jersey in 2003, red jerseys were worn twice in 2003, against the Tennessee Titans on November 23 and again in the Falcons nationally-televised 20-14 overtime win against the Carolina Panthers on December 7.

"I'm a big fan of the red jerseys," offered Falcons quarterback Michael Vick, who made his first start of the 2003 season against Carolina and rushed for 141 yards. "They've got a really nice look to them. I know that our fans love them, too.

FALCONS HONORED JERSEYS

TOMMY NOBIS (1966-76) - #60

The first-ever player drafted by the Atlanta Falcons for the inaugural 1966 season, Nobis quickly became the first-ever Falcons player to be voted to the Pro Bowl after being selected as a rookie. The stellar middle linebacker was named the NFL Rookie of the Year for his efforts. "Mr. Falcon" led the team in tackles in nine of his 11 seasons, while earning five trips to the Pro Bowl. In a poll conducted in 1970 by ABC to pick the best athlete of the decade of the 1960s, running back O.J. Simpson was number one and Tommy Nobis was number two in the entire country. He had an astronomical 294 total combined tackles as a rookie, still the team's club record. Nobis also intercepted 11 passes during his pro career, returning two for touchdowns. His uniform #60 was the first one the Falcons ever retired and it has been worn by only him during the team's 30-plus years of existence. He retired in 1976.

JEFF VAN NOTE (1969-86) - #57

Holds Falcons team marks for most seasons played (18), most consecutive games played (155) and most consecutive games started (112). He is second in the team record books with 246 games played and 225 games started. Van Note originally came to the Falcons as a linebacker from Kentucky, but was moved to center by head coach Norm Van Brocklin and eventually earned the starting job at center in 1970. He earned the first of his six Pro Bowl berths in 1974. Van Note is tied with Claude Humphrey for most Pro Bowl appearances by a Falcons player with six. He retired in 1986.

WILLIAM ANDREWS (1979-86) - #31

A third-round pick, Andrews was among the NFL's elite runners when a shocking knee injury prematurely ended his career. He became just the second running back in NFL history to have two 2,000-yard (combined yards) seasons (the only other player prior to Williams was O.J. Simpson). When he had his first 2,000-yard year, he joined just four other backs who had done so (Jim Brown, Walter Payton, Wilbert Montgomery and Simpson). In his first five seasons in the NFL (1979-83), Andrews outgained every other back in the entire NFL. The bullish Andrews had 8,382 total yards in those five years (an average of 1,677 per year) to lead all NFL runners. Andrews set 19 Falcons club records that began in his very first NFL game in 1979 when he ran for 167 yards in a game at New Orleans where he totaled 189 yards. He was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1980, 1981, 1982 and 1983 and made the NFL All-Rookie team in 1979. He retired in 1987.

JESSIE TUGGLE (1987-2000) - #58

Jessie came to the Falcons as an undrafted free agent in 1987 and retired in August of 2001 as one of the all-time greatest players in franchise history. Nicknamed, "The Hammer", for his bone-jarring tackles, Tuggle is the club's all-time leader in total tackles with 2,065 and enjoyed 12 straight 100-tackle seasons. He led the team in tackles in a season 10 times and amassed 20 or more tackles in a single-game on four occasions with a personal-best of 24 stops. His 14 seasons played, 189 career starts and 209 total games played are third-most ever in Falcons history. Tuggle's five Pro Bowl appearances (1992, 1995, 1995, 1997, 1998) stand tied for the third-most ever by a Falcons player. He holds the NFL record for most touchdowns by an opponents fumble with five. The Falcons honored #58 with "Jessie Tuggle Day" during halftime of the Falcons game vs. the Detroit Lions on December 22, 2002.

FALCONS PLAYOFF HISTORY

NFC Wild Card

Atlanta 14, Philadelphia 13

December 24, 1978
Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium, 49,447

In rainy 40 degree weather conditions, Steve Bartkowski turned it on for the final 30 minutes, completing 13-of-20 passes for 193 yards and two touchdowns, both scoring aerials coming with less than five minutes remaining, leading the Falcons to their first franchise playoff victory. His primary target was Wallace Francis, who scored the winning touchdown with 1:39 remaining on a 37-yard strike. He set up Bartkowski's first TD to Jim Mitchell at the 4:56 mark with a 49-yard reception down to the Eagles' 26 yard line. Francis finished the day with six catches for 135 yards. The first half was mostly a defensive struggle with teams exchanging punts eight times. The Falcons fumbled the ball away twice, one resulting in a Philadelphia TD, while the other came just 15 yards from paydirt. After leading 6-0 at halftime, Philadelphia took advantage of a shanked 17-yard punt by John James, driving 60 yards on eight plays early in the third period to take a 13-0 lead.

NFC Divisional Playoff

Dallas 27, Atlanta 20

December 30, 1978
Texas Stadium, 60,338

A week earlier, it was a supreme second half effort which moved Atlanta one notch further in the playoffs. This week, the Falcons were shut out in the second half after holding a 20-13 lead at the break. Bubba Bean had gained 60 yards in the first half, including a 14-yard scoring run, while Steve Bartkowski threw a touchdown to Wallace Francis. Tim Mazzetti rounded out the Falcons' efforts with a pair of field goals. Dallas' fortunes appeared to take a turn for the worse late in the first half when Roger Staubach left the game with an injury. Danny White came on, however, bringing Dallas from behind. He threw a tying TD pass in the third period to tight end Jackie Smith. Early in the fourth period, John James shanked a punt from the 20-yard line, allowing the Cowboys to drive in from 30 yards out in six plays.

NFC Divisional Playoff
Dallas 30, Atlanta 27
January 4, 1981
Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium, 60,022

For the first three periods, it appeared as if Atlanta would move onward in the playoffs. It led Dallas 24-10 entering the final stanza and even held a 27-17 lead with five minutes left to play. But Danny White teamed up three times with Drew Pearson on a five-play, 62-yard scoring drive, the last play coming on a 14-yard TD strike. The Cowboys stopped Atlanta on four straight plays after the ensuing kickoff, and White drove his team 70 yards in six plays, securing the win with a 23-yard strike to Pearson with just 52 seconds to play. Alfred Jenkins hauled in four passes for 155 yards for the birds.

The Falcons' special teams were outstanding. On their first possession, Paul Davis blocked a punt which Doug Rogers recovered in the end zone for a TD. Minnesota added two field goals and a touchdown to lead 13-7 at halftime before the special unit struck again, this time kicker Mick Luckhurst scoring on a 17-yard run with a pitch from holder Mike Moroski to take a 14-13 lead. A few moments later, safety Bob Glazebrook intercepted a pass and returned it 35 yards for a score, giving the Falcons a 21-13 lead. The roof caved in, however, at that point with the Vikings rallying for 17 points while all Atlanta could muster the rest of the way was a FG.

Louisiana Superdome (68,794)

Michael Haynes hauled in six passes for 144 yards and a pair of touchdowns from Chris Miller, including the go-head score late in the fourth quarter, helping the Falcons post their first ever playoff victory on the road. The Saints jumped out to a 10-0 lead before the Falcons stormed back, tying the game in the second quarter with a 24-yard TD reception by Andre Rison and a Norm Johnson 44-yard FG. The Saints answered with a Morten Andersen 35-yard FG before Haynes' 20-yard TD reception gave the Falcons a 17-13 lead late in the third. A one-yard TD run by Dalton Hilliard capped a 19-play, 80-yard drive that put New Orleans back on top, 20-17. But Johnson tied the game with a 36-yard FG with 6:27 to go. Atlanta's defense held, setting up the heroics by Haynes, who turned a 7-yard hitch pass into a 61-yard touchdown run.

NFC Divisional Playoff

Washington 24, Atlanta 7

January 3, 1992
RFK Stadium (55,181)

Six Atlanta turnovers was too much to overcome in this divisional playoff matchup, played in the nation's capitol amidst 30 mph winds and a steady downpour of rain. Ricky Ervins (104 yds) paced Washington's rushing attack, which amassed 162 yards on the day. The Falcons, meanwhile, played without running backs Mike Rozier, Erric Pegram and Steve Broussard. Tracy Johnson's one-yard TD run late in the first half brought the Falcons to within 14-7 at intermission. But that was as close as they would come. After Chip Lohmiller connected on a 24-yard field goal midway through the third quarter, the Falcons drove 53 yards to Washington's 27 yard line, but came away empty, missing a 45-yard FG. Two possessions later, Washington padded its lead when Riggs scored his second touchdown, a one-yard plunge with 7:20 remaining, accounting for the final 24-7 advantage. Washington held the ball 36:08 to Atlanta's 23:52.

NFC Wild Card
Green Bay 37, Atlanta 20
December 31, 1995
Lambeau Field (60,453)

Jeff George threw for 366 yards and a pair of TD's, but it wasn't enough as Green Bay's big touchdown on a punt return and balanced offensive attack kept the Packers' playoff record unblemished at Lambeau Field. Edgar Bennett rushed for 108 yards, while Brett Favre hit on three touchdowns to lead the Pack offensively. Atlanta's offense outgained the Packers, 360-307, and scored the most points in a playoff game by an opponent in G.B. history. Behind most of the game, Atlanta was forced to pass in the muddy conditions of Lambeau Field, which had been covered and heated despite 30 degree weather conditions. The Falcons did strike first, however, on a 65-yard TD bomb from George to Eric Metcalf down the right sideline for a 7-0 lead. The Packers countered with four first-half touchdowns, including the 76-yard punt return by Antonio Freeman, to take a 27-10 halftime lead. Atlanta pulled within 10 points at 27-17 early in the fourth quarter on J.J. Birden's 27-yard TD catch from George. But Favre connected with Dorsey Levens on a perfect 18-yard touchdown strike in the right corner of the end zone mid way through the fourth quarter to ice the victory.

NFC Divisional Playoff
Atlanta 20, San Francisco 18
January 9, 1999
Georgia Dome (70,262)

With Coach Dan Reeves back on the sidelines for the first time since open-heart surgery on December 14, the Falcons rallied around his presence and 70,000 screaming fans to win their 10th straight game and advance on to the NFC title game. Atlanta did what they had done all year to win. They ran the ball (136 yards) and stopped the run (55 yards). They controlled the tempo (32:43 time advantage) and they took the ball away on defense (3 interceptions). Atlanta took control in the first quarter with a 36-yard punt return by Tim Dwight setting the offense up 38 yards from the end zone. Four Jamal Anderson runs and a Chandler pass covered that territory and the Falcons led 7-0 with 6:25 left in the 1st. The Falcons defense did not allow a first down until the second quarter and then the offense pounded out an 82-yard drive to go up 14-0. The TD came on a spectacular 34-yard run by Anderson as he dove the final five yards to fly into the end zone for the 14-0 advantage. When the 49ers tried a lateral play, the ball came loose and Chuck Smith returned it for an apparent TD. Then, the referees said no TD, but Falcons ball at the spot of recovery. Then, later they said no TD, no recovery, and still San Francisco ball. The 49ers capitalized on that opportunity as Steve Young and Jerry Rice connected on a 17-yard play to make it 14-7. In the 3rd quarter, Eugene Robinson intercepted Young at the 3 and returned it 77 yards to set up a Falcons FG and make it 17-10 after three periods. Early in the 4th, safety William White did the honors with an interception and set up another Morten Andersen FG and a 20-10 Falcons lead. San Francisco marched for a TD with 2:57 left in the game and when the snap was bad, ended up converting a two-point PAT. Atlanta ground out six running plays to move the clock down to 38 seconds and then the defense finished with an interception to end the game. This was the Falcons first playoff win since 1991 at New Orleans and their first home playoff game since the 1980 season.

NFC Championship
Atlanta 30, Minnesota 27 (OT)
January 17, 1999
Metrodome (64,060)

In a game that will go down in NFL playoff history as one of the most memorable ever, the underdog Atlanta Falcons fought back from a 10-point 4th quarter deficit to win the NFC title on the road in an overtime thriller. The Falcons defense rose to stop the NFL's record-breaking offensive team on their final six possessions as the offense kept battling before the loudest crowd in the NFL. The composed Falcons didn't let the crowd effect them, having no penalties for false starts or offsides. Atlanta's offense stole the headlines, outgaining the Vikings 427-356, and outscoring them. Chris Chandler was the star with 27-43 passing for 340 yards, 3 TD's and no Int's. Dan Reeves' Falcons were well-prepared for the hostile environment, marching 12 plays for 76 yards and a TD to go up 7-0 before the Vikings ever got their hands on the ball. After two uncharacteristic turnovers, the Falcons dug themselves a 20-7 hole in the 2nd quarter. With 1:08 left in the first half, DE Chuck Smith made the play to fire up the Falcons. He batted the ball from Randall Cunningham's arm and the Falcons recovered at the 14. A TD pass from Chandler-to-Mathis made it 20-14. The Falcons narrowed it to 20-17 after three periods. Minnesota scored their final time with 13:41 left in the 4th quarter to up the lead to 27-17. Chandler's 70-yard bomb to Martin set up a quick FG to make it 27-20 with 11:02 left. Atlanta knew it was their day when kicker Gary Anderson, who had not missed a kick all year, drilled a 38-yarder wide left with just 2:07 left in the game. Chandler rolled left and blazed a bullet into Terance Mathis' chest in the end zone from 16 yards out with 49 seconds left and Andersen's PAT tied the game. With 8:28 left in OT, the Falcons had to start at their own 9-yard line as it appeared momentum was swinging Minnesota's way. The spot for Morten Andersen was 38 yards at almost the exact, identical spot where Gary Anderson had missed. With 11:52 elapsed in OT and 71:52 total time played, Andersen kicked the Falcons into the Super Bowl.

Super Bowl XXXIII
Denver 34, Atlanta 19
January 31, 1999
Pro Player Stadium (74,803)

Almost all the Falcons traditional factors for success in the 16-win season could not be duplicated in Super Bowl XXXIII in Miami. Before the 74,000 fans and over a hundred million TV viewers, the Falcons came out ready to play the biggest game in franchise history. They took the opening kickoff and put together a 10-play drive down to the Broncos 8, but had to settle for a field goal. Denver responded with an 80-yard drive of their own (41 on a pass to Rod Smith) as they took a 7-3 first quarter lead. Then, a crucial part of the game swung momentum. The Falcons passing game had moved the team back into scoring position with 1-10 at the Broncos 15. Jamal ran twice for seven yards to set up 3rd and 3, but a pass in the end zone to Tim Dwight was deflected. That set up a 26-yard FG that Morten Andersen amazingly missed with 5 minutes left in the half. Immediately, Denver seized the opportunity on the stunned Falcons and connected on an 80-yard TD bomb that quickly made it 17-3. Dwight returned the kick 42 yards to Denver's 49-yard line. A couple passes and the Falcons again had a 1-10 at the Broncos 16. Two passes were incomplete and once again the Falcons had to settle for just a FG to narrow the gap to 17-6. When the Broncos missed a FG on their opening drive of the second half, Falcons fans had that feeling from the Minnesota game that there was still time for a rally. But Denver's defense picked off passes at the 30 and the 18 to kill two scoring drives by the Falcons in the third quarter. And, then on the first possession of the 4th quarter, Chris Chandler was again picked at the 2-yard line and the Broncos converted for another TD.

NFC Wild Card

Atlanta 27, Green Bay 7

January 3, 2003
Lambeau Field (65,358)

The Atlanta Falcons became the first team ever to defeat the Green Bay Packers in the postseason at Lambeau Field with a 27-7 win. Green Bay entered the contest a perfect 11-0 in home games in Wisconsin. In 31-degree weather ,the Falcons offense generated 192 yards on the ground and controlled the clock for 36:04. The Falcons defense intercepted QB Brett Favre two times, forced and recovered three fumbles and limited the Packers ground game to just 56 yards. The Falcons special teams units blocked a punt that was returned for a touchdown and forced a fumble on a punt return that led to another Atlanta score. After going 16 regular season games without scoring a touchdown on its first drive, QB Michael Vick took the Falcons on a 10-play, 76-yard drive that culminated with a 10-yard touchdown pass to WR Shawn Jefferson to take a 7-0 lead. Later in the first quarter, the Packers were forced to punt from its own 12-yard line. LB Mark Simoneau broke through the line of scrimmage and blocked the punt. LB Artie Ulmer recovered the loose ball in the end zone to extend Atlanta's lead to 14-0. After a muffed punt by the Packers, RB T.J. Duckett plunged into the end zone for a six-yard touchdown and a 21-0 Atlanta lead. Green Bay drove to the Atlanta one-yard line on the ensuing drive but was stopped on downs. The Falcons offense answered with a 16-play, 90-yard drive that ended in a 22-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely at the end of the first half for a 24-0 lead. Green Bay opened the second half with a touchdown drive to close the Falcons lead to 24-7, but the Falcons answered that drive by moving to the Green Bay five-yard line where Feely connected on a 23-yard field goal for a 27-7 lead. The Falcons forced two turnovers in the fourth quarter to secure the victory.

NFC Divisional Playoff

Philadelphia 20, Atlanta 6

January 11, 2003
Veterans Stadium (66,452)

The Atlanta Falcons season came to an end with a 20-6 loss against the Philadelphia Eagles at Veterans Stadium in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game. The Falcons had their chances but nine penalties for 95 yards, an interception that was returned for a touchdown and an Atlanta touchdown that was negated by a holding penalty proved too much to withstand. The Falcons opened the game with a 47-yard kickoff return by CB Allen Rossum, but a holding penalty pushed the Falcons back to their own 39-yard line and the drive stalled at the Philadelphia 40-yard line. CB Bobby Taylor put Philadelphia on the board when he intercepted a QB Michael Vick pass and returned it 39 yards for a touchdown early in the first quarter. The Eagles extended their lead to 13-0 by the second quarter on two PK Dave Akers field goals. The Falcons offense started to turn things around on their first possession in the second quarter after converting two third down plays, including a third-and-16 situation before being forced to settle for a 34-yard field goal by PK Jay Feely. Vick appeared to tie the game at 13-13 in the third quarter with one of his trademark plays, weaving in and out of traffic for a 20-yard touchdown run, but the play was called back by a holding penalty. The Falcons missed a field goal and never got another chance against a tough Philadelphia defense. Philadelphia QB Donovan McNabb, returning from a broken ankle, sealed the Eagles victory with 6:26 remaining. On fourth-and-one from the Philadelphia 35-yard line, the Eagles held off a strong Falcons blitz and McNabb completed a pass to WR James Thrash that ended up in a 35-yard touchdown and a 20-6 lead. Vick finished with 22 completions on 38 passes for 274 yards. He also ran for 30 yards on six carries.

CORPORATE HEADQUARTERS & TRAINING FACILITY

The Atlanta Falcons began a new chapter in team history with the club's first practice at its new team headquarters in Flowery Branch, Georgia on August 10, 2000. The Falcons entered the NFL in 1966 and trained in Atlanta at Fulton-County Stadium. The club moved to a practice facility in Suwanee, Georgia in 1978, where it remained until moving to Flowery Branch.

The Falcons Corporate Headquarters and Training Facility is situated on 50 acres in the rapidly expanding Hall County. It includes a 75,000 square foot, two-story corporate headquarters, a 96,000 square foot, 100-yard indoor practice facility and three standard outdoor practice fields along with all associated parking for employees, coaches, players and media.

The ground floor of the headquarters houses the locker room, trainer's room, weight and conditioning room, player's lounge, communications office, media and press conference rooms, player's meeting rooms, including a large auditorium-styled team meeting room, video department and a lobby and reception room with a special Falcons memorabilia room.

The second level houses the administrative offices, coaches offices and conference rooms.

OVERTIME FINISHES

FRANCHISE RECORD: 9-15-2

2003

New Orleans 23, Atlanta 20 — New Orleans overcame a 17-point second half defecit to send the game into overtime. John Carney kicked a 36-yard field goal on the Saints' second possession of overtime to give New Orleans the victory. The Falcons had a chance to win the game in the extra session, however Jay Feely's 54-yard field goal attempt fell short.

Atlanta 20, Carolina 14 — On the third play of overtime, CB Kevin Mathis stepped in front of a pass by Carolina QB Jake Delhomme and returned it 32 yards for the touchdown. It was the 15th time in 360 regular season overtime games that an overtime game ended with an interception returned for a touchdown and the third time one of those games involved the Falcons.

Green Bay 37, Atlanta 34 — Jay Feely's 52-yard FG with five seconds left sends the game into overtime. Neither team can do anything on their initial overtime post-session. On their second drive of the extra stanza, the Packers drive 44 yards in seven plays to set up Ryan Longwell's 34-yard game winning FG with 4:15 left.

Atlanta 34, Pittsburgh 34 — Behind the passing and running of Michael Vick, the Falcons overcome a 17-point fourth quarter deficit to force overtime. In the extra session both the Steelers (48 yard attempt) and the Falcons (56 yard attempt) have field goal attempts blocked. On the final play of the game, Steelers quarterback Tommy Maddox's Hail Mary pass is caught by wide receiver Plaxico Burress, but he is tackled at the one-yard line and the game ends in a tie.

Atlanta 30, Minnesota 24 — Michael Vick single-handedly leads the Falcons to victory, setting an NFL record for the most yards rushing by a quarterback with 173 yards on 10 carries. On the Falcons second play of overtime Vick gets flushed out of the passing pocket, then weaves his way through the Vikings defense on his way to a 46-yard touchdown, the longest run ever by a Falcons quarterback, to give the Falcons the win.

Seattle 30, Atlanta 24 — Michael Vick's 12-yard touchdown pass to Trevor Gaylor on fourth-and-eight with 21 seconds remaining sends the game into overtime. On the first possession of overtime the Falcons drive 64 yards on 13 plays, however Jay Feely's 36-yard field goal attempt is wide right. On the ensuing possession, Seahawks running back Shaun Alexander caps a 74-yard drive with a 47-yard touchdown run.

San Francisco 16, Atlanta 13 — The Falcons led 13-3 to begin the fourth quarter but three big plays by the 49ers turned the tide. The deciding play was a QB Jeff Garcia to WR Tai Streets connection that gained 52 yards in overtime that set-up a K Jose Cortez 24-yard field goal for the win.

San Francisco 37, Atlanta 31 — San Francisco defeated Atlanta for the second time in overtime when WR Terrell Owens caught a 52-yard touchdown pass for the win. The Falcons again led for most of the contest only to fall in the extra period.

Baltimore 19, Atlanta 13 — Ravens QB Stoney Casey connected with WR Justin Armour for a 54-yard touchdown pass midway through the overtime period to help Baltimore erase a 13-3 deficit in the first-ever meeting between the clubs.

1995

Arizona 40, Atlanta 37 — A 28-yard FG by Arizona's Greg Davis ended a mistake-plagued game for the Falcons, who turned ball over four times.

Atlanta 27, New Orleans 24 — Morten Andersen booted the game-winner from 21 yards out in his first return to New Orleans as a Falcon.

Atlanta 23, Carolina 20 — Morten Andersen's 35-yard FG defeated the Panthers in their first regular-season game in franchise history.

Detroit 31, Atlanta 28 — Jason Hanson's 37-yard overtime FG defeated the Falcons, who missed a game-winning 52-yard FG attempt with one second remaining in regulation.

1991:

Atlanta 23, New Orleans 20 — Norm Johnson's 50-yard FG with 2:37 remaining sealed victory.

1986

Atlanta 23, Tampa Bay 20 — Mick Luckhurst's 34-yard FG as time expired set up his game-winning 34-yard kick with 6:29 elapsed.

Atlanta 10, San Francisco 10 — Sylvester Stamps raced 39 yards with a Dave Archer pass, tying the game with 1:27 remaining. But neither team was able to score, creating the first OT tie in Falcon histo-

1985

Philadelphia 23, Atlanta 17 — Mick Quick hauled in a 99-yard TD pass from Ron Jaworski for the win.

1984

Detroit 27, Atlanta 24 — Eddie Murray booted a 48-yard field goal after the Lions won the coin toss.

1983

Atlanta 47, Green Bay 41 — Kenny Johnson intercepted a Lynn Dickey pass, returning it 31 yards for the winning score.

New York Giants 16, Atlanta 13 — Ali Haji-Sheikh kicked the game-winning 30-yard field goal.

1981

New York Giants 27, Atlanta 24 — Joe Danelo booted a 40-yard field goal after Atlanta fumbled on the first play of its second possession.

1980

Atlanta 33, St. Louis 27 — Ray Strong rambled 21 yards for TD 4:42 into overtime.

Los Angeles Rams 20, Atlanta 17 — Frank Carrol kicked a 23-yard field goal following a sack and fumble by Steve Bartkowski.

1979

Atlanta 40, New Orleans 34 — James Mayberry caught a desperation pass by NO punter Russell Erxleben, who had chased errant snap into end zone.

Denver 20, Atlanta 17 — Jim Turner kicked the game-winning 24-yard FG after Tim Mazzetti missed a 31-yarder with 22 seconds left in regulation.

Oakland 37, Atlanta 34 — George Blanda connects on a 36-yard field goal with just two seconds remaining in overtime.

2004 FALCONS TRAINING CAMP
FURMAN UNIVERSITY

This season marks the sixth time since 1978 that the Falcons will train at a site other than in Suwanee, Georgia. The Falcons will head to Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina, the site of their training camp from 1971 through 1978. Atlanta's first-ever training camp site was Black Mountain, North Carolina at a YMC Camp in Asheville in 1966. From 1967 through 1970, the Falcons nested at East Tennessee State in Johnson City, Tennessee. The Falcons trained at the Suwanee facility from 1979 though the 1998 season.

Founded in 1826, Furman University, a private coeducational college, has established a reputation as one of the finest liberal arts colleges in the nation.

Furman actually traces its origins to The Furman Academy and Theological Institution, authorized in 1825 by the South Carolina Baptist State Convention and opened at Edgefield, South Carolina. In 1850, it was chartered as Furman University, making it one of America's 64 oldest colleges.

Inspiration for the establishment of the school came primarily from Dr. Richard Furman, under whose leadership the State Baptist Convention was organized in 1821 with a seminary as a major objective. Dr. James C. Furman, son of Richard, became the first man to hold the title of president of the University in 1859.

The 750-acre wooded campus, located just north of Greenville, South Carolina, and the University's home since moving from downtown Greenville in 1958, is rightfully acclaimed as one of the most beautiful in the nation.

FALCONS RADIO NETWORK

Atlanta Falcons Radio play-by-play coverage stretches from Virginia to Mississippi on more than 50 stations, one of the NFL's largest radio networks (for a complete list of affiliate stations, go to www.z93.com). The Falcons 100,000 watt flagship station Z93 (WZGC 92.9 FM) in Atlanta provides more than seven hours of game day coverage, as well as the weekly Jim Mora Show. Falcon fans can hear daily updates and features year round on Z93.

Atlanta's Best Rock Z93

GAME ON!

Jeff Hullinger begins his seventh season as the "Voice of the Atlanta Falcons." He is a 20-year veteran of the Atlanta sports scene, and recipient of 14 Emmys. Hullinger is also one of ESPN's frontline play-by-play announcers.

Chuck Smith returns to the Falcons radio booth as color analyst. The colorful broadcaster played eight seasons for the Falcons, before finishing his playing career with the Carolina Panthers. Big "number 90" also serves as co-host of the Frank Ski Morning Show on Z93 sister-station V-103 (WVEE 103.3 FM).

David Archer joins Hullinger and Smith in the Falcons Radio play-by-play booth for 2004. The former Falcons quarterback hosted Falcons pre and post game coverage in 2003. Archer spent four seasons in a Falcons uniform, and has one of the Falcons highest winning percentages.

Jeff Van Note adds his wit and personality to the Falcons pre and post game shows in 2004. Following an 18-year career with the Falcons, Noter has spent 14 seasons in the Falcons broadcast booth. Jeff still holds several team marks, and is tied with Claude Humphrey for most Pro Bowl appearances by a Falcon (6). Van Note's #57 is one of only four jerseys honored by the Falcons.

The Atlanta Falcons Cheerleaders have a great presence at the Georgia Dome on game days, yet it is their presence in the Atlanta community that has gained national recognition. The cheerleaders make an average of 500 community appearances per year.

The cheerleaders' platform is creating awareness of physical fitness, nutrition and health. The ladies speak to groups at schools, churches and non-profit organizations. They also conduct several cheerleading and dance clinics to motivate children and adolescents to stay fit and strong through exercise and healthy eating.

The Atlanta Falcons Show Troupe is comprised of 11 squad members and Freddie Falcon. This fully-costumed variety show includes singing, dancing and skits. This group has been selected, out of thousands of entertainment groups, to perform for The United States Armed Forces. Last season the troupe visited Cuba and Puerto Rico in October and performed for troops stationed in Japan and Korea on Super Bowl Sunday.

FREDDIE FALCON

FREDDIE FALCON

Freddie Falcon, the official mascot of the Atlanta Falcons, has been rockin' Atlanta since he was a small chick! As the first pro mascot in the city of Atlanta, Freddie Falcon has entertained fans for more than 35 years. This funny fowl devotes all his energy to the fans of the Atlanta Falcons.

When he is not creating mischief and entertainment on the sidelines of the Georgia Dome, you can find him spreading Falcons fever throughout the entire metro Atlanta area, and beyond! He has been spotted at local hospitals, schools and parades.

Freddie and his antics have also created fun and excitement around the world. Recently, he has performed in Las Vegas, Orlando, New York City, Los Angeles, and at the Pro Bowl in Hawaii. He has toured Egypt visiting various military bases and been showcased in ESPN commercials.

Freddie has been to the Super Bowl in Miami and danced his way to Tokyo, Japan for the American Bowl. However, his favorite place is at home in the Georgia Dome in front of his favorite friends, the Falcons Fans! He can't wait to see you at all the home games this year!

If you would like Freddie to make an appearance at your next event or visit your seats at the Georgia Dome, please call 770.965.3115 or visit www.atlantafalcons.com.

2004-05 IMPORTANT DATES

July 6	Claiming period of 24 hours begins in waiver system.
Mid-July	Preseason training camps open. Clubs not permitted to open official preseason camp earlier than July 5. Veteran players cannot be required to report earlier than 15 days prior to club's first pre-season game or July 15, whichever is later. The July 15 date is not applicable to clubs playing five pre-season games. Except for quarterbacks and "injured" players, veterans cannot participate in any organized football activity for 10 days prior to mandatory reporting date.
Mid July	No club may request permission to discuss employment with a non-player, non-coach employee of another club, whether or not that employee is under contract, during the employer club's playing season, defined as the period from the opening of preseason training camp through the club's final game of the Season if applicable.
July 15	On or after this date a club that extends an existing Player Contract for a Franchise Player shall not be deemed to have utilized its Franchise Player designation for the period of the extension.
